KOHLER ALSO IS DEFIANT

ACTION SPURS GRAND JURY

MRS. HEALY SILENT TOO

Refuses Even to Take Oath—Seabury Aide Says He May Question All Magistrates.

Subpoenas were issued yesterday for the Tammany leaders of Manhattan's twenty-three election districts after John F. Curry, leader of the organization, and Charles H. Kohler, director of the budget in Mayor Walker's administration, had refused to waive immunity when called before the special grand jury investigating alleged bartering of public office.

Hiram C. Todd, Special Assistant Attorney General in charge of the inquiry which already has resulted in indictments against former Magistrate Ewald, his wife, a Tammany leader and his intermediary flatly accused Mr. Curry and Mr. Kohler of impeding his investigation. Officials and quasi-officials who adopt such tactics, he said, "cast suspicion upon themselves." Their position, he said, is only slightly different from that of a witness who refuses to testify on the ground that to do so might incriminate or degrade him.

The grand jury, which reconvened in the forenoon after a recess of several days struck one other balky witness who adopted different tactics and who faces contempt action as a result. This witness was Mrs. Martin J. Healy, whose husband, the Tammany leader of the Nineteenth District was indicted with Ewald, for selling him his appointment to the bench in 1927. She refused to be sworn.

Kresel to Sift Job Buying.

While the grand jury was encountering these unexpected setbacks, Isidor Kresel, special counsel who is to conduct a general investigation into magistrates and magistrates' courts before Samuel Seabury, referee for the Appellate Division, said specifically that he intended to find out which magistrates, if any, in Manhattan and the Bronx bought their appointments.

"Unless we can find out how these fellows got their jobs," he said, "it won't be worth while going into this thing at all."

It may be necessary, Mr. Kresel added to call each magistrate individually and question him about his appointment. It is possible that another method may be decided upon as more advantageous. Whatever course is followed, the inquiry will "take months," according to Mr. Kresel who declared he would not "rush into any half-baked open hearings," but would get his facts first.

Mr. Curry, who recently declared that "Tammany stands for clean government," and has declared it to be his wish to assist the Attorney General's office in any possible way, was the first witness called before the grand jury. He remained before them only a moment. When he came out he was red-faced and angry. Reporters clustered about him.

"Insulted," Curry Declares.

"I'll give you a statement," he said. "At 4:30 Tuesday afternoon I was in Tammany Hall and received a subpoena from a man named Maher. I came down here prepared to testify and I was insulted."

He did not explain further what had upset him. Soon afterward, however, Mr. Kohler stamped out of the grand jury room brandishing a sheet of paper angrily before him. It was apparent that he too had been "insulted." He was more specific than Mr. Curry about the nature of the "insult."

Shaking his fist in the direction of the grand jury room, Mr. Kohler, who in addition to the position he holds in Mayor Walker's official family, is leader of the Tenth Assembly District, said:

"I'll testify before any grand jury and answer any questions they ask, but I won't sign anything."

Mr. Kohler was very angry also. It developed that he had been asked to sign a waiver and that he had refused. That, he explained, was why he felt insulted. He continued: "They asked me to waive immu-

More Americans Tour England; Spent $40,000,000 Last Year

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—American tourists visiting England during the first half of this year were numbered at 56,683 by the Department of Commerce today, an increase of 4 per cent over the total for the same period last year.

During June, it was announced by the British consulate at New York, visas were issued to 16,400 persons, as compared with 14,650 for the same month in 1929.

Of an estimated total tourist expenditure of $100,000,000 in England, it was said, Americans alone spent $40,000,000 last year. The estimate was based on an average stay of fifteen days, with an average expenditure a tourist of $20 a day.

ROOSEVELT DEMANDS IMMUNITY PLEA CURB

Proposes, if Re-elected, to Ask Law Compelling Officials to Answer for Public Acts.

DISCLOSURES HERE IN MIND

Governor Also Plans Bill to Bar Judges From All Business Activity While in Office.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, Sept. 24.—With the Republican State Convention assembling here, Governor Roosevelt gave evidence of concern today over the effect the New York City disclosures might have on the coming election.

The Governor asserted that if he were re-elected, he would ask the Legislature to pass a law requiring public officials to waive immunity in investigations of their official acts. He would also ask the Legislature, he said, to prohibit judges from engaging in any business activities during their terms of office.

The Governor said frankly that he had been prompted to take this position because of the refusal of public officials to waive immunity before giving testimony before the grand juries delving into charges of alleged "Tammany corruption."

See Move Against Rival Party.

Some friends of the Executive expressed surprise when they learned of his declaration, but it was generally interpreted as a move to draw the teeth of the Republican plan to make political capital out of New York City revelations.

The Governor said that while he believed that the Legislature would adopt the plan requiring all public officials to waive immunity, he was not so sanguine of success in compelling judges to relinquish their financial or business connections.

"There are a great many Supreme Court justices in the State," he said, "who have banking or business connections, and there probably would be great opposition, especially up-State, to change along that line. However, if re-elected, I will ask the Legislature to pass such a law.

"I have given a lot of thought to the subject of immunity, not only as it relates to judges, but to any public official. I believe that when a public official takes the oath of office he should waive immunity in reference to his official acts.

"There is a constitutional question involved in such a change in the law, but I have discussed this with many

ACTION BY RESERVE BOARD

Developments in Wheat Crisis.

Wheat prices, combating, according to Secretary Hyde, the pressure of short selling by Soviet agencies in the Chicago market, swung upward after touching new lows yesterday, with reports that the Russians and other shorts were covering. The close was at an advance for the day.

In Washington the Federal Reserve Board, meeting with Reserve Bank officials of all districts, announced that credit facilities would be available to American farmers at low rates to assist in marketing their crops. It was the first meeting at which Eugene Meyer, former Farm Loan executive, presided as governor.

German industrial and agrarian groups agree that tariff measures are sufficient, if needed, to protect Germany against Soviet dumping. They oppose any joint action, as proposed at Geneva, against Russian exports. Russo-German trade relations are an important factor in this decision.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Sept. 24.—The troubled wheat market took another tack today in the final minutes of trading. Prices advanced, influenced by liberal purchases by houses with Eastern connections, and reports that the Soviet Government interests which sold wheat short were buying to remove their hedges.

The closing prices were 79⅛ for September delivery, an advance of ¾ cent; 83⅛ to 83¼ for December, a rise of ¼ cent, and 89 to 89⅛ for May, a decline from the previous close of ¼ cent. Other grains advanced in sympathy, corn ⅛ to ½ and rye from ⅞ to 1¼ cents.

The depressing influence of yesterday was apparent in the early trading, however, and September wheat this morning set a new low mark of 76½ cents a bushel, a fraction lower than the quotation of July, 1914, and the lowest since January, 1907. Many traders who had been on the buying side were reported convinced it was time to take their losses, however, and there was a surplus of selling orders until the late rally.

Reports were denied that the Federal Farm Board agencies had gone into the market with stabilization as the aim. While purchases were made both here and in Minneapolis, it was explained, one object was to maintain the 60,000,000-bushel holdings of the government-financed grain corporation. Samuel R. McKelvie, a member of the Farm Board, said some of the purchasing was to obtain supplies to be sold to farmers who intend to feed wheat to live stock. Any intention to fight the Russians with American money, taking the opposite side of the market, was scouted here.

The effect of Russian wheat dealings on foreign markets were compared to prices today. From Sept. 9 to the lows of today there was a difference of 5¼ cents in Chicago, 7¾ cents in Winnipeg, 5¾ cents in Liverpool and 5¼ cents in Buenos Aires. It was indicated that the late rally in Winnepeg was caused in part by

48 Executed in Soviet as Damagers of Food; All Convicted of Plotting a Counter Revolt

By The Associated Press.

MOSCOW, Sept. 24.—All members of a secret counter-revolutionary society, numbering forty-eight, who were found guilty of seeking to starve the populace of the Soviet Union by destroying the food reserve of the country, were shot today by the OGPU as "unreconcilable enemies of the Soviet Government and active counter-revolutionists."

Professor Alexander Ryazantazev and Eugene Karatyguin headed the list of executed governmental officials as the initiators and organizers of the society.

On Sept. 22, the Soviet Government announced the disclosure of a powerful counter-revolutionary society embracing organizations of the meat, fish, vegetable and other food industries, as well as the Commissariat of Trade and the State planning institutions.

The OGPU, Soviet secret police organization, charged the society with striving to create a food panic throughout the country, thus exciting the resentment of the populace and preparing the ground for overthrow of the proletarian dictatorship. The authorities said it was the purpose of the conspirators to establish a bourgeois democracy.

The society was stated to be headed by Professor Ryazantazev, chairman of the meat products department of the Commissariat, formerly a rich landowner and a general in the Czarist army. The society included high officials in all branches of the Soviet food producing and distributing institutions. Most of the members were former noblemen, Czarist officers, manufacturers and property owners.

The secret police declared that, according to a confession which they obtained, the society was initiated and subsidized by a British meat packing firm.

Those arrested were understood to have been tried by a police body instead of the Supreme Court.

TURATI IS REPLACED IN FASCIST KEY POST

OTHER CHANGES FORECAST

One Appointment Expected Is That of Heir to Powers of the Premier Himself.

Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

ROME, Sept. 24. — The Foglio d'Ordini, official organ of the Fascist party, published tonight a letter addressed by Augusto Turati to Premier Mussolini resigning his post as secretary general of the party and Mussolini's reply accepting the resignation.

In his letter Signor Turati recalled that he had held the post, second only to Mussolini's in secular power, for five years and he thought it time to return to the ranks of the Fascist party. He also recalled that he asked to resign a year ago, but that his resignation had been refused.

In his reply Mussolini highly lauded Signor Turati's work.

Giovanni Giuriati, now president of the Chamber of Deputies, will be the next secretary general of the Fascist party.

Signor Turati, who is 39 years old, has made no secret of the fact that the strain of office had gravely taxed his strength and that he intended to resign as soon as he could do so with Mussolini's approval. He became secretary general five years ago, during a troubled period of Fascist history, and excellently performed his task, suppressing irregularities and putting the Fascist organization in a condition of smooth, orderly functioning.

Considered Task Completed.

This work, he now considers completed. He accomplished his task at the head of the Fascist machine with eminent satisfaction to Mussolini and other Fascist chiefs.

Signor Turati's successor, Giovanni Giuriati, is one of the most prominent men in the Fascist organization. After serving brilliantly in the World War, in which he lost an arm, Signor Giuriati was one of the earliest adherents of the Fascist movement. He served with Gabriele d'Annunzio in Fiume. Later he was one of the chief promoters of Fascism in his native city of Venice.

After the march on Rome Mussolini made Signor Giuriati Minister of Liberated Provinces, which position he held with such efficiency that he wound up all pending questions in a few months, with the result that the Ministry was terminated in 1923. Later Signor Giuriati became Minister of Public Works, where he also distinguished himself for his promptness, decision and desire for work. After the last elections he was chosen President of the Chamber.

New Post for Turati.

ROME, Sept. 24 (AP).—Signor Giuriati will succeed Signor Turati as Secretary General of the Fascist party on Oct. 8, at the Vidoni Palace, where Premier Mussolini has promised a Fascist demonstration.

Signor Turati has been nominated by Il Duce to the Fascist Grand Council, which is the supreme organ of the State.

News of Signor Turati's resignation came with startling suddenness. There was no leakage of information before the formal announcement was ready.

Text of Resignation.

Signor Turati's resignation, as reproduced in the Fascist order sheet tonight, was as follows:

"Duce, a year and a half ago I begged you to let me return to the ranks without asking position or pension. You responded with an order to remain. I obeyed then, as was my duty. But today, at the beginning of the ninth Fascist year, I must repeat that wish. Almost five years of direction of the party are long and exhausting for whoever wishes with all his heart to work in the rhythm that you have impressed on Italian life.

"Duce, permit therefore that I return into the ranks to be alone a little with myself and with the proud consciousness of having served you and the cause of the revolution well.

"Devotedly,

"AUGUSTO TURATI."

Mussolini's Reply.

Premier Mussolini replied in cold, formal Italian, not in keeping with the affectionate way he often addressed Turati:

"I recognize that after nearly five years of uninterrupted, fecund activity you have almost the right to ask a change in order to re-enter the ranks of the Black Shirts. It is not

GERMANY ADMITS USE OF BOMBS AND GERMS HERE IN 1915 AND 1916

DENIES SABOTAGE CAMPAIGN

CABLE SANCTION EXPLAINED

By FERDINAND KUHN.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

THE HAGUE, Sept. 24.—Germany admitted today through Dr. Karl von Lewinski, her chief counsel before the German-American Mixed Claims Commission, that men in the employ of a German agent infected horses and mules with anthrax germs in New York and other American cities during the years of American neutrality in 1915 and 1916.

Dr. von Lewinski did not attempt to deny the charge made yesterday by Robert W. Bonynge, the American counsel, that Captain Frederick Hinsch of the German Secret Service employed Negroes to plant the disease germs in animals bought by the Allies and destined for service in France. Captain Hinsch, Dr. von Lewinski admitted, also fomented strikes and caused bombs to be placed on the piers of allied vessels in violation of American neutrality.

In other matters, however, Dr. von Lewinski made sweeping denials of the American allegations and insisted Germany was not responsible for the Black Tom and Kingsland explosions of 1916 and 1917. He did not mention the tetanus germs which Hinsch's men are said to have employed, but did say that it was fantastic for the Americans to assert that "human life was endangered," because, Dr. von Lewinski contended, anthrax germs are not harmful to human beings.

Denies Sabotage Campaign.

"It is not true that the United States was 'flooded' with German agents during the years of neutrality," Dr. von Lewinski declared in opening the German defense against the claims of $40,000,000 for the destruction of the two munition plants. "Germany did not conduct a campaign of sabotage in the United States, nor was there any organization for conducting sabotage in neutral countries. There were a number of agents sent to the United States for quite legitimate purposes. 'Observation' is not identical with 'sabotage.'

"German officials in the United States during those years had their wires tapped and their every movement watched, yet no act of sabotage could be traced to them. We contend that in no case was sabotage authorized or carried out against ammunition plants in the United States."

Dr. von Lewinski revealed interesting details of the famous Foreign Office cablegram to the German Embassy in Washington on Jan. 26, 1915, in which sabotage against munitions plants was said to be permissible." That cablegram, said Dr. von Lewinski, was a blunder, but an explainable blunder. It was sent, he declared, on the insistence of Sir Roger Casement, the Irish Sinn Fein leader, who was then in Germany planning the Easter rebellion of 1916.

The German Explanation.

"Ireland and India were, as we thought then, the vulnerable spots in the British Empire and the most

NOMINATION OF TUTTLE BY REPUBLICANS ON REPEAL PLATFORM APPEARS CERTAIN; DRYS MAY RUN INDEPENDENT CANDIDATE

By The Associated Press.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Sept. 24.—The Binghamton Press today in a dispatch from a staff correspondent at the Republican convention at Albany quotes William H. Hill of Binghamton, dry leader, closest adviser of President Hoover in New York State politics, as declaring that the drys at the convention will, if necessary, sacrifice United States Attorney Charles H. Tuttle in order to keep repeal out of the Republican State platform.

"The drys," Mr. Hill declared in an interview with The Binghamton Press, "will fight to the end to keep the word 'repeal' out of the State platform."

"Does that mean," he was asked, "that the drys will fight to keep repeal out of the platform, even if it means sacrifice of Mr. Tuttle as the candidate?"

"Absolutely," he replied.

Otherwise, he said, the drys are very acceptable to a "moderately moist" platform just as long as there is no mention of repeal.

CANNON BY RADIO ASSAILS ACCUSERS

HE WILL PROTEST LEGALITY

Will Make No Answer Until He Is on Hand to Fight Case Under Methodist Code.

Bishop James Cannon Jr. of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, who, with Mrs. Cannon, is now aboard the steamship American Legion returning from Brazil to face new church charges, was asked by THE NEW YORK TIMES in a radio message for comment on the accusations.

In his reply, received last night via radio from the ship, Bishop Cannon challenged the legality of the proceedings against him and said that he had tried to have the charges held over until he reached this country so that he could explain matters, but that the elders bringing the charges had refused to postpone their action.

Bishop Cannon's Message.

The Bishop's message, which he also sent to the Associated Press, follows:

ABOARD S. S. AMERICAN LEGION, Sept. 24.—On Sept. 8, without previous intimations, I received a cable from Washington which said:

"Acting under paragraph 252 of the Book of Discipline, we give you notice that we are inquiring into your case. (Signed) Prettyman, Mastin, Harrell, Martin."

Paragraph 252 of the Book of Discipline says: "Three traveling elders, after notice to a Bishop, shall carefully inquire into a case if they believe investigation necessary, and shall report the matter to another Bishop."

I cabled immediately:

"I desire to answer all charges. My absence involves great disadvantage. I insist upon disciplinary provision that three elders shall carefully inquire after notifying a Bishop clearly implies conferring with the Bishop before asking investigation. It is impossible for me to reach Washington before Oct. 2. Brazilians insist I remain for annual conferences and promised temperance addresses, thus arriving at Washington Nov. 25,

DRYS WILL BATTLE TO THE LAST DITCH

They Plan to Carry Fight to the Convention Floor, Though Conceding Victory to the Wets.

TO NAME OWN CANDIDATE

Will Support Professor Carroll for the Present, but Substitute Another Later.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, Sept. 24.—Practically conceding defeat on the prohibition plank of the Republican platform, dry leaders of the State began mapping their plans tonight for placing an independent dry candidate for Governor in the field.

Although declaring that the battle over a repeal plank would be carried to the floor of the convention, they admitted the probability of a wet victory in the final vote, but they went on to avow that the nomination of United States Attorney Tuttle on such a plank would make certain the re-election of Governor Roosevelt.

Leaders of the dry organizations represented here asserted that with the extreme wet forces apparently victorious in their fight for a repeal plank an independent candidate for Governor was inevitable. They maintained that such a candidate would draw more than enough "balance-of-power" vote away from the Republican column in the up-State areas to insure the defeat of the regular nominee.

Plans for Dry Candidate.

The dry organizations desire a candidate of greater vote-getting ability than Professor Robert Paris Carroll of Syracuse University, behind whom the Woman's Christian Temperance Union has already rallied, having gathered about 20,000 signatures for his independent nominating petitions. Due to the time element in the situation, the drys say that the present plan is to go ahead with the Carroll petitions and make formal substitution of a different candidate when the latter is decided on.

Negotiations for picking this candidate will not be taken up decisively until the end of the convention. While the Anti-Saloon League officials have been a bit cool to the idea of an independent candidate, Fred A. Victor, State superintendent, will confer in the morning with Mrs. D. Leigh Colvin, W. C. T. U. leader, with a view to discussing this new aspect of the situation.

Although Professor Carroll has been looked on with some favor by some of the drys, the assertion has been made that he is not well enough known to attract the mass of the up-State dry vote. But no others have so far been mentioned as fitted to supersede him.

The advocates of prohibition lost heart steadily during the day as the leaders and delegates assembled and each new bulletin told of the increased probability that a repeal plank embodying the views of Mr. Tuttle would, in the end, be adopted by the convention.

Victor Defines Position.

Mr. Victor, who is here with Dr. Samuel Nicholson, associate superintendent of the dry league, declared that if the convention nominated Mr. Tuttle and incorporated a repeal plank in the platform, his organization would work actively against the United States Attorney. He issued the following statement:

"The dry forces of this State will not support any candidate on a platform calling for the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment. If any Republican leader believes that dry votes can be had for any candidate pledged to the repeal of the Eigh-

TUTTLE BOOM IS GROWING

WARD WITHDRAWAL SOUGHT

Maier Spends Day at Albany Trying to Harmonize Views of Opposing Leaders.

By W. A. WARN.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, Sept. 24.—With the drys in full but orderly retreat, the nomination of Charles H. Tuttle, United States Attorney, for Governor, and the adoption of a prohibition plank that will reflect his views appear a certainty at the Republican State Convention, which will be called to order here at noon tomorrow.

Efforts are already being made to induce Attorney General Hamilton Ward to withdraw as a candidate for the Gubernatorial nomination to prepare the way for the nomination of Mr. Tuttle on the first ballot and without opposition.

Another object in view is to make it possible for Fred A. Bradley, leader of Erie County, whose delegates are pledged to vote for Mr. Ward in the convention, to fall in line for Mr. Tuttle and for the prohibition program.

Dry Strength Dwindling.

With this move successful, only a scattering of leaders from rural counties with dry constituencies will remain as contenders for a declaration in the plank on prohibition, substituting some milder term for the word "repeal." But the strength of the dry wing, as represented by the number of delegates from such districts that will have a voice and vote at the convention, has been dwindling. They will get the opportunity to "set the records straight" by having their say before the committee of resolutions and on the floor of the convention when the platform comes up for discussion, and will then fall in line with the will of the wet majority. There is nothing else they can do.

Such is the outlook tonight after Chairman William J. Maier of the State committee has spent an entire day in consultation on the proposed prohibition plank with the inner circle of party leaders representing every section of the State.

Long Conference Futile.

After discussing the prospective prohibition plank with some thirty leaders for almost three hours at a conference which broke up near midnight, Chairman Maier admitted that no agreement had been reached. He said that so far as he was able to judge, the subject would have to be fought out in the committee on resolutions tomorrow.

He stated he was in no position to forecast the relative strength of the dry wing, to which he belongs, and the wet wing on this committee.

Former Senator Wadsworth, in a statement made at the conference, placed before the leaders his proposal for a prohibition plank declaring for repeal without the provisions urged by Mr. Tuttle for safeguards in the Federal Constitution to protect dry States and prevent any return of the saloon.

"While the conference led to no result, I can see no reason for changing my opinion that the convention will adopt a repeal plank," Mr. Wadsworth said. "I am very hopeful."

Chairman Maier said the trend of the speeches indicated an even division on the prohibition issue, but no vote had been taken.

It was stated that the conference had disclosed no change in the attitude of any of the leaders who attended on the prohibition question.

A majority of the conferees will get together in advance of the opening session of the convention tomorrow and renew efforts to bring harmony.

The wets maintain that twenty-seven of the fifty-one members of the committee on resolutions will be found in favor of a repeal plank.

Steinbrink Switches to Wets.

The virtual collapse of the dry opposition followed the arrival here this evening of Meier Steinbrink, who is attending his first convention as leader of the Republican forces in Kings County. He announced that practically his entire delegation, numbering 129, would support a plat-

Rise in Wheat Price Rallies Stock List; Brisk Buying in Last Hour; Cotton Steadier

Heavy buying of stocks in the final hour of trading yesterday on the news of a sharp rally in wheat prices erased a substantial part of the losses caused earlier in the day when a break in the leading issues pulled scores of stocks down to the lowest levels of the year. The turnover on the Stock Exchange aggregated 3,442,230 shares, the heaviest day's business since June 23, when the transactions reached 3,836,440 shares.

The recovery in wheat prices was attributed to the announcement of the Federal Reserve board that Federal Reserve Banks would provide ample credit this Autumn for the marketing of agricultural crops at lower rates than ever before. Wheat, which had dropped 2 cents a bushel, recovered the loss and closed with a net gain for the day of ¾ of a cent. Cotton prices also steadied after early losses.

The decline on the Stock Exchange took place between 12 and 2 o'clock, during which time about seventy-five issues fell to new lows for the year. The attack started on Vanadium, which had sold during the morning as high as 80⅝. This volatile issue fell precipitously to 66 soon after mid-day, but in the spirited rally in the final hour recovered 4 points, closing with a net loss of 10⅛ points for the day. The stock was the heaviest traded issue in the entire list.

United States Steel benefited appreciably in the spirited rally at the close, finishing only 1⅛ points net lower for the day. Such leaders as J. I. Case, Westinghouse Electric, du Pont, Anaconda, American and Foreign Power, Johns-Manville, Houston Oil, Foster Wheeler, Worthington Pump and Allied Chemical closed with losses of from 1 to 10 points. The net decline in the average price of fifty representative stocks was $3.28 a share.

Once the rally had gotten under way in the stock market many speculators hastened to cover their short contracts rather than leave them open over night, so that the rush of trading just before the close taxed the new high-speed ticker system to such an extent that volume figures were omitted so that the machines could catch up.

form declaration calling for repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment and that the delegates who would represent the eight Senatorial districts in Kings on the resolutions committee to a man would support a plank calling for repeal as against one that would use a milder term such as revision.

Until Mr. Steinbrink's arrival it had been thought his delegation would be divided on repeal, since the Kings County leader, who won his leadership through the influence of the Hoover Administration, had taken steps to have the executive committee of his county adopt a resolution favoring "revision," although a poll of the committee had given an overwhelming majority for repeal.

At least four of the prospective members of the resolutions committee from Kings had been counted on to stand up for revision as against repeal. Mr. Steinbrink's announcement that all eight of his delegation would favor repeal gave the wets their first real assurance that they would have a clear majority in the committee where the first battle over the prohibition plank will be fought, as well as in the convention itself.

"At least 120 out of the 129 delegates from Kings County will support a prohibition plank in the platform calling for repeal," Mr. Steinbrink said. "The remaining nine may not like the word repeal but I believe that they will accept. I think I can speak for the entire Kings County delegation which will come to a State convention for the first time in many years presenting a solid front on all questions coming up, when I say that we are all united and insistent that the time has come when the party should take a courageous stand on this question."

Mr. Steinbrink said the Kings County delegation would be united in support of Mr. Tuttle.

While Mr. Steinbrink was making his position clear, State Chairman Maier was closeted with some of the foremost leaders, some of whom had spent hours in his suite on the third floor of the Hotel Ten Eyck. Among them were National Committeeman Charles D. Hilles, William L. Ward of Westchester, H. Edmund Machold, former State chairman; Harry J. Bareham, Monroe leader; Clarence King, chieftain of Onondaga County; Fred A. Bradley, Erie County leader; William H. Hill, leader of the Southern tier delegates and prospective leader of the dry forces in the convention, and Representative Bertrand H. Snell of St. Lawrence, a pronounced dry.

When the first conference adjourned, Chairman Maier said that progress had been made in the direction of harmony.

"We have been comparing notes and found that we were not so far apart after all," Mr. Maier said. "I am in no position to say as yet what course the convention will pursue, but there is a promising prospect of harmony."

When pressed with regard to the probable formula to bring harmony over the prohibition plank, Chairman Maier stopped short of any admission that the word "repeal" would be embodied in it.

"I think it will be a short plank and that it will be pleasing to most except those holding extreme views on the subject," he said.

Senator Wadsworth, leader of the extreme wets affiliated with the Association Against Prohibition, had been in conference with Chairman Maier early in the day and the mere fact of this was regarded by the wets as a sure indication that their move for a repeal plank had not been barren of results.

Mr. Wadsworth said upon emerging from the conference that he had not changed his mind about making the prohibition plank one calling for straight repeal without any "trimmings."

Tuttle and Repeal, Says Ward.

Mr. Ward, who is a Tuttle supporter, announced some time ago that even though he had favored the party, he did not intend to bring any pressure on the Westchester delegates but leave them a free hand in the convention. He was asked when he emerged from the Maier conference this evening to comment on the outlook.

"Well," he said, "the convention is going to nominate Mr. Tuttle, that is certain."

"Does that mean that the prohibition plank will be one consistent with the views he expressed in his recent statement defining his attitude on prohibition?" Mr. Ward was asked.

"It would not make good sense to nominate him if we did not adopt a prohibition plank acceptable to him," the Westchester leader said.

"Have you in mind a plank calling for repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment?" was asked.

"That is inevitable," Mr. Ward said.

Tonight, with most of the party leaders on the scene and every incoming train bringing its quota of delegates, the Tuttle boom is making progress by leaps and bounds. Even the spokesmen for the driest constituency in the State without hesitation express their preference for him as party standard-bearer and express the conviction that unless a way is found to draft him for the fight, the convention, for any practical purpose it could serve, might just as well "close up shop" and go home.

There is speculation tonight only with regard to the formula to be employed in the prohibition plank to be put before the convention. The assumption in some well-informed quarters is that it will place the party on record in favor of repeal and suggest that the initiative be taken at the earliest practicable time, using State conventions rather than State Legislatures as the instrument.

No confirmation could be obtained, however, when inquiries were made from leaders who had attended the conferences. Nothing had been "put on paper" and what progress had been made had not carried the process of evolving the plank beyond the stage of discussion was all the information obtainable.

Militant Drys Spring Surprise.

In the meantime, the militant drys, represented by the W. C. T. U., the Anti-Saloon League and the New York Civic League, of which Canon William Sheafe Chase is chairman, gave a new manifestation of aggressiveness and promulgated a program contemplating a fight on a united front with a new dry candidate for Governor to lead their battle, in the event that the convention should go through with a wet program.

This put a new phase on the third party movement which, so far, with the Anti-Saloon League not a militant factor, had failed to arouse undue fears among the Republican party leaders.

Some of the leaders in the wet ring of the party expressed a conviction that this new manifestation of militancy was being staged merely to impress delegates and influence the course of the convention. Others sounded a note of caution which probably will fall on deaf ears when the convention strikes its stride tomorrow and the day after.

"If the drys put a third ticket in the field, Tuttle, running on a wet plank, will find himself facing defeat," was the opinion expressed by Representative Snell. "We are dependent for our victories in dry counties on the votes of good Methodists, Baptists and people belonging to other churches, and, generally speaking, our people do not favor repeal, even though Tuttle as a candidate, through his personality and record, would make strong appeal to voters of this class, with a repeal plank left out of the platform."

The names of the Kings County members of the committee on resolutions were made public this evening by Mr. Steinbrink. Mr. Steinbrink will sit as member from the Eleventh Senate District and his predecessor in the leadership, Election Commissioner Jacob A. Livingston, probably will represent the Ninth. Former County Judge William R. Bayes will represent the Fourth, Harold L. Turk the Fifth, Charles F. Murphy the Sixth, Thomas McGann the Seventh, F. J. H. Kracke the Eighth and Jacob Bartscherer the Tenth Senatorial District.

Ogden L. Mills, Under Secretary of the Treasury, and Assistant Secretary Seymour Lowman of the treasury, formerly in charge of prohibition enforcement, are the foremost representatives of the Hoover Administration who will sit in the convention as delegates.

Henry L. Stimson, Secretary of State, will be the foremost of the convention functionaries at the session tomorrow, when he will take the gavel as temporary chairman and deliver the address which will sound the keynote of the campaign. All three arrived today.

Mr. Mills is being considered for a place on the committee on resolutions, but is still debating whether he ought to accept. He was a wet but gave no indication today where he would stand on the proposal for a plank advocating repeal.

"My inclination," he said, "would be to keep out of the resolutions committee, because anything that I said or failed to say might be interpreted as coming from the President and as an indication that he is seeking to wield an influence in party affairs in this State, and nothing could be further from the truth."

Mr. Lowman denied that he had brought with him from Washington the draft of a prohibition plank which had on it the stamp of administration approval. He said that he would have no suggestion for the convention on prohibition. He will form part of the dry bloc from the Southern Tier, organized by William H. Hill.

Tuttle's Wet Proposal "Bunk," Declares Ogden L. Mills

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, Sept. 24.—The recent statement of Charles H. Tuttle, United States Attorney, for repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment and adoption of another amendment dealing with prohibition was called "bunk" here today by Ogden L. Mills, Under-Secretary of the Treasury, and not a real declaration for repeal.

Mr. Mills, who was the party candidate for Governor in 1926 and is a leading member of the Hoover group, is opposed to the adoption of a repeal plank.

"As I see it, Mr. Tuttle has not declared for repeal," Mr. Mills said. "Both he and Governor Roosevelt have declared for amendment of the amendment. It's just bunk. There's nothing sincere about it."

Turning to former Senator James W. Wadsworth, leader of the wet forces, Mr. Mills added:

"The only man who has been sincerely for repeal is Senator Wadsworth. He has been for repeal all the time."

Erie County Delegation Will Back Attorney General—Candidates Open Hotel Headquarters.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, Sept. 24.—Two minor booms got under way today for the Republican Gubernatorial nomination when supporters of Attorney General Hamilton Ward opened headquarters in a large room on the first floor of the Hotel Ten Eyck, and Colonel Edward C. Carrington, chairman of the Great Lakes-Hudson Waterways Association, greeted delegates at his headquarters in the Hotel De Witt Clinton.

While Fred Bradley, Erie County leader, awaited his own delegation, which will arrive tomorrow, he kept himself busy at the Ward headquarters informing delegates from other parts of the State as to the record of the Attorney General for the past two years. During the day he held several conferences with leaders from other counties, pointing out to them the need for an up-State Republican candidate for Governor. He intimated that Mr. Ward would not seek renomination for his present post.

Colonel Carrington's headquarters are on the eleventh floor of the De Witt Clinton. His platform is the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment, with the return of the liquor question to the States. He saw little hope for himself as a candidate, he said, if the committee on resolutions confirms Mr. Tuttle's pronouncement in the make-up of its platform.

MAIER HOLDS LEAD FOR CHAIRMANSHIP

KING ALSO IS SUGGESTED

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, Sept. 24.—With the nomination of Charles H. Tuttle for Governor by the Republican State convention virtually assured, it appeared probable tonight that William J. Maier would be re-elected chairman of the Republican State Committee despite the dissatisfaction of some of the leaders supporting Mr. Tuttle, who have led in the fight for the adoption of a repeal platform declaration.

The new State committee, elected at the recent primary election, will meet immediately after adjournment of the convention on Friday, and there has been a disposition among some of the up-State supporters of Mr. Tuttle to start a movement for the election of Clarence King of Syracuse to succeed Mr. Maier.

This as yet has not gained much support among the New York City members of the State committee, who feel that it might be inexpedient to displace Mr. Maier, a dry, by Mr. King, a wet.

It is admitted that Mr. Tuttle, if made the nominee for Governor, will be in a position to ask for a new State chairman, and no doubt the committee would give him one if he should ask it.

Samuel S. Koenig, New York County chairman, and Charles D. Hilles, National Committeeman, who are regarded as Mr. Tuttle's closest political friends, have given no indication that either desires a change in the chairmanship.

Those of Mr. Tuttle's friends who favor Mr. Maier's retention believe that it would be a mistake in strategy to prevent Mr. Maier's re-election, in that it might give further offense to those drys who have been opposing the adoption of a repeal plank.

The question of future party control is regarded by these Tuttle supporters as a minor matter compared with the election of Mr. Tuttle, who automatically would become the State leader of the party if he became Governor.

Although some resentment is felt toward Mr. Maier because of his activity during the last six months in efforts to block Mr. Tuttle's nomination and the adoption of a repeal plank, now apparently to be brought to naught by the action of the convention, Mr. Tuttle's closest friends do not seem to hold this greatly against the State chairman.

There has been considerable criticism of Mr. Maier for failure to make adequate preparations for the coming campaign.

The State Committee is without a treasurer, although Mr. Maier was authorized to appoint one, and the new treasurer will find himself confronted with the necessity of raising a considerable sum of money within a few weeks.

There have been no radio and talking picture arrangements and some of those urging the replacement of Mr. Maier have expressed doubt of his ability to manage a successful campaign.

To meet this objection to the continuation of Mr. Maier as head of the party organization there has been a revival of the suggestion for the creation of an executive committee, or war board, which will have the real direction of the campaign.

The executive committee of the State Committee was abolished several years ago, before Mr. Maier's incumbency, because it was believed to hamper the State chairman. The suggestion to re-establish it has met with favor among the Tuttle supporters here.

Mr. King, who is a member of a leading Syracuse law firm, is reported to be somewhat unwilling to take the place because of personal friendship for Mr. Maier and because of the demands of his personal business.

Mr. Maier has indicated to friends that he had no particular desire to retain the chairmanship. Should he repeat this wish and be taken at his word, it is believed Mr. King would be elected chairman.

Judge N. E. Spencer to Run as Wet.

Special to The New York Times.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Sept. 24.—Advocating "an amendment to the Eighteenth Amendment" giving each State authority to decide if the liquor traffic should be prohibited within its borders, Judge Nelson E. Spencer today accepted the Democratic nomination for Congress from the Thirty-eighth District to oppose Representative James L. Whitley, Republican, a wet.

DRYS WILL BATTLE TO THE LAST DITCH

teenth Amendment, or running on a platform calling for repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment, that leader is living in a fool's paradise.

"Both platform and candidate must agree. The platform must declare that the Constitution of the United States as it now exists will be respected, obeyed, defended and enforced in every part of this State. The candidate who accepts nomination upon that platform must give an unequivocal promise to abide by the platform and carry out the pledge therein contained, in every particular.

"This applies to Mr. Tuttle or to any other person who might be named. If the party is unwilling to take this course, it will suffer its greatest defeat."

Mr. Victor went on to maintain that with Mr. Tuttle running on a repeal plank the Republicans would not get "within gunshot" of the Democrats in the forthcoming election.

"Defeat will be certain—you can count on that," he went on. "I would say that adoption of a repeal plank by the convention will mean a loss of between 500,000 and 750,000 votes to the Republicans in November. A third ticket is inevitable."

An independent dry candidate would not necessarily receive that number of votes, but votes for him and votes of those who stayed away from the polls, coupled with ballots cast as a protest for the Democratic candidate, would equal the figures mentioned.

"I imagine we will support an independent candidate, but it all depends on who the candidate is," he said when asked about Professor Carroll. "It is possible to make substitutions."

Mrs. Carol P. Lindsay, president of the Albany W. C. T. U., issued a statement in which she said:

"If a wet Republican is selected as a candidate, more than 200,000 voters in New York State will rally behind Dr. Carroll. We can offer no compromise. While only 12,000 signatures are required to the petitions of Dr. Carroll, I predict that 75,000 names will be signed."

The Rev. O. R. Miller of the New York Civic League said his organization would work against a wet candidate and back an independent dry. Assailing Mr. Tuttle, he said:

"What did he do? He padlocked a lot of little speakeasies and went after some Democrats. Why didn't he do something about the important people and some of the Republicans? He did just what Sam Koenig told him to do. When he raided one of Mr. Koenig's clients, Helen Morgan, he got scared to death."

Mrs. Colvin, State president of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, confirmed the plan to put forward a dry candidate other than Professor Carroll on her arrival late tonight.

"If the repeal plank goes through and the candidate is wet," she said, "there will certainly be a third ticket in the field. We will substitute another candidate for Professor Carroll, however, and we expect to get an outstanding man. I predict that if only the present organizations supporting Professor Carroll get strongly behind the man chosen in his place we will poll 200,000 votes, and if the Anti-Saloon League joins us we will get at least 300,000."

KNOX IS BOOMED FOR CRATER'S POST

Democratic Leaders Start Last-Minute Drive in Behalf of Federal Jurist.

MOVE TO SILENCE CRITICS

Mullan Endorsed in Bronx With Curry's Approval—McCooey Asks Aides to Back Cropsey.

With the aid of some of the foremost party leaders a last-minute drive was started yesterday in the Democratic ranks for the nomination in the First Judicial District convention tonight of Federal Judge John C. Knox as the candidate for Supreme Court Justice to fill the vacancy caused by the disappearance of Justice Joseph F. Crater.

Mentioned some time ago as among those who might be considered for the nomination, the name of Judge Knox, an independent Democrat of high standing on the Federal bench and recognized judicial attainments, was pressed with renewed vigor as the time before the convention grew short and the situation remained uncertain. A definite decision on the nomination was deferred until today, but the selection of Judge Knox was indicated as a likely possibility.

While the nomination of Judge Knox was receiving prime consideration as a method of answering the public charges against the calibre of the bench in New York City and the procedure by which nominees for it are picked, Democratic leaders throughout the city were taking other steps to obtain public confidence over their relations to the make-up of the bench.

Approve Mullan in Bronx.

The Democratic organization in the Bronx officially endorsed Supreme Court Justice George V. Mullan, a Republican, for re-election, espousing the cause for bipartisan nomination for a judge who has served a full term on the bench already. Tammany Leader John F. Curry is disposed to approve the move, it was indicated, and the Manhattan organization will join the Bronx delegates in supporting Justice Mullan's name at the convention tonight.

At the same time John H. McCooey, Brooklyn Democratic leader, entered into a series of conferences with his district leaders and spokesmen for the Democratic organizations in the other counties of the Second Judicial District, in preparation for the acceptance of Supreme Court Justice James S. Cropsey, a Republican, as a bi-partisan candidate to succeed himself. He met with some protests from his advisers, which postponed the definite determination until today.

Only the lack of a decision over Justice Crater's post prevented announcement of the complete slate that will be approved in the First Judicial District convention, which will be held in Tammany Hall tonight. In addition to Justice Mullan, Justice Richard H. Mitchell, a Democrat, who has served a complete term, will be endorsed for re-election by the Bronx and Tammany delegates. The convention will also nominate for election Justices Bernard L. Shientag and John F. Carew.

Both these justices are now sitting on the bench by appointment of Governor Roosevelt, who temporarily filled vacancies in naming them. They are Democrats and had the endorsement of Mr. Curry when they were appointed. Like Justices Mullen and Mitchell they were endorsed by the Bronx Democratic organization yesterday, when the executive county committee of the party met at its headquarters, 529 Courtlandt Avenue, the Bronx, and took pre-convention action in an official resolution of endorsement for the four men. This action, including the approval of Justice Mullan, was taken after consultation with the Tammany leaders, it was understood. Justice Mullan had the support of the Bronx County Bar Association.

In taking no action as to the fifth opening on the bench, which is due to Justice Crater's absence, the Bronx organization left the matter entirely in the hands of Tammany and the final efforts in behalf of Judge Knox were directed at Mr. Curry. One other who was said to be receiving consideration was Martin Conboy, a prominent lawyer and Democrat, who has shown such signs of party independence at times, however, that he was once mentioned as a possible fusion candidate for Mayor against Mayor Walker.

Isidor J. Kresel, independent Democratic lawyer, whose name has also been advanced for the Crater vacancy, has been virtually eliminated from consideration because of his appointment as counsel in the investigation of the magistrates' courts by the Appellate Division. The inquiry will occupy him for many months. Asked yesterday if a nomination to the Supreme Court might not interfere with his investigation, Mr. Kresel said, "I don't think there is any danger of that happening."

District Attorney George E. Brower, who is to have the Democratic nomination in case Justice Cropsey is turned down, has filled his office a very much shorter time.

Mr. McCooey held out no hope that in the event of an endorsement for Justice Cropsey Mr. Brower will get the Democratic nomination for Attorney General. This had not been discussed with Governor Roosevelt or other party leaders of the State, he said.

Governor Roosevelt at Albany said he had no comment to make on published reports here that he was backing a move to give Democratic endorsement to Supreme Court Justice Cropsey for re-election with the idea of strengthening his position by avoiding a partisan judiciary fight. It was learned, however, that the Governor had been informed of the discussions.

Party Here Must Back Repeal To Win, Calder Tells Hoover

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (AP).—Former Senator Calder of Brooklyn, N. Y., said he informed President Hoover today that the Republican party could "never hope for success in New York State until it took a firm stand for repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment and started all over again."

Mr. Calder declined to tell what if any reply the President made.

"NO COMPROMISE," WADSWORTH'S STAND

State Leader of Organized Wets Says Any Word but "Repeal" Would Be Evasion.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, Sept. 24.—Refusal by the anti-prohibition organizations to accept any compromise on a repeal plank was voiced here today by former Senator James W. Wadsworth, head of the New York State branch of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment.

Mr. Wadsworth said that the substitution for "repeal" of any such word as "change" or "revision," as suggested by the drys, would be so obviously an attempt to evade the issue as to be ridiculous.

"There is no sense in trying to evade the issue by the use of words," Mr. Wadsworth said. "It is no time to say one thing and mean another. I am for a straightforward declaration for repeal with no qualifications. I would feel the same way on any platform declaration on any other issue.

"It looks as though those favoring the adoption of a repeal plank would win out in the convention by a margin it is impossible to predict at present. The drys seem to be on the run. They know they are beaten and now are asking that the platform be worded so that it will appear that they have not lost out completely."

"I would suggest that the drys propose the word 'conceal' instead of repeal, for that is what they are trying to do," said Mrs. Charles H. Sabin, president of the Woman's Organization for National Prohibition Reform. "No plank that does not declare for repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment will meet the approval of our members.

"There seems to be no doubt of the adoption of a repeal plank and the nomination of Charles H. Tuttle for Governor. I hope the convention does both. We are tired of straddling issues and I believe that the only thing to do is to make an honest statement of our honest convictions."

The members of the wet organizations, as distinguished from the wet delegates, are obviously greatly pleased with developments since their arrival. While Mr. Wadsworth and Mrs. Sabin reiterated that they hoped for the adoption of a repeal plank without qualifications, it is evident that they would regard a declaration for repeal as a decided victory, no matter how much it might be hedged with declarations for strict law enforcement so long as the Eighteenth Amendment remains in effect.

but will meet you at Washington on whatever date specified after Oct. 2. I desire to know nature of accusations."

They cabled me refusing the right to confer and declining to express an opinion on the date of my leaving Brazil.

Immediately I cabled friends to see the elders, stating that under the circumstances I considered it improper to continue to participate in the Brazilian conference and was sailing on the first steamer, arriving Oct. 1, and insisting that I would contest the legality of procedure if the request for an investigation was presented to Bishop Ainsworth before the elders had heard arguments, thus justifying a conference with me beforehand. I also requested to know the nature of the charges. A friend cabled that both requests were denied.

The ship's wireless reported on Sept. 21 that the complaints had been forwarded to Bishop Ainsworth without awaiting my arrival for conferences with me.

This gives all the information received by me and all action taken by me.

As indicated, I shall protest the legality of the hurried premature action taken before my arrival, making impossible any conference with me, which the disciplinary provision to inquire carefully necessarily includes.

Until I see the official text of the complaints, I shall enter into no discussion, newspaper or otherwise, concerning any matters pertaining thereto. JAMES CANNON JR.

The elders referred to in Bishop Cannon's message are the Rev. Dr. Forrest J. Prettyman of Baltimore, Dr. J. T. Mastin and Dr. Costen J. Harrell of Richmond, Va., and Dr. I. P. Martin of Abingdon, Va.

The charges against the Bishop have not been made public, but it has been indicated that they included references to his stock dealings and his political activities, as well as certain new charges of a personal nature.

The accusations by the elders were placed before Bishop W. N. Ainsworth, chairman of the College of Bishops at Birmingham, Ala., Monday. Bishop Ainsworth is to appoint a committee of twelve traveling elders to examine the charges and take whatever action they deem appropriate.

REED WOULD FORCE PROHIBITION ISSUE

Ex-Senator Says, in Capital, All Candidates Should Be Required to Take Stand.

HITS FARM RELIEF POLICY

When Government Attempts to Run Business, Disaster Must Result, He Says.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—Terming prohibition the one great issue in the political affairs of the United States, former Senator James A. Reed of Missouri today advocated compelling every candidate for public office to take a definite stand on the question. He also criticized the administration for the part it played during the stock deflation and for its efforts for farm relief.

Mr. Reed came here from New York, to which he returned from Europe Monday. Slight contact with the League of Nations during his travels only intensified his belief that the United States is better out of it, he reiterated.

"I don't look for the law enforcement commission to do anything," Mr. Reed said in denouncing prohibition. "We don't need an investigation to show what every one who has been around at all already knows. The people of the United States have given this 'noble experiment' a very thorough trying out. It is the ghastliest failure tried out in the last century.

"There is more crime, more misery than has been brought about by any law passed in the last hundred years by a free people anywhere in the world. I unhesitatingly say that the time has come when prohibition is bound to be an issue. It has had a full test, and every man and woman who is a candidate for public office should be compelled to take a stand. Every platform ought to demand the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment and, as a preliminary, the repeal of the Volstead act."

He pointed to a recent statement by Amos W. W. Woodcock, prohibition director, as alleged evidence of the "absolute failure" of prohibition, continuing:

"I read while in Europe that he said prohibition cannot be enforced without the active cooperation of the State constabularies. That means that prohibition cannot be enforced in the States that do not want enforcement. It means that New York, for instance, with 9,500,000 population, would be a wet territory within a dry country. New York, Pennsylvania, Wisconsin, Michigan, State after State are refusing to aid the Federal Government in enforcement of this law and the trend is constantly more pronounced."

Mr. Reed termed States' rights the "chief proposition before the country," and said: "The sooner we turn back their full power to the States, the better it will be for them. Representatives chosen by the States can run their own affairs better than men in Washington.

"The sooner we learn that government cannot run the business of the people," he went on, "and that every such experiment results in disaster, the better."

The former Senator was equally emphatic in his denunciation of the farm relief program, saying that when the Federal Farm Board bought millions of bushels of wheat in an effort to stabilize the market, "that was notice that the equilibrium of all the markets of the world could be disturbed at any moment through the dumping of that store of wheat."

WANTS ELECTION WATCHERS

Harbord, Predicting Close Contest, Asks for Volunteers.

General James G. Harbord, chairman of the Republican Advisory Committee of New York County, issued an appeal yesterday for 2,000 volunteer workers to watch the polls on election day and check possible frauds. Charles Sylvester of 521 Fifth Avenue will be in charge of the watchers.

General Harbord declared that even Democratic circles admitted that the Gubernatorial election would be close. There was all the more reason to scrutinize the individual balloting on that account, he said, adding that the Attorney General had no funds to employ the necessary investigators.

"It is obvious," he said, "to those familiar with conditions in this city that the brute force with which Tammany Hall has in recent years dominated the polling places will be redoubled this year, and that unless steps be taken to protect the people in their right to vote and to have their votes counted, Tammany Hall will resort to every effort, old and new, to prevent the election of a Governor and Attorney General who will dig deeper and turn up more of the rottenness existing in the government of New York and its judiciary."

Nellie Ross to Speak in Newark

Representative Mary T. Norton of Jersey City, Democratic leader of the State and campaign manager for Miss Thelma Parkinson, Democratic nominee for the short term in the United States Senate, announced yesterday that a conference would be held on Oct. 4 in the Robert Treat Hotel, Newark, for women of Essex and Bergen Counties. The principal speaker at the conference will be Nellie Tayloe Ross, vice chairman of the Democratic National Committee and former Governor of Wyoming.

Longer Contracts Have Already Lowered Expense, Postmaster General Reports.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—A five-year postoffice building and purchasing program, aggregating an expenditure of $43,140,000, was recommended by Postmaster General Brown in a report on postoffice leases just submitted to President Hoover, in which was declared the department's policy of ownership of its own buildings.

The program would dispose of the larger part of major postoffice leases which, according to the report, have been found uneconomical and generally disadvantageous to the government and the saving thus afforded would repay the cost within twelve years.

The Postmaster General denied charges made by Senator Blaine of Wisconsin and others in the last session of Congress that the government was being charged exhorbitant rentals in certain cities, declaring that a special survey had convinced him that there was no ground for them. A Senate committee, headed by Senator Blaine, is yet to report on its investigation into the charges.

Rental Saving to Cover Cost.

The program would provide for purchase of seventy-eight major stations and branches, at a cost of $16,500,000; fourteen garages for $5,300,000, and purchase of sites and construction of ninety-one stations and branches, at a cost of $18,300,000, and fifteen garages at $3,040,000.

If President Hoover approves the plan, Postmaster General Brown will ask Congress at the December session for authorization to carry it out. He will recommend appropriations covering the $43,140,000 during the next five years, with apportionments of $10,350,000 in 1931, $14,650,000 in 1932, $8,750,000 in 1933, $4,090,000 in 1934 and $5,300,000 in 1935.

"The appropriation of this sum," Mr. Brown said, "would, of course, result in a reduction in the appropriations made annually to the department for rent. When the program was completed, this would reach an amount estimated at $3,700,000 a year, or approximately 8.6 per cent of the appropriations for purchase and construction.

"Thus, strictly on the basis of appropriations, the program can be paid for out of the rentals which would be saved in the course of the next twelve years, leaving the government with title to property conservatively valued at $28,000,000, after allowance for depreciation."

Big Growth of Business Shown.

The five-year program which he recommended would not, Mr. Brown said, completely dispose of major postoffice leases of the classes which the department considers uneconomical and generally disadvantageous to the government.

At least ninety such leases, he pointed out, having expiration dates subsequent to June 30, 1935, and involving rental payments of almost $3,000,000 a year, would still remain in force, to be dealt with as they expire.

It was stated that it would take about $30,000,000 to replace these leases with purchases or the government's own buildings.

The Postmaster General's report shows that the department's rental bill has increased from $4,000,000 in 1913 to $20,000,000 a year in 1930 and that, due to the World War and necessity for restriction of national expenditure following it, no substantial construction had been undertaken until 1928, a period of thirteen years.

Regardless of this suspension of building, the report points out, the growth of postal business, particularly parcel post, has necessitated an enormous expansion of quarters in all directions. The report set out that the increase was from $226,619,525 to $659,819,801 during the thirteen-year period.

The report further shows that on June 30, 1930, there were 49,103 postoffices.

In addition to the postoffices themselves, in each large city the government must supply quarters for postoffice stations and branches and railway transit stations as well as garage space for the care and upkeep of collection and delivery trucks.

There are a total of 2,798 such quarters, or a grand total of 51,901 places where the postoffice does business.

"Of these stations, 33,483 were fourth-class offices in which the government does not contract directly for the housing of the postoffice," the report said. "Usually these fourth-class offices are conducted by the general storekeeper of a community as an incident to his livelihood, and the necessary facilities are located in a portion of the store.

"For the remaining 18,418 stations the government must supply quarters. Of these the government owns 1,359, rents by the month 10,468 and leases 6,526.

"Under the postoffice building bills of 1926 and 1930, the construction of about 900 stations is provided for, mostly main postoffices."

Mr. Brown described the efforts of the department to lease satisfactory quarters for these purposes at reasonable rental rates, and "urges the abandonment of the leasing policy so far as it relates to the quarters required on a substantially permanent basis in the large cities.

"Restricted as it has been by a policy of Congress which compelled the lease of extensive properties for postal purposes," Mr. Brown said, "the department has continuously sought to mitigate as far as possible the expense that was bound to result from such a policy.

Leasing System Changed.

"It has secured authority to eliminate from the lease contracts, when advisable, the so-called cancellation clauses, reserving to the government the right arbitrarily to terminate the lease for specified causes, which, by adding to the risks of the lessor, operated to increase rental rates in a very substantial way.

"It was formerly common to secure leases by negotiation with the owners of available property or with contractors and builders. For the past year and a half the department has advertised in all cases publicly for sealed competitive bids.

"These changes in practice, coupled with the establishment of a special corps of postoffice inspectors to handle all lease matters in the field, have had a salutary effect."

Would Retain Terminal Quarters.

Mr. Brown's view is that the immediate problem is the 353 properties leased at annual rates above $6,000 upon which the department is paying a yearly rent totaling $8,290,763.

"So closely related are the activities of the terminal railway postoffices to train movements," Mr. Brown said, "that they must be located in, or immediately adjacent to, the railway stations, and the space now occupied for terminal postoffice purposes is in practically all cases leased from the railroad or terminal companies and is located in the station property.

"Quarters so located are, of course, the most convenient which it would be possible to obtain. The rentals now being paid are believed to be fair and reasonable and to involve a minimum of expense to the government.

"It is the department's view that, except as in particular cases additional Federal buildings may become available adjacent to railroad stations, it would not be practicable or economical to attempt to house terminal postoffice facilities in government-owned buildings."

Cunard to Build Fastest and Biggest Liners; No Others Adequate Today, Line's Head Says

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Sept. 24.—The Cunard company is going ahead with the construction of two of the world's largest and fastest liners, not merely to regain the blue ribbon of the Atlantic, but because the new craft will be in fact the smallest and slowest which can properly fulfil all the essential conditions of present-day Atlantic passenger service, according to a statement by Sir Percy E. Bates, chairman of the Cunard company, tonight in answer to critics of the company's policy.

"With what is called 'the blue ribbon of the Atlantic,'" Sir Percy says, "the Cunard company is but indirectly concerned." If the "ribbon" can be obtained, it will be a valuable advertising point, but its attainment is merely incidental to a far bigger fact. For the first time in the history of naval architecture it is a practical proposition to run a weekly service between Southampton and New York via Cherbourg with two steamers which can pay. Hitherto, such service has required three steamers.

"The conditions governing the construction of such a pair of steamers are speed and size. Their speed is dictated by the time necessary to perform the journey in all seasons of the year in both directions plus consideration of the number of hours required in port on both sides of the Atlantic. Their size is dictated by the necessity to make money by providing sufficient salable passenger accommodations to pay for speed.

"In the opinion of our technical advisers, so far from attempting to construct steamers simply to compete with others in size and speed, the Cunard company is projecting a pair of steamers which, though very large and very fast, are the smallest and slowest which can fulfil properly all essential economic conditions. To go beyond these conditions would be extravagant, to fall below them would be incompetent, leaving to others a direct invitation to compete with us on easier terms."

The present position of the project, according to Sir Percy, is that the matter of drydocking the projected ships has still to be arranged, there being no drydocks at present capable of accommodating them. Negotiations with builders are actively progressing with a view to settling the terms of the contract and, as far as possible, the final price of the first of the liners.

NYE HINTS PERJURY IN NORRIS EVIDENCE

CHARGES ARE REITERATED

But Accused Republican Official Denies Them and Demands a Hearing.

LINCOLN, Neb., Sept. 24 (AP).—The Senate committee investigating the August Republican primary in Nebraska heard testimony today that Victor Seymour of Lincoln, now assistant vice chairman of the Republican Senatorial committee in charge of Western headquarters at Denver, engineered the filing of the candidacy of George W. Norris, former Broken Bow groceryman, in opposition to Senator George W. Norris of McCook.

The testimony was given by A. Paul Johnson of Broken Bow, an attorney who had previously told the committee that the filing of the former grocer had been on his own volition, and was followed by a statement by Senator Nye, chairman of the committee, that "if the committee can bring it about, certain persons are to be tried for perjury in connection with this hearing."

Mr. Johnson said that Seymour paid the $50 filing fee for the former Broken Bow man. He added that he believed that Seymour mailed a $500 bond that he (Johnson) received and placed in the hands of Norris No. 2, whose filing as a candidate for the Republican Senatorial nomination was subsequently barred by the State Supreme Court on the ground that it was made too late.

Howard Freeman, cashier of the First National Bank, of Lincoln, testified however, that a check of the records of his bank, where Seymour kept an account, and of the records of the First Trust Company, which is affiliated with the First National, showed no transactions with Seymour on bonds within three years.

Seymour, himself, telegraphed to Senator Nye, offering to appear before the committee at Washington any time after the middle of November. He issued a statement in Denver declaring he knew nothing of the "candidacy of the second Norris," and that he could "not imagine why he was being dragged into this."

Miss Esther Alton, formerly employed as a stenographer in Seymour's Lincoln office, told the committee that Seymour conducted a "straw vote," financed with money "from the East" to determine the most popular man to campaign for the Republican Senatorial nomination and that the result displeased Seymour because Senator Norris was "high man on the ballot."

Washington Is Interested.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—Much interest was aroused in political quarters today by the assertion before the Nye committee at Lincoln, Neb., that the plan of entering George W. Norris, grocer, against the Senator in the recent primary was engineered by Victor Seymour.

In the absence of Senator Moses no statement concerning Mr. Seymour's alleged part in the Senatorial primary campaign in Nebraska was obtainable. Senator Fess, chairman of the Republican National Committee, said that he had no knowledge that Mr. Seymour had done anything in the interest of the grocer against the Senator.

"It shows the kind of politics which Senator Norris's opponents have tried to play against him."

The petitioners asked further for approval of the appointment of Colonel Joseph Barnard, retired army officer, as secretary of the medical board and general manager of the $50,000,000 estate, at a salary of $20,000 a year.

N. ROOSEVELT NAMED ENVOY TO HUNGARY

WITHDRAWAL COMMENDED

Hoover Reviews Nominee's Service in Europe and Familiarity With Opportunities of New Post.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—Announcement was made at the White House this afternoon that Nicholas Roosevelt of New York had resigned as Vice Governor of the Philippine Islands, a post to which he recently received a commission, and had been appointed Minister to Hungary. He will succeed J. Butler Wright, who will be appointed Minister to Uruguay, a place of great importance in view of President Hoover's belief that Latin America presents exceptional opportunity for the exercise of American diplomacy.

In connection with the White House statement, it was made known that the President had accepted the resignation of Leland Harrison of Illinois as Minister to Uruguay. This resignation had been forecast.

The statement from the White House said:

"Mr. Roosevelt was chosen for this new position (Minister to Hungary) because of his familiarity with Hungarian events ever since he was a member of the Field Mission of the American Commission to negotiate peace, sent to Austria and Hungary during the Winter of 1918-1919."

The text of Mr. Roosevelt's letter tendering his resignation from the post of Vice Governor of the Philippines, which was made public by the White House, shows that he was led to take this course by a situation due to attacks upon him by Filipino politicians that might have unfortunate repercussions in the next session of Congress, when vitally important questions concerning the Philippines would be discussed.

Appreciates Unselfish Spirit.

In his letter accepting Mr. Roosevelt's resignation from the Philippine post, President Hoover said he did so reluctantly and expressed appreciation for the unselfish spirit that had prompted Mr. Roosevelt to withdraw. Part of the President's letter was made public. It read:

"With reluctance I have concluded to accept your resignation as Vice Governor of the Philippine Islands. I chose you for that post because you would be especially well qualified for it through your knowledge of Philippine conditions and your deep interest in the Filipino people, and I appreciate fully the unselfish spirit that has prompted your withdrawal.

"I have determined to appoint you as the United States Minister to Hungary, so that in that other field where you have already worked the United States may have your service."

Text of Roosevelt's Letter.

Mr. Roosevelt's letter of resignation reads:

Washington, D. C., Sept. 24, 1930.

Dear Mr. President:

When you tendered me the recess appointmen as Vice Governor of the Philippine Islands, I accepted it with an open mind, anxious to do what I could to further Philippine-American relations, which have been for years my special study.

In my writings I have taken the position that the United States stands in relation to the Philippines as a trustee to its ward, and that, in oensequence, we cannot withdraw until we have fully discharged the obligations which we assumed on taking over the islands. To this end I have urged that educational facilities be extended so that, instead of only one child in three attending school, as at present, every child should have a seat in school.

I have advocated the extension of suffrage to include the women of the Philippines. I have pointed out that if ever the Philippines are to be self-sustaining, greater attention must be paid to economic development and less to politics. I have fought the restrictions which selfish American interests have sought to place on Philippine products and Filipino immigrants coming into the United States. Finally, I have urged that so long as the American flag flies over the islands the American administration should be efficient as well as honest and sympathetic.

Complains of Misrepresentation.

Unfortunately the Filipino leaders have ignored these views and have, instead, broadcast representations of my writings with an obvious indifference to the corelation between their statement and the facts. In many cases this has been done by persons who apparently have not read what I have written, contenting themselves instead with isolated sentences twisted from their context.

Their one-sided propaganda has tended to create in the Philippine Islands a state of mind prejudicial to my present usefulness as Vice Governor. If prolonged, this situation is apt to have unfortunate repercussions in the next session of Congress, during which vitally important discussions of Philippine problems will presumably occur. The fundamental issues then to be considered should not be complicated by questions connected with my appointment, nor should any controversy about my views be permitted to embarrass Philippine-American relations.

Under the circumstances, I have decided to place my resignation as Vice Governor of the Philippine Islands in your hands, believing that my services can be more useful elsewhere. Your acceptance of it will not lessen my deep interest in Far Eastern affairs nor diminish the eagerness with which I look forward to revisiting the Philippines.

Thanking you for the honor you have done me in giving me this appointment, I am,

"Respectfully yours,

NICHOLAS ROOSEVELT.

Services of New Minister Reviewed.

The state[illegible]t issued by t[illegible] White House contained a brief sketch of Mr. Roosev[illegible]t, with especial reference to his [illegible]ices to the government. This read:

"The new Minister to Hungary has on two previous occasions served his country abroad. The first was from 1914 to 1916 when he was one of the attachés in the American Embassy in Paris. The second was after the armistice, when, because of the previous studies of Austro-Hungarian conditions and his knowledge of German and other foreign languages, he was chosen by the late Professor Archibald Cary Coolidge to be a member of the Austro-Hungarian field mission of the American commission to negotiate peace, of which Mr. Coolidge was the head, and spent the Winter of 1919 in Vienna and Budapest.

"Born in New York City in 1893, Mr. Roosevelt was graduated from Harvard in the class of 1914 and, after his service in the embassy in Paris, served in the war as Captain in the 322d Infantry. In 1921 he joined the editorial staff of The New York Tribune and in 1923 transferred to THE NEW YORK TIMES. Besides writing editorials and articles on international affairs for that paper, Mr. Roosevelt made a trip to Central Europe in 1923 to study economic problems and to the Far East in 1925 for THE NEW YORK TIMES. He is the author of three books on America's international affairs, the latest of which, 'America and England,' was published in January, 1930."

Nomination Caused Controversy.

Mr. Roosevelt was nominated Vice Governor of the Philippines just at the conclusion of the recent special session of Congress. The nomination was referred to the Senate Committee on Territories and Insular Affairs, whose chairman, Senator Bingham of Connecticut, explained that as the nomination had excited some controversy he would not press for action on it at that time, but when Congress reconvened in December he would give critics of Mr. Roosevelt an opportunity to present their views to the committee.

Mr. Roosevelt has remained in this country. He was in Washington today to present his letter of resignation to the President.

Filipinos Hail Resignation.

MANILA, Thursday, Sept. 25 (AP).—News of the resignation of Nicholas Roosevelt as Vice Governor of the Philippines was hailed today by Filipino leaders as a great moral victory for the island people.

THREAT TO PRESS SEEN IN MOVES AT MADRID

Liberals Believe Government Connives at Wrecking of Opposition Journals.

Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

MADRID, Sept. 24.—Dr. Albiñana, chief of the Legionaires of Spain, published an article last night in La Nácion which liberals consider a threat to El Sol, a liberal newspaper, an dthe failure of the government to take action has added to the belief of Liberals that the government is winking at activities of the Legionaires.

The Legionaires are a group of young men, including, according to unsubstantiated private statements, young blades in the army organized last Spring when republican agitation was at its noisiest and were first heard of when eight shouting "Viva El Rey" broke into one of Professor Unamuno's republican meetings and started a free-for-all.

Many escapades, mostly discreditable, are laid at their feet, including an attack by a group of four on a student leader whom they stabbed with a hatpin a few inches below the heart, nearly killing him. They have been called Fascists, but this is a bit exaggerated. All are monarchistic youths supporting the employment of extra-legal force against anti-monarchists with the hope of quieting them by terrorism.

Last night Dr. Albiñana, the leader, who has held conferences with Premier Berenguer several times, republished an article stating in effect:

"El Sol has been siding with Nostros and probably doing it because of fear the same fate may befall them."

Dr. Albiñana claims a 130,000 membership for the organization.

LEGION TABLET FOR PARIS.

Col. Friedsam's Gift Honoring City's Soldiers Exhibited Here.

A bronze tablet commemorating the men of New York City who served in the World War was placed on exhibition yesterday in the Mayor's reception room in City Hall. It is the gift of Colonel Michael Friedsam, president of B. Altman & Co., to the American Legion House in Paris. It will start to France next Saturday aboard the Leviathan.

The tablet is about five by three feet in dimensions. Its central feature is a figure of Liberty. Inscribed above are the words:

"This tablet is erected by Colonel Michael Friedsam of the city of New York, in honor of her 228,000 sons who served in the American Expeditionary Forces, and in public remembrance of the 8,142 who gave their lives for their country."

The gift was turned over to the Mayor by Colonel Friedsam, who made a brief speech. In accepting the tablet "temporarily," the Mayor praised Colonel Friedsam for his civic and patriotic spirit, and said that he typified New York's great merchants, "who," he said, "are not nearly so materialistic as most people think."

NEW GERMAN POCKET APPARATUS AIDS THE DEAFENED

Can be had on free trial

From Germany comes a small electrical appliance that bids fair to become the greatest boon to deafened people in many years. So small is this new appliance that it can be conveniently carried concealed in the clothing with as little bother as a watch. This newcomer, Teutonophone, is a product of post-war Germany and is being demonstrated and distributed in the United States by Teutonophone, Inc., Suite 306, 25 West 43rd Street, New York City. Open daily from 9.00 a. m. to 5.30 p. m.

Teutonophone indicates a striking advance over former type earphones. Its power to amplify sounds for even those with only a small percentage of hearing is amazing—yet it is as clear as a bell and produces enlarged sounds with a mellowness of tone not before attained. Included in this hearing aid is a remarkable tiny appliance, a button-like transmitter the size of a silver half dollar and an earpiece small enough to be worn inside the ear without a headband. The weight of this instrument is about two ounces.

While the instruments are superbly made and finished, they are being offered to the deafened at unprecedentedly low prices—so that no one with defective hearing need deprive himself of the benefits of Teutonophone. To appreciate thoroughly the benefit and comfort these instruments offer to deafened persons, an actual test is essential, because mere words cannot portray them adequately.

WORLD CONFERENCE IN VIEW

Confidence Is Expressed That Preliminary Work Can Be Finished This Year.

GERMANY CHARGES INACTION

Bernstorff "Finds Sadness That Nothing Has Been Done Toward General Disarmament."

By P. J. PHILIP.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

GENEVA, Sept. 24.—Passing lightly over the circumstance that the Franco-Italian naval issue on which the Treaty of London depends is still unsettled, Ambassador J. J. Loudon today reported to the disarmament committee of the League of Nations that the date of Nov. 3 for holding the next meeting of the Preparatory Disarmament Commission would be adhered to. In the report, in the resolution which will go to the Assembly, and in the speeches of nearly all those who contributed to the debate, there was a note of definite resolve that, now the major difficulty in the way of naval limitation had been got rid of by the London conference, there would be at last real progress.

"The whole world is impatient," Dr. Loudon said, and his words were echoed by Count von Bernstorff of Germany and Viscount Cecil of Britain.

Two draft resolutions of the terms in which the Assembly should summon the commission to meet were submitted, one by José Matos of Guatemala, which reflected the majority opinion, and another by Count von Bernstorff for the German delegation. The second was the more vigorous in its terms, for among other things it roundly declared that "up to the present the Preparatory Commission has not succeeded in achieving any positive result." It asked further that a general disarmament conference be called "as early as possible in 1931."

Other More Satisfactory.

The other resolution better satisfied Nicolas Politis of Greece, chairman of the committee, and Lord Cecil, who found it both vigorous and hopeful enough in tone, in that it puts the Assembly on record as expressing "confidence" that in its session next November the Preparatory Commission will be able to finish drawing up a preliminary draft convention, and will thus permit the Council to convene a general conference on the reduction and limitation of armaments as soon as possible.

No one wanted to go into details. There will be enough of that when the conference begins. But Hungary and Germany, as unilaterally disarmed countries, spoke feelingly in praise of the task set once more for the coming year. Count von Bernstorff declared that everywhere among those who put their faith in the League he found sadness that nothing had been done toward disarmament, which was the greatest task the League had before it.

Lord Cecil said that peace was the League's greatest task, and that peace, in his opinion, could never be assured without reduction and limitation of armaments. It was a mistake, too, to say that nothing had been done except outside the League, he argued.

"We must measure what has been done and what we are going to do in the terms of the nature of our task. We are going to do something which has never been done before. We are going to say to the nations of the world, 'Your armaments will be limited to such a standard and you have no right to exceed it.'"

Impatience for realization and grumblings that nothing was being done would not help, Lord Cecil declared.

"I am as anxious as any one that this conference should meet soon, but I would prefer to wait rather than that the preparations should be inadequate and that there should be in that a risk of failure," he said.

A spirit of discouragement was thrown into the first committee, which is dealing with the question of harmonization of the Kellogg pact with the covenant of the League, when the Rumanian Foreign Minister, George Mironescu, suggested that the best course would be to refer the whole question to a new committee if the adoption of a text which would not be ratified by the various members of the League was to be avoided.

M. Mironescu's suggestion was the almost inevitable result of the course the discussion has taken in the past two days. There has been a succession of speeches expressing, as Count Ito of Japan did today, "doubt and fear" about what the committee of jurists has accomplished toward reconciliation of the covenant and the pact. Like other speakers, Count Ito was concerned less for the pact than for the covenant, and he doubted whether the desirability of any change had yet been clearly expressed or proved.

Mr. Raestad of Norway said that although his government realized the value of the Paris Pact, it continued to prefer the covenant because it was flexible, harmonious and symmetrical and still stood as the principal charter of the peace of the world. Norway, he said, would consider the proposed amendment to the covenant on the ground that she believed they would give greater authority to the Pact of Paris.

There were other delegates, including Charles te Water of South Africa, who seemed to regard the jurists' work toward conciliation and harmonization with what Mr. te Water described as "benevolent skepticism." Chile was among those which approved.

Holland Doubtful of Sanctions.

Holland was of those which recalled that there were more treaties without sanctions attached to them than there were with sanctions, and that they nevertheless had full legal value. There were cases, Mr. Limburg, Dutch delegate, said, when the Council of the League might be led to consider which was the lesser of two evils, application or non-application of sanctions.

The differences of opinion which have appeared in the debate are in most cases extremely subtle and are based on large hypotheses. In the face of them, however, and the need for close further study, it is expected that the whole question will have to be referred to a new committee to see what can be done.

In the morning session of the sixth committee, the discussion on the treatment of minorities and the methods of dealing with their petitions was rounded off in a report by Dr. Giuseppe Motta of Switzerland, to which every one agreed with the usual legal reservations.

The mention in the report of the suggestion which has been made by several speakers, that the minorities treaties should be more generally extended, aroused Aristide Briand to expostulate that the idea of generalization of these treaties had been put forward as a hypothesis rather than a thesis. If the problem were really raised, he said, he would strongly contest it as outside the League's powers. His country, he added, had not waited for the creation of the League to do justice to all minorities within its frontiers.

Oath of Loyalty to the League Is Voted for Future Officials

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

GENEVA, Sept. 24.—Something new in the way of loyalties was instituted here today—an oath of allegiance to the League of Nations.

The Assembly's fourth commission, discussing the reorganization of the Secretariat, approved a motion that all future League officials shall be required, when accepting appointment, solemnly to swear to observe loyally their obligations to the international institution. The present staff will not be required to take this oath.

The oath reads: "I solemnly undertake to exercise, in conformity with Article I of the regulations, in all loyalty, discretion and conscience the functions which have been entrusted to me as an official of the Secretariat of the League of Nations."

Paul de Hevesy of Hungary, supporting the motion, argued that, whereas national officials were frequently under oath to tell nobody anything, The Hague's officials ought to swear to tell everybody everything.

WORLD COURT BENCH TO BE CHOSEN TODAY

Judges Elected for Nine-Year Period Will Have Greatly Extended Jurisdiction.

58 CANDIDATES ON THE LIST

Fifteen Judges and Four Deputies to Be Picked—Kellogg Held Sure to Get Post.

GENEVA, Sept. 24.—The bench of the World Court will be filled for the next nine years tomorrow by the League of Nations Assembly and the Council, voting secretly and separately. The election is considered far to exceed in importance the similar vote in 1921, when the bench was filled for the first time. The court was then an experimental institution whose jurisdiction depended almost entirely on the consent of each sovereign State.

Tomorrow thirty-two of the fifty-two governments voting will vote with full knowledge of the fact that they have now bound themselves in advance by the optional clause to submit all their legal disputes to whatever men the election raises to The Hague bench. With ten more having taken the first step in the same direction by signing the clause, everything indicates the coming bench, before its nine-year term expires, will have compulsory jurisdiction over nearly every nation in the world, and certainly over every European member of the League.

It will thus have in international disputes an authority far more comparable to the obligatory jurisdiction which the national courts exercise in domestic disputes than any one thought possible even two years ago, and it will have it, at the outset, in a period in which the present basic economic and social crisis makes the possibility of serious international disputes loom more darkly than it has done for some years.

The importance of tomorrow's election is further increased by the probability that the United States will enter the World Court before the term has expired and by the influential rôle which the character of the judges play in the development of any such new institution, as was illustrated by the part John Marshall played in the American Supreme Court.

The keenness of the competition is shown by the fact that there are fifty-eight candidates from all parts of the world from whom the Assembly and the Council will elect fifteen judges and four deputy judges. Those considered sure of election include Frank B. Kellogg, Dionisio Anzilotti, the Italian president of the court; Sir Cecil Hurst and Henri Fromageot, who are respectively the present British and French judges; Mineitoiro Adatci of Japan, Wang Chung-hui of China and Gustavo Guerrero of Salvador.

The race on which most interest is centred is that between the two German candidates, Dr. Walter Schuecking, who was nominated by the German and French national groups, and Dr. Walter Simons, who was nominated by several others. The odds favor the latter because of his practical experience as former chief justice of the German Supreme Court.

Count Michael Rostworowski of Poland, Rafael Altamira of Spain, Jonkheer van Eysinga of Holland and Ake Hammarskjoeld, the present Swedish registrar of the court, all appear to have good chances of election. Antonio S. de Bustamente of Cuba will have a hard race to keep his seat from going to Dr. Miguel Cruchaga of Chile or to Dr. F. J. Urrutia of Colombia, and Judge Demetriu Negulesco of Rumania is facing similar competition from the Yugoslav and Greek candidates.

LEAGUE TO CONTINUE WORK WITH REFUGEES

Status of Armenians in Greece to Be First Problem of New International Office.

Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

GENEVA, Sept. 24.—An international refugee office will continue the humanitarian work which the late Dr. Fridtjof Nansen began for the Leagueof Nations, the sixth commission decided today Max Huber, the Swiss judge in the World Court who is not seeking re-election, has accepted the chairmanship of the new organization, for which a subsidy of $66,000 has been granted for the 1931 expenses.

One of the first tasks assigned to the office by the League Assembly will be to study what is to be done about the 30,000 Armenians in Greece who do not desire to become Greeks and whom the Greek Government says are becoming too great a burden on its treasury.

The office will have full freedom to pass upon appeals by private charities for funds, particularly for refugee children, of whom there are still about 90,000, largely Russians.

A British attempt to have the League establish an international slavery office met with opposition in the same commission from Liberia, Abyssinia and Portugal, and the decision was postponed.

BANKERS HERE DOUBT GOLD SHORTAGE SOON

REPORT OFFERS REMEDIES

GOLD STANDARD IS URGED

Financial Committee Delegation Also Proposes the Wider Adoption of Checks and Similar Facilities.

Bankers here said yesterday that the suggestion of a world shortage of gold within the next four years, advanced in the interim report of the gold delegation of the financial committee of the League of Nations, was based upon hypotheses which have yet to be proved. Many bankers and economists here are by no means disposed to accept the forecast of a world gold shortage. They pointed out, however, that in justice to the authors of the report it should be noted that the delegation had not in fact forecast such a shortage, but simply advanced remedies for meeting the situation should it develop.

It was remarked in banking circles that similar suggestions of an approaching gold shortage made in the past had proved without foundation and that the reliability of such estimates might be judged from the fact that a few years ago experts were predicting a world shortage in oil, only to have their prophesies upset by subsequent discoveries. Continued progress is being made, it was pointed out, in effecting economies in the use of gold, and the prospect is that further economies will be developed over the next few years.

Report Discusses Only One Phase.

In discussing the report yesterday George Roberts, vice president of the National City Bank, who was a member of the delegation, laid stress upon the fact that the report is of an interim nature and takes up only one phase of the gold problem.

The figures on the present state of the gold mining industry were derived from the opinions of experts in the industry, who say that the prospect is for a slight increase in production in the next few years, a gradual decline up to 1940 and thereafter, possibly, a rapid reduction in output. On the basis of this forecast the delegation submitted suggestions for remedial measures. It is this section of the report, Mr. Roberts said, which constitutes its most important contribution to the subject. He indicated the following passages from the text of the report as representing the delegation's conclusions based on their study of the gold problem so far as it had been carried out:

"In view of all the circumstances to which attention has been drawn, the probable trend of prices in the future must obviously give rise to some anxiety. We wish, therefore, at once to record our opinion that, if the need is recognized, remedial measures can be found which might be expected, for at any rate the next decade, to correct the consequences we fear. We proceed to suggest some directions in which these may be sought.

"There would without doubt be a serious shortage of gold today at this moment had not certain important changes in general currency practice and legislation been effected which tend to economize the use of gold. Others can no doubt be adopted with a similar end in view. Of the changes which have already taken place the most important is the discontinuance of the use of gold coin for domestic currency purposes—a change which, we are glad to note, has received very general support. The replacement of gold by notes for domestic use has in no way weakened the general credit structure of the countries which have accomplished this reform.

Concentration Held Useful.

"On the contrary, the concentration of gold in reserves under the direct and immediate administration of those responsible for monetary policy has greatly facilitated their task. It has enabled banks of issue to appreciate from week to week and from month to month the variations which take place in the total demand for currency. In addition it has helped to substitute savings which fructify for gold in the pockets of the people or in hoards which constitute a direct and useless charge on the community, and it has enabled the world to judge how far the available monetary gold in the reserves of central banks and its limitation as a means of payment to international transactions may shortly become generalized and that in those countries where gold coin is still employed for domestic transactions or lies locked up in the vaults of private banks, measures of reform may be adopted.

"An appreciable economy might be effected if all gold coin, gold holdings against certificates and gold immobilized in commercial banks were made available to perform what is now generally recognized as its proper function in the currency mechanism of today. Such changes would not of course involve confining all transactions in gold to a single institution in each country.

"But the extent to which the concentration of gold in the reserves of central banks or other currency authorities will effectively economize its use must depend, among other things, upon the legislation regulating these reserves. The amount of cover against notes and sight liabilities which any country needs is determined by a number of different factors. An agricultural country or a country whose exports are confined to a small number of commodities the prices of which are liable to wide variations will necessarily want a larger proportionate reserve than one which enjoys a more varied economy or a strong creditor position. It is impossible to lay down any general rule. But the minimum reserves which are required by law today are to a large extent the outcome not of these considerations, but of past tradition, of convention and habit, of the natural fear which each individual Legislature has that a departure from general practice may impair confidence in the currency.

"It follows from what has been said, however, and more especially from the very fact that these cover ratios are so largely conventional, that were a single country to act alone it might, in certain cases, weaken confidence in its currency. Before such action could be taken most countries would demand that an international understanding were previously reached. We do not believe that the difficulties of reaching agreement should prove insuperable.

"Some economy of gold might, we believe, also be effected by extending the use of checks, postoffice banking facilities, wire transfers, &c., and by developing and improving the mechanism of clearings.

"Allusion should also be made to the desirability of replacing notes of small denominations by coins.

"In addition to these constructive measures, reference should be made to the influence which may be exerted on the situation by countries which have not yet stabilized their currency. In recent years a number of countries have adopted what is generally called the gold exchange standard. It would certainly prove helpful if those countries which have not yet stabilized their currencies or are considering the desirability of modifying their currency laws pursued a similar policy.

"Finally we desire to draw attention again to the grave consequence which might result from the conversion on any considerable scale of existing foreign asset reserves into gold, and would urge all countries now employing the gold exchange standard to give serious consideration to this danger."

The delegation wil hold its next meeting in November, when, Mr. Roberts said, it was hoped that its work might be concluded. If it is found impossible to complete the study then, another meeting will be held next Spring.

FRENCH RENEW CALL FOR SECURITY FIRST

INSIST ON STRONG DEFENSE

Assert No Form of Federation Can Make France Abandon Plans or Be Used to Revise Treaties.

By CARLISLE MacDONALD.
Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PARIS, Sept. 24.—The demand for unquestioned security for France before everything else was voiced in clear terms tonight by the semi-official Temps and the Journal des Débats, both government organs.

This agreement of views is, no doubt, a manifestation of the growing uneasiness of public opinion as reflected in responsible newspapers and in the speeches of political leaders. It may also be taken as a response to the efforts of those statesmen like Arthur Henderson, the British Foreign Secretary, who would try to revive a measure of interest in the question of European land and air disarmament.

Both the Temps and the Journal des Débats assert that no form of European federation can influence the nation to abandon plans for making itself secure from attack, nor can the projected union be permitted to be a means of revising the treaties of peace and the European geographical adjustments carried out at the peace conference.

The Best Safeguard.

"There are many disquieting symptoms," says the Temps, "and, without exaggeration of the danger, it must be borne in mind that the best safeguard is to guard against unpleasant surprises by relying on our own efforts for insuring the country's safety. The present threatening situation makes us realize better the need for attempting something to save Europe and the world from a new catastrophe. The first thing to be achieved, however, is strength so as to be able to speak and act with authority.

"When one is strong, and because one is strong, one is able to exercise influence in favor of the most noble causes and to take the most generous steps in the interest of the civilized world without fears for the future.

"France, whose seniority cannot be questioned, intends to pursue a policy of rapprochement and collaboration under the triple formula of arbitration, security and disarmament, the last to be nothing less than the logical consequence of security. A European union can be achieved only by respecting treaties and by bettering that which already exists, not by demolishing what the victory of right and freedom created."

Takes Pessimistic Tone.

The Journal des Débats takes a very pessimistic attitude and asks where agreement can be found anywhere in Europe today.

"Where is there a general European expression of good-will?" continues the newspaper. "Where is there acceptance of the treaties which are the foundation of the new Europe? Since 1924 the policy of concessions to former enemy countries under the pretext of an international entente of peace has wrought only great destruction.

"The German elections were fought and won on the tearing up of the Young plan, and the outcome is our reward for the evacuation of the Rhineland. German policy is now directed against the Treaty of Versailles and the results of the allied victory. The reconstitution of the Reichswehr and the restoration of Germany to her former position are the present aims. France must be told the truth."

Almost alone among French political leaders, Edouard Daladier, president of the Radical Socialist party and former War Minister, differs strongly with the leaders of the Right and asserts the opportunity to disarm Germany was neglected in 1918. Marshal Foch, he declares, allowed Germany 100,000 men for the Reichswehr, while Alexandre Millerand as Premier subsequently allowed Germany an additional force of 150,000 militarily trained security police.

M. Daladier's position, however, is out of sympathy with the other leader of the Radical Socialist party, Edouard Herriot, former Premier, who recently altered his tone toward Germany to the extent of admitting that the seriousness of the situation justifies vigilance.

SAYS GOLD SHORTAGE MAY DEPRESS PRICES

League Body Holds Use of Gold Coin Would Increase Danger—To Study Farm Credits.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

GENEVA, Sept. 24.—While the drafting committee was trying to harmonize the conflicting views of the League of Nations Assembly on what to do about the world economic depression, the part that gold plays in the crisis was stressed in the report from the financial committee of the Council, which was heard this afternoon.

The report underlined the conclusion reached in the gold delegation's interim report, which was released yesterday, saying that the inadequate supply of new gold available for monetary purposes would be liable at no very distant date to contribute further to the depression of commodity prices. This danger would be aggravated, the report added, were gold coin again to be put into circulation, though, if it were recognized in time, it might be avoided by remedial measures.

The financial committee's report, pointing out that the period in which the committee's work had centred on the financial reconstruction of various States seemed to be ending, indicated that agricultural credits and other financial aspects of the cycles of economic depression would occupy much of its attention in the future. As a first definite step in this direction, the Council, in approving the report, authorized the financial section of the League to aid Bulgaria in the reform of its system of cooperative societies.

The Council referred the dispute between Greece and Bulgaria over the former Turkish forest lands to the committee of jurists, and approved the Spanish proposal for a European conference on rural hygiene and the French proposal to found at Paris a superior school of public health. The new Anglo-Iraq agreement was referred to the Mandates commission.

HUGE PROFIT SEEN ON SOVIET EXPORTS

3-FOLD INFLATION CHARGED

Three Rubles Issued Against Every $1 Received, Also Treasury Notes, He Declares.

An explanation of how the Soviet Government can make a profit on manganese, which it is dumping in this country at $12.50 a ton when it cost the Harriman interests $20 a ton to produce in the Caucasus, was made yesterday by Henry D. Baker, former American Commercial Attaché in Russia, whose statement was given out by the American Manganese Producers' Association of 501 Fifth Avenue. Mr. Baker, in fact, said that the Soviet Government could make a paper profit of $45.62 a ton on manganese which sold for $12.50.

The solution of the "economic mystery," according to Mr. Baker, was that the Harriman interests were entirely on their own in the manganese venture and had no connection with the Soviet State Bank, "which can issue and force circulation of bank-notes up to three times the amount of American money received for the manganese"; also that the Harriman interests had no partnership interest in Soviet treasury notes, "which are now additionally issued up to 75 per cent of all the State Bank note issues."

"Threefold Expansive Structure."

Like all other industries in Russia, declared Mr. Baker, the Soviet manganese ore trust belongs to the government, which also owns the State Bank. The latter is authorized to use all foreign currency obtained from exports as "firm cover" for a threefold expansive structure of bank-note currency, "which in turn becomes a base for a superstructure of treasury notes equal to 75 per cent of the bank-notes."

Mr. Baker declared that "out of what might by normal reasoning be considered profitless export, such as the Harriman interests found it to be, the Soviet taps a flow of rubles like water from a hydrant," juggling out results "which seem as astounding as when a magician draws rabbits from an empty hat."

"The train of thought is as follows," he continued. "The manganese selling at $12.50 a ton on the official rate of about 2 rubles to the dollar, represents 25 rubles. These 25 rubles are evidenced by bills of exchange for United States currency. This means that 3 rubles may be issued by the State Bank of issue for every ruble represented in the shipment. Thus three times 25 rubles make 75 rubles. And then as the Commissariat for Finance can put out treasury notes up to three-fourths of the bank notes, then three-fourths of 75 rubles or 56.25 rubles thus added to 75 rubles makes 131.25 rubles.

"And then converting these rubles back to dollars in the same ratio, two to one, gives $65.62. And then deducting $20 of assumed production cost, there would be wonderful profit of $45.62 per ton which might well stagger the imagination of our own sorely tried manganese industry.

"The paper rubles thus issued may be expended on wages to workers and peasants and to the miners who dig out the manganese. The quack financiers of Soviet Russia might perhaps be so kind as to grant some increases of wages to the workers in the manganese industry, for they know that with their huge wind and water profit they could easily spare some increases.

Says Value of Ruble Is Declining.

"The poor ignorant Russian worker knows that the purchasing value of the ruble is daily depreciating. He knows that he is obtaining less and less value for his ruble wages or salary. He may also know that rubles on such cities close to his frontier as Warsaw, Helsingfors and Harbin are now selling at only about twelve cents a ruble, and with a purchasing value in Russia which is really considerably less than twelve cents. What he cannot understand, however, is how his Soviet taskmasters are swindling him out of his money on every ton of goods that he produces. But the facts of the matter are that the more he produces for export, the more his currency is inflated. The more he works and produces, the harder it is for him to live. The Russian financial system is based on sophistry that would hardly have been extraordinary in the darkest Middle Ages, but which for Americans living in an enlightened nation can only be considered as economic lunacy.

"The Soviet gold standard, although superficially seeming to be conservative, is unique in its ingenious method of making commodities exported serve as a basis for tremendous currency expansion. The reserves for note issues of the Soviet State Bank legally comprise gold bullion, coin and other precious metals and foreign currencies. This item of foreign currencies includes bills of exchange for all commodities in course of export and covered by sales contracts and bills of lading.

"The State Bank, by Soviet law, may issue and circulate chervonetz (10 rubles) notes to be secured up to one-quarter of a nominal amount by precious metals and foreign currency, both considered as 'firm cover,' and the balance of three-fourths by merchandise, bills of exchange and other documents. By this method the expansion of industries is fed by bank notes, which pledge assets in return for loans advanced. Such obligations might be outstanding for six months or a year or more, and in such industries as failed to make good, the losses would doubtless in some way or another be covered up in the general government budget.

"The 'firm cover' on May 1, 1930, amounted to 41,875,000 chervonetz, of which 6,097,851 was in foreign currency. This was in a ratio of 25.1 per cent to total bank note issues of 164,629,000 chervonetz. The remaining 74.9 per cent given by industries for bank note advances amounted to 123,624,000 chervonetz, or about three times the amount of 'firm cover' provided.

"Until recently, treasury notes were also legally issued up to 50 per cent of the bank notes issued, but lately this proportion has been raised to 75 per cent.

"Between Oct. 1, 1928, and May 1, 1930, bank note circulation swelled from 989,800,000 rubles to 1,613,000,000 rubles, while treasury notes rose from 461,000,000 rubles to 1,184,000,000 rubles.

"This tremendous increase in note circulation, due to the necessities of the five-year plan, has naturally forced a big scramble for precious metals and foreign currencies to serve as legal 'firm cover' for the immense emissions.

"Through huge exports of goods for cash and purchases chiefly by credit, the 'firm cover' basis for note circulation has made a gain during the last two years of 144,480,000 rubles, equivalent to $72,240,000. But all currency has shown a much vaster gain of 2,420,200,000 rubles, as evidenced in outstanding bank notes, treasury notes and silver and copper coins on May 1, 1930.

"No private concern anywhere in the world can compete with shipments from Russia under this scheme of inflation whereby Soviet labor gets wages now probably no better than the poorest coolies of China. Moreover, the Soviet labor is really a forced serf labor. If it refuses to do its allotted tasks, the food cards are withdrawn and any strikes could mean only starvation.

"Of course, in time, this inflation of the Russian currency will wipe out its value altogether, just as happened to the German marks. The present currency will then doubtless be repudiated, and some new currency started above the worthless mass of paper of the old rubles. But in the meantime, the whole world is subject to grave economic danger from the financial lunacy that forces vast exports out of a country which is itself living under conditions of economic distress steadily going from bad to worse.

"When Soviet Russia ships manganese, coal, timber or any other product to the United States, it does so for cash, and the cash thus received becomes the basis for ruble inflation."

Industrial and Agrarian Groups Shun Joint Action as Proposed in Geneva.

East Prussia Urges Reich Not to Act Against Moscow, Fearing Injury to Trade Relations.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

BERLIN, Sept. 24.—While Russian dumping in Germany is provoking comment in German industrial and agrarian quarters, they wholly approve the government's decision not to identify itself with an anti-Russian barrage, as is proposed in Geneva, and the dumping is not looked upon here as having reached proportions which demand the German Government's intervention.

One reason for this neutrality may be looked for in the recent orders from the Soviet Government to German companies, which have helped to dissipate some of the friction between Germany and Russia over trade relations.

Agrarian interests have been partially appeased by the Soviet's promise to curtail such exports of foodstuffs as butter, eggs and poultry to Germany, but there are still points in the dispute to be ironed out. These largely affect the problem of industrial credits and the political aspects involved in the allocation of orders.

Germans now plan to give renewed attention to the exploitation of the Russian industrial market on condition that the Soviet Government live up to the economic agreements of the treaty of Rapallo and take further cognizance of German complaints in regard to political activities of Reds in Germany.

While some differences have been eliminated since the informal conversations of the Russo-German Arbitration Commission started, there yet remains a strong anti-Russian current in influential private German quarters, which prefers to await further clarification of the political and economic situation in Russia.

East Prussian circles demand that Germany hold herself aloof from any international action aimed at the Soviet's dumping campaign, as the latter is held no menace to German interests so long as they can be protected through tariff intervention. This attitude, in a large measure, is dictated by the fear that Germany may be drafted into the service of Poland and other Baltic States in a campaign of reprisals which might ultimately affect the drift of Russo-German trade relations.

CHICAGO WHEAT UP AS THE SHORTS COVER

Russian buying. The lowest wheat price there today was below any comparable mark since 1909.

Silas H. Strawn, attorney and civic leader; Peter B. Carey, a director of the Board of Trade, and S. O. Harris, a member of a Board of Trade firm, departed today for Washington. They were to call on Secretary Lamont. It was understood that they intended to explain the attitude of the Board of Trade in the Russian matter to officials, as well as discuss changes in the rules of the organization, which have been contemplated for a long time.

While the Russian influence was regarded in some quarters as neutralized, so far as wheat market trading is concerned, leaders of three farmers' organizations took up the cudgels against what they termed "Russian communistic activities in the United States threatening the welfare of the American farmer." They were the American Farm Bureau Federation, the National Grange and the Farmers' Educational and Cooperative Union, representing 2,000,000 families.

Investigate Red Activities.

Sam H. Thompson, president of the Farm Bureau Federation, is in Washington, consulting with Federal officials. He authorized M. S. Winder, secretary of the federation in Chicago, to announce that Secretary Hyde would attend a meeting of the organization's board of directors here Oct. 2 and 3.

"At that time will be presented a full report of an investigation of the communistic activities in this country," declared Mr. Winder.

"It is being prepared by Farm Bureau officials who have been studying the situation for some three months. The disastrous slump in the wheat market, costing American farmers millions of dollars, and Secretary Hyde's declaration of the Soviet Government's responsibility have hastened our determination to give this matter official notice."

According to Mr. Winder, the Farm Bureau Federation has had under consideration for some time demands for legislation designed to thoroughly regulate the boards of trade "to prevent just such manipulation as has occurred during the last few months."

Consideration will be given, he added, to the "matter of American-made farm machinery exported for use in the Soviet grain fields by peasants whose wage scale and standards of living are controlled according to communistic theories."

L. J. Taber, president of the National Grange, said at Columbus, Ohio, that the grange would consider steps to be taken at a meeting of the directors in Washington the second week in October. The directors of the Farmers' Union probably will act at a meeting early next month, declared C. E. Huff, president.

Several farm leaders stated that they had been gathering evidence of "communistic meetings" among farmers, principally in Utah, Montana, the Dakotas and Minnesota. Reports of sabotage in grain fields are being investigated, they said.

Canada and Russia Compete.

Meanwhile, a dispatch from London reported that Canadian and Russian grain was competing for sales, and that American hard Winter wheat was in small demand because it was being held at higher price levels than either of those countries.

While gossip was heard to the effect that Russians may have bought 1,000,000 bushels here today, and a belief was expressed in some quarters in the trade that the Russians' other sales would be covered in a short time, when their cash wheat in Europe is sold, investigations of their activities continued.

The business conduct committee of the Board of Trade held another session this afternoon. Joseph W. Badenoch, chairman, stated that they were tracing down the clues given by Secretary Hyde. Another meeting will be held Friday.

Fish Calls Farm Leaders.

Representative Hamilton Fish Jr., chairman of the House committee investigating the activities of Communists, yesterday sent telegrams to Samuel H. Thompson, president of the American Farm Bureau in Chicago, and to M. S. Winder, executive secretary, asking them to attend the hearing to be held in Chicago on Monday.

At the same time Mr. Fish telegraphed to Premier Bennett of Canada, thanking him for his expression of willingness to cooperate and asking him to send a representative having expert knowledge of the situation to the Chicago session.

Mr. Fish announced that he would depart today to attend the Republican tSate convention in Albany but would return tomorrow in time for an inquiry to be held then at the Department of Justice, 370 Lexington Avenue, into the lumber situation. Subpoenas are to be issued today, Mr. Fish added, for all witnesses, employes of brokerage houses or others having knowledge of the situation who will testify at the lumber hearing tomorrow and at a wheat hearing to be held here on Saturday.

The witnesses will be announced at 4 P. M. today. Among those to be questioned is a former Amtorg vice president, Mr. Fish said.

"The grain futures act of 1922 as I understand it," Mr. Fish stated, "as amended in Subdivision 2, Section 2, provides that the Department of Agriculture can specify the amount of wheat which may be sold short in one day by one firm, as one order. This amount is 500,000 bushels. Three brokerage houses in New York in three days sold 7,500,000 bushels short. Employes of these firms are among those to be subpoenaed as witnesses on Saturday."

SAYS SOVIET DUMPS TO STIR REVOLUTION

DECLARES RUSSIANS STARVE

He Predicts a Change to Sale of Cheap Goods—Tells of Candy Dumped Here.

Dumping of wheat and other goods abroad was characterized yesterday as a fixed policy of the Soviet Government, with the object of undermining foreign markets and fomentin revolution abroad, by Basil W. Delgass, until recently vice president of the Amtorg Trading Corporation, Soviet commercial agency in this country.

Mr. Delgass resigned from the Amtorg in protest against the Soviet policy and its alleged program of withdrawing trade from the United States with the object of forcing American recognition of the Stalin régime. Because of his resignation and refusal to come to Moscow for an explanation, Mr. Delgass has been sentenced to death by the Soviet Government and his property has been ordered confiscated.

"Russia today presents the extraordinary spectacle of a country being starved and impoverished by a government pursuing the fantastic policy of depriving its own people of the things they desperately need in order to dump them abroad at cheap prices as a means of creating disorganization, discontent and revolution in other countries," said Mr. Delgass. "To be sure, there is also another aim to this policy, namely, that of obtaining capital for the Soviet industrialization plan, but the two go together.

"It is certainly an unprecedented performance to see a government so lacking in self-respect as to engage in short-sale wheat operations on foreign markets, but the Soviet Government is an extraordinary organization and anything may be expected from it," Mr. Delgass added.

Revolution Held to Be Aim.

Mr. Delgass made the direct charge that "the Soviet Government is engaged in systematic dumping operations with the object of fomenting world revolution by helping on the collapse of European and American markets."

"When you consider the general economic and financial situation abroad, the widespread unemployment, the dislocation of industry and the depression of agriculture it would be rash to say that Soviet Russia's tactics can do no damage," he said. "At the same time it may be difficult to stop this dumping. The only country which need not fear it seriously is the United States because of the strength of its economic position, but here, too, the matter cannot be waived aside lightly. While I am against a general embargo on Russian imports and favor the development of Russian-American trade, I do think that the importation of Soviet convict-made goods, such as lumber and pulpwood, should be stopped. There is not the slightest doubt that these goods are produced by convict labor."

Mr. Delgass also supplied the information that "New York is being flooded with cheap Soviet candy."

"Soviet Russia is today the third largest exporter of candy to the United States," he said, "and this at a time when the Russian people cannot get any sugar. The same is true of dairy products, and, in a large measure, so far as the cities are concerned, of bread."

Mr. Delgass declared that the dumping of wheat by the Soviet Government abroad, combined with the desperate food situation in Russia "has again raised the danger of famine in Russia."

Famine Conditions Cited.

"In certain regions of the country famine is already a fact, the Urals for axample," he said. "Yet, the Soviet Government is quite content to export grain and let the Russian people starve.

"Claims that things are going well in Russia, that the collectivization of agriculture is a great success, that the five-year plan of industrialization is being realized are absolutely unfounded. The grain collections are going badly and the program set by the government will not be accomplished without the most ruthless kind of pressure on the peasantry. This is as true of the collectives as it is of the individual peasants."

Because of the serious agricultural situation, Mr. Delgass said, it may be expected that the grain exports will cease next year and that a program of dumping cheap manufactured articles abroad will be substituted by Moscow.

"It is here where the Soviet Government is likely to meet with serious opposition," Mr. Delgass declared, "for when the workers in other countries realize that their bread is being taken away from them as a result of this Soviet dumping, they will rise in protest against Russian trade. From one point of view the policy of the Soviet Government seems to be that of a régime grown desperate as a result of its own difficulties."

RESERVE BOARD ACTS ON FARMERS' CREDITS

Assures Agriculture of Ample Funds at Low Rates to Market Year's Crops.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—On the heels of the wheat market depression attributed by Secretary Hyde to Soviet dealings in the Chicago market, the Federal Reserve Board announced today after a preliminary meeting with Reserve Bank governors that ample funds were available in all districts for the marketing and financing of the season's crops.

In order to assure the farmer all possible assistance in marketing, the board and other agencies will place at their disposal available credit facilities at the lawest rates in the history of the board.

It was the first meeting since the appointment of Eugene Meyer, formerly associated with the War Finance Corporation and the Federal Farm Loan System, as governor of the board.

There will be further meetings during the next two days at which plans for close cooperation in providing cheap credit for agricultural marketing purposes will be perfected.

After today's conference the following statement was issued:

"At a preliminary conference held by the Federal Reserve Board in connection with the regular Fall meeting of the governors and chairmen of the twelve Federal Reserve Banks, a comprehensive review was made of the agricultural, general economic and credit situation throughout the country.

"Being the season of usual marketing of the country's crops, reports were made with particular reference to the status of agricultural staples in each of the Federal Reserve districts, and there was special discussion of the conditions affecting their marketing and financing.

"The board was assured and satisfied that in each of the twelve Federal Reserve districts ample credit facilities are available for financing the marketing of the crops, and that such facilities are being provided by the banks and other agencies concerned in the orderly marketing of agricultural commodities.

"The twelve Federal Reserve banks, through rediscounts for their member banks, loans to Federal intermediate credit banks on agricultural paper of cooperative associations, and purchases of bankers' acceptances covering agricultural commodities, are making their resources available for the marketing of the country's crops at the lowest rates in the history of the system.

"It was the view of the conference that the extension of credit to support the orderly marketing of crops—at all times an important function of the Federal Reserve banks—is of special importance at the present time. To that end, the Federal Reserve Board was assured that the Federal Reserve banks will continue their efforts to acquaint their communities with the facilities of the system and the disposition of the management of those banks to meet the problems connected with the marketing of the crops."

The coming inquiry by the Congressional committee headed by Representative Fish, which will investigate charges of Russian manipulation of the wheat market at a hearing in New York on Saturday, before a session in Chicago continued the centre of much attention in the capital today. Secretary Hyde returned to the city and went into conference with Chairman Legge of the Federal Farm Board. Although the purpose of the conference was not revealed, it was held as certain that the hedging operations of the All-Russian Textile Syndicate was discussed.

Another important development was an announcement by the National Lumber Manufacturers' Association that it was preparing to make a formal request that unlawful imports of lumber be rigidly prohibited in accord with the decree of Congress.

Wilson Compton, secretary and general manager of the National Lumber Manufacturers' Association, formally submitted to Seymour Lowman, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, in charge of Customs, the contention of the lumber industry that sufficient evidence has already been submitted to justify the department in regarding all lumber shipments from the Russian White Sea area as having been produced by convict labor.

Attacking the article in THE NEW YORK TIMES today that reports from accredited sources had revealed dumping of Russian products in nine foreign countries, Harold Kellock, American adviser to the Soviet Union Information Bureau, charged that the reports consisted of mere "allegations and boulevard reports about the Soviet Union."

"The anonymous authority begins by giving a list of nine countries in which he states that the Soviet Union had been dumping for the past eight or ten months," Mr. Kellock said. "With two of the countries named the Soviet Union has no commercial intercourse whatever.

"The industrialists of the Soviet Union are not in a position to disorganize commerce and industry in other countries; and if they were, they could not do this without disorganizing their own national economy. This is so obvious that one would assume even a half-witted person would be aware of it."

American producers "have to do a lot of dumping this year," he said.

"They don't like it, but it is a bad year, Soviet producers don't like it either, but they are caught in the same chain of circumstances.

"For ten years before the war Russian exports of grain averaged 10,000,000 tons annually. Over a month ago the able Moscow correspondent of THE NEW YORK TIMES predicted an export of between 3,000,000 and 4,000,000 tons of grain from this year's crop. It is a fair assumption that about a third of the export, say 1,000,000 to 1,400,000 metric tons (40,000,000 to 55,000,000 bushels) would be wheat.

"There should have been no surprise when the first instalments of this amount began to be shipped, and there has been no reason to be panicky about it. Apparently at the best, the Soviet export of wheat this year would be about a fifth of the normal annual export of the United States."

Hewson, former Corporation Counsel of Mount Vernon, who attempted to kill himself at his Mount Vernon home on Tuesday by cutting his throat, according to the police, was removed by his family yesterday from the Mount Vernon Hospital. It could not be learned from the hospital or the home where Mr. Hewson was taken. "Condition good," was the final report on Mr. Hewson at the hospital.

ARGENTINA SEEKS DATA ON GRAIN AVAILABLE

Curb on Speculators Is Planned After Taking of Inventory of Surplus.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 24.—The constant decrease in prices at which it is possible to sell Argentine cereals is occupying the serious attention of the new government. The Minister of Agriculture telegraphed today to all provincial governments, asking them to ascertain as near as possible the exact stocks of corn in their respective territories. The government wants the figure of the exportable balance still on hand before undertaking measures which it is considering and which, it is hoped, will improve the prices of corn, which is now the lowest in several years.

All of the principal grains have suffered abrupt declines in the last few days, wheat falling 45 centavos a quintal, which at present exchange rates is the equivalent of 16 cents a bushel, closing today at the equivalent of 76 cents a bushel. Corn dropped from 6 pesos a quintal on Monday to 5.35 pesos, which is the equivalent, respectively, of 54.5 cents and 48.5 cents a bushel.

Flaxseed, which is the only crop on which Argentine growers can generally more or less dictate price, because they produce 90 per cent of the world's exports, has fallen from 17.25 pesos a quintal, the equivalent of $1.57 a bushel on Aug. 23, to 15.20 a quintal, or $1.38 a bushel, on Monday, closing today at 14.25 pesos a quintal, or $1.29 a bushel.

While wheat admittedly is feeling the effects of the international depression, the low prices of corn and flaxseed are blamed on artificial manipulation by speculators, which the government hopes to curb.

DOUBLES ESTIMATES OF RUSSIAN WHEAT

Colonel Sanday Is Informed That Russians Have 80,000,000 Bushels to Sell.

PEASANTS FIGHT SEIZURES

Rafael Abramovich Says Moscow Attempts Impossible Task in Grain Collection Program.

Information obtained by cable yesterday from reliable sources in England indicated that Russia had 80,000,000 bushels of wheat to sell, instead of the 40,000,000 to 45,000,000 credited to the Soviet in trade circles, declared Colonel Douglas Sanday, a member of the Produce Exchange.

Colonel Sanday said that the information, which came to him, could be vouched for, and added that the Soviet Government was chartering ships daily.

"The information as to quality says that the Russian wheat is of very good quality, fully equal to United States Winter wheat," Colonel Sanday continued. "The Russian wheat is being offered at 12 cents a bushel under the American price.

"The fact that the Russian wheat is being sold abroad in large quantities does not necessarily mean that the Russians are trying to beat the world price. They have apparently made up their minds that this is the time to sell, and they want to sell their surplus before the Australian and Argentine wheat is on the market in December.

Other brokers were inclined to agree with Colonel Sanday that the dumping of wheat by Russia and not the recent short sales in the Chicago market was responsible for the depression of prices. It was pointed out that had Russia wished to depress the market through bear raids, she would have operated on the Liverpool Exchange, credited with being the world's leader in prices.

Calls Soviet Task Impossible.

Another point of view of the Russian dumping situation was contributed yesterday to the Jewish Daily Forward by Rafael Abramovich of Berlin, leader of the Russian Social Democrats, who, quoting from official figures of the Soviet Government, asserted that the government was attempting the impossible task of extracting 600,000,000 more poods (36.07 pounds) of grain from the peasant than last year, when large reserve supplies and grain held for sowing were forcibly taken from the farmers.

All over Russia, according to Mr. Abramovich, the result of the harvest this year was waited with great impatience, as the need for bread in the cities is still great and women still wait for bread for hours in long queues.

"But the Soviet Government is not interested in the suffering in the cities," he declared. "Its main object is to export hundreds of thousands of poods of grain in order to be able to buy machinery abroad for the Five Year Plan.

"Every pood of grain that is extracted from the peasant comes with greater difficulty than last year. There were important grain provinces where, in August, only 20 per cent of the allotted proportion of grain was collected.

"According to official reports, in August only 72 per cent of the government schedules of grain collection were realized. The peasants are fighting like lions against the collections.

"According to the 1930 plan of the Soviet Government, it expects to extract from the peasants 1,500,000,000 poods of grain this Fall, which means 600,000,000 poods more than last year. This is quite an impossibility. The 900,000,000 poods of last year which the government obtained put a great strain on the Russian national economy.

"Although that amount was collected last year it was done at the expense and ruin of entire provinces and the break-up of the individual economies of the 'middle' and 'rich' peasants, whose reserves and grain savings for the past several years were confiscated by the government. This year, however, there remain few if any of the 'middle' or 'rich' peasants, and confiscation is out of the question.

"With the production of grain decreasing and the population having become larger, Russian agriculture could, at the utmost, yield no more than 600,000,000 to 700,000,000 poods. In other words, the 900,000,000 poods squeezed out of the peasants last year meant 200,000,000 poods above a possible normal, and it also meant the draining of the village food reserves in case of a poor harvest, as well as the draining of immediate sowing needs.

"If the fantastic plans with regard to the 1,500,000,000 poods program should be realized, it is almost certain that it would mean a catastrophe for some of the richest grain provinces in Southern Russia and the Caucasas.

"The cost of grain in free commerce in Russia ranges from 20 to 30 rubles per pood. The agents of the government, however, offer the peasants 2 to 3 rubles, and it must be taken into account that the value of Soviet money has fallen because of the tremendous inflation. The true value of the chervonetz ruble (50 cents) is no more than from 10 to 15 kopecks (5 to 7½ cents). How can the peasant be expected to give up his only product, grain, for a price that only covers part of his labor costs?"

Soviet Hermitage Art Sales Denied in Paris; Mellon Did Not Buy $800,000 Van Eyck

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PARIS, Sept. 24.—The reports in an anti-Soviet newspaper published in Paris to the effect that the Soviet Government is disposing of some valuable works of art of the famous Hermitage Museum in Leningrad were emphatically denied today by the Soviet Embassy here and the art dealer who is said to have arranged the deal.

The latest inaccurate report emanating from the same anti-Soviet source concerned the rumored acquisition by Secretary Mellon of the only Van Eyck masterpiece in the Hermitage collection at a price of $800,000. According to that account the sale was effected through the well-known art firm of Knoedler in the Place Vendôme.

A director of that firm told your correspondent there was not the slightest element of truth in the reported sale by his company either through its Paris, London or New York offices. This official added that equal doubt would be justified in regard to alleged Soviet art sales through any other medium.

An official of the Soviet Embassy, when asked about the White Russian reports, explained that the Soviet Government prided itself on the fact that the collection in the Hermitage Museum had actually been increased through inclusion of private and provincial collections. The alleged sale of Russian art works, he said, was a regularly recurring fake report prompted at this moment perhaps by the presence in Paris of M. Lunacharsky, former Soviet Commissar of Arts and Education, who is returning to Moscow after having attended the philosophical congress at Oxford, England.

The sale of priceless art treasures in which the Soviet takes such great pride, it was further said, would be an admission of moral as well as financial weakness from which the Soviet Union is not now suffering.

SEES TIMBER DUMPING.

London Paper Says Soviet Wood Deal Will Hurt British Market.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Sept. 24.—A portion of next year's exports from North Russian ports of wood, which it is believed will be around 700,000 standards, including some of this year's balances, was sold in London today at a price which The London Daily Mail estimates will depress the value of the present British timber stocks by $17,000,000.

The price is said to be $55.20 per standard, as against a basic price of $65.25. The purchaser is reported as the Central Softwood Buying Corporation, Ltd., and if the figures quoted are correct they will handle double the quantity of Russian timber usually imported into Great Britain.

HITLER TO TESTIFY IN ARMY CASE TODAY

Fascist Chief Will Be Asked in Officers' Trial at Leipzig Whether He Plans Revolt.

TREASON CHARGE YEAR OLD

Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LEIPZIG, Sept. 24.—Adolf Hitler may be forced to show his political hand tomorrow when he takes the witness stand in the trial before the criminal bench of the Reich Supreme Court of the three young Reichswehr officers charged with high treason.

As the present action largely hinges on National Socialist [Fascist] plotting in the ranks of the Reichswehr, Herr Hitler will receive an opportunity to declare under oath that neither he nor his party is planning a revolution or the overthrow of the republic. As the Fascist leader commands a ready hretorical equipment, it may be assumed that he will seize the opportunity that has now come his way to assure the Reich's highest court that the Fascists are true patriots and may be safely entrusted with portfolios in the government.

The subpoena to Herr Hitler is regarded as a clever political stroke by the defense in the present action, in view of speculation over the Fascists' appearance in the next government.

Taken to Court by Force.

The line of testimony which will be forthcoming from Herr Hitler was forecast in the examination today of Captain von Preffer, one of the leading commanders in the Fascist "storm division." Captain von Preffer had to be hauled into court as he refused to come voluntarily, but no sooner had he taken the witness stand than he launched forth into lamentations over the obstacles which he maintained were preventing the formation of an army which would be wholly dedicated to the service of the fatherland and breathe the spirit of patriotism.

"You can't have a real fighting army in a country which denies protection to its citizens against foreign countries, which is soaked in pacifism, internationalism and Marxism, and whose sole purpose seems to be to feed international capitalism and its bourse adjuncts," Captain von Preffer told the court.

He did not find its strange under such pressure that members of the Reichswehr should be involved in conflicts of conscience, adding that things would change when the Fascists got into power.

The bulk of today's testimony indicated that the views propagated by the three young Lieutenants up for trial—Richard Scheringer, Hans Ludin and Hans Friedrich Wendt—were also shared by officers higher up and that Lieutenant Scheringer even went so far as to ask for a service manual for recruits.

Scheringer's gospel that the Reichswehr must constitute the basis of a new efficient army which would liberate the fatherland found willing listeners among newcomers to the Reichswehr. He testified he was ready to shoot down radicals from the Left, but would disobey a command to fire on men of his own persuasion.

The trial was then adjourned until tomorrow, when Herr Hitler will be the first witness.

Would Take Over Army.

LEIPZIG, Sept. 24 (AP).—Captain Wagner, one of the witnesses today in the trial of the three Lieutenants, described himself as "chief of staff of the Fascist storm troops." The three lieutenants are accused of having had dealings with him.

"The time now has come for us to take over the army," Captain Wagner asserted in court. "We have 107 members in Parliament. When we get into power we shall lay down two conditions: Namely, new elections for the Prussian Diet and the taking over of the Reichswehr Ministry by us."

Several fellow officers of Scheringer described him and Ludin as rather muddle-headed idealists. The Defense Ministry's order forbidding officers to have anything to do with subversive movements was produced in court. The three defendants admitted they knew the contents of the order.

A charge of high treason also is pending against Herr Hitler. However, the charge is not a post-election development, the Defense Ministry explaining that the complaint dates back more than a year. The counsel defending the trio of Lieutenants also is attorney for the generalissimo of the German Fascists.

More than a year ago Herr Hitler's paper, the Voelkischer Beobachter, published a "Reichswehr number," which was alleged to contain matter designed to undermine the Reichswehr. The Attorney General asked the Reichswehr for an opinion as to whether the article could be considered treasonable, and meanwhile Herr Hitler issued a defense.

Both the Hitler and Reichswehr statements are now in the hands of the Attorney General for a decision as to whether Herr Hitler should actually be indicted for treason. So far no formal charge has been issued against him, but if one should be, he would be liable to arrest the same as were the defendants in the present case.

With the resumption of the trial today the defense applied for permission to summon General Wilhelm Heye, Commander-in-Chief of the Reichswehr, who in a preliminary examination asserted that Lieutenant Scheringer was not guilty of a breach of duty.

New Turkish Party Leader Urges Election Of Mustapha Kemal as President for Life

ISTANBUL, Turkey, Sept. 24 (AP).—Fethi Bey greeted his election in the Angora Parliament today as leader of the new Liberal party by declaring one of his first concerns would be to petition Mustapha Kemal Pasha to allow himself to be elected President of the Turkish Republic for life by national plebiscite.

Fethi declared Kemal should not be regarded as belonging to one political party or the other since he was the "property" of the nation at large. Kemal's secon' four-year term as President will expire next year.

Ismet Pasha, President Kemal's iron-handed right-hand man, will resign the Premiership tomorrow at an extraordinary session of Parliament.

Ismet thus will force Kemal to clarify his ambiguous position as the head of the People's party and at the same time the underground sponsor of the new Opposition party led by Fethi Bey. Unless the expectations of political seers are greatly upset, the President probably will reappoint Ismet as Premier and make some minor changes in the Cabinet.

It is Kemal's purpose to make possible free discussion of legislation in a Parliament that heretofore has had only a single voice. A second party, he believes, will enable the People's party to display its ability to parry the thrusts of the visible Opposition and also provide an outlet for pent-up criticism.

Fethi Bey will sit in the Parliament as the leader of an Opposition of fifteen Deputies who have left the People's party. He has given up his post as Ambassador in Paris to help Kemal with his experiment in two-party government.

Newspapers which had been criticizing the government today published an attack on Premier Ismet, saying he had driven hundreds of women workers from the Broussa silk factories to the polls yesterday and attempted to have them whipped into voting for the People's party's municipal candidates. It is reported the women shouted, "We earn only 15 cents a day and your taxes gobble half of that! We won't vote!"

And it is authoritatively reported that the women did not vote, despite the attempts made to show them the glamour of their first opportunity to participate in an election.

TRIED FOR CHILD NEGLECT.

British School Principal Denies Charges Concerning Ten Children.

Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Sept. 24.—Doctors, nurses and parents gave evidence for the prosecution at the Old Bailey today when the trial was resumed of Mrs. Hilda Fearn, principal of the Merevale High School, Bickley, Kent, on charges of neglecting the health of ten children between the ages of 5 and 9. Mrs. Fearn pleaded not guilty.

Among those testifying were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Budd, whose daughter Joyce died on June 8. Mrs. Budd said that on May 31 Mrs. Fearn telephoned her to postpone her visit to the school owing to a case of measles. She added that on June 4 she received a telegram, after which she and her husband went to the school, finding their child seriously ill. They called in a nurse and another doctor but the girl died a few days later.

Several doctors and nurses alleged that in the cases of some of the children it seemed to them that proper attention had not been given and that the children's health had been seriously undermined. They added that cases of ringworm at the school had gone untreated for some time and that the children had not been properly nourished.

SEVIER CASE REOPENED BY COURT IN HONOLULU

Sheriff Asks Elimination of Statements in Petition Filed Against Him in April.

HONOLULU, Sept. 24 (AP).—The contest of Ralph Shainwald for a second autopsy on the body of his sister, Mrs. Granville Sevier, alleging she might have been poisoned, was renewed in court today.

C. N. Tavares, Deputy Attorney General, acting for Patrick Gleason, Sheriff and Coroner, against whom a petition was filed last April seeking to enjoin Gleason from permitting an autopsy, presented another petition yesterday to strike certain statements from the April filing.

Mr. Gleason's new petition asks that reference to Mrs. Sevier having died a natural death be stricken. Mr. Gleason also wishes eliminated the statement that the only reasons advanced by him for holding an autopsy "are accusions of Ralph Shainwald." The Sheriff in his petition denies he knows Mr. Shainwald is insane or he has been informed by his medical adviser that Mr. Shainwald is insane.

The allegation that Mr. Shainwald was insane was contained in the April petition filed by attorneys for Colonel Granville Sevier, heir to the $750,000 estate of his wife, who died in August, 1928.

Mr. Gleason said he informed the Department of Justice that certain military authorities had made investigations which "do not exclude the conclusion Mrs. Sevier died from poisoning."

Continuing, Mr. Gleason quotes from the military report on an autopsy performed in April, 1929, as follows:

"In other words, poisoning might have been present and the tissues show no different changes than shown. On the other hand, there is no evidence whatsoever of existence of such poisoning."

Police Warn 210 Noise-Makers.

Police Commissioner Mulrooney reported yesterday that policemen assigned to the anti-noise crusade warned 210 motorists on Tuesday, most of them for unnecessary blowing of horns and sirens. On Monday 203 motorists were warned to end unnecessary noise.

TWO BRITISH GROUPS ASK EMPIRE TRADE

Capital and Labor Join in Plea for Stimulating Commerce Within Commonwealth.

SECRETARIAT IS PROPOSED

Permanent Economic Organization Would Be Representative of All Imperial Divisions.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Sept. 24.—For the first time in British history, labor joined with capital today in presenting to the government a joint memorandum recommending better economic organization of the Empire. On the eve of the Imperial Conference, the General Council of the Trades Union Congress and the Federation of British Industries have seen fit to place on record the "paramount importance" which they attach to all impossible steps being taken to increase British intercommonwealth trade.

The memorandum sets forth that the Imperial Conference offers opportunity which, if missed, may not soon recur for placing the economic life of the British Commonwealth on a sound and enduring basis.

"The economic possibilities of the British Commonwealth," adds the memorandum, "are enormous. There is already the tie of sentiment and common traditions, which, although intangible, is of real value. Within the British Commonwealth are to be found both man power, vast resources in raw materials and food and large territories capable of development.

"Great as is the exchange of goods and services now between Britain and her dominions and colonies, the Commonwealth, if intensively developed, could vastly increase the total of its trade with advantage to each of the constitutent parts."

Such a joint declaration by capital and labor at a time of economic crisis, it may be stated, was made possible by the endorsement given by the Trades Union Congress at Nottingham to the memorandum of its general council on "economic groups and imperial trade development." This suggested that Britain would be well advised to develop such economic relations between the parts of the British Commonwealth as would be to its mutual advantage, although heretofore, in the eyes of most Laborites, such expressions of thought were the mark of the "hidebound imperialist."

The memorandum was signed on behalf of the trade unionists by Arthur Heyday, M. P., who today was elected as the new chairman of the general council and therefore next year's president, and Walter M. Citrine, its general secretary and one of the leaders of the great strike of 1926 against capitalism. On behalf of the capitalists it bears the signatures of Sir James Lithgow, president of the Federation of British Industries, and of Sir Roland Nugent, one of its directors.

Suggest Lines of Procedure.

These two bodies, according to the memorandum, are in agreement that the creation of machinery on the following general lines for better economic organization of the British Commonwealth is desirable: Firstly, that a "commonwealth trade conference" should be held of investigatory, advisory and non-party nature of persons nominated by each government in the empire, but acting in its own personal capacity, which should examine the problem of intercommonwealth trade with a view to laying down a sound basis for a commonwealth economic policy.

At this conference every question affecting intercommonwealth trade should be brought in review. In particular an effort should be made to ascertain definitely the views of the dominions as to what further reciprocal arrangements it may be possible to make for increasing intercommonwealth trade. This conference, it is asserted, "would be for the commonwealth what the world economic conference at Geneva was for the world at large, but it should be far more productive of results, and would go far to remedy defects in organization which now handicap Britain in intercommonwealth relations."

"Economic Secretariat."

Secondly, it is jointly recommended that a "commonwealth economic secretariat" be established, comprising persons with economic and administrative experience drawn from all parts of the commonwealth to act as a permanent secretariat for all imperial conferences on economic questions. The duty of such a secretariat, it is said, would be to watch and report upon the steps taken between conferences to give effect to the decisions reached, and to study both questions raised at the preceding conference and any question which might arise in the interval.

The joint signatories of the memorandum hold that, if such a system were established, it would give the commonwealth adequate machinery which it now does not possess for dealing with problems of vital importance, and to press the government for action along these lines.

BUFFER STATE TALKED OF

By HALLETT ABEND.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

SHANGHAI, Sept. 24.—Although Nanking Government circles still express confidence that the motives of Manchuria in the seizure and control of Chihli Province are not inimical to Nanking, a continuance of the reports of plots and counterplots is affecting bond prices and spreading uneasiness.

Chang Hseuh-liang's meagre and ambiguous public statements, coupled with many evidences of a cordial understanding between Manchuria and Yen Hsi-shan in regard to the occupation of Tientsin and Peking, are beclouding the political situation. It is further confused by a reported alliance among Han Fu-chu, Ma Hung-kwei and Hsih Yu-san, constituting a "gray zone buffer State" in Shantung Province and westward, preventing contact between Nanking and Manchurian armies.

Hsih Yu-san, who revolted from the Nanking Government last December, was an ally of Feng Yu-hsiang during the whole of the present war until a fortnight ago, when he ceased hostilities. A week ago he received money from Nanking for the payment of the troops and immediately began negotiations with Mukden to join the Manchurian forces.

Unconfirmed reports from Nanking's War Ministry say the fighting on the Lunghai front has ceased and that Feng's armies have evacuated Lanfang, Kaifeng and Chengchow, which are not occupied by Nanking forces but constitute a neutral zone, while negotiations are in progress with Feng's subordinates for the consolidation of several of his armies with Nanking's forces.

Chiang Urges Rebels to Surrender.

The Kuo Min News Agency, official news service of the Nanking Government, last night reported the receipt here of a cable message from Shanghai saying that immediate peace was urged by Chiang Kai-shek yesterday in a circular telegram to the Northern rebel soldiers. Chiang stressed the futility of further resistance on the part of the rebels, the message said, and pointed out that "retreat in all directions was now cut off by the government troops and the Northeastern (Manchurian) soldiers.

"Chiang also expressed satisfaction at the downfall of the leaders of the rebellion and assured the entire rank and file of the Kuominchun and Shansi rebels that they would be accorded liberal treatment by the government if they would return to their original garrison posts and await the government's orders, it was said.

"Further resistance will only hasten your complete extinction," Chiang concluded in his "last advice" to the rebels.

Herbert E. Moy, associate director of the Kuo Min agency, sees an opportunity for China to rehabilitate her war-torn Provinces and establish peace.

"After seven long months of internecine warfare," he said yesterday, "Nanking is virtually assured of victory by Manchuria's decision to aid the Central Government in bringing back peace to a war-torn country. It is hoped that 400,000,000 of the world's most peace-loving people may soon return to the task of rebuilding a land rent by civil strife, plagued by famine and flood and infested by bandits and Communists."

AMERICANS DEFEAT BRITISH BRIDGE TEAM

Rally by English Players Near End of Match Fails to Wipe Out Strong Lead.

LONDON, Sept. 24 (AP).—The American team defeated the British in the international bridge tournament at Almack's Club today by 4,845 points. The British made a rally tonight and won the 192d hand by 1,000 points, but they had no chance of wiping out the big lead established by the visitors in the last few days.

The American team had increased its lead to 6,335 points at the end of the 190th hand when the players adjourned for dinner, but was unable to hold this lead tonight.

Almack's quiet little private club, where the match was being played, was the scene of an undue commotion when several "gate crashers" had to be evicted before play could be continued.

The American team will now play Crockford's Club, a well-known card centre. The match probably will start on Friday or next Monday.

The gunboat was forced to remain at Stavanger harbor yesterday, where she coaled. Two destroyers will escort her into Stockholm, with nine airplanes circling overhead.

MOREAU QUITS POST IN BANK OF FRANCE

AIDE TAKES HIS PLACE

Clement Moret Is Named to Succeed Man Who Helped Poincare in Stabilizing the Franc.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Sept. 24.—Emile Moreau, governor of the bank of France and one of the best financial minds in Europe, has resigned as head of the State financial institution and will leave his post in a few days to assume the presidency of the Banque de Paris et des Pays-Bas, one of the largest private banks in Paris.

The resignation, it is explained in financial quarters, has no special political significance, nor does it appear to presage a change in the bank's policy.

The tremendous responsibility involved in the governorship of the Bank of France has increased during the past year by reason of the remarkable growth of the gold reserves. There are now nearly 48,000,000,000 gold francs ($1,920,000,000) in the bank's vaults, and this total increases each week.

M. Moreau was the choice of former Premier Poincaré, and carried out the stabilization policy initiated by M. Poincaré when the latter was the head of the government. His resignation is regarded here as a distinct loss to State finance.

Late tonight it was announced that M. Moreau would be succeeded by Clement Moret, First Assistant Governor of the Bank of France, whose long experience in State finance and close association with the retiring governor are regarded as fitting him for the post.

The Banque de Paris et des Pays-Bas, one of the most aggressive financial organizations in post-war European finance, through its association with the Standard Oil Company in France and other American companies, has become well known in American financial circles. It also wields considerable influence in French finance.

M. Moreau succeeds Jules Cambon, who is understood to have recommended the selection of the governor of the Bank of France.

Among the other candidates for the governorship of the Bank of France were M. Tannery, a high official of the French Treasury; M. Picard, Director General of the Bank of Algeria; M. Leclerc, governor of the Crédit Foncier, and M. Martin, Director General of the Crédit National. The choice of Premier Tardieu and his colleagues in the Cabinet finally resulted in the appointment of M. Moret.

It is believed that this change in the governorship will prevent the visit planned by the governor to New York for conference with other European State bank chiefs and American Federal Reserve officials regarding the means of restoring economic normalcy throughout the world.

AUSTRIAN CLERICALS QUIT CABINET POSTS

ROW ON POST FOR FASCIST

Commerce Minister Also Quits—Heimwehr Command Refuses to Support Vaugoin.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

VIENNA, Sept. 24.—The Cabinet crisis which has faced Austria since Chancellor Schober took office a year ago tomorrow, at a time when the country was threatened with civil war, developed tonight when Dr. Karl Vaugoin, Vice Chancellor, Minister of War and the leader of the Christian Socialist (clerical) party, resigned.

The origin of the trouble was the Minister's determination to appoint Dr. Strasella, a young Heimwehr (Fascist) man, as general manager of the Austrian State railways. Last week Dr. Strasella won a libel action against the Socialist newspaper Arbeiter Zeitung, but the court characterized Dr. Strasella's conduct as incorrect and not honorable and said the Arbeiter Zeitung had proved its assertion that his candidature was only political favoritism.

Schobar Scored Action.

Dr. Vaugoin insisted, despite this, that Dr. Strasella should be appointed. He was opposed by Minister of Commerce Schuster, who yesterday tendered his resignation. Chancellor Schober fully associated himself with the Minister of Commerce and in a statement to the newspaper this morning characterized Dr. Vaugoin's insistence on Dr. Strasella's appointment as tampering with the court's verdict. He added, "I shall have nothing to do with such a business."

After this it was clear that the long-sleeping conflict between Dr. Schober and Dr. Vaugoin must come to a head.

Following a short discussion at the Cabinet meeting this afternoon, Dr. Vaugoin declared further debate was unnecessary as his continued cooperation with Dr. Schober was impossible. There is but little hope of bridging the quarrel and it seems likely that the Schober Cabinet will have to present its resignation.

Florian Foedermayr, Minister of Agriculture, also has resigned, thus completing the withdrawal of the Christian-Socialist party, the largest in Austria, from the government.

Heimwehr Against Vaugoin.

In essence the conflict is between the Clericals of the extreme Right, who are adherents of the policy of former Chancellor Seipel, and who, since his retirement, have followed Karl Vaugoin, and the moderate Conservatives, who follow Dr. Schober as the non-party man who saved Austria from civil war, pursuing a path of compromise.

Dr. Vaugoin commands the support of the Clericals' wing of the Heimwehr and also of the Corps of Officers, representing a big section of the army and which is largely his creation. But the official Heimwehr command, under the new leader, Prince Starhemberg, refuses to support him in forcing the present issue, probably because Prince Starhemberg, as a former friend of Adolf Hitler, inclines away from Clericalism toward the Nationalism and anti-Semitism of the German National Socialists (Fascists).

The situation is further complicated by the fact that while Dr. Vaugoin has staked his all on the appointment of Dr. Strasella, it is his quarrel with the Minister of Commerce, who is the mouthpiece of the Heimwehr in the government, which has helped to bring the crisis to a head.

The general expectation is that it will be necessary to hold an election immediately instead of waiting, as has been proposed, until the Spring.

The danger of events developing along unconstitutional lines should not be overlooked, in view of Dr. Vaugoin's constant approval of the Heimwehr's dictatorial program. The Pan-American newspaper, Wiener Neueste Nachrichten, two day ago warned that Austrian credit, and perhaps even the currency, would be endangered if Dr. Schober, the one man trusted abroad, was driven from power. The newspaper was immediately confiscated.

Pilsudski Calls Ex-Deputies To Army as Election Strategy

By The Associated Press.

WARSAW, Poland, Sept. 24.—Marshal Pilsudski has his own methods of conducting election campaigns. Today a large number of opposition former Deputies suddenly were called to the colors for military service lasting six weeks on the ground that during their Deputyship they were exempt from the usual Summer military duties of reservists.

Meanwhile twenty or so Deputies recently arrested remain prisoners in a fortress without means of communications with the outside world. The people are asking whether there will be leaders available to carry on a campaign in opposition to the Premier.

Arsenic Found in Grape Death Case.

MINEOLA, L. I., Sept. 24.—While traces of arsenic have been found in an autopsy at Bellevue Hospital in connection with the death of Thomas Mooney, 3 years old, Assistant District Attorney Richard Brown announced today that further examination would be necessary to determine whether the child died from eating grapes sprayed with poison. Mrs. Rose Reisen of Mineola and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Christian Balling of Hemlock Street, Brooklyn, were interrogated by Mr. Brown here today.

TURATI IS REPLACED IN FASCIST KEY POST

without regret, however, that I fulfill your desires.

"You have directed the party, that is to say, the backbone of the regime, during a period rich with memorable events. What you have accomplished is in the Black Shirt spirit and this will be recognized and developed by me on Oct. 8 at Vidoni Palace in the act of handing over the charge.

"In this moment, Fascisti of all Italy, salute with me the comrade, Augusto Turati, and confirm this, that he is well merited of the cause of the Fascist Revolution."

Virtual Head of Party.

Signor Turati was virtually directing head of the Fascist party, although, of course, he was answerable to Premier Mussolini. It was he who was largely responsible for the new statutes of the party, the Constitution of the Intersyndical Committees (liaison committees linking the employers' and employes' organizations), the enrolment of university Fascisti and the development of Fascist groups in the colonies.

So powerful in the councils of Fascism was Signor Turati considered that his name was given as the answer to the repeated question: "Who will take charge if Mussolini leaves office?"

Although not one of the leaders of the march on Rome, he was among the first chieftains of Fascism, having organized Fascist groups in Brescia.

Signor Giuriati, who is 54 years old, was an early leader of Fascism in Venice and led the Venetian legions in the march on Rome. He was nominated Minister of Public Works in 1925, and last year was made president of the Chamber of Deputies.

Other Changes in Prospect.

A number of Cabinet and administrative changes, chief of which is the appointment of an assistant chief of government, are reported to be under consideration by Premier Mussolini. Their announcement, political observers said tonight, probably will come before the end of the month, as September is Il Duce's favorite month for making government executives rise or fall.

Last September he relinquished all portfolios in the Cabinet held by him personally except the Ministry of the Interior. In September two years ago the former Governor of Rome, Prince Potenziani, was replaced by the present Governor, Prince Boncompagni-Ludovisi.

The appointment of an assistant chief of government is of great importance since it tends to dilute Mussolini's singleness of control and points the way to a natural successor to the supreme office of State in case Il Duce decides to hand over the reins. Such an officer would help the Premier to save his strength and energy. Mussolini, one of the world's hardest working rulers, needs an assistant, his associates admit. The identity of the Assistant Prime Minister is not revealed, although some say Francesco Giunto, Cabinet Under-Secretary to Mussolini, might be chosen.

The Premier today nominated Count Ciano, Minister of Communications, whose son Galeazzo married Edda, Il Duce's daughter, to the Fascist Grand Council. He also named the former Minister of Finance, Alberto de Stefani, and Deputy Edmondo Rossoni, to the supreme Fascist body.

"Trangressions" of Predecessors.

From the time of the "march on Rome" in October, 1922, each successive Secretary General of Fascismo has been appointed "to liquidate" the transgressions of his predecessor—or, at any rate, such have been the obvious activities which have followed each appointment. On the other hand, opponents of Fascismo, invariably sojourning abroad, have said that Secretaries General found it convenient, even necessary, to resign when their power in the party threatened to disjoint the machinery set in motion and tinkered with from time to time by Il Duce.

Augusto Turati succeeded Roberto Farinacci as Secretary General in May, 1926. Signor Farinacci had been appointed to the office in March, 1925. Before that time, since it had been necessary to consolidate the "march on Rome," the enemies of Fascismo had called the secretaries the Dzerzhinskys of Italy, the chiefs of Mussolini's alleged private Cheka. The chef d'oeuvre of this Cheka is believed to have been the killing—by "mistake," so it was brought out at the trials which followed—of the Socialist Deputy Matteotti, on June 10-11, 1924.

Kidnapping Stirred Criticism.

At that time the most powerful personage in Fascismo who did not hold public office was Signor Marienelli and next to him was Cesare Rossi, the head of the first Ministerial Press Bureau, and next to him came Signor Filippelli, the editor of the Corriere Italiano, whose office was the headquarters of the so-called Cheka. All three, Rossi with more circumstance than the others, attempted to say that the kidnapping of the Deputy which ended in his death had been performed "to order."

It became necessary to "liquidate" the crime, and for this purpose Signor Farinacci was made Secretary General of the Fascist party, the constitution of which had not then been incorporated into that of the nation. Signor Farinacci, member of the Chamber from Cremona, where he published La Cremona Nuova, was the leader of the so-called "Selvaggio" wing of the party. He not only settled the Matteotti affair to the satisfaction of Il Duce, but by his "iron-fisted" policy restored discipline within the party.

Turati's Policy Milder.

Signor Turati proved a milder Secretary General, except where he felt obliged to correct the alleged misdeeds of his predecessor. Aside from the political errors which were corrected in various ways, there were the financial errors. There was a great scandal throughout a string of banks manipulated in Parma, Florence, Genoa, Piacenza and Farinacci's home town, Cremona. The Agricultural Bank of Parma was said to be the chief delinquent, and its president, Count Luigi Lusignani, was arrested. There were many arrests and trials, after which Turati is said to have devoted all his time to the pacific consolidation of the party.

In September, 1928, the crowning touch was given to the Fascist political fabric by having it identified with the national Constitution. Henceforth the Grand Council of Fascismo became known as the "Grand Council of the Nation and of the State." According to Article I it "becomes the supreme organ coordinating all the activities of the régime which arose out of the revolution of 1922."

DEWEY OPTIMISTIC ON POLISH INDUSTRY

Financial Adviser Anticipates Upward Trend, With Output No Longer Restricted.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

WARSAW, Sept. 24.—The fall in production which has continued in Poland since the beginning of 1929 was at least interrupted during the second quarter of this year, Charles S. Dewey, Poland's American financial adviser, declared today in his last report but one before he leaves on Nov. 20 with the expiration of his three-year term.

The stock of consumers' goods has been reduced, according to Mr. Dewey, and further restriction of production is not expected. Industry on the whole, the report says, has slowed down to the pace of the middle of 1926, but it can be reasonably expected that the trend will be upward although there are no signs yet of revived purchasing power and confidence continues weak.

The money market is easier, but insolvency persists owing to general leniency regarding defaulting debtors. The report says agriculture, with low general prices and the decline in live stock, continues in a bad way, but serious hardship has been avoided by the government allowing the farmers to defer tax payments. The index of freight car loadings seems to indicate a further decline in the wholesale turnover.

The report, discussing Polish taxation of business, calls it unsatisfactory and unscientific. The tax burden is too heavy and the government is taking steps to reduce it. A permanent committee of experts has been formed to recommend the reform of the taxation system.

Mr. Dewey also deals with labor conditions and says Poland's labor legislation is very modern in its conception. The question he asks is whether or not it has outstripped the development of industry itself. An unduly heavy burden of social legislation, he asserts, may retard industry's progress and undermine the basis of labor's income and welfare.

WORLD SLUMP LAID TO OVERPOPULATION

Austrian's Explanation of Unemployment Is That Too Many Want Jobs.

BIRTH CONTROL IS URGED

Statistician Says War Failed to Kill Enough to Allow for Women Workers and Bars to Emigrants.

VIENNA, Sept. 24.—A new and highly simple explanation of the general economic depression, particularly the anomaly of British and German unemployment as opposed to French prosperity, is contained in remarkable tables of European population figures compiled by Vladimir Woytinsky, statistician, published by the Pan-Europa League here.

Europe, the statistician points out, is trying to find work for more people than it ever did before, perhaps more than it ever can. Ten millions who fell in the war have been balanced by a 10,000,000 drop in emigration, and the only solution of the problem he foresees is birth regulation.

Germany has 7,000,000 and England 4,000,000 more workers than in 1913. Even compared with 1925, Germany has 2,000,000 more employment seekers. The number of workers in Europe will increase a further million by 1939, he estimates.

In France, on the other hand, as compared with 1913, the number of work seekers is 100,000 less, which explains why France has no unemployment.

From 1800 to 1900 the population increased by 187,000,000 to a total of 406,000,000, but 60,000,000 of these emigrated. In the period from the second half of the nineteenth to the beginning of the twentieth century 2,000,000 emigrated from Europe annually.

Now the number is only 500,000 annually, or one-quarter of what it was, while at the same time overseas countries are refusing European goods as well as European newcomers.

Against this condition Europe began to defend herself in the second half of the last century by a "birth strike." The birth rate fell further after the war, and thanks only to superior hygiene is Europe still able to show a slight balance over mortality statistics.

What has produced the increase in employment seekers, the statistician asserts, has been the fact that, owing to the drop in the birth rate, the proportion of older persons to the total population in Europe is greater and that the loss of savings during the war, the higher cost of living and the fact that parents cannot now rely on their children to support them is forcing these adults to seek work until a later age than hitherto and compelling wives as well as husbands to invade the labor market.

The war losses are almost exactly balanced by the emigration drop. Herr Woytinsky's conclusion is, therefore, that "War has shown itself an ineffective preventive of overpopulation. What was unachievable for heavy artillery, airships, tanks and poison gases must be achieved by a birth-rate decline in war years and birth-rate regulation after war."

German Police Asked to Locate Station Eavesdropping on Transatlantic Service.

BREMEN, Germany, Thursday, Sept. 25 (AP).—The German police have been asked, with English and Dutch authorities, by the New York police to try to locate a secret short-wave wireless receiving station or stations used for eavesdropping on transatlantic service.

The New York police have endeavored to set up machinery for "spotting" listeners whose evident purpose is to obtain illegally news of American and European Stock Exchange transactions, financial plans and other confidential information.

The police charge that such matter is reaching outsiders before deals on the New York Stock Exchange can be effected and that eavesdropping speculators are acting on information so obtained and thereby pocketing large profits.

vital spots at which we could attack our most powerful foe," the German agent declared.

"For that reason Sir Roger Casement was an important figure in Germany and his wishes were not easily rejected. That is why Rudolf Nadolny—now the German Ambassador to Turkey, but then in the Foreign Office—yielded to the powerful personality of this fanatic and sent the cablegram.

"Captain von Papen, the German military attaché at Washington, disregarded the cablegram, however, and never answered it. As for Ambassador von Bernstorff, it is known he concentrated all his efforts to restore peace through the mediation of President Wilson. No other communication on the subject of sabotage was sent from the Foreign Office, and very soon after dispatching the cablegram the Foreign Office realized it had made a mistake."

Dr. von Lewinski mentioned at least two Germans in the United States whose activities did violate American neutrality. One was Franz von Rintelen, who has been important in the present case as the alleged financier of the Black Tom and Kingsland disasters.

Says He Harmed Germany.

"Von Rintelen did great damage to the German cause—there is no doubt about it," said Dr. von Lewinski. "He went to America on a purely economic mission, but preferred to foment strikes and spend a great deal of money doing so. The rest of the money von Rintelen took with him was taken from him by David Lamar, known as 'the Wolf of Wall Street,' who emptied his pockets in short order. Bombs were manufactured and placed on allied ships, but only one ever exploded as far as is known. Von Rintelen was also in contact with Hinsch and used him to prevent war materials from reaching the Allies."

It was in connection with Captain Hinsch that the Germans today struck their hardest blow at the American Black Tom case. Shrewdly and skillfully Dr. Wilhelm Tannenberg, assistant German counsel, attempted to wreck the Americans' charge that a laborer named Michael Kristoff had set Black Tom alight, that he was in the employ of Hinsch, then under the alias of Graentsor, and that Germany as the principal is directly liable for damages.

When the Americans presented their story of the disaster last week they based it on an affidavit by Fred Hermann, a young German-American agent of Germany during the war, who said Kristoff's traveling companion, "Graentsor," in the early months of 1916 was Hinsch under an assumed name.

Declares He Read Testimony.

Dr. Tannenberg said today that before making that statement Hermann had read the whole of Kristoff's police examination in Jersey City in 1916, in which the laborer told of visiting munitions plants and army barracks with "Graentsor." Dr. Tannenberg also declared Hermann knew nothing of "Graentsor" before coming to the United States last year and meeting American lawyers.

The whole attempt to prove that Kristoff set the Black Tom blaze is "in hopeless conflict with the facts," said Dr. Tannenberg. Every indication, he added, is that the disaster was caused by spontaneous combustion, as the Lehigh Valley Railroad had asserted in former damage suits against it.

Dr. Tannenberg riddled the testimony of almost every witness for the Americans as "unreliable" and urged the commission to disregard it utterly. He contrasted contemporary testimony in 1916 with the stories told eleven or twelve years after the disaster, and characterized as "absurd" the story told by Detective Kassman, who interviewed Kristoff in the Albany jail in 1921.

Finally Dr. Tannenberg insisted "there is not the slightest evidence to show Kristoff was in the employ of the German Government or of a German agent."

PARITY IS STILL THE SNAG

French Scheme Did Not Mention It—Italians Say 80,000-Ton Superiority Was Offered.

By CLARENCE K. STREIT.
Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

GENEVA, Sept. 24.—The French and Italian delegations tonight announced that the conversations between their experts for the solution of the naval question had come to a halt. Both expressed disappointment at the lack of results from the talks which have been going on since Aug. 20. Aristide Briand, the French Foreign Minister, however, is understood to be hopeful that the conversations will be resumed soon from the diplomatic side.

Both delegations explained that France was not able to accept the proposition made by the Italian expert, Augusto Rosso, and that Rome had just given the same answer to the French counter-proposal made by René Massigli. The Italians held the French proposal was not only insufficient, but represented a step backward from the progress made since the London conference. Both sides blame what they call the sudden stiffening of the other's naval attitude following the extremists' victory in the German elections.

The rock on which the conversations are stranded is the one which caused trouble in London, namely, the Italian demand that her right to parity with France should be recognized in principle, though Italy was willing to concede practical superiority down to 1936.

Allowed French Superiority.

The Italians say their offer agreed to give France a naval global tonnage of 630,000 tons, or about 80,000 tons more than Italy, the agreement being limited to 1936. It was proposed the tonnage superiority should be distributed among submarines, cruisers and aircraft carriers, the latter item representing 20,000 tons. The scheme gave Italy parity in units, the Italians explaining that with their Mediterranean situation they did not need submarines displacing more than 800 tons and that they were willing to let France, in view of her overseas possessions, have a similar number but of a much larger size.

The French say their plan consisted of an agreement on building programs down to 1936, by which France would continue to enjoy her existing superiority of 35 to 40 per cent over Italian construction, no reference being made in the scheme to the question of parity. According to the French, Italy did not object to the total figures, but insisted a preamble be added in which parity between two navies should be acknowledged in principle. This suggestion France could not admit.

The Italians, however, say Rome also objected to the figures, saying they were higher than the figures which France had previously seemed willing to concede.

Diplomats' Success Doubted.

The French say their plan would have given to France a total superiority of 100,000 tons of vessels of 10,000 tons or less. They add they were willing to accept practical parity in units if Italy would have agreed to her units being smaller both in regard to submarines and cruisers. In the latter category it was suggested Rome should confine herself to 7,500 tonners as against French 10,000 tonners.

According to the French, Italy refused to accept this offer in either category and in her reply formally stated there was no use in continuing the experts' conversations, suggesting the talks should be left in future to the diplomats.

There is considerable doubt here as to whether the French and Italian diplomats will make much progress from present impasse before the Preparatory Disarmament Commission meets in November.

The Italian delegation says it is highly unlikely that Foreign Minister Grandi will return to Geneva before the Assembly ends. Mr. Briand plans to remain here till the end. Arthur Henderson will return to London on Friday.

British circles give the impression that they are rather relieved by the halt in the conversations as it was feared they would result in figures for the combined French and Italian navies so high as to cause Britain to resort to the safeguard clause in the London naval treaty in order to maintain the two-power standard. The British are hopeful, now that this attempt at a solution has failed, that another formula will be found better suited to their own interests.

ROBBERS FOOL BANK GUARD

Raid One Oklahoma Institution as Officers Watch Another.

PRAGUE, Okla., Sept. 24 (AP).—While officers guarded the First National Bank here on confidential information that a double bank robbery was planned, three men held up the unguarded First State Bank and escaped with about $1,500 today.

Officials had been tipped that both banks would be robbed, but elected to guard only the national institution. Members of the Lincoln County Sheriff's force and all available constables and city officers were at the national bank. The robbers encountered no resistance at the other institution.

JAPANESE REPORT ON NAVY PACT READY

Paper Quotes Committee as Saying Brief Duration of Treaty Brought Approval.

1936 REVISION ANTICIPATED

This Consideration Led Privy Council Group to Waive Question of Adequacy of National Defense.

By WILFRED FLEISHER.
Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

TOKYO, Sept. 24.—The committee of the Privy Council, which recently announced its decision to recommend unconditionally ratification of the London naval treaty, completed the report of its examination of the pact late yesterday for submission to the Privy Council as a whole on Oct. 1.

The newspaper Jiji Shimpo today printed what purports to be the text of the report, showing that the committee felt "considerable uneasiness" about the national defense but decided to accept the treaty because of its short duration and the fact that Japan will be free to push her demands at the next conference.

On the much debated question touching on the supreme command, the report, according to Jiji Shimpo, merely recites the circumstances that led to the signing of the treaty.

Regarding a naval program to make up the acknowledged deficit in the London treaty, the committee is quoted as declaring it "can only rely upon the government's declaration that the national defense will be adequately protected by a new naval building program."

Referring to tax reduction as a result of the treaty, the committee "hopes the people's burden may be lightened by the government," the newspaper reports.

The only note of criticism discernible in the report as published comes in connection with the government's refusal to supply to the committee the report of the Supreme Military Council. The committee's report states, "As the government withheld important material, the committee was at great difficulty to carry out its examination of the treaty," according to Jiji Shimpo. "It is clear, however," the report as quoted concludes, "that the treaty is an important contribution to the disarmament problem and, although Japan feels considerable uneasiness concerning its defense as a result of the treaty, it is only to remain in effect for a short period, until 1936, when the powers will renew their discussions without restraint. In view of this fact the Imperial Government should insist upon principles for the safety of the national defense at the next conference upon a basis which will constitute no menace to other nations and so that other nations cannot menace Japan.

"Deeming it inadvisable to reject the treaty because of defects in defense caused by it, the committee has unanimously agreed that the treaty should be ratified."

BOMBAY NATIONALISTS PLAN PARADE SUNDAY

Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

BOMBAY, Sept. 24.—As soon as the members of one Nationalist "war council" are arrested others are elected to replace them and then generally seek to assert themselves through some spectacular action.

A new Bombay "war council" was elected last night and there were fifty applicants for the secretaryship. The council met today and after a long discussion resolved to organize a mass procession Sunday through the city and the fort "for the purpose of demonstrating the nation's resolve to boycott the London round-table conference and to repudiate the handful of reactionary Indians and government nominees who, defying the national mandate, contemplate attending the conference."

MADRID HOUSING SURPLUS.

12,000 Dwellings Vacant Now, but Building Continues Apace.

MIDRID, Sept. 24 (AP).—This city, which only two years ago faced a serious housing shortage, now has a surplus of living quarters for its million inhabitants.

A survey shows that 12,000 one-family dwellings are vacant. This is about 6 per cent of the housing accommodations in Madrid.

SLAIN BY COMPANION AFTER A TAXI RIDE

DRIVER TELLS OF ATTACK

Declares Assailant Used Two Pistols on Victim and Then Fled Into Swamp.

Charles May, 40 years old, of 1,054 Seventy-second Street, Brooklyn, a driver for the Department of Street Cleaning, was shot to death by an unidentified man at 11:30 o'clock last night in the swamps on the east end of Barren Island, off Flatbush Avenue, Brooklyn. Joseph Perrone of 10¼ Sixteenth Street, Brooklyn, a cab driver who drove the men to the spot, witnessed the shooting. He had picked them up at Third and Prospect Avenues, Brooklyn.

When the men got into the cab they gave Perrone the impression that they were old friends. They talked and joked and in between periods of laughter the driver heard some conversation about "fixing the radio." When they reached the foot of Flatbush Avenue May's companion ordered Perrone to drive left, into the marshes.

"I don't want to go in there, Mac," Perrone pleaded. "I got stuck in there once and had to be towed out."

At the same time that May pleaded with his companion to turn back and asked to be let out. Perrone saw a pistol gleam in the hand of the man who had ordered him into the marsh, so he started left.

Drags Man From Cab.

Slowly the cab lurched and bounced along the poor road until it had covered about two and a half miles. As it neared the incinerating plant at the eastern end of the island, on Jamaica Bay, the man with the pistol ordered Perrone to stop. He got out and ordered his companion to follow.

May demurred but was literally dragged out and the two men stood face to face in the de olate spot a few brief seconds. The place is dark and signs of human habitation are few at that point on the old dumping ground. Suddenly the man with the pistol caught May by the wrist and pulled him in front of the cab's headlights.

"Then," said Perrone, "he fired six times and each time the bullet hit the other man. The shots didn't kill him. He kept on his feet, pleading, but that didn't do any good. When the first gun was empty the fellow drew a second one and fired several shots out of that."

The victim fell. The murderer then, according to Perrone, took out a knife and began to cut the clothing off the body, and when he had finished commanded the cab driver to help him lift it. Perrone said he was faint and refused, but changed his mind when the pistol was waved at him. They dropped the body in the bay.

Shots Attract Residents.

About a quarter of a mile away is a clump of small houses. People there had heard the shots, and as they came running up the murderer plunged into the swamps in the direction of an old incinerator and vanished.

One of the residents was Patrolman Sylvio Torro of the Gates Avenue police station. He was off duty and had no weapon with him. He pursued the murderer, but was unable to find him. But he took Perrone into custody, ordering him to drive to the Vanderveer Park police station. When they got there the two pistols used in the killing were found in the tonneau of the cab.

When detectives reached the scene they waded out into the shallows near the shooting and found the dead man's body. Soon afterward the police emergency squad arrived and searchlights were set up to enable the policemen to search for the murderer. The hunt was kept up late into the night.

The police said there were several details of Perrone's story that did not tally, so they continued to hold him for further questioning. They admitted that his version of the shooting left them without any idea as to the possible motive for the murder.

The detectives said that May's fingerprint record showed that he was convicted on May 11, 1921, in the Court of Special Session in Brooklyn for carrying a gun and was put on probation for two years.

LONDON GIVES COWARD OVATION IN NEW PLAY

His "Private Lives," With Gertrude Lawrence, Is Intensely Temperamental Piece.

Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Sept. 24.—Noel Coward, who had tempestuous scenes with the character played by Gertrude Lawrence in his new play, "Private Lives," at the Phoenix Theatre tonight, had a tempestuous ovation at the end. London audiences have only three months to see this work by Mr. Coward.

The producer would not ask him to play for a longer period than three months in London and another three months in New York. Mr. Coward feels that the nightly stress of emotion for more than six months would prove too great an ordeal.

It is a temperamental piece, and Mr. Coward and Miss Lawrence have highly temperamental parts, involving the wrecking of furniture and coming to blows. There are only four characters. Amanda (Miss Lawrence) and Elyot (Mr. Coward) are passionately in love, but perhaps for that reason take things too intently and quarrel continuously. They obtain a divorce and remarry, only to meet on their wedding trips, Amanda with Victor Prynne and Elyot with Sybil, at the same hotel in the south of France.

There Amanda and Elyot realize that they are still attracted to each other and go to Paris, where they quarrel again, and after all end by eloping once more, taking advantage of the fact that Victor and Sybil are so busy having a heated argument about the faults of the other two that they do not notice their disappearance.

"First, a love scene on a balcony; the second, a bicker and free fight on a sofa; the third, another fight at breakfast, are included among the débris of the previous engagement. Marvelously, they are enough."

The stalls tonight cost $10, plus $1 tax, and The Daily Mail says that the obtaining of a seat in the next three months will entail a scramble, plus sheer luck, "though the piece is meant neither to instruct, to improve nor to uplift."

The presentation was made in his office at Kuhn, Loeb & Co.

In accepting the honor Mr. Warburg expressed the hope that this country would in time be in a position to develop similar museums "to awaken the interest of our population in the poetry of invention and the wonderful artisanship for which Germany has been known for many centuries, long before Dürer's time up to the present."

STOLEN TRUCK DIVES INTO EAST RIVER

POLICE ARE MYSTIFIED

Suspect Laundry Racketeers—Summon Owner for Using Plates of Another Car.

A one-ton laundry truck was driven at high speed off the pier at the end of East 105th Street into the East River late yesterday afternoon. The truck smashed against the ledge at the end of the pier, turned a somersault in a fifteen-foot drop and fell into ten feet of water.

A police emergency squad, assisted by a derrick of the Department of Street Cleaning from the 125th Street garage, recovered the truck but found no trace of the driver. After marine police had grappled for several hours without results, detectives offered the theory that the truck might have been driven into the water by laundry racketeers.

The machine is owned by Anthony Piscotti of 209 East 107th Street, proprietor of the White Duck Washing Fluid Company and a wet wash laundry at 214 East 107th Street.

The truck's plunge into the river was seen by Mrs. Louise Regeling of the barge Thereas near by. She notified the police. Edward Burgel of 313 East 101st Street, a junior lieutenant in the volunteer life guard corps at 100th Street and East River, dived around the truck several times but saw no body.

Detectives later learned that the vehicle had been stolen at 119th Street and Pleasant Avenue while Salvatore Russo of 2,111 First Avenue, the driver, was canvassing houses in the neighborhood. It was at first believed that young boys who accompanied Russo had stolen the truck as a lark, but all the boys were later accounted for.

Pisciotti said the truck was not insured. When the police raised the truck, under the direction of Captain James J. Wall of the Twenty-eighth precinct, they discovered that the license plates had been issued for a truck of another make and served a summons upon Pisciotti for having it improperly licensed.

PRAGUE MOB SMASHES GERMAN MOVIE HOUSES

Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PRAGUE, Sept. 24.—Nationalistic feeling, which in the past two weeks has boiled up in the form of newspaper attacks, street demonstrations against Italy and prosecution of an American and an Austrian visitor, respectively, for alleged verbal insults to this country's honor, tonight assumed a more violent aspect of anti-German and anti-Semitic disturbances.

Isolated demonstrations and the showing of German sound films in the last three days culminated in an organized campaign of terrorization of the theatres which showed the films, and as a result of tonight's disturbances Burgomaster Saxa of Prague has requested the government to prohibit further German

Thousands of demonstrators marched from the Avion movie house to the Passage Theatre, from there to the Olympic and from the Olympic to the Jewish Roxy movie house. Crying "Down with the Jews, down with the Germans, hurrah for a Czech Prague!" They tore down advertising billboards, forced their way into the theatres, compelled the managements to suspend the showing of German films and shouted insults at the film audiences as they left.

In the Olympic most of the fittings and furniture were destroyed and in the Foxy the seats were torn up and every window was broken. An adjoining Jewish café met the same fate. In the Neues Deutsches Theatre, where the Reinhardt players from Vienna were giving a performance the windows were broken and panic was created among the audience.

Another group of rioters broke all the windows in a German coffee house, the Nizza Meceska movie theatre and the Orbis publishing house, which prints the Prager Press—a German newspaper inspired by Foreign Minister Benes. German passersby were cudgeled and among them, by mistake, an English journalist named William Slater.

Dr. Kafka, a German Member of Parliament, appeared at the office of the police chief nd protested vigorously at what he termed the inaction of the police, of which much is likely to be heard in Parliament.

Late tonight strong detachments of police were protecting the German Legation and German newspaper premises.

The evening edition of Dr. Benes's organ, Ceskë Slovo, accounts for the disturbances in this curious way:

"There are two great film-renting agencies in Prague, one importing German and the other American films. The American films find no public in Prague because of theeir trashy nature, while the German films draw crowds. For this reason the firm which rents American films is trying by every means to ruin its rival."

HOOVER URGES AID TO BETTER HOUSING

SYSTEM HELD BACKWARD

HELP FOR THE UNEMPLOYED

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—The financing of home building was described by President Hoover today as the "most backward segment of our whole credit system," and a process involving "a ceremony like a treaty between two governments," as he started his Conference on Home Building and Home Ownership on its inquiry into the national housing situation.

The President told members of the planning committee of the conference that it was easier to finance an automobile than a home, partly because of "inadequate financial organization" and partly because of obsolete laws. Financing, he said, was only one of the problems which challenge the home builder, and he asked the conference to go into the situation with the idea of setting up "something more than an ephemeral discussion."

Addressing twenty-eight members of the committee, the President said:

"I appreciate very much the high sense of public service which has brought you here today. I would not have asked you to come if I had not felt deeply that there was a real need.

"For some years, the business community, our municipalities, and great numbers of associations devoted to the promotion of public welfare, have interested themselves in the problems of more adequate housing and home ownership. I will say at once that we have a larger proportion of adequate housing than any country in the world, but we still lag far behind our national ideals of homes for all our people.

Appeals for Home Ownership.

Substantial advances have been made in some parts of the country; great experience has been gained and it has been the wish of many of these groups that there should be a thorough national inquiry with a view to a summation of this experience, the mobilization of existing movements and the possible development from it of a new state of thought and action.

"Adequate housing goes to the very roots of the well-being of the family, and the family is the social unit of the nation. It is more than comfort that is involved, it has important aspects of health and morals and education, and the provision of a fair chance for growing childhood.

"Nothing contributes more for greater happiness or for sounder social stability than the surroundings of the home. It should be possible in our country for anybody of sound character and industrious habits to provide himself with adequate housing and, preferably, to buy his own home.

"The finance of home building, especially for second mortgages, is the most backward segment of our whole credit system. It is easier to borrow 85 per cent on an automobile and repay it on the instalment plan than to buy a home on that basis—and generally the house requires a higher interest rate.

"The whole process of purchase and finance involves a ceremony like a treaty between governments, and yet the home is certainly as good collateral as an automobile; it depreciates more slowly, if at all, and its owner will make a harder fight to keep it. The home has tentacles of sentiment as well as bonds of practical necessity that bind the occupant to it. Part of the difficulty lies in inadequate financial organization and part of it you will find in obsolete laws.

Other Problems Involved.

"There are other important phases of the problem beyond the financing of the individual home owner. The problem of creating real and systematic home areas adjacent to industry and to our cities which can be safeguarded from commercial invasion and destruction needs exhaustive consideration.

"Such areas have been created both here and abroad with great success. The helter-skelter building of homes adjacent to our cities produces many inadequacies and wastes. Such a question at once raises large problems of city and industrial planning, as well as problems of finance. The automobile has made such communities far more practical than ever before.

"I hope that you can find the time and organization to go even further afield than individual home ownership, into this whole question of housing. This will at once carry you into the apartment and rural fields as well.

"Besides these questions, there are problems of architecture, esthetic questions and questions of interior convenience, as well as problems of construction—all of which have large importance and enter into rural as well as urban homes.

For Combating Unemployment.

"I would suggest to you that there is also an important economic bearing of this whole matter beyond even the betterment of the family.

"With constant improvement of methods and labor-saving devices, we constantly set free a stream of workers from established industry which must be absorbed in new or expanding industries if we would have for them employment and the articles or services which comprise advancing standards of living. There is no doubt we shall make new inventions and new needs, but the greatest present field for the absorption of our surplus national energy lies in better housing. There are some emergency questions arising from the present depression to which you can, I believe, assist in solution.

"I shall not enter upon the many phases of the subject. They are well known to many of you. My general thought has been that we should first have a determination of the facts in every important direction, followed by a weighing and distillation of these facts and the formulation of collective judgment of the leaders of our country in this special knowledge.

"Not only the wide scope of the subject, but its many intricate problems involved will all require time for investigation and study. I have not presumed that you could undertake to direct such a task as this and bring it to conclusion within a few weeks, or even months, or that you could undertake it without large assistance and cooperation.

"We wish to set up something more than an ephemeral discussion. It is obviously not our purpose to set up the Federal Government in the building of homes. There are many questions of local government involved. It is my hope that out of this inquiry and the conferences that will follow it, we should make so well-founded a contribution to our national understanding as to give direction and coordination to thought and action throughout the country."

JACK DONAHUE ILL; "SONS O' GUNS" STAR

Collapse at Cincinnati Prevents His Filling Role—May Enter Hospital Here.

Special to The New York Times.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 24.—Jack Donahue, star of "Sons o' Gun," is believed to have left the play here today for the time being, having had a sudden collapse, the result of an aggravated case of sinus disease, according to the management of the Shubert Theatre tonight. Tuxie Ondex, stage manager of the show, who has been understudy to Mr. Donahue, immediately assumed the rôle of the star. He never had appeared in the part before.

Mr. Donahue arrived here for the engagement last Thursday in great pain, and, disregarding the advice of physicians that he have immediate surgical treatment, appeared at rehearsals and then in three performances, growing steadily weaker. Today physicians examined him when he complained of great weakness, and told him he would be in grave danger unless he entered a hospital at once. Several hours later he checked out of his hotel.

Neither the members of the cast nor the management profess to know where he is, but it is generally believed he left for New York early this evening.

BRADY ON STAND AGAIN IN WOODY & CO. CASE

Reiterates That Ryder's Endorsements of Firm's Checks Were 'Questioned Now and Then.'

Questioning of Louis S. Brady, vice president of the Bankers Trust Company, was continued yesterday before Referee Henry K. Davis in connection with the failure of Woody & Co., Wall Street brokerage firm of which Harold Russell Ryder was a partner. Ryder is under indictment for grand larceny.

Milton I. Kupfer, counsel for the receivers, the Irving Trust Company, attempted by questions put to Mr. Brady to find out what efforts had been made to check on Ryder's right to endorse checks payable to Woody & Co. in the firm's name, place his own secondary endorsement on them and then deposit them to his own account.

Mr. Kupfer repeated to Mr. Brady the latter's answer of the week before, that when large checks with such endorsements were received they were "questioned now and then." Mr. Brady's reply yesterday to the question, which was repeated in various forms, was that it was customary for tellers to refer such checks to a superior officer. Mr. Kupfer has already announced his intention of trying to hold the Bankers Trust Company responsible for the $2,000,000 in firm checks which Ryder deposited to his own account in the bank, where both he and the firm had their accounts.

At least five times, examination of checks showed yesterday, Ryder covered his account in the bank, when temporarily overdrawn, by depositing Woody & Co. checks.

Mr. Brady said he had little first-hand knowledge of the Ryder and Woody accounts, and after little more than an hour of questioning the hearing, held in Mr. Davis's offices at 140 Nassau Street, adjourned until Oct. 6. W. L. Robbins, an assistant vice president, and several of the tellers who handled the accounts are expected to testify then.

Swindler Gives Bogus Check for Flower Hospital Benefit Tickets.

Flower Hospital announced yesterday that it had been victimized by a man who gave a $10 check for two $3 tickets for a benefit performance for the hospital's needy patients to be held at Mecca Temple on Columbus Day, receiving $4 in change. Yesterday the hospital found the check to be no good.

"He was well dressed, rather a nice appearing man of about fifty," David Q. Hammond, a trustee of the hospital, who is in charge of the benefit, said yesterday, "and he gave a very plausible story of driving by, seeing the billboard poster outside the hospital and wanting tickets. I can't say I was surprised when the Guaranty Trust returned the check this morning, but I am a bit disappointed to learn that even the sick poor are targets for a racket of this kind."

MUNDELEIN HAILS GAINS IN RELIGION

HE READS HOOVER MESSAGE

President Extols "Spiritual Ideal" —Justice Manton of Circuit Court a Speaker.

Special to The New York Times.

OMAHA, Neb., Sept. 24.—Cardinal Mundelein of Chicago, in an address tonight before 50,000 persons at the National Eucharistic Congress, lamented the "neo-paganism" of the modern world and said one of the greatest influences for moral and Christian goodness was the example of frequent attendance at communion. The Cardinal's address was broadcast on a nation-wide hook-up.

Cardinal Mundelein asserted that an alarming decay and decadence in spiritual things had accompanied the material progress of the last few decades, but he praised the Catholics of America for the increasing strength of their religious life in the face of what he saw as a general moral decline.

A larger percentage of Catholics were regularly attending mass than ever before, the parish schools were filled and vocations to the priesthood had increased, he said. This he regarded as "all the more remarkable because the general tendency is in the opposite direction."

Cardinal Mundelein said the example of the Catholic men was sure to exert a powerful influence for good on those about them.

He read to the Congress a message from President Hoover, stating:

I will be obliged if you will express my cordial greeting to the meeting this evening of the National Eucharistic Congress, of which I am informed you will preside, and my appreciation of the value of spiritual ideals and religious observance in the life of the nation, which are indispensable foundations of the social order and the enduring political institutions.

Justice Martin T. Manton of the Federal Circuit Court of Appeals at New York also addressed the Congress, urging acceptance of the "incomprehensible" in religious life.

Army Worm Invades New Jersey.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Sept. 24 (AP).—Professor C. C. Hamilton, associate entomologist for the New Jersey Agricultural experiment station, reported today that the Fall army worm had invaded New Jersey and was causing serious damage to lawns and pastures. Professor Hamilton urges prompt control measures be taken. The worm is green in color with dark stripes on its back and sides.

CUTS MEXICAN ENTRIES TO 406 IN AUGUST

Immigration Department Reports That No New Laborers Were Admitted During Month.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—Rigid application of immigration regulations to Mexico has resulted in no common laborers without previous residence in this country receiving visas in the past three months, the State Department announced today.

During August only 406 Mexicans entered the country legally, and of this number the majority were persons going to attend schools here or the wives and children of admitted aliens. The total for August compares with a normal rate of nearly 6,000 for that month before the immigration laws were tightened eighteen months ago.

The visas issued last month represented the granting of only 44 per cent of the applications, the rejections being on grounds that the applicants might become public charges, were illiterate, came under the designation of contract labor or had physical defects.

Of those admitted only ninety would have come under a quota system, the other entries being of a class that would not fall under the usual quota provisions.

AID MAILS ON YOM KIPPUR.

Jewish Business Houses Asked to Send Bills on Sept. 30 or Oct. 3.

At the request of the New York postal authorities, the American Jewish Congress, in cooperation with the Independent Order Brith Abraham and B'Nai Brith, District I, issued an appeal yesterday to Jewish business houses urging them to relieve the usual congestion in the mails on Oct. 1 to permit Jewish postal employes to be relieved from duty on Yom Kippur. Jewish business houses are requested to mail their monthly bills either on Sept. 30 or Oct. 3.

Services were held yesterday in temples and synagogues of the city on the second day of Rosh ha-Shanah.

"Let each religion and culture maintain its identity and cultivate its own spiritual resources," said Rabbi Dr. Israel Goldstein before the Congregation B'Nai Jeshurun, Eighty-eighth Street, west of Broadway. "The ideal of a universal brotherhood and understanding does not mean that all religions and cultures are to be reduced to one uniform formula. If each be true to its own highest law, I think humanity as a whole would be served best."

Preaching at the Spanish and Portuguese Synagogue, Shearith Israel, Central Park West and Seventieth Street, Dr. D. De Sola Pool expressed confidence in the persistence and continuity of Judaism despite certain negative forces at work within and against it.

AUTO HITS CROWD, 4 HURT.

Driver Released When He Says He Swerved Car to Avoid a Collision.

Four persons were injured yesterday when an automobile operated by Benjamin Horowitz, 44 years old, of 1,971 Marmion Avenue, plowed into a group of fifteen persons at the bus terminal at Boston and West Farms Roads, the Bronx. The car halted after crashing through the plate glass window of the Mills Lunch and Confectionery Company at 2,000 Boston Road, which was closed for the Jewish holidays.

All but Hogbey were taken to Fordham Hospital by Dr. Fader in an ambulance. Horowitz told the police that an automobile suddenly cut across the path of his car and he swerved to avoid a collision. Horowitz was questioned by police of the Bathgate Avenue station and released.

Steuben Club Annual Dinner.

The account of the annual dinner of the Steuben Club printed in THE NEW YORK TIMES of Sept. 17 incorrectly referred to the organization as the Steuben Society. At the dinner General John McAuley Palmer read a letter written by Baron Steuben in 1786 fixing the date of his birth as Sept. 17, 1730.

BYERS-GRAY KILLING CALLED CLOSED CASE

With Formal Murder-Suicide Verdict, Baltimore Officials End Investigations.

QUARREL REMAINS MYSTERY

Widow of Western Maryland Head's Slayer and Employes Knew of No Personal Ill-Will.

From a Staff Correspondent of The New York Times.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 24.—With the various official investigations completed today, it was said by both the police and the coroner's office that Maxwell C. Byers, president of the Western Maryland Railways, was shot by his traffic vice president, Dudley G. Gray, during the course of an impersonal business argument. The authorities think, however, that the immediate events which led to the shooting will perhaps never be known.

The affray took place yesterday morning in the president's private office. Mr. Gray called upon Mr. Byers, and about five minutes later fired a dozen shots from two automatic pistols.

After killing Mr. Byers, Mr. Gray turned the second pistol upon himself. He died four hours later, without recovering sufficient consciousness to tell what had happened.

Coroner Otto M. Reinhardt talked for half an hour with Mr. Gray's widow, who arrived this morning from Columbus, Ohio. She was unable to throw any light on the mystery, saying that her husband never discussed business with her.

"I am satisfied that a difference over business, whether a railroad matter or something else we have been unable to discover, brought about the shooting," the coroner said. "Mrs. Gray told me there was no personal ill-feeling between the two men. She said that not long ago, when she was ill, Mr. Gray told her his chief inquired for her and sent his regards."

The only explanation that could be obtained by the coroner and police from company officials was that Mr. Gray had apparently taken the business differences as personal ones, and had viewed them as much more serious than other officials were aware. It was said that he had recently been ill and appeared to be extremely nervous during the last few days.

The police were unable to learn from the road's officials what the difficulties were. The two men had

Soon after he had talked with Mrs. Gray, Mr. Reinhardt entered his formal verdict of murder and suicide with the police. When that was done, State's Attorney Herbert R. O'Connor, who had started a separate investigation, announced that in view of the verdict he would have no official interest in the case.

Mrs. Byers, who was prostrated at the news of her husband's death, received many messages from railroad men and other friends of Mr. Byers. The body was taken by special train late in the afternoon to Point Pleasant, W. Va., where the funeral will be held tomorrow.

Mr. Gray's body was taken tonight to Columbus, where the funeral will be held on Friday.

The Western Maryland offices will be closed tomorrow until 1 P. M. out of respect for the two officials.

CHURCH PERIL SEEN IN SECULARIZATION

Special to The New York Times.

PRINCETON, N. J., Sept. 24.—The recently established alumni council of Princeton Theological Seminary, at a meeting held in connection with the two-day retreat which concluded today, elected the Rev. Dr. Hugh B. McCrone of Philadelphia as chairman. Plans were made for enlisting the support of the alumni in a general expansion program of the seminary. The retreat, the first of the sort ever held at Princeton, brought 150 ministers from all parts of the East for the entire period, besides many who attended one or more meetings.

The retreat, held at Miller Chapel, was marked by three addresses given by the Rev. Dr. Joseph R. Sizoo, pastor of the New York Avenue Presbyterian Church of Washington, D. C. His subjects were "The Gospel of God," "The Unanswerable Vindication of Christianity," and "Those Whom Christ Offends." President J. Ross Stevenson presided at the meetings, and members of the faculty were among the speakers.

The "peril of secularism" is the greatest danger facing the Church at this time, it was decided in a discussion held after the addresses. It was indicated that the solution for this secularization of life is to be found in a consciousness of the "abiding presence of Christ with men," and in his "lordship over all departments of life."

MEETS "DEAD" BROTHER.

Woman Finds Body She Had Placed In Arlington Is Stranger's.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (AP).—After Robert Marcey, a Lyonhurst, Va., World War veteran, proved he had not been buried with military honors in Arlington National Cemetery, War Department officials today prepared to exhume and attempt to identify the body interred.

The man now buried was killed in an automobile accident ten days ago and identified as Marcey by his sister, Mrs. O. O. Walker of Lyonhurst. A few days later Marcey's mother, Mrs. Elvin J. Marcey, received a letter from her son who was in Baltimore. Mrs. Walker went to Baltimore and nearly fainted when she met her brother.

"Tell me," Marcey asked, "is something the matter? Is mother dead?"

WANTS NEW STATION FOR POLICE AT CONEY

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, Sept. 24.—The need of a new police station at Coney Island was urged in a report which the Commission of Correction has approved. The recommendation is made by Commissioner John S. Kennedy, who says the present building is inadequate, being more than forty years old. The Sixtieth Precinct police station is in a building which was one time part of the old town hall of Gravesend.

Commissioner Kennedy contrasts conditions at Rockaway with those of Coney Island, pointing out that at Rockaway Beach a new station has been built at a cost of $220,000 and one at Far Rockaway which cost $250,000.

"Another great problem," said Commissioner Kennedy, "is the matter of lost children. During the Summer several hundred lost children are taken care of, some at the police station and others at stations along the beach.

"In June of this year there were 285 boys and 186 lost girls; in July, 653 boys and 565 girls; in August, 232 boys and 200 girls, a total of 2,121 in all.

"In 1925," continued the report, "the president of the Brooklyn Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children made an offer to maintain a shelter for lost children at Coney Island if quarters were provided by the city of New York. The Police Commissioner should have this in mind in any consideration of a new police station for this resort.

"The Police Commissioner is strongly urged to take up at once the matter of a police station at Coney Island, so that if possible it may be provided for next Summer's business.

"In the interest of economy it would seem that the city might well erect a combined police station and prison, magistrates' court and municipal court building on land owned by the city. It was stated that sufficient land is available in what is known as 'Dreamland Park,' which is now used for parking cars."

An inspection of the Sixth District magistrate's court pens at 495 Gates Avenue, Brooklyn, revealed that there is insufficient heat during the Winter months.

The recommendation was made that the attention of the Borough President be called to this matter.

DIES IN AUTO BY GAS PIPED FROM EXHAUST

Man's Body Found at Montauk, L. I., in Car With Switch On and Gas Tank Empty.

MONTAUK, L. I., Sept. 24.—The body of a man identified as Correl Johnson, 38 years old, of 1,137 Bergen Street, Newark, N. J., was discovered here today on a lonely woods road with every indication, the police said, that Johnson committed suicide by inhaling carbon monoxide gas through a tube which he attached to the exhaust pipe of his coupe. Coroner J. Mott Heath of Greenport, L. I., stated that Johnson had been dead for about three days.

Johnson attached a long rubber tube to the exhaust pipe and then inserted it through the floor boards of the car. The tube was wired to the inside of the car. The switch key was turned on and the gas tank empty when the body was found by John Miller, a chauffeur, employed by Lawrence H. Fox of Kansas City, Mo., a Summer resident here.

From order books and advertising matter in the car it was judged that Johnson was a refrigerator salesman.

PATERSON, N. J., Sept. 24.—George J. Dunn Sr. of 783 Madison Avenue, Paterson, was arrested at his home today by Detective John Herman of the local police on a charge of embezzlement.

Dunn, a former employe of the State Motor Vehicle Department Bureau at Newark, was seized on complaint of the Motor Vehicle Department in connection with an alleged $1,400 shortage in accounts at the Newark bureau.

Dunn was taken to Newark for arraignment. His arrest is the first following the recent charge of Motor Vehicle Commissioner Harold G. Hoffman that shortages totaling $5,000 had been found in the bureaus at Newark, Brunswick and Camden.

BAR VALUATION DATA IN LIGHT RATE CASE

UNUSUAL DEMANDS SHOWN

Testimony relating to the rate of return on the investments of the New York Edison and associated light companies was eliminated from the case before the Public Service Commission at the hearing yesterday on the application for a change in the rate structure of the utilities. The commission ruled that the issues should be confined to the form of rates, excluding discussions of valuations.

At the hearing on Monday Corporation Counsel Hilly had charged that the companies, while expecting only 6 per cent return on intercompany loans and investments, sought a return of 8 per cent on investments from the public. Mr. Hilly attempted to question yesterday Franklin H. Nickerson, vice president of the Consolidated Gas Company, on various loans and the rate of interest they bore.

The corporation counsel asked if the United Electric Light and Power Company had not made a loan of $135,000 in 1925-1926 to the Brush Electric Company, a subsidiary of the Consolidated Gas, charging 6 per cent interest. Before Mr. Nickerson could answer William L. Ransom, counsel for the system companies, objected on the ground that the case involved the form of rates and not valuations. He said it was unnecessary in the case to litigate the rate of return.

Milo R. Maltbie, chairman of the commission, said it was the decision of the commission "to eliminate every factor not applicable to the case."

Earlier in the hearing, Mr. Ransom entered several exhibits, one of which showed the increase in consumption of electricity in the city during world championship boxing matches and on New Year's Eve. The consumption for the latter festival was 155,000 kilowatt hours above normal; for the night of last June 12, during the Sharkey-Schmeling prizefight, 47,000 kilowatt hours above normal, and for the night of the Dempsey-Tunney fight in Chicago, Sept. 22, 1927, 118,000 kilowatt hours above normal, according to the chart.

Robert B. Grove, secretary of the United Electric Light and Power Company, testifying in connection with the charts, explained that people were sitting up late burning their lights and keeping their radios going to hear the results of the fight.

The exhibits were offered, it was explained, in support of the contention that "storm peaks and other sudden and exceptional demands upon system capacity" required the companies to keep available a very much larger reserve capacity than called for on normal days.

Most of the hearing was consumed with Mr. Hilly's questioning the accuracy and comparableness of figures contained in the many exhibits submitted by the company, the Corporation Counsel holding that many of the comparisons were made on an improper basis.

Dr. John Bauer, rate expert, and Howard Guttman, both representing the Utility Consumers' League, questioned Mr. Grove at length on the policies of the companies in allocating costs as compared with business enterprises outside of the utility field.

The hearing will continue this morning.

PORT BOARD DISCUSSES JERSEY TUNNEL PLANS

Meets With State Officials to Outline the Project to Link Manhattan to Weehawken.

Members of the Port of New York Authority met with members of the New Jersey State Highway Commission and New Jersey legislative leaders at a luncheon at the Essex Club in Newark yesterday, to discuss the proposed tunnel from Weehawken to midtown New York, and the question of suitable traffic approaches on the New Jersey side.

The conference was intended particularly to discuss the problem of approaches in conjunction with the regular State highway developments of New Jersey. It was said following the meeting that no actual details had been handled, as the survey of the territory by the Port Authority was not sufficiently advanced.

Estimates for the Jersey share of the tunnel and for the new approaches may be presented to Governor Larson and the New Jersey Legislature this Winter.

The present plans call for a tunnel from Thirty-eighth Street, Manhattan, to Weehawken, and an additional 6,000 feet through Bergen Hill to open on the Hackensack Meadows.

The Port Authority was represented by John F. Galvin, chairman; Frank C. Ferguson, vice chairman; John E. Ramsey, general manager, and O. H. Ammann, chief engineer. Others present included:

Butler Cleared of Gem Theft.

Magistrate Gotlieb in West Side court dismissed yesterday for lack of evidence a burglary charge against Ole Mortensen, 54 years old, a former butler, of 201 East Sixty-second Street, who had been accused of stealing jewelry valued at $7,500 on Sept. 13 last from the apartment of Thomas M. Bancroft, 7 Gracie Square. Mr. Bancroft is a cotton broker. The court exonerated Mortensen.

The story of 1930's most spectacular success

In 1927 the idea for Fortune was born in the minds of the publishers of Time, the Weekly Newsmagazine. The time was ripe, they decided, for an entirely new kind of magazine to deal with Business. A magazine which in the intelligence of its editing, the fascination of its stories and the beauty of its pages should be worthy of the importance of Modern Business and the intelligence it now attracts.

Two years later, in the fall of 1929, before the magazine could take the form of paper and ink, things happened. Stocks crashed with a sickening thud. The eagle screams of prosperity changed to raven croaks of pessimism. The very word, fortune, became ashes in the public's mouth.

The time for any kind of a magazine dealing with Business had ripened until it was rotten.

But good ideas die hard. Like Farragut at Mobile Bay, ("Damn the torpedoes!"), the sponsors of the new magazine kept straight ahead... Into the pall of a depression, into the gloom of "hard times," sailed Vol. 1, No. 1, of Fortune.

Fortune dared the depression only because it knew it had dared to be different. It was not another trade-paper; not another investment counsellor. Fortune described, discussed, portrayed Business as other magazines for a century have discussed Sport, or Art, or Society, or Letters.

Fortune carried the unheard-of subscription price of $10 the year—for the simple reason that it could not hope to become self-supporting at a lower figure. Yet the reception that greeted this new magazine was phenomenal—nothing less. To-day more than 34,000 of America's most influential people are paying $10 a year to read Fortune. And each succeeding issue brings a thousand new subscribers.

Such success would be spectacular in any year, but in a year of hard times, it demands explanation. The general answer is simple. Fortune fills a need—a need few people perhaps had realized, but which existed just the same. Fortune tells for the first time, the complete, all-embracing story of Industrial Civilization—tells it with exciting word and exciting picture. It is a story worth telling and Fortune's readers have found it a story worth knowing.

To be specific, as Fortune is specific, let us record some examples... The first issue penetrated the seeming complexities of Branch Banking by what is still the definitive article on that fundamental subject... Another issue detailed the inside story of the strange case of cinemagnate William Fox... A recent issue contained the most illuminating and complete description ever printed of that ubiquitous, incredibly vast, almost unknown corporation, the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co.... Various issues have treated such diverse subjects as orchids, wine, Rembrandt, circuses.

Inseparably linked with U. S. Industrial achievement are men, and the families of men. Fortune has sketched the biographies of Arthur Curtiss James (Railroads), Rufus Lenoir Patterson (Cigar Machines), Jesse Isidor Straus (Macy's), Alfred Pritchard Sloan (Automobiles), Daniel Cowan Jackling (Copper), and Floyd Leslie Carlisle (Utilities). In Fortune for May was presented the family tree of the Vanderbilts; in the July issue, the story of the Guggenheims—America's Rothschilds.

In appearance Fortune matches the grandeur of its subject. Full color has been used to a degree never known before. Thrilling photographs add to the fascination of Fortune's stories.

It is impossible adequately to describe Fortune. You will have to see it, to read it, to know why it excites over 30,000 of the most important people in the U. S. as no other magazine ever excited them before.

PHONE CALLS LINK CRATER AND HEALY

Messages From Jurist's Home on Aug. 29 Revealed—Crain to Call Leader and Ewald.

TWO GRAND JURIES TO ACT

Tuttle and County Prosecutor to Examine Mrs. Crater's Visitors on Phone Talks.

VALET TO BE QUESTIONED

Help of Ambassador Guggenheim to Be Sought in Cuba Hunt—Aides of Justice Queried for Third Time.

For the first time since the disappearance of Supreme Court Justice Joseph F. Crater, forty-nine days ago, the State and Federal investigations into the Healy-Ewald case and the county inquiry into the Crater mystery were connected definitely yesterday.

Two telephone calls on Aug. 29 from the Crater apartment at 40 Fifth Avenue to the Blue Point, L. I., residence of Martin J. Healy, indicted Tammany leader of the Nineteenth Assembly District, caused District Attorney Crain to announce that he would subpoena Healy and former Magistrate George F. Ewald, recently indicted for office-buying, and seek to present their testimony to the county grand jury investigating the Crater disappearance.

At the same time United States Attorney Tuttle, whose office supplied to the District Attorney the information about the telephone calls, announced that Mr. and Mrs. Garrett Hiers of 911 Walton Avenue, the Bronx, were present in the Crater apartment when Mrs. Crater made one of the calls to Healy. Hiers, a close friend of Crater and of Healy, already had testified before the county grand jury and apparently had said nothing in his testimony of the telephone calls, as the news came as a surprise to Mr. Crain last night.

Face Two Inquiry Calls.

Mr. and Mrs. Hiers will be summoned before the Federal grand jury which is investigating the income tax payments of Healy for 1928 and 1929, Mr. Tuttle announced, and Mr. Crain declared that Hiers "very probably" would be recalled before the county grand jury to tell what he knew of the telephone conversation. It is very likely that when Healy and Ewald appear to testify in the Crater investigation they will be asked to sign waivers of immunity, it was learned last night.

The only other important development of yesterday in the Crater case was the announcement by Mr. Crain that he expected to communicate with Harry F. Guggenheim, Ambassador to Cuba, "asking him to make inquiries" about Crater, and "to take, if he is able to secure any information, depositions from parties who may be able to throw some light on the Crater disappearance." Mr. Crain said he had no specific persons in mind when he considered the request and explained that it was "just a matter of thoroughness."

The announcement by the District Attorney of the Hiers telephone calls was made in the morning before the county grand jury heard the testimony of five witnesses. Mr. Crain, consulting telephone company slips, said that he had determined to summon Healy and Ewald, "if the Attorney General has no objection," because "I have heard that a telephone call to Healy was made from the Crater apartment at 40 Fifth Avenue early in the morning of Aug. 29. The call was put in at 2:45 and lasted until 2:52 A. M. The slips show that he had also been called from the same place from 12:10 to 12:16 P. M. on the same date."

When asked why former Magistrate Ewald, who is charged with buying his office from Healy for $10,000, was to be summoned, Mr. Crain replied without explanation:

"Generally in the same connection."

Mr. Crain immediately communicated with Hiram C. Todd, who is conducting the Attorney General's investigation of the Healy-Ewald case, and Mr. Todd directed that the District Attorney be informed that he had no objection to the summoning of Healy and Ewald.

In the late afternoon after Mr. Crain had announced his intention of summoning Healy and Ewald Mr. Tuttle issued a statement from his office in the Federal Building telling of the Hierses' presence in the Crater apartment and giving details of the various telephone calls.

"A week ago," Mr. Tuttle declared, "my office subpoenaed from the New York Telephone Company the records of telephone calls from the apartment of Judge Crater at 40 Fifth Avenue, for the purpose of developing the investigation pending here in the Healy matter. Thereby we immediately came into possession of five telephone slips, four of which were dated Aug. 29, 1930, and one Aug. 30, 1930.

"Of the Aug. 29 slips one is a record of a call from the Crater apartment to the residence of Martin J. Healy at Blue Point, L. I., at 2:45 A. M., lasting for seven minutes. A second call from the same apartment to Mr. Healy's residence at Blue Point was at 12:10 P. M., lasting six minutes. Of the two other calls on Aug. 29 one was to Boston to the exchange Haymarket 1013, and the other was to Mrs. George Henry at Newton Centre, Mass., telephone 2629. The fifth telephone slip was dated Aug. 30 and was to Belgrade Lakes, Me. Last Friday we immediately communicated to the County District Attorney's office the details as to those telephone calls and slips."

After Mr. Tuttle's statement was issued, Mrs. Hiers called up Alvin McK. Sylvester, one of Mr. Tuttle's assistants, and said she was willing to tell him about the conversation. Mr. Sylvester took her testimony, which was not made public, and told her that she and her husband would be required to present their testimony in person before the grand jury. The date of their appearance was not decided definitely last night, but it was not believed that they would be called until next Monday afternoon.

At the time the calls were made Mrs. Crater was in New York on a two-day visit, her first and only trip to the city from her home in Maine since her husband's disappearance on Aug. 6. Healy was a close friend of Crater, who before his elevation to the Supreme bench last April was president of the Cayuga Democratic Club in the Nineteenth District. It is believed that at least one call to the Healy residence was completed and conversation ensued, though Mr. Crain said last night that he had learned that a number of calls were put in before the connection finally was made.

James Barnes, the proprietor of a pressing and valet service at 4 East Eighth Street and 30 Fifth Avenue, told the grand jurors yesterday that on Aug. 7, the day after Crater's disappearance, one of his employes, Harry Feldman, called at the Crater apartment in the morning and received one of the judge's suits for pressing. A colored maid, who, it was understood, had been coming to the Crater home twice a week during their absence in Maine, gave him the suit. The suit, according to Mr. Barnes, apparently had been worn the day before, was pressed and returned in the afternoon to the same maid.

Gaeton De Angelo, the waiter in the Haas restaurant at 332 West Forty-fifth Street, who served Crater, William Klein, Shubert lawyer, and a young woman at dinner on the night of Aug. 6, verified testimony previously given by Mr. Haas.

Frederick A. Johnson, Crater's secretary, was before the grand jury for the third time yesterday. He said definitely that the last time he saw Crater was the forenoon of Aug. 6.

URGES PUBLIC AID ON APPEALS BOARD

Walker Committee Asks Civic Groups to Suggest Reforms in the Organization.

QUERIES ON JURISDICTION

Seeks Opinions on Make-Up of Body and How Procedure Can Be Speeded Up.

Individuals and civic organizations who have had cases adjudicated before the Board of Standards and Appeals are invited to reply to a questionnaire sent out by Mayor Walker's special citizens' committee now engaged in investigating that body.

Among other things the investigating committee seeks to learn whether the board should be divested of any of its present jurisdiction and how appeals may be more promptly acted upon. Suggestions are invited regarding the power of the board in zoning and like functions within its sphere.

Asks as to Board's Make-Up.

The questionnaire, suggested to the main investigating committee by the subcommittee on complaints, criticisms and statistics, was made public last night at City Hall by J. Irving Walsh, chairman of the subcommittee. Mr. Walsh asks that replies be sent to his office, 73 West Eleventh Street.

The subcommittee's report, which was approved and which embraced the questionnaire, follows:

"This subcommittee on complaints, criticisms and statistics investigating the Board of Standards and Appeals respectfully invites your constructive criticism and suggestion regarding all phases of the future of the said board based on actual experience and contact with the board. This committee is not interested in charges of past irregularities, if any.

"You are respectfully requested to briefly answer such of the following questions as you think would be helpful to the committee in solving the problem of presenting constructive recommendations to the Mayor for some committee, commission or agency to adequately perform these services.

"1. The present board consists of five men. Should there be a greater or a lesser number?

"2. Should each member represent any particular trade or industry?

"3. How should they be selected or appointed?

"4. Should any of the municipal officers be on the board? If so, which?

Questioned About Powers.

"5. Has the present board sufficient power to pass upon all types and classes of cases?

"6. Should the present board be divested of any of its jurisdiction?

"7. How can appeals be more promptly acted upon?

"8. What are your recommendations regarding the procedure of the board?

"9. What recommendations have you regarding the present rules promulgated by the board?

"10. From your experience, what criticisms have you to make regarding the manner of obtaining approval for materials and devices used in buildings by the board?

"11. What are your recommendations regarding that approval in the future by the board of all materials and devices?

"12. What are your suggestions regarding the power of the board in zoning?"

Cashier Ends Life in Hotel Room.

Marshall A. Bishop, 60 years old, a cashier, who lived with his married daughter at 4 Oak Avenue, Larchmont, N. Y., committed suicide yesterday morning in the Hotel Nassau, 56 East Fifty-ninth Street, by drinking poison, according to the police. Ill health was given as the reason for his act by relatives. A note addressed to his daughter asked forgiveness.

STATE TO WITHHOLD MARTIN TESTIMONY

Washburn, at Request of Court, Agrees to Secrecy Pending Decision on Untermyer Motion.

Assistant Attorney General Watson Washburn agreed yesterday, at the request of Supreme Court Justice Alfred H. Townley, not to make public testimony to be given today by Kings County Judge George W. Martin, pending decision by Justice Townley on the application of Samuel Untermyer, on behalf of Judge Martin, for an order restraining the Attorney General from disclosing any testimony taken in the investigation into companies with which Judge Martin was connected.

Mr. Untermyer thus won a temporary victory in his fight against publicity in the Martin case. As a result, testimony taken yesterday by Deputy Attorney General William H. Milholland in an examination of Thomas J. Buckley, associate of Judge Martin in several companies, was not made public. Judge Martin is to be examined at the Bureau of Securities this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The stipulation of Mr. Washburn to withhold publication of testimony pending decision was made before Justice Townley yesterday morning during the argument on Mr. Untermyer's application for a restraining order. Justice Townley ordered briefs exchanged today and filed with the court tomorrow morning.

Mr. Washburn and Mr. Milholland appeared to oppose the application. Mr. Washburn said his office had been operating for ten years without question as to its rights to give out information, adding that it was often necessary to give out information warning the public before sufficient evidence had been obtained to warrant prosecution. Mr. Milholland said Mr. Untermyer had furnished "illustrious precedent" in disclosing information in a prosecution, but Mr. Untermyer said the cases were different and Justice Townley held this to be irrelevant.

Mr. Untermyer's contention was that the law gave the Attorney General authority to disclose testimony taken in a preliminary investigation only in pursuance of his duty after the beginning of civil suit or criminal prosecution.

VAUSE TRIAL ON TODAY.

Judge Retains Republican Leader as Counsel in Income Tax Case.

W. Bernard Vause, former Kings County judge who is free under $5,000 bail pending appeal from a sentence of six years imposed for mail fraud, is scheduled to appear in Federal Court in Brooklyn today for trial on a charge of evading the income tax.

Judge Vause had his case adjourned a week ago because he had been too busy to retain counsel. Meanwhile, he has engaged Harold L. Turk, Republican leader of the Eighth Assembly District in Brooklyn, and unless the trial is adjourned by Federal Judge Mortimer W. Byers, before whom it probably will come, Mr. Turk is expected to subpoena about a half-dozen witnesses.

The mystery of what became of the $250,000 fee which Vause received from the United American Lines for helping them to obtain leases to two city-owned piers may be explained at the trial, it is believed by investigators who helped prepare the case. The fee, which United States Attorney Tuttle characterized as a "slush fund," was received in the period in which the former county judge is accused of failing to make a proper report to the government on his income.

CURRY AND KOHLER DEFY GRAND JURY

nity as soon as I got inside. I told them I was born in this city and had lived here all my life and my father before me. I came here to answer questions, not to sign papers, and I told them I wouldn't sign. I said, 'I'll sign no papers. Nothing like this ever happened to me before.'"

The refusal of Mr. Kohler to waive immunity marked a complete change of front on his part. On Saturday, in discussing his appearance as a witness with newspaper men, he said he had no objection whatever because he had nothing to hide.

Todd Denounces Pleas.

When the attitude of the leader of Tammany Hall and one of his most powerful aides was called to the attention of Mr. Todd, he remarked:

"Evidently Mr. Curry has changed his former policy in which he said he would be willing to do anything in his power to aid this investigation. You gentlemen can draw your own conclusions. As for Mr. Kohler, he seemed to want to deliver a speech and we told him that the grand jury room was not the place for it. The only question that was asked of either of them was whether they would sign a waiver of immunity."

Later Mr. Todd declared, "The refusal of a public officer or a quasi-public officer to waive immunity in an investigation of this character is a hindrance to the investigation, because it cuts off our natural source of information."

"Some time ago," he added, "I said that any one who refused to waive immunity in this investigation casts suspicion upon himself. I think that is fair and I repeat it. Such a refusal is similar to that of a witness who refuses to answer questions on the ground that to do so might incriminate or degrade him."

Mr. Kohler, it was understood, was to have been questioned about the appointment of Judge Amadeo Bertini to the General Sessions bench to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of former Judge Francis X. Mancuso, who was indicted in connection with the failure of the City Trust Company. The district leader and budget director, a close friend of Mr. Bertini, is reported to have been instrumental in his elevation to the bench.

From Mr. Curry, an old district leader himself, it had been hoped that considerable information might be obtained on the manner in which Tammany operates when there is a job to be filled. His refusal to waive immunity and his consequent dismissal as a witness hindered the grand jury which is trying to make up its mind whether the job-buying in the Ewald case was an isolated instance or a mere incident in a system. It was intimated that Mr. Curry could have spared many of his district leaders from being "insulted" as he was, by observing the formality of waiving immunity.

Counsel Defends Curry's Course.

"Mr. John F. Curry was called as a witness today before the extraordinary grand jury, now engaged in the investigation of the Ewald case. He was asked by Mr. Hiram C. Todd, the Special Attorney General in charge of that grand jury, to sign a waiver of immunity before giving his testimony. No reason was given by Mr. Todd for this unusual request. Mr. Curry declined to sign the proposed waiver. I have advised him that he acted properly in so declining and standing upon his rights.

"This is the eve of a political campaign. The Republican convention is now meeting in Albany to nominate a candidate for Governor, for Attorney General and for other offices. The present Attorney General, Mr. Hamilton Ward, the superior of Mr. Todd, is prominently mentioned for nomination as Governor; and if he be not named for the Governorship, he will, undoubtedly, be a candidate for re-election.

"There have recently been many so-called judicial proceedings in our community which have had the earmarks of political propaganda. In the present case the grand jury is supposed to investigate only the Ewald matter. Of that affair Mr. Curry knows nothing, and Mr. Todd must be well aware that he has no knowledge on the subject. The subpoena served on Mr. Curry is not entitled in the Ewald case. It is entitled 'in the case of John Doe.' Evidently the subpoena is issued in a fishing expedition. In view of all the circumstances, Mr. Curry was amply justified in refusing to sign a waiver of immunity for which no reason was given and the presentation of which, without explanation, is in itself an insult to any witness.

"If by my advice anything can be accomplished toward this sort of exploitation that is clearly going far afield of the order convening this grand jury, I feel that I am performing a high order of public service in preventing the processes of the law from being misused, apparently for political ends.

"A general law requiring all public officials to waive immunity is quite another matter. That would make no invidious distinction and would involve no implication. Mr. Curry favors such a law and would give it his full support."

Mrs. Healy Also Defiant.

The summoning of Mrs. Healy was understood to have been in connection with the statement of Jacob Cash, former City Marshal, that he gave her a diamond and emerald bracelet worth $850 in addition to the $2,000 cash he gave her husband the day he was appointed by Mayor Walker. The grand jurors did not have an opportunity to ask her to waive immunity because she refused to take the oath as a witness. She knew nothing about her husband's affairs and besides she didn't want to testify under oath, she explained.

Mr. Todd excused her temporarily and as soon as the grand jury recessed until this morning he communicated by telephone with Supreme Court Justice McCook, who will not be back in town until Monday. Afterward the special prosecutor announced that he would take Mrs. Healy before the court on Monday and ask Justice McCook to direct her to testify on pain of being held in contempt of court.

Frederick L. Hackenburg, attorney for Healy, had this to say about the refusal of the district leader's wife to testify:

"Mrs. Healy is the mother of three children, a housewife of the old-fashioned type, who doesn't know anything about her husband's affairs. The nominations will be made this week. It is a good time for headlines. You can always get headlines by hitting below the belt."

Hand Is Questioned.

The only witness who contributed any information to the grand jury was Charles S. Hand, Sanitation Commissioner, who willingly waived immunity. Mr. Hand, a former secretary to Mayor Walker, is not a district leader. He was questioned for more than an hour by the grand jurors, however, and when they adjourned there still was so much ground to be covered that they asked him to come in again today. His testimony, it was understood, dealt almost entirely with his observations at City Hall while secretary to the Mayor.

Former Sheriff Charles W. Culkin, leader of the Third Assembly District, and James J. Hines, leader of the eleventh, will be among the first of the district leaders in Mr. Todd's "round-up." They are expected to appear today. Felix Solomon, an officer in the Cayuga Realty Company, one of Healy's business ventures, has been waiting around the grand jury room for days under subpoena but has not yet been called. It was indicated that he might be heard today.

Long, long ago in PENNSYLVANIA

MILLIONS of years ago in the Devonian Age—while the world rocked with earthquakes and mighty, armored fish swam the seas—Nature stored away in the Bradford-Allegany District of the Pennsylvania field her most valuable crude oil.

Bradford-Allegany crude owes its superior quality to earth conditions in the Devonian Age—an age when heat, pressure and materials were more favorable to the forming of oil than they ever were in the oil-forming ages which went before—or came afterward. And Bradford-Allegany crude has mellowed and filtered for a hundred million years—long enough to bring the crude to the point where its lubricating quality commands the highest price in the Pennsylvania field!

Nothing but Bradford-Allegany crude is used in making Sinclair Mobiline Motor Oil. But before Bradford-Allegany crude becomes Mobiline Motor Oil it goes through an exhaustive refining process in the big, new Sinclair refinery at Wellsville, N. Y. Here it is triple-filtered, de-waxed at as low as 60° F. below zero and tested to flow freely at zero.

Have the nearest Sinclair dealer change your oil to Sinclair Mobiline according to the Sinclair Law of Lubrication. Examine this Mobiline after long, hard driving. Note how it stands up—how it comes out of the crankcase almost as good as it went in. Note, especially, how little has been used up—positive, visible proof that this rich, Devonian oil protects the last mile as well as the first!

ASKS STATE INQUIRY INTO CITY SCHOOLS

CITES TEXTBOOK CHARGES

Suggests Warning to Leaders That System Is Not a "Field for Patronage and Profit."

The Public Education Association requested Mayor Walker yesterday to ask Dr. Frank P. Graves, State Commissioner of Education, to investigate the school system "with particular reference to the possible existence of political interference in the selection of personnel, the purchase of supplies and textbooks and the erection of school buildings." The request was made in a letter to the Mayor signed by Miss Martha Lincoln Draper, president of the association.

At the same time, the Mayor was urged to serve public notice on political leaders that the schools are not to be considered as a "field for patronage and profit."

Recalls Mayor's Promise.

The letter referred to the Mayor's declaration that he would "keep politics out of education," and emphasized the need for an impartial sifting of recently-multiplied "rumors" of political influence in various educational activities. Miss Draper's letter follows:

"We note in the press your statement that the policy of your administration is to 'keep politics out of education,' and we share your concern at the demoralization which follows when charges of irregularity are allowed to persist without thorough and impartial investigation. For several years we have been concerned about the widespread feeling that district or other political leaders have used their power to influence the selection of members of the public school staff and to interfere otherwise with the functioning of the school system. Accusations have been made and denied, but so far no investigation has been made from which we or any other unofficial body could learn the facts.

"The existence of such unsifted rumors is demoralizing to the public school system and detrimental to the repute of the city, as you have pointed out. Within the last week a professional teachers' organization has publicly referred to these allegations as of common knowledge among teachers of the public schools. The recent incidents in respect to textbooks have further intensified the feeling of distrust. As no outside civic organization like ourselves is in a position to find or to appraise evidence to prove or disprove such accusations, we are convinced that a thorough inquiry should be made by a responsible and impartial public agency.

Urges Mayor to Act.

"We, therefore, respectfully urge that, as Mayor, you request the State Commissioner of Education to investigate the administration of the public schools of New York City with particular reference to the possible existence of political interference in the selection of personnel, the purchase of supplies and text-books, and the erection of school buildings. As the highest school official in the State, the commissioner is vested by law with ample power to make such an investigation and to subpoena such persons or documents as may be necessary. In order to allay immediate apprehension, your request for such an inquiry would be most reassuring, particularly if it were accompanied by your serving notice publicly on all district and other political leaders that the public school system must not be used as a field for patronage or profit. We shall greatly appreciate your early response to this recommendation."

Howard W. Nudd, director of the association, said that the request for an investigation was relayed through the Mayor instead of directly to Dr. Graves as a courtesy to the City Administration.

CORRIGAN SEEKS SHIFT IN FAMILY COURTS

To Push Bill Taking Domestic Cases Out of Hands of Magistrates.

Chief Magistrate Joseph E. Corrigan announced yesterday that legislative arrangements were under way to create a family court as part of the Court of Special Sessions or to establish a new separate domestic relations tribunal.

The plan was disclosed by Magistrate Corrigan in disapproving a request by Michael Iorio, president of the Queens Community Councils, for the creation of three new magistrates' courts in Queens, a family court, a traffic court and a magistrate's court to serve in Woodhaven and Liberty Heights sections of the borough. Mr. Iorio conferred with the Chief Magistrate at the latter's office, 300 Mulberry Street, Manhattan.

"An amendment will be introduced at the next session of the State Legislature, advocated by social and charity authorities, to take the family court out of the magistrate's court and combine it with the children's court as a division of the Court of Special Sessions," Magistrate Corrigan said. "The amendment will provide an alternative of creating a family and domestic relations court as a new tribunal. The Charity Organization Society and other social and welfare bodies are the principal advocates of the measure.

"I am in favor of taking the family court out of the magistrate system because the city magistrate's court is designed to take care of criminals. The family squabbles that appear in the family court to be straightened out are not criminal cases, but social service cases, and that is why the social agencies are backing the measure."

CALCUTTA, Sept. 24.—Captain F. R. Matthews arrived here at noon today in his Puss Moth airplane, two days ahead of the time taken by Bert Hinkler, whose record flight from England to Australia Captain Matthews is attempting to beat.

He had an uneventful flight from Allahabad and expects to take off at dawn tomorrow for Bangkok via Akyab.

Man, 78, Held for Shooting Boy, Charges Groups Annoyed Him

Special to The New York Times.

BELLEVILLE, N. J., Sept. 24.—James Anderson, 8 years old, of 1 Gless Avenue, was slightly injured by buckshot when Christian Roehn, 78 years old, of 52 Chestnut Street, annoyed by the teasing of a group of boys who had been trespassing on his property, discharged his shotgun in their direction today, according to the police.

The Anderson boy, with several shots lodged in his forehead, ran home to his mother. It was reported that he was not seriously hurt. Roehm was arrested on a charge of assault with intent to kill and held in $5,000 bail for the action of the grand jury.

WALKER DEFENDS CITY PIER POLICY

BIG LEASE IS DEFERRED

To Avoid Any "Misunderstanding" He Puts Off Action on North German Lloyd Application.

At the meeting yesterday of the Sinking Fund Commission, Mayor Walker defended the Dock Department against insinuations and innuendoes aimed at its policies in determining pier awards and rentals. On the calendar for consideration was the department's approval of the lease of the projected new Pier 32, North River, to the North German Lloyd Line, to dock the Bremen and the Europa, which now berth in South Brooklyn.

Deferring action on the recommendation for two weeks, Mayor Walker said:

"Let it be thoroughly understood that in arriving at these pier leases no important gentleman, high or low, can change the rents for piers or sway the Sinking Fund Commission in following its adopted formula. All these innuendoes and insinuations and talk about fixers and men of influence can not change this formula, nor can any number of lawyers, a whole roomful of them, have any effect. The interpretation of the formula determines the rent, but in case there may be any misunderstanding, the chair is going to move that this matter lie over until the next meeting." It was so ordered.

The matter came before the commission in a communication from Dock Commissioner Michael Cosgrove requesting approval of a lease to the North German Lloyd Company of a new pier taking the place of old Pier 32, between Watts and Canal Streets, together with the bulkhead property proposed to be built at the foot of Spring Street and also at the foot of Desbrosses Street. The proposed pier is to be 1,018 feet in length and the lease under consideration is for ten years at a rental of approximately $313,000 a year.

John McKenzie, executive officer of the Dock Department, said the rent is predicated on the cost to the city, which acquired the property by condemnation proceedings. Mayor Walker said in that case it probably would be necessary to await final action in court, but Mr. McKenzie thought that decision could not be put off that long because the city had vested title last May. The Mayor remarked that the case appeared to be something like that of the Rockaway Beach award case.

CRAIN AND HIGGINS AID CORRIGAN INQUIRY

District Attorney Crain and Commissioner of Accounts Higgins joined Chief City Magistrate Corrigan yesterday in the latter's investigation of alleged misuse of moneys received in the alimony bureau of the Manhattan magistrate's family court. Mr. Crain assigned Assistant District Attorney James G. Wallace to aid in preparing evidence already obtained by the chief magistrate against three minor officials, who were arrested Tuesday on grand larceny charges growing out of a shortage of $9,995 in the alimony bureau's accounts. The grand jury is expected to take up the matter next week.

Commissioner Higgins sent six of his accountants to the chief magistrate to aid in a more systematic scrutiny of the bureau's records. The accountants were immediately placed in charge of all the bureau's records, and are to report to the chief magistrate from day to day.

Assistant District Attorney Wallace said he would have a conference with the chief magistrate today to discuss the evidence against the three accused men, Frank Murphy, cashier of the bureau; Louis Lewnosky, a magistrate's court attaché, and his brother, Maurice A. Lewnosky, General Sessions probation officer.

Murphy was alleged to have told the chief magistrate that he lent the $9,995 to the Lewnosky brothers. Maurice Lewnosky then was alleged to have admitted to the chief magistrate that he lent $4,500 of this money to Edwin J. Cooley, former chief of the General Sessions Probation Bureau, who resigned last April when his management of that bureau was under investigation by the grand jury. Murphy and the Lewnoskys are to be arraigned for a hearing in Yorkville court today.

Case Against Witness Dropped.

The action brought in Tombs court by Deputy Attorney General David Wohl against Joseph C. Handshoe of 1,585 Morris Avenue, the Bronx, on the ground that Handshoe refused to answer questions in an investigation, has been withdrawn. Prior to the withdrawal a summons to answer a charge of assault was served upon Mr. Wohl, and this charge was withdrawn at the same time. Mr. Wohl said his action was withdrawn because Mr. Handshoe agreed to submit to examination and to dissolve the Fordham Credit Corporation, of which he was head. Sidney M. Wittner, attorney for Handshoe, denied this, giving the assault charge as the reason for withdrawal of the other.

Boy Plans Hop for Coast Today.

SUSPECT HELD HERE IN $250,000 FRAUD

Advertising Man, Accused by City College Teacher, Said to Have Admitted Other Deals.

TOTAL MAY REACH $500,000

Dudley E. Groesbeck, 33 years old, who formerly conducted an advertising business in Schenectady, N. Y., was brought here yesterday from Boston in custody on a forgery charge. He is said to have admitted in the District Attorney's office that between 1928 and 1929 he defrauded sixteen persons of $250,000. Assistant District Attorney Thomas F. Kane, who questioned Groesbeck said, however, he had been informed the amount would reach $500,000, most of the victims, about thirty-five in all, being residents of up-State cities.

Groesbeck was brought back by Detective Sergeant William A. Sullivan of the District Attorney's office on a bench warrant issued last June when the prisoner was indicted on a second degree forgery charge in the theft of $25,000 from Professor George C. Autenreith, instructor of mechanical drawing in City College. Professor Autenreith said he had been defrauded of a total of $35,000.

Professor Autenreith's story of how he was swindled was similar to those told by other victims, according to Assistant District Attorney Kane. The professor said that in July, 1928, he was introduced to Groesbeck by a friend, and Groesbeck showed him a purported "master contract" with W. N. Ayer & Son, advertising agents, assuring Groesbeck of a minimum gross income from Ayer & Son of $640,000.

Groesbeck represented he was in need of money to finance his end of the contract, Professor Autenreith said, and offered to give the educator one-quarter of the profits, equal to 150 per cent on his investment.

Professor Autenreith asserted that he gave Groesbeck the $35,000 in instalments until his life savings were gone. In July, 1929, Groesbeck disappeared.

The name of Wilfred Fry, president of Ayer & Son, was signed to the "master contract" and that of F. H. Kingsbury, vice president of the Globe Indemnity Company, to a bond guaranteeing its performance.

Mr. Fry and Mr. Kingsbury declared before the grand jury that their names had been forged to the documents. Groesbeck will be arraigned in General Sessions today.

LARGEST SEAPLANE IS FAST IN FLIGHT

British Craft Weighing Ten Tons Shows a Greater Speed Than Equivalent in Flying Boats.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

ROCHESTER, England, Sept. 24.—The world's biggest seaplane, a ten-ton Short Valetta, accommodating seventeen passengers, demonstrated in a special trial flight here today that a seaplane was capable of carrying a pay load nearly equal to that of the best flying boat of the same horsepower at a speed twenty miles

A flying boat with its boat-shaped hull still has the advantage in heavy seas, but this seaplane has floats that can be turned into landing gear in very short time.

Hitherto the seaplane has never borne any greater weight on its floats. The biggest passenger seaplane hitherto has been an eight-seater. For great passenger accommodations the flying boat of considerable length but small depth has been used, and one of its disadvantages is the limitation of space in the passenger cabin because of the shape of the hull.

This Short Valetta is 69 feet long, with a wing spread of 107 feet. Its floats are 40 feet long and are 23 feet apart. It has three Bristol Jupiter XIF engines. The flying boat equivalent of this seaplane can carry fifteen passengers at a cruising speed of 100 miles an hour, as against the Valetta's 120 miles an hour.

"Lawyers have informed me that such a law would be constitutional on the ground that the Legislature has the right to fix the qualifications for public office. They are convinced and so am I, that the Legislature could make the waiving of immunity one of the qualifications."

Walker Withholds Comment.

Mayor Walker said he preferred to reserve his comment upon the proposed legislation until it actually had been introduced. The mayor, who when the principals in the Ewald case were dodging the questions of United States Attorney Tuttle on the ground that to answer might tend to degrade and incriminate them, said that he would "look with disfavor" upon any member of his administration who aopted such tactics in the future, was asked to comment upon Mr. Kohler's refusal to waive immunity.

"What I said a few months ago, I say again now. But there is no such men under my jurisdiction at the present time."

Mr. Walker would not say anything further about the matter. From other sources, however, it was learned that, while he regards the action of his budget director in a somewhat different light from that in which he held Healy's refusal to testify, he probably will call upon Mr. Kohler for a private explanation.

NOME, Alaska, Sept. 24.—We have received another wireless call for medical assistance, demonstrating again how much the value of the airplane in the Far North is being recognized.

After our successful flight from Cape Serdge, Siberia, with a sea captain who was ill, an urgent message came through from Dillingham, on Bristol Bay, north of the Alaskan Peninsula. An epidemic of diphtheria has broken out there. The message asked that a..ti-toxin be sent at once. My mechanic, Alonzo Cope, and I are taking off immediately with the serum.

A wireless message from the Karise, whose captain Cope and I brought to the hospital here, said she is under way in an open lead through the ice back at Cape Serdge and has a good chance of getting out. She had been in danger of being frozen in for the Winter, but apparently the wind has opened up the ice somewhat.

They will leave tomorrow morning for Boise, Idaho, and the Pacific Northwest.

ALBANY, Sept. 24.—Republican leaders have assured the State Aviation Commission that the convention platform will contain a plank pledging the party to continue all possible aid to the promotion of aviation in New York State, it was announced here tonight following a meeting of the commission.

At the meeting a movement to bring about the compulsory licensing of all planes flown in the State was discussed.

At present the State aviation law provides for the licensing only of airplanes flown for commercial purposes. As at present, the license would be issued by the Federal Government.

Senator J. Griswold Webb of Hyde Park, chairman of the commission, pointed out that the plan would promote safety in flying.

TALKING MARATHON MARKS RADIO FAIR

DAY'S SALES $6,708,000

Management Estimates Wholesale Business for Week at $23,000,000—"Colorscope" Is Exhibited.

Renewal of consumer buying of radio receiving sets was noted yesterday at the Radio World's Fair in Madison Square Garden, according to the management. A total of $6,708,000 of receiver wholesale business was booked for immediate shipment from the time the show opened Monday until late Tuesday night, it was disclosed yesterday by J. Clayton Irwin, manager of the show. He estimated that the six days' business would reach $23,000,000 to $25,000,000.

A new electrical device for determining and matching colors by radio will be added today to the various exhibits. This device, known as the Colorscope, is being exhibited by the New York Electrical Society. Another feature will be introduced by Norman Pearce, radio announcer, who will try to shatter the world's talking marathon endurance contest record of fourteen hours. He will begin talking at 8 o'clock tonight. Pearce, who attempted this feat recently in the open air in the Times Square district but was stopped by the police, expects to talk continuously for twenty-four hours or more. His talk will be audible to all persons in the neighborhood of the booth and will be broadcast over WGBS at frequent intervals. Pearce, according to the rules of the contest, will be allowed one minute of rest during each hour.

A short-wave receiving and transmitting station has been attracting interest at the show. Two transmitters have been installed for the use of the public in sending radio messages to any part of the world. More than one hundred messages have been sent from this booth to distant parts of the globe since the exposition opened, according to John B. Brennan, who is in charge of the short-wave station.

Short-wave signals have been picked up also, contact having been established with such distant points as Stations XDA, Mexico City; IHA, Costa Rica, and Winnipeg, Canada. The reception tests are being discontinued temporarily, however, until arrangements are made for reception without interference from the adjacent loud-speakers and amplifiers. Negotiations now are under way for piping a telephone line to some outside point, where the short-wave signals will be picked up and relayed to the Garden. The messages are being sent over a 40-meter band. The call letter of the short-wave transmitter is W2 RU.

"Nine Till Six" to Open Saturday.

The première of "Nine Till Six," the all-feminine comedy by Aimee and Philip Stuart, has been added by the Shuberts to this week's list of openings. The play will come to the Ritz Theatre on Saturday evening, with an English cast headed by Auriol Lee, who also has directed the production. Merle Tottenham, Audrey Cameron and Petra Carpenter of the London company will be among the players. The opening had previously been announced for next Monday night.

THEATRICAL NOTES.

The Zoe Akins comedy, "The Greeks Had a Word for It," will open tonight at the Sam H. Harris Theatre. "Frankie and Johnny" will have its première at the Republic.

"Brisach's Way," instead of "The Merchant of Paris," will be the title of the play in which Edward G. Robinson will appear under the management of George C. Tyler and the Erlanger office. The play, the work of Edmond Fleg, was acted in Paris at the Comédie Française last season. Rehearsals for the American production, the locale of which has been changed to New York, will begin today under the direction of Clifford Brooke.

Edgar Stehli joined the cast of the "Garrick Gaieties" last night, succeeding Albert Carroll. Mr. Carroll will appear in the Theatre Guild's production of "Elizabeth, the Queen," opening in Philadelphia next week.

The title of the play in which Paul Muni will be seen has been changed from "The Man Saul" to "Twice Born." Leo Bulgakov will stage the play, which will have settings by Woodman Thompson. Paul Guilfoyle is the latest addition to the company.

Mildred MacLeod will replace Peggy Shannon in "Blind Mice," which resumes its tryout tour in Baltimore on Monday.

Gavin Muir, Richie Ling and Peggy Allenby will support Vilma Banky and Rod La Rocque in "Cherries Are Ripe," the play adapted from the Hungarian by Anita Loos and John Emerson. The authors are scheduled to sail for New York tomorrow on the Europa.

The Marx Brothers will start a vaudeville engagement for the Radio-Keith-Orpheum circuit in Flushing, L. I., on Saturday. They are expected in the Palace in about two weeks.

Mary Blair will return to the cast of "Lysistrata" on Monday evening. Miss Blair left the company after her marriage in the Summer and in her absence her part was played by Mary Morris.

Ethel Barrymore will open in "Scarlet Sister Mary" tonight at the Hartman Theatre, Columbus, Ohio. The play is due at her theatre here on Oct. 14.

Andrew Leigh, who came here from England to direct Jane Cowl's incoming production of "Twelfth Night," has been engaged to stage the production of "The Merchant of Venice," in which Maurice Moscovitch will appear.

Mrs. Patrick Campbell will make a three months' tour of the United States and Canada, starting on Jan. 1, in her lecture recital, "Beautiful Speech and the Art of Acting."

Ex-soldiers who are now inmates of the Brooklyn Naval Hospital and the Kingsbridge Veterans Hospital will be entertained by a special performance of "The Long Road" at the Bijou Theatre tomorrow afternoon. The play will move to that house from the Longacre tonight.

Having no visible reverence for Hollywood, Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman have written "Once In a Lifetime," which was acted at the Music Box last evening. It is a hard, swift satire—fantastic and deadly, and full of highly charged comedy lines. Since neither of the playwrights has ever visited Hollywood, it is no well-considered lucubration, but a rough-and-tumble burlesque, with a conventional story. Sometimes it drops into a false key of sobriety; and having been steadily convulsed by an extraordinarily comic first act, you have to readjust yourself to an easier pace through the rest of the piece. But the skinning of Hollywood is neat and complete. The good lines are hilariously funny. It is not the best skit with which Mr. Kaufman has been associated. But the gods of laughter know that it is good enough. As some one has already observed, no comic writer should ever be as funny as he can be.

If you know the form of theatrical satire you know already the general course of the story. Three small-time vaudeville performers set out for Hollywood as soon as the first talking picture has been shown on Broadway. Foreseeing the confusion of an industry that has made silent pictures exclusively, they hope to establish themselves as elocution teachers while the iron is hot. Their wild luck, their brazenness and the incompetence of talking-picture producers conspire to make them people of considerable influence before the play is over.

But that gives you little idea of the fun "Once in a Lifetime" contains. It tells you nothing of the bedlam that is Hollywood—the absurd pretentiousness of the Glogauer Studio, where uniformed pages are constantly parading around with notes announcing Herman Glogauer's presence; the plight of the New York playwright, one of a shipment of sixteen, who has waited in the office for months without receiving a word of instruction, and finally breaks down from underwork; the wild turmoil of hiring and firing, putting names on doors with paint that is easily removable, and the travesty of a city in which even the waitresses and bootblacks combine acting with their humble crafts.

Things happen so much on impulse that finally George Lewis, who used to be the dead-pan feed in the vaudeville business, becomes general supervisor of the Glogauer Studios by virtue of repeating another man's words to Herman Glogauer at the right moment. When Lewis has just completed his first production, he finds that he has produced the wrong script. He had the right script in his hand when he began. But being annoyed by a draft, he had turned round to close the window, and then picked up the wrong script when he turned back. Upon such trifling accidents Hollywood fortunes depend—or at any rate Mr. Hart and Mr. Kaufman would have you think so.

Through all this higgledy-piggledy burlesque the authors scurry rapidly and maliciously, putting a poison barb on their lines. Mr. Kaufman has not only directed the performance skillfully, but he also makes his stage début as Lawrence Vail, the transplanted playwright. It is a part written less fantastically than the play, and Mr. Kaufman, who was doubtless unnerved last evening by the long salute of applause that greeted his appearance, had little fantasy to give them. By the time of his second appearance in the last act he had recovered.

The cast includes such enjoyable performers as Hugh O'Connell, who can beam and clown at the same moment; Jean Dixon, who can drench her lines in acid and also make an emotional incident count by the reticence of her acting; Spring Byington, who flutters gayly as the most widely syndicated movie critic in the world; Charles Halton, who keeps Herman Glogauer racing dizzily through the studio; Walter Dreher, who charges the expensive German director with a giddy temperament. It is all swift, shrieking and lethal. It is merciless and fairly comprehensive. If the fun lags a little during the middle sketches, it is only because the first act is so hilariously compact and because the best scenes all the way through are so outrageously fantastic.

MUSIC NOTES.

LAKE PLACID, N. Y., Sept. 24 (AP).—The annual Adirondack music festival opened here today, ten choirs competing. First place was awarded to the Presbyterian singers from Chazy, N. Y. The Keene Valley Congregational choir won second and the North Lawrence Methodist Episcopal third. Sixteen choral units were expected to take part tomorrow.

GRAND JURIES AND DIGNITY.

It may be a little hard for the general public to understand why Leader CURRY of Tammany Hall should feel that he was "insulted" by being asked to sign a waiver of immunity before testifying to the Special Grand Jury. But he has a position of high dignity. This it is necessary for him to protect at all times and places. Besides, it is probable that Mr. CURRY, like many men of intense intellectual activity, is fond of refreshing himself by reading detective stories. If so, he is perfectly familiar with the attitude and language of the Police Inspector from Scotland Yard, who arrests a man for murder and always adds, "It is my duty to tell "you that any statement you may "make will be used against you." Doubtless it was his feeling that he had been subjected to similar rough treatment which led Mr. CURRY to stalk out of the Grand Jury room hot and angry. At any rate, he avoided being asked any unpleasant questions. So did the Director of the Budget, Mr. KOHLER, who also refused to waive immunity, coming out to report the indignity which had been put upon him and stating frankly that he told them: "I'll sign no papers." To do it is always dangerous.

At the very time this virtuous resentment was being displayed in New York City, Governor ROOSEVELT at Albany was announcing his purpose to ask the Legislature to pass a law requiring every public official to sign a waiver of immunity in connection with any judicial inquiry which might affect him. With a singularly obtuse disregard of the delicacy of Tammany sentiments in such matters, the Governor stated that he would desire to make such an agreement to waive immunity a qualification for office. It would, in effect, be a part of the official oath. Of course, this would leave Mr. CURRY exempt, since he is not an officeholder. He simply creates officeholders by the hundred. But it would apply to Mr. KOHLER, who could not then excuse himself for testifying before the Special Grand Jury on the plea that he was so busy working for the best interests of the public that he could not take the time to tell what he might know about corruption in the courts or anywhere else.

Comment upon the indignant refusal of the leader of Tammany and the Director of the Budget to waive immunity for anything that might appear in their testimony was withheld by the Deputy Attorney General. Mr. TODD contented himself with saying to the reporters that they might "draw their own conclusions." This is precisely what the people of the city will do.

ROTHERMERE SEES IT THROUGH.

The three young officers on trial at Leipzig for conducting treasonable Fascist propaganda in the Reichswehr have been so outspoken in court that it is hard to say where they will stop. They may yet be moved to leap to their feet and point the contrast between the feeble and timid manner in which the interests of the German Fatherland are being served by President HINDENBURG and the magnificent vision and courage brought to the same task by Lord ROTHERMERE. The head of the German Republic, who used to be Commander-in-Chief of the German armies, has just let it be known that the Hitlerite "menace" should not be taken too seriously. In no part of the Reich does he consider the danger of a Fascist coup d'état to exist, and he regards the Bruening Government as fully capable of dealing with the present situation or any situation that may arise. VON HINDENBURG thus passes judgment on the merits and importance of the Fascist agitation.

Far otherwise is it with the owner of The London Daily Mail. In the Fascist movement he discerns the promise of the rebirth of the German nation. Herr HITLER will begin by organizing Germany against the corruption of communism. With the nation cleansed and reinvigorated, the Fascist dictatorship will turn its attention to the map of Europe. Austria and Hungary will be brought under the aegis of a Hitlerite federation, Czechoslovakia may find herself "elbowed out of existence overnight," and other drastic revisions will be read into the peace treaties of 1919. This will achieve the double purpose of righting the wrongs of Versailles and setting up a really effective barrier against bolshevism in the heart of Europe. The scheme, of course, is not a perfect one. If the treaty-makers at Versailles, working at leisure, perpetrated so many grave errors, it is not to be expected that Lord ROTHERMERE, writing under great pressure, possibly to catch an edition, should go scot free. He may thus have overlooked what Hungarian fascism will have to say about being submerged in German fascism. It is only two years since Lord ROTHERMERE took up Hungary's wrongs in a serious way and won so much favor at Budapest as to be mentioned for the vacant throne of St. Stephen. The Magyars will now ask what Lord ROTHERMERE means by giving them back their former boundaries only to bring them again under the ancient Teuton subjection. And in the original home of fascism, brows may be knit against a triumphant German-Austro-Hungarian fascism that might seek to revive the questions of Tyrol and Fiume.

Yet these are minor considerations by the side of the great Rothermere objective of a new Germany under a military dictator, to save Europe from bolshevism. What The London Daily Mail scheme overlooks is that such a new Germany cannot set up business without another European war, unavoidably necessary in order to dispose of France's veto on the new Hitlerite Reich. And that the one thing which Europe needs to avert the triumph of bolshevism is another general war must be plain to every competent thinker. LENIN'S plans were so badly hurt by the events of 1914-1917 that his successor, STALIN, must be trembling at the thought of another conflagration in capitalist Europe!

THE DARK SIDE OF MOTORING.

Every year the Hartley Corporation, founded by Mrs. HELEN HARTLEY JENKINS of this city, publishes a study of motor vehicle accidents in the State of Connecticut. Some of the statistics in the latest report, which could no doubt be duplicated in New York and other neighboring States, ought really to shock the community out of its complacency about this Juggernaut in Everyman's garage. In seven years 68,214 persons have been injured in motor vehicle accidents in Connecticut. That number, as noted by Professor KIRBY of Yale, author of the pamphlet, equals the combined populations of Danbury, Naugatuck and New London. And if it be said that injuries may be slight, during that same period 2,556 persons were killed outright on the highways of the State—about as many as live today in Newtown or Canton or East Lyme. For each person who dies from typhoid fever, for every four who die from diphtheria, thirty are killed in automobile accidents.

There are some encouraging features. Deaths per thousand cars registered are considerably below the peak. Even per capita deaths were slightly less in 1929 than in 1928, though still higher than in New York and much higher than in Massachusetts and Rhode Island. The number of persons killed in proportion to miles driven—a highly significant ratio based on gasoline tax figures—has decreased by about a third since 1922, though the number of persons injured seems to be about the same. Turning to a more detailed analysis of the accidents last year, the report reveals that more than half of the drivers involved in fatal accidents were under 30. About one in five hundred of the younger drivers was involved in a fatal accident during the year, the worst offenders being boys of college age. Out of 429 operators involved in fatal accidents, 251 had clear records up to that time, but there was a notable minority of repeaters, including one man who had been in eleven previous accidents. It seems as if these repeaters might be curbed, though some of them may have been operating illegally.

In a foreword to the report Commissioner STOECKEL points out that "four-fifths of all motor vehicle dif-"ficulties were and are, either di-"rectly or indirectly, the result of "mistaken human behavior." True; but how are the offenders to be shown the error of their ways? There is the speed mania, for example, about the effects of which on the traffic toll the learned disagree. It seems to rank below inattention and failure to grant the right of way as a cause of accidents, but is often an important factor, commonly overlooked, in the severity of the consequences. Connecticut now has no fixed speed limits; speed must be reasonable and safe. The authorities can arrest for any speed they consider unsafe. Mr. STOECKEL is a firm believer in that doctrine; along some of the main-traveled highways speed indicators have taken the place of the old warnings. Unfortunately, the present report throws very little light on how this system is working. Here is a promising topic for Professor KIRBY to include in his study next year.

FRUITS OF THE PRIMARY.

In Massachusetts a former State Treasurer, who had to "resign under fire" ten years ago, has been nominated for that office in the primary. His surname is the same, barring one letter, as that of the present incumbent, whom he defeated. How many persons voted for him through misapprehension must remain mere matter of conjecture. It is certain that in view of his record he could not have won in the old-fashioned State convention. There is a fine row in the party. The successful candidate's opponents will try to beat him by the use of "stickers" on the election ballot. He says that if they persist in their unholy design his friends will have their revenge and knife the whole ticket. Some of this fury will subside, but the Republican plight was unhappy enough without this surcharge of trouble.

To the friends of Mr. EBEN DRAPER, the Wet candidate for Senator, the oracle of the people's will was unkind. "Bossy" GILLIS, the "Bad Boy Mayor" of Newburyport, got more than 20,000 votes for Senator in the primary. These must have been largely Wet. In the wicked old-fangled State convention "Bossy" would have had, at most, only the thinnest handful of votes. It may be said that the people's actual will was reversed by means of the primary. There are laments in the press, but the curious reverence for a mechanism deserving none continues. Don't abolish the primary. It is precious. Improve it. Tinker it. How would it do to have a pre-primary convention?

If there had been no primary, the ferocious babblings of the Bay State Democrats in anticipation of or hope to "beat" the primary wouldn't have occurred. In New Hampshire the workings of the great popular talisman were essentially comic. A perpetual candidate, not seriously regarded, tried to get the Democratic nomination both for Governor and Senator. He succeeded in the latter ambition. He missed the gratification of the former only by the narrowest margin. Enough Democrats to thwart him would have turned out if they had had any notion that it was necessary. In the supplanted assembly of party delegates these freakish aspirations would have been sat upon.

These New England examples are of the mildest. They don't show the chief fruits of the direct primary. These are the disintegration of parties and the dishonesty of party labels in some States, the immensity of primary campaign funds in other States. As yet, New England raises only some of the smaller fruits.

ANY WORD BUT ONE.

The conference of twenty-five representatives of all Republican factions and wings which Chairman MAIER called in Albany last night was really much more like a gathering of etymologists than of politicians. For their assigned labor was to find some word other than "repeal." There must have been a hurry call for dictionaries. About the thing nearly everybody was agreed in advance, but in a party platform words are far more important than things. The timid Republicans who take fright at "repeal" are perfectly ready to snuggle up cheerfully to "modification" or "substitution" or "supplement." But if anybody insists upon saying the outright word "repeal," they feel like rushing out and jumping off the bridge over the Hudson at Albany. In their innocence, they still think it possible that the voters will not see through any verbal shift or substitute which they may adopt. If they could only find some resounding word of Greek derivation, which, as MACAULAY said, is the most convenient cloak for ignorance or evasion, they would think the whole situation met and the Republican campaign for Governorship this year saved from a party split. Never were there more devout believers in the saying that "by thy words shalt "thou be justified, and by thy words "condemned."

It will be hard to find a single vocable to fit their needs. Escape from their dilemma might be more easily contrived under a cloud of contradictory phrases, in which all the quarreling Republican delegates could seek their several doctrines and be sure to find them. If the great combination of philologists at Albany can devise no other prohibition plank, they might hail something like the following:

We favor such changes in the Eighteenth Amendment as will leave it unchanged, to the end that Dry Republicans may lie down peacefully with Wet Republicans, the party being firmly resolved to insist upon the enforcement of prohibition by the Federal Government, provided that it does not interfere with the rights of the States and the inalienable privileges of the individual American citizen, our fixed purpose being to uphold the noble stand of President HOOVER on the subject, until such time as he may alter it, and to support him and the Wickersham commission in every effort to uphold the Eighteenth Amendment as the supreme law of the land, whenever and wherever it does not prevent us from winning local or State elections.

CHEAP POLITICS.

Between the confessions of the lawyer and the grocer of Broken Bow, Neb., and the denials of the accused Republican committee official, it is not necessary to choose in order to conclude that the candidacy for Senator of the second GEORGE W. NORRIS in Nebraska was the shabbiest sort of political trick. The coincidence of names was sufficient when contrasted with the utter obscurity of the grocer. His disappearance after his certificate of candidacy was disallowed by the Secretary of State on the ground that it had been received too late was an added suspicious circumstance. Now it seems clear, on his own testimony before the Nye committee, that he neither composed his own statements nor supplied his own entrance fees. He was used by unscrupulous and cheap politicians in a cheap conspiracy. Yet Republicans elsewhere have been heard to wonder why Senator NORRIS triumphs so consistently over the regular organization in Nebraska!

The story having been laid before the committee in all its sordid aspects, it is to be hoped that the unhappy grocer will be allowed to resume his vending at Broken Bow. His punishment has been heavy. Those whom his adventure did not anger find him a ridiculous figure. Those who are not outraged by his actions and those of his instigators and advisers laugh at him. Senator NYE, the chairman of the investigating committee, is reported to have spoken to the grocer "grimly," and Senator NORRIS is also a grim man. But grimness has been known to wear away; cannon have been trained on sparrows and left undischarged. It would be a popular move if the authors of the conspiracy were punished. But the frightened tool might as well go home, to be pointed out hereafter to every stranger who comes to Broken Bow.

EDUCATION OR DOWRY?

Schoolgirls, college students, recent graduates, young business women and many others comfortably married and able to afford a lingering regret for a mythical career sacrificed might give Miss R. LE CLERC PHILLIPS light on the other side of the argument she advances in the October Forum. Some of them, probably the majority, will be quite sincere in saying that they would rather have the college education provided by fathers than the money it cost. Almost any young girl ready for college could easily persuade her doting parent that it would be better for her future if he put the money he planned to invest in her education into a trust fund for her, to be given into her control when she married. But the girls don't dream of such a thing. It never occurs to them. They have breathed so long the air of feminine equality and freedom, including the right to a college education, that the thought of a dowry is suffocating. They and their parents are repelled by the idea of a suitor who has one eye on daughter's charms and the other on her money.

Miss PHILLIPS has a Yankee answer to this question of the objection to a man's living on his wife's money. She wants to know why it is un-American to seek a wife with a little ready money, but "perfectly "innocuous to marry a girl who is "going to keep on with her job "because any idea of marriage "would be quite impossible if she "did not." The Anglo-Saxon standard has slipped to the extent of admitting under its folds a couple of million men whose wives contribute to the household expenses from money they earn. But they would not be so acceptable to society if they and their homes were "subsidized by a dowry."

A father who reads Miss PHILLIPS'S article may easily be convinced that money is a better buffer against the world than an education for his daughter. But he will have a hard time convincing her. If he is in earnest about it, he must try to find some of the women whom the writer mentions as having tested the method now in favor. The dowerless, college-educated woman has been with us long enough to be able to give an account of the system as she found it. The cases cited are most depressing, but no young girl who reads them will ever believe that such destiny is in store for her. Her father is bound to leave her some money anyhow, and she does not think of it as an "old-age pension." She hardly thinks of it at all. She has youth and ambition and her education, and she is going to have a husband and a home and a career too. All the statistics in the world cannot convince her that she has been educated for spinsterhood. And when her bright eyes light on the man for her, she knows that her lack of a dowry will not save him from marrying.

ACADEMIC UTILITIES.

The address by Professor ROGERS at the opening of the 177th academic year of Columbia University might itself be added to the considerations which he advanced in support of the utility of academic occasions. They have their reason not only in custom but in those promptings of the human spirit which find expression in ritual and ceremony. It cannot be said of this particular academic custom, as of "commencement," that it is buried in our blood from immemorial habit, as that ritual of which HILAIRE BELLOC speaks on setting out on his path to Rome, and which he deemed necessary to being reasonably happy. But no college year is well begun that does not find something more than utility in the first assembling of teachers and students.

Reconsidering and restudying, of which Professor ROGERS speaks, seem to have a backward look, but they are the preface of renewing, for "it is characteristic of the uni-"versities that they work for the "future as well as the present." They can be indifferent as the politician cannot be to the attitude of the electorate of the moment. The university economists have the personal solace, with all their disappointment over the "tariff of abominations," that events will justify their opinions. They can endure being called "visionary," "impractical" and "academic," knowing that time will make their visions realities, their impracticalities the practice and their academic views the hard common sense of the men in the street.

The highest utility of such an academic occasion is the recognition it gives to the importance of the student body. In every opening address there is the stressing of the need of a better selective process. President LEWIS of Lafayette College hopes that some means may be found of eliminating the "academic tree-sitters," those who clamber up into the tree of knowledge and are content merely to sit there patiently for four years in the hope of a degree for their "aimless endurance." On the other hand, there are in every class students who will be abler and more influential in their generation than were their teachers in theirs.

There is one utility which Professor ROGERS overlooked. It is that such an academic occasion lets the public, within the walls of the universities and colleges, through the reports in the press, and so permits it to share in the pride in their work and their contribution to the present as well as the future.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES.

Platforms and Candidates. Mr. TUTTLE's attitude on prohibition, with the quandary it presents to the convention which may nominate him for Governor, brings to mind a similar episode of a quarter century ago.

The Democratic National Convention of 1904 could not make up its mind about free silver coinage; it compromised with the Bryan faction by saying nothing whatever on the subject. Next, it nominated for the Presidency ALTON B. PARKER of New York, who would not, the convention thought, object to the policy of silence. Into this situation came a telegram from Judge PARKER to the New York delegation, declaring that "I regard the gold standard as firmly and irrevocably established and shall act accordingly if the action of the convention shall be ratified by the people." This was something of a bombshell; but the Judge's telegram went further. He requested his friends at Chicago, if his attitude proved to be unsatisfactory to the majority of the convention, "to decline the nomination for me at once."

This was fairly plain talk; it threw the convention into consternation. But its result was a resolution to the effect that nothing in Judge PARKER's statement of his views ought to stand in the way of his candidacy. A more or less acrimonious debate ensued; it was followed by adoption of the resolution with no less a majority than 794 to 191. The convention did not know it, but subsequent political history proved that the incidents of that day had marked the death of the free-silver agitation, which never again cut a figure in a political convention.

Party Labels Among Friends. Indignant Montana Republicans, learning that Senators BORAH and LA FOLLETTE will take the stump in that State for Senator WALSH, Democrat, have nowhere to turn for solace. The Republican National Committee has announced through Chairman FESS that it will render aid, if asked, to any nominee of the Republican party. That means BORAH and LA FOLLETTE, as well as NORRIS of Nebraska. Unless Mr. NORRIS is kept too busy at home by GILBERT M. HITCHCOCK, the Democratic nominee, it is likely that all three will be found on the stump for Senator WALSH. What is Republicanism coming to? The answer is, just what it has been coming to ever since the emergence of the Dolliver-Cummins insurgent bloc in 1910.

Only in one place can Montana Republicans find a lonely man who will share their indignation with them, and utter it if they so desire. He is swallowing as bitter a pill of regularity as any politician in the United States. He is "Old Joe" GRUNDY, and he is supporting JAMES J. DAVIS, who beat him for the Senatorial nomination. In turn he is pleading with the Philadelphia organization which put over DAVIS to give their aid to another peculiar regular Republican nominee, GIFFORD PINCHOT, candidate for Governor.

They are not likely to do it. What would Mr. GRUNDY say if Senators BORAH and LA FOLLETTE should come to Pennsylvania to help GIFFORD? It would answer his call for "regularity," but it would add numerous nails to the Forester's political coffin. Any way you look at it, the babies are surely mixed this year.

Reading and Unemployment. Busy people often find quiet hours for reading few and far between. Vacations seem a happy time for catching up a bit, but even the best laid plans for holiday reading generally end with the packing of a carefully selected list of books.

An enforced vacation is somewhat different. Widespread unemployment brings hours of leisure, and unwanted though they may be, they may be improved. Reading, for those who must watch their budgets closely, is an inexpensive means of entertainment. Those who in boom times might be going to cinemas and theatres content themselves with home and a book. Subscriptions at circulating libraries are not expensive, and in these days of cheap editions even book-buying does not involve large outlays.

In England publishers are finding that unemployment is stimulating their trade, and they anticipate an even larger volume of business during the Winter. Many firms brought out their Fall lists earlier than usual this year. More than twenty new books a day are appearing in London, a rate that will be increased as the season advances. The greatest demand is, of course for fiction, but political memoirs and biographies continue in high favor.

The demand for serious books may indicate that the unemployed are reading not only to pass the time away until a job comes along, but also to discover something of what it is all about.

Some Game Still. Hunting and fishing statistics are none too satisfactory at best. In New York State they are compiled from the license stubs, and are never up to date or comprehensive. Many hunters and fishermen ignore the law about reporting their previous season's take.

One would like to think that they were able to catch so many trout and kill so many cottontails they simply could not remember the count. Although that can hardly be the case, at least with the larger animals under present conditions, the latest figures published by the Conservation Department show that the State's game bag is not yet empty.

Rabbits, as might be expected, head the list. Six hundred thousand were shot in 1928, and still they come. Hunters accounted for 6,673 black squirrels—one wonders how many of them were "barked." Some 350,000 muskrats were taken during the year, and 10,000 of the red foxes Dr. TRUDEAU used to pit his wits against at Saranac in the old days.

Judging from a take of 7,047, deer must be still plentiful in the North Woods. It may surprise the old-timer, who thinks of the wilderness as pretty tame these days, to learn that ninety-eight bears met unnatural death during the year.

Pheasants were plentiful, but partridge had fallen on such evil days that there was no open season for them. Nearly a million trout were caught. By whom?

Mountain-Climbing Energy.

I read with interest your editorial "Raw Material and Raw Statistics," and also the letter in the Sunday paper on which it so effectively commented.

Speaking of Clarence Darrow's computation that the raw materials in a man's body could be purchased at a drug store for less than a dollar, I thought you would be interested in a rough computation I made for a mountain-climbing friend of mine, Braddy Washburn. A man weighing 200 pounds with clothes and pack and ascending a mountain 10,000 feet performs 2,000,000 foot-pounds of mechanical work. As one kilowatt hour consists of 2,650,000 foot-pounds, the mechanical work involved in such a climb amounts to about three-quarters of a kilowatt hour and could therefore be purchased, even in New York City, for about a nickel. These figures nearly broke Braddy's heart, but they are substantially correct.

ICARUS.

Whose wings defied the sun and scaled the sky;
Here, shorn of plumage, he fell splendidly,
Leaving the earth-bound envious of his faring.
O high adventure of a soul sublime
Who won to triumph with so small a loss!
O happy mishap, though he lost fate's toss,
Fame cries him victor down the halls of time!

So strange a journey did not daunt his heart;
Achievement failed him, but his courage held;
He gained the burning stars ere he was felled;
Death took him while he played the hero's part;

SUPPORT FOR JUDGE POUND.

Democratic Endorsement a Duty, Professor Wormser Contends.

The term of Judge Cuthbert W. Pound, Republican, of Lockport, N. Y., a member of our highest State court, the Court of Appeals at Albany, expires this year. No more important duty will rest upon the Democratic State Convention, meeting next week in Syracuse, than the selection of a candidate for this high judicial post.

In my opinion, Judge Pound deserves and should receive bipartisan support. I know I speak for many other Democratic members of our bar as well as for myself. This is particularly essential at the present time, when the confidence of the community in some of the members of our inferior courts is shaken so sorely. Surely the highest court of the State should be kept free, so far as possible, from any contact with the surcharged and overheated atmosphere of the moment.

The matter of Judge Pound's endorsement for re-election is devoid of any atmosphere of partisanship or politics. He is one of the genuine jurists not only of the State but of the nation. He ranks with Holmes, Cardozo, Stone and other outstanding jurists recognized both at home and abroad as men of unusual breadth and vision. He has a record as a fearless progressive in his interpretations of the law. He gained no little distinction on that score while a member of the State Supreme Court, in the Eighth Judicial District, through his decision in the now famous Ives case, in which he upheld the validity of the full-crew law and part of the workmen's compensation law, then newly enacted. Governor Roosevelt, a Democrat, advocates Judge Pound's renomination and re-election by both parties "without hesitation and without question."

When a judge has demonstrated the possession of such pre-eminent qualifications for his high office, as in the case of Judge Pound, his retention on the bench is a matter of fundamental importance, not merely to the bar, not merely to the bench, but to the community in general. Otherwise, the disciplined power and accumulated learning of the jurist are lost to the community. This undeniably would be a social loss, an economic loss, a loss which no civilized community could be expected to condone or forgive.

Therefore, all politics and petty partisanship aside, Judge Pound should be unanimously advocated for renomination and re-election, and every decent, self-respecting person interested in good government should make it his business to see that this is not overlooked.

INTERNATIONAL SPORT.

Baron Marochetti Finds Closer Ties Through Friendly Rivalry.

I read in today's TIMES that Patrick L. Quinlan nominates Sir Thomas Lipton for a peerage and recommends that the Prime Minister should create him Earl Lipton of Tyrone, which title has been held for centuries by the de la Poer family (Earl of Tyrone, Marquess of Waterford).

Your correspondent is undoubtedly quite unfamiliar with peerages, which are not granted by the Prime Minister but only by the King, generally on the recommendation of the Prime Minister. Furthermore, it is not the custom to grant an earldom to a commoner, even be he already a Knight, the first step in the peerage being a barony.

I very much doubt that either the Prime Minister or the King would deem it advisable that on Sir Thomas be bestowed a peerage. Fliers who risked their lives in crossing oceans, gallant explorers, soldiers and sailors are satisfied with a knighthood. I am certain that Sir Thomas as a sportsman cannot wish anything more than the marvelous welcome and the splendid accord he has so freely been given in America.

Sir Thomas Lipton, as well as the Roarks, the Guinnesses, the Tremaines, the Laceys, the Baldings and others from the British polo team have done more to bring together the two great English speaking nations than any naval pact, and it is gratifying to see that sports are still such a powerful link between races. If Sir Thomas and our polo players must be congratulated, so must the American public. The welcome given to our sportsmen here, the encouragement of every kind which they have received, the marvelous hospitality they enjoyed, are a proof that the American people are as great sportsmen as Lipton.

Any English sportsman will always love coming over here, not for a "peerage" but only for the sake of meeting American sportsmen and competing for "an old mug," which they unfortunately too often fail to win.

National Business Administration.

Who should be the real leaders of the nation? The politicians? The statesmen? No, the great leaders of finance and business should be our leaders. These men have proved themselves worthy of great trust. They control huge corporations. Money uncountable is in their power. Millions of people depend on them for the means of earning their bread. Many more millions have their savings entrusted in their hands.

We need men who have been trained by years of experience to lead so great a corporation as the United States. If we could elect ten of these great business men and bankers to be the combined legislative and executive department, we would have a nearly perfect government.

URGES PREFERENCE ON FEDERAL JOBS

CITES FAVORING OF ALIENS

In Memorandum, He Asks Clause in Contracts to Insure Employing of Americans.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—Representative Robert L. Bacon of New York today made public a memorandum to President Hoover, urging the administration to adopt a policy of preference to American citizens and war veterans in employment on government construction work. Mr. Bacon personally urged this policy on the President on July 29 and the President asked that he prepare the memorandum.

In a separate letter to Secretary Mellon, Mr. Bacon said:

"I have heard of instances in connection with postoffice buildings in the Middle West, in Pennsylvania and elsewhere, and also on Long Island in the construction of a Veterans' Bureau hospital, where the contractor recruited his labor from remote points, bringing it to an already demoralized labor market and leaving the local labor supply in the rather sorry position of spectators. Even in the erection of a Veterans' Bureau hospital an ex-service man cannot today get a job if the contractor wills that cheap aliens should fill his rolls."

Citizens and ex-service men, Mr. Bacon wrote, "know that the Treasury Department lets the contracts and it is natural for them to presume that the Federal Government lends its approval to such rank discrimination."

In his memorandum for the President, Mr. Bacon recommended the insertion in the standard government construction contract of a section insuring preference in employment to citizens and war veterans, reading:

"The labor under this contract, whether employed by the contractor or his subcontractor at the site of the work, shall be limited, where possible, (1) to citizens of the State in which the work is performed and (2) to citizens of the United States, preference being given in like order to ex-service men of the United States Army, Navy and Marine Corps, which such qualified labor may be obtained at rates not in excess of the prevailing wages for the respective classes and mechanical trades;

"Provided, that the term labor as herein used shall not include the contractor or subcontractor's foreman and other supervisory and, or, managerial officers and employes; and provided further that the contracting officer or his representative shall be authorized to require the contractor and, or, his subcontractor to discharge any laborer at the site of the work."

Among the considerations on which Mr. Bacon based his plea for preference to citizens and war veterans were:

"That the direct and tangible benefits of the $315,000,000 building program, as well as the normal building needs, should accrue to the citizens of the country and that aliens should not be given a preferred status at any time and especially during unemployment depressions;

"That in its attitude toward labor on its own construction jobs the Federal Government lags far behind the efforts of the States, not only in the matter of preference, but in the protection of labor through the lack of any requirements making necessary the use of workmen's compensation insurance schemes on national construction projects;

"That the policy of preferment for the citizen and ex-service man, in the State where the work is performed, would operate fully to quiet the discontent which increases to a dangerous point during periods of economic depression, when such citizens and ex-service men see aliens pre-empting jobs they feel belong to them simply on the score that the alien's labor is cheap."

ARRANGE HOOVER PROGRAM.

President Will Address Bankers' Meeting in Cleveland.

POLICE HONOR LINDBERGH.

Flier Is Made Honorary Member of Hudson County Boulevard Group.

Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh became an honorary member of the Hudson County Boulevard Policemen's Benevolent Association and was presented with the association's gold badge at a short ceremony held in front of the police headquarters near Journal Square yesterday afternoon.

The ceremony, slated for 4:30 o'clock, had to be advanced when Colonel Lindbergh, motoring in from Englewood, N. J., arrived 15 minutes ahead of time. After a short speech, Commissioner Theodore A. Kleffman pinned the badge on Colonel Lindbergh's right coat lapel.

COL. SHANTON DIES; SOLDIER OF FORTUNE

SPENT YOUTH AS A COWBOY

Policed Canal Zone, Aided Gorgas in Cuba and Was Assigned to Shadow Secretary Fall.

Colonel George R. Shanton, cowboy, soldier, policeman, Department of Justice agent and holder of the Congressional Medal of Honor, died at the United States Naval Hospital in Brooklyn, on Tuesday. He will be buried in the National Cemetery at Arlington tomorrow at 2 P. M. His body was sent to Washington last night.

Colonel Shanton had an adventurous and honorable career, equaled in picturesque romance by but few men of the present generation.

George Reynolds Shanton was born in Rome, N. Y., on Oct. 28, 1868. His father was a pioneer railroad builder, and George was brought up in the old West, in the days of Indians, cowboys, cattle rustlers and general turmoil. While his father was laying down rails that were to open the vast stretches of the country to settlement and civilization, his mother was aiding in the erection of Baptist churches in the raw frontier settlements.

At the age of 6 years their child, George, was stolen by Indians encamped on the banks of the Kaw River in Kansas. Before he was recovered by his parents he had gained an intimate knowledge of squaws, dogs, fleas and the life in an Indian village of the '70s.

In the Omaha of 1877 the boy's daily associations were with Indian scouts, buffalo hunters and plainsmen. From the windows of the first Union Pacific trains he saw antelope, cowboys, Indians and cattle.

He went to Fort Laramie, Wyo., in 1881, then an important army post. Thereafter, to a large section of the West, young Shanton was the "Laramie Kid." He earned his first money there on a newspaper delivery route which he covered on an Indian pony. His first steady job was herding cattle and watching the hillsides for smoke signals of raiding Indians. He learned to rope and ride wild 2-year-old broncos, to chase coyotes and to reach from the saddle and pull badgers from their holes.

Figured in Wild Cowboy Life.

The first Shanton homestead was built in the Medicine Bow range of mountains and there young George killed his first bull elk. For a time he held a job as foreman on an Englishman's ranch, teaching the younger sons of the English nobleman to ride, rope steers and hunt. There were wild days when gangs of cowboys exuborantly shot up the little towns along the Union Pacific after seeing their cattle safely shipped eastward.

Young George aided vigilantes in hunting down and hanging cattle thieves and learned to draw and "fan" a six-shooter with the best of them. He was lost in blizzards, narrowly escaped from a prairie fire and thought nothing of riding sixty miles to a dance. His first wound came from a shooting affair at Medicine Bow. For six months in 1886 Mark Twain and Bill Nye lived with the Shanton family and George became an intimate friend of both.

When the Spanish-American War came in 1898, Shanton was chosen captain of Troop C, First Volunteer Cavalry, as Roosevelt's Rough Riders were known officially. Before leaving Cheyenne they were reviewed by the then Lieutenant John J. Pershing. Major J. B. Harbord was squadron commander. Troop C was detailed to military police duty at Jacksonville, Fla., and then went to Havana. Much of Captain Shanton's duty there was in aiding Surgeon General Gorgas in his campaign of sanitation. He also organized the Cuban constabulary and helped suppress guerrilla warfare on the island.

Curbed Lawlessness in Canal Zone.

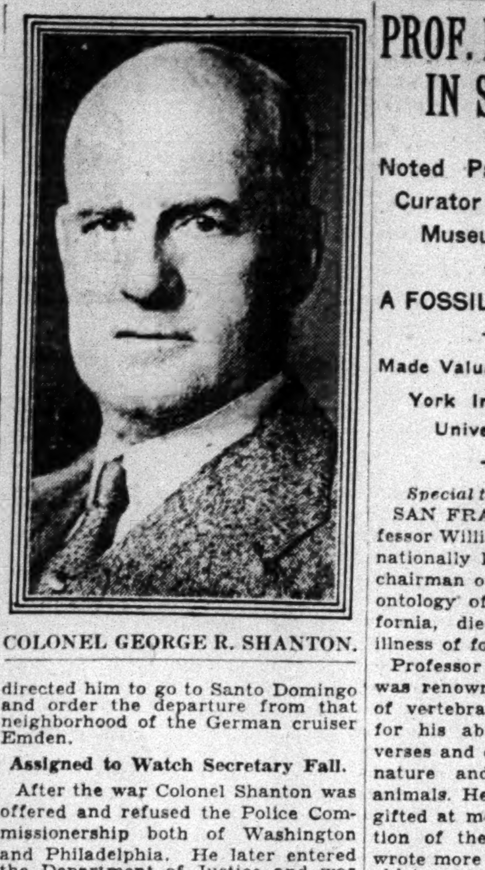
In 1904 Shanton was commissioned captain in the regular army by President Roosevelt and sent to the Canal Zone, where he remained five years. Bad men from all over the world congregated there, but Captain Shanton, as Commissioner of Police, made it a law-abiding community. He was appointed generalissimo of the Panama army during a Presidential election campaign.

From Panama Captain Shanton was ordered by President Roosevelt to Haiti to make a political survey. He was cited for bravery by Governor McGoon as a result of his service, promoted to a colonelcy and received the Medal of Honor. His services in aiding the restoration of order were regarded as invaluable. From there Colonel Shanton was sent to Porto Rico to command the constabulary. His first act was the seizure of 30,000 knives and the confiscation of thousands of revolvers.

When the United States entered the World War, Colonel Shanton assisted in the Porto Rico draft. During 1917 the State Department gave him sealed orders and told him to embark on board a warship. Upon opening the orders he found they directed him to go to Santo Domingo and order the departure from that neighborhood of the German cruiser Emden.



COLONEL GEORGE R. SHANTON.

Assigned to Watch Secretary Fall.

After the war Colonel Shanton was offered and refused the Police Commissionership both of Washington and Philadelphia. He later entered the Department of Justice and was sent to Williamson County, Ill., to investigate the Herrin massacre of 1922. Seventy-seven indictments were returned as a result of his inquiries, but no convictions resulted. While serving at New Orleans he captured arms shipped to aid Mexican revolutionists and investigated the Ku Klux Klan and charges of peonage in Louisiana. President Harding at this time ordered him to prevent any effort on the part of former Secretary of the Interior Fall to leave the country.

Colonel Shanton's next duty was a political survey of Federal employes in Boston. When ex-President Calles of Mexico made his first trip to the United States, Colonel Shanton was detailed to accompany him.

Since retiring from the Department of Justice, he had been engaged in various business enterprises, including Florida real estate during the boom and the promotion of aviation companies. He withdrew from his last venture—an investment trust—after the market crash of 1929. He was the guest of honor at a testimonial dinner here in 1928.

Colonel Shanton is survived by a widow, who before her marriage was Miss Margaret Reese, a great-niece of the late Lucius Q. Lamar of Georgia, and two daughters, Miss Cornelia Margarita and Miss Georgia Shanton. His home here was at 26 West Ninth Street.

PICTURES OF REVOLUTION.

Scenes of the recent revolution in Argentina are being shown for the first time in the Pathé Newsreel. They were exhibited last night at the Globe, Palace and other R-K-O houses in New York.

Crowds are seen running in the streets of Buenos Aires. University students stage demonstrations in the streets, and there are views of them carrying burning furniture taken from the home of former President Irigoyen. The loyal mounted police are seen charging the crowds.

These scenes are followed by "shots" of troops occupying the Casa Rosada, the government house. The office of La Epoca, the official Irigoyenist newspaper, is seen being burned. Pictures of General Uriburu in the Presidential executive offices receiving a report from one of his staff are shown.

The operetta, which is running in Boston, will close a two weeks' engagement tomorrow night and as yet further road bookings have not been made for it.

"Princess Charming," which is being presented by Connolly & Swanstrom, is an Americanized version of an operetta produced in London in 1927.

"Stepdaughters of War" Here Oct. 6

"Stepdaughters of War," the dramatization of an English novel by Kenyon Nicholson, which will be Chester Erskin's first production for the Frohman company, is now definitely announced to open at the Empire on Monday evening, Oct. 6.

PROF. MATTHEW DIES IN SAN FRANCISCO

A FOSSIL RESEARCH EXPERT

Made Valuable Restorations at New York Institution—Taught at University of California.

Special to The New York Times.

SAN FRANCISCO., Sept. 24.—Professor William Diller Matthew, internationally known paleontologist and chairman of the department of paleontology of the University of California, died here today after an illness of four months.

Professor Matthew, who was 59, was renowned not only in his field of vertebrate paleontology but also for his ability to write humorous verses and doggerel dealing with the nature and habits of prehistoric animals. He was a vigorous teacher, gifted at modernization and vitalization of the subject he taught. He wrote more than 250 books and pamphlets, most of them on scientific subjects.

Before coming to the University of California in 1927 he was curator-in-chief of the paleontology division of the American Museum of Natural History in New York. He succeeded Professor John C Merriam, head of the Carnegie Institution in Washington, as chairman of the department at the University of California. One of his first tasks was reorganizing the research museum.

In the thirty-two years, 1895-1927, of his association with the American Museum of Natural History, Professor Matthew became known as one of the eminent paleontologists of his time. Yet a large portion of his work at the museum is represented by the fossil restorations, for which he acquired the materials and which he prepared for exhibition. He wrote a long list of technical papers and monographs on the fossil mammals and the mammalian faunas of the Western States, which brought him many high honors, including an active membership in the Royal Society of Great Britain. Of his less technical writings the best known is "Climate and Evolution."

Dr. Matthew was born at St. John, N. B., the son of George Frederic Matthew, a geologist. As a boy he often accompanied his father on local geological rambles. After his graduation from the University of Nebraska in 1889 he studied for six years at Columbia, where he received the degree of Ph. B., A. M., and Ph. D. In the Fall of 1895 he entered the service of the American Museum as an assistant. Since 1927 he had been Professor of Paleontology at the University of California.

In his extensive travels Dr. Matthew devoted himself to the study and exchange of collections in many parts of the world, and this experience, coupled with his training and ability brought him a knowledge of fossil fauna of the world that was described by one of his associates as "probably unequaled." When he left the American Museum he arranged to return for two months each Summer to complete certain studies, and it was while thus engaged this Summer that he was first stricken with his fatal illness. A widow and three children survive.

In 1881 he was commissioned by Claus Spreckels to supervise the construction of the first mills of the Hawaiian Commercial Sugar Company in the Hawaiian Islands. The machines he installed were the largest and most up-to-date of their kind at that time, and Mr. Moore was later retained by the Spreckels interests to manage the Pauhau Plantation Company at Hawaii and the Kileauea Sugar Company.

When America entered the World War he joined his brothers in organizing the Moore Shipbuilding Company, of which he was president. At the close of the war he retired from active business.

M'NEISH, EXPLORER OF ANTARCTIC, DIES

WELLINGTON, N. Z., Sept. 24 (AP).—Harry McNeish, member of two Antarctic expeditions with Captain R. F. Scott and Lieutenant Sir Ernest H. Shackleton, died here today, penniless, at the age of 64.

McNeish was a member of the Scott expedition aboard the Discovery, which visited the Antarctic in 1901 and in 1914 went with the Shackleton expedition on the Endurance to the Antarctic.

He was one of five volunteers who accompanied Shackleton in a small boat from Elephant Island in order to bring aid to twenty-two members of the crew of the Endurance left on the island after their vessel had been crushed by the ice.

The trip of Sir Ernest Shackleton and his five men, of whom McNeish was one, from Elephant Island to South Georgia, was one of the most daring undertakings of Antarctic exploration.

Sir Ernest planned to cross the Antarctic continent from the Weddell Sea to Ross Sea by way of the South Pole. Aboard the Endurance he entered the ice pack in December, 1914. The ship was beset by ice on Jan. 18 and drifted northward. The terrific pressure crushed her and she was abandoned Oct. 27.

The twenty-eight men of the expedition camped on the ice floe, drifting northward until April, 1916. On April 8 that year the floe split to pieces and the men launched three small boats, and six days later, after many hardships, landed on Elephant Island.

Shackleton and his five men set out on April 24 in one of the ship's boats to bring aid. Snowstorms and gales swept them day after day. After much suffering they sighted the cliffs of the west coast of South Georgia on the fourteenth day. They could not yet reach land, but finally they were able to reach the head of King Haakon Bay on May 19.

McNeish and one other man were unable to travel further and Shackleton, with his two remaining men marched across the island of South Georgia, reaching a whaling station. After three unsuccessful attempts to return to Elephant Island through the ice floes, Shackleton succeeded in rescuing all his men on Aug. 30, 1916, using the Chilean trawler Yelcho.

SAMUEL NEWHOUSE, FINANCIER, IS DEAD

BUILT OWN TOWN IN UTAH

Erected First Skyscrapers in Salt Lake City—Once Held Real Estate Here, Where He Was Born.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PARIS, Sept. 24.—Samuel Newhouse, retired American financier and mining man, died at Chateau Marnes near Saint Cloud, not far from Paris, on Monday at the age of 76. Private funeral services will be held tomorrow, it was announced by his sister, with whom he had made his home in recent years.

Began Career as Mine Laborer.

Mr. Newhouse was born in New York in 1854. He made a fortune as a mining financier, railroad owner and real estate man in Colorado and Utah. Mr. Newhouse began life in modest circumstances and was one time a mine laborer in Colorado.

He was the son of Isaac and Barbetta N. Newhouse of New York, and attended the Central High School, Philadelphia, where his parents then lived. He read law under Edward N. Willard in Scranton, Pa., and was admitted to the bar in 1880.

From 1873 to 1879 Mr. Newhouse was clerk of the courts of Luzerne County, Pa. In the latter year he removed to Leadville, Col., where he was a newspaper man for a short time before engaging in the freighting business. In 1886 he became a miner, gaining the knowledge which later rated him as one of the nation's leading mining authorities.

Entered Railroading Field.

In 1888, already holding large interests in Colorado mines, Mr. Newhouse settled in Denver and in 1891 founded and started the building of the Denver, Lakewood & Golden Railroad, becoming its president in 1894. He subsequently became president of the Boston Consolidated Mining Company, the Newhouse Mines and Smelters and the Nipissing Silver Mines Company. He also financed the Newhouse Tunnel between Idaho Springs and Central City, Col.

In 1896 Mr. Newhouse moved to Utah, where he soon obtained control of the Highland Boy Mine at Bingham Canyon, making it one of the largest open cut copper mines in the State. He also developed the Boston copper mines and had a share in the development of the noted Cactus and allied mining properties. In Beaver County, Utah, he built a town which bore his name. He sold his Bingham Canyon holdings to the Standard Oil Company for about $6,000,000.

In the early part of this century Mr. Newhouse made his home in Salt Lake City, where he was active in real estate and civic and commercial affairs. He owned large sections of valuable property there and opened streets and real estate developments. He built the first two skyscrapers in the city, each eleven stories high. His building operations in Salt Lake City were reported to have cost $15,000,000.

Once Owned Flatiron Building Here.

Mr. Newhouse also built a theatre and invested in residential property in Salt Lake City. He strongly supported the Commercial Club and Mining Exchange, and it was through his liberal donations that they were enabled to erect suitable headquarters.

Mr. Newhouse at one time owned the Flatiron Building in this city and engaged in extensive real estate operations here, making his home at Sherry's. He was also interested in many South American mining properties. He retired a number of years ago from all business activities and spent his time largely abroad.

In 1909 Mr. Newhouse made a record trip by special train and the liner Lusitania from Salt Lake City to Paris to reach the bedside of a dying brother. The time consumed was ten days. He married Miss Ida H. Stingley of Virginia daughter of Hiram Stingley, on Jan. 1, 1883, and was reputed to have bought her a pearl necklace for $140,000. In 1904 the Newhouses purchased a mansion from Princess Hatzfeldt in Berkeley Square, London, and in 1908 Mrs. Newhouse was presented to Queen Alexandra by King Edward VII and danced with the Prince of Wales, the future George V.

HARVARD OPENS 2 HARKNESS UNITS

SOCIAL INTERCHANGE AIM

Each Unit to Be Cross Section of College Life to Give Student Fullest Possible Development.

Special to The New York Times.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Sept. 24.—Harvard's new student housing plan became a reality today with the opening and formal inspection of Lowell and Dunster houses, the first of seven dormitory units to be completed in the $15,000,000 Harkness project.

President Lowell signalized the occasion by breaking a precedent of twenty-one years' standing when, for the first time since 1909, he granted a newspaper audience to a corps of reporters.

Together with Professor Julian L. Coolidge, master of Lowell House, and Professor Chester N. Greenough, master of Dunster House, the 74-year-old president spent more than an hour with the representatives of the press roaming through the new buildings, pointing out features of interest and assisting the masters in explaining the aims of the house plan, which Harvard hopes will democratize the nation's oldest university.

The house plan, to which President Lowell has devoted years of study, was first announced in November, 1928, and was made possible by the gift of Edward S. Harkness, a graduate of Yale in 1897, who was anxious to see an American university put to a practical test President Lowell's theory that a college can do no more than stimulate the desire for education and that the only true education is self-education.

The administration plans to make each of the seven dormitory units a centre of a group of students who will represent a cross-section of the entire undergraduate body. The intermingling of students of all classes with their tutors is expected to produce the environment necessary to stimulate to its fullest possibility the idea of self-education.

The new plan is in no way designed to create or force ready-made friendships, but by the elimination of cliques, which in the past have often come to Harvard intact from preparatory schools, the environment needed to bring students of all classes and from all walks of life together under one roof is provided.

TIMES AIR DELIVERY ENDS.

Planes Quit Service to White Mountains as Season Closes.

Special to The New York Times.

BRETTON WOODS, N. H., Sept. 24.—Delivery of THE NEW YORK TIMES by airplane to Whitefield Airport, near here—a service which enabled vacationists and all-year residents in the White Mountains to get their copies of the paper early on the day of publication—ended on Monday with the close of the Summer season.

The service was highly successful and unmarred by accident. Deliveries were made all through the Summer months with clock-like precision.

Whitefield Airport was closed for the season on Monday as soon as S. L. Waite, aeronautical expert of the Department of Commerce at Washington, had completed an inspection of the field, with Lyman W. Bigelow, expert for the New Hampshire Public Service Commission.

NEW NOMINATION IN TEXAS.

Republicans Name Talbot for Governor After Butte Resigns.

DALLAS, Texas, Sept. 24 (AP).—William E. Talbot of Dallas was selected today as the Republican nominee for Governor.

Mr. Talbot was chosen by the State Republican executive committee to take the place of Dr. George C. Butte of Austin and Washington, nominee in the primary, whose resignation was received yesterday by the committee.

WILL QUERY GANGSTER ON WOMAN'S SLAYING

Police Expect Theft Suspect, Held After Chase, to Throw Light on Death of Anna Urbas.

A possible solution of the slaying of Anna Margaret Urbas, a friend of Eugene Moran, once a bodyguard of Arnold Rothstein, who was shot and burned to death in Newark a year ago, was looked for by the police with the arrest early yesterday of Walter Loughlin, alias Frank Burns, 32 years old, who was arrested for the theft of an automobile after a four-mile chase through Harlem streets.

Loughlin, whose police record showed that he was wanted for questioning in the Urbas case, was held without bail on a grand larceny charge by Magistrate McGee in Washington Heights Court for examination on Friday.

The body of Miss Urbas was recovered from the East River at 155th Street in June. Wire around her neck indicated that she had been strangled.

At the line-up Loughlin disclaimed any knowledge of the circumstances of the woman's death. He also denied that he was in the stolen automobile which fifteen policemen pursued and at which they fired four shots.

The chase started at Riverside Drive and 135th Street and ended at 121st Street and First Avenue, when the speeding car crashed into an automobile owned by H. Wolff of 2,042 Madison Street, Brooklyn. Loughlin, who was alleged to be the driver of the stolen car, was captured in a yard at the rear of 440 East 122d Street. The police said the automobile was owned by Jean Moehle of Bedford, N. Y., who was visiting her parents at the Hudson View Gardens Apartments, at 183d Street and Pinhurst Avenue.

EMPLOYMENT RISE REPORTED BY GREEN

METAL TRADES EXCEPTED

In Textiles and Clothing 18% More People Are at Work Than in August.

FIFTEEN CITIES SHOW GAINS

Upturn Is Small Compared With the Total Number Still Out of Work, Union Leader Says.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—Definite and encouraging improvement this month in the employment situation, shown in reports received from labor unions in twenty-four cities, was announced tonight by William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor. In a statement welcoming the "definite trend for the better" represented by a decrease to 21 per cent in September unemployment as "compared with the 22 per cent out of work in July and August," Mr. Green said it indicated "improvement in the business situation, at least seasonally."

"This is the first time in the three years since we have collected figures from trade unions that employment has shown so definite and general an improvement in September," he said. "This is partly due, of course, to the unprecedented number out of work in July and August. But in the present situation it is encouraging, since better employment means more purchasing power for wage-earners.

"However, the upturn in employment has been only slight in comparison to the large numbers still needing jobs. We should not lose sight of the fact that over twice as many are still out of work as at this time last year, and in the metal trades more are unemployed than ever before we have collected figures. Even if conditions improve further in October, as they sometimes do, millions will want for sufficient sustenance to provide against the dreaded Winter months ahead.

Building Trades Improve.

"In the building trades, employment was a little better, but 38 per cent are still out of work, a small improvement from the 39 per cent unemployed in August.

"In printing, the situation is generally a little better, except in New York, where unemployment is considerably higher. The figure for the country as a whole has not changed. Metal trades are the only group to show a large increase in the number out of work in September.

"In several cities conditions are worse. Owing to the unusual dullness in metal industries this Fall, unemployment increased from 20 per cent in August to 23 per cent in September.

"In other trades gains are marked. In textiles and clothing 18 per cent of those unemployed in August are back at work. For musicians and those in theatrical work the approach of Fall openings and the cooler weather have brought more work. In service industries and in manufacturing there are distinct improvements; on railroads, street transport and sea transport, except for a few cities, there have been slight gains.

Mr. Green gave the following tabulation:

Per Cent of Union Members Unemployed.

| | Sept., 1930. | Aug., 1930. | Sept., 1929. |
| All trades | 21 | 22 | [illegible] |
| Building trades | 38 | 39 | [illegible] |
| Metal trades | 23 | 20 | [illegible] |
| All other trades | 14 | 16 | [illegible] |

"The report for the cities shows distinct improvement since August," Mr. Green continued. "In fifteen cities conditions were better, even though the improvement was slight in some cases. Four showed no change and only five reported more out of work. This is a clear gain since last month, when thirteen had more out of work and only nine reported improvement. There were fewer gains in building than in other trades. Twelve cities had more building tradesmen out of work and only nine reported gains."

The general gains in the country at large, Mr. Green pointed out, are reflected in the "weighted figures" compiled by the Federation which show an improvement from 16 per cent in August to 15.2 per cent in September; a figure, he explained, which "counts building unemployment proportionately to the number of building tradesmen in the United States."

The percentages for April and May were 13.3 and for June 14.3, which rose in July to 15.7 and in August to 16 per cent before the recession began, resulting in the fixing of a preliminary figure of 15.2 per cent for the present month.

BOY, 12, HELD FOR FIRES.

Seized Leaving Burning House, He Blames Companion for Blazes.

George McGuire, 12 years old, of 5,614 Third Avenue, Brooklyn, seized while leaving a burning house near the Municipal Baths in Coney Island yesterday afternoon, admitted, according to the police, that a companion had set fire to the structure and to two others.

At noon yesterday a two-story frame building east of Luna Park was swept by fire, $5,000 loss resulting. Two firemen were slightly injured fighting the blaze. The McGuire boy blamed his companion for this fire and for one that damaged a junk yard Tuesday night at Watkins Street and Lott Avenue, in the East New York section.

The boy admitted that he was a truant from the ungraded class in Public School 118 in Bay Ridge, and described his companion as George Carlson, 11 years old, another truant, whose address he did not know. Detectives were searching for the Carlson boy last night to ask him about the fires and about a series of store robberies attributed to him by young McGuire, who was detained as a juvenile delinquent.

Autos Killed 40 Here in Week; Wynne Warns of Rising Toll

Health Commissioner Wynne announced yesterday that forty deaths due to automobile accidents occurred last week, a high record for such deaths in New York. Manhattan led with sixteen, he said, Brooklyn had thirteen, Queens six, the Bronx four and Richmond one. The nearest approach to this mark in 1930 was in the week ending March 15, when there were thirty-three auto deaths.

"When fatal automobile accidents reach such totals," said Dr. Wynne, "an average last week of about six a day, it is time that something should be done. Drastic action against speeders, those who ignore traffic lights and inexperienced drivers must be taken if this health menace is to be curbed."

Total deaths in the week were 1,171, as compared with 1,142 for the corresponding week average for the preceding six years. Births totaled 2,287.

EX-SENATOR SEIZED FOR $60,000 THEFTS

ARREST ENDS 7-YEAR HUNT

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, Sept. 24.—The seven-year search for former Senator James Hammond of New Jersey, noted as a dry crusader, who has been sought in connection with the theft of $60,000 from a building and loan association in Trenton, N. J., ended here today when a Trenton detective's wife recognized Hammond on the street. The detective followed him to a restaurant and then asked a local policeman to make the arrest.

Detective Clarence Briest of Trenton, with his wife, who as Mary Manning, was a schoolmate of Hammond, was driving his car along North Pearl Street, when Mrs. Briest said:

"There is Jim Hammond."

Briest looked and saw that his wife was correct. Briest stopped his car and hailing Policeman Herman Rosenberger followed Hammond to a restaurant near by.

Hammond was taken to the Second Precinct station, where he admitted his identity, Detective Briest said. Hammond said he would go along without handcuffs.

However, the detective was taking no chances and handcuffs were placed on Hammond's wrists.

Hammond said that the detective need not have been looking for him, for he intended to return to Trenton anyway.

Once Assistant District Attorney.

At the time of the alleged theft Hammond was an Assistant District Attorney in Trenton and was also secretary and treasurer of the building and loan association. He disappeared from Trenton and an examination showed that $60,000 was missing, it was said. Descriptions were broadcast all over the country, but no trace of him was found until today.

Detective Briest said that Hammond had aged considerably and that he was much thinner than when he was in Trenton.

Late this afternoon Hammond was arraigned in police court as a fugitive from justice. He pleaded guilty and said he would waive extradition proceedings. He will be taken to Trenton tomorrow.

To newspaper men he said that for over seven years he had been hunted with the fear of the long hand of the law. "Those seven years," he said, "have been worse than seven years in solitary confinement. The highest tribunal in the world could not inflict punishment equivalent to the torture I have been through.

"Three times," he continued, "I had almost given myself up as arrested and on each of these occasions I would have allowed myself to be taken into custody with no resistance."

Hammond said he had been traveling from one place to another all of the time. He admitted he had been in Albany fifty times.

15-Year Term Seen With Conviction.

Special to The New York Times.

TRENTON, N. J., Sept. 24.—Former State Senator James Hammond of Trenton left this city after misappropriating thousands of dollars in building and loan funds, it was charged. A world-wide search for him was conducted for seven years. Hammond was president of the Trenton School Board and an active church man and dry crusader.

Five indictments are awaiting Hammond on his return to Mercer County which, police say, will mean a term of at least fifteen years if a conviction is obtained.

Though Hammond indicated his willingness to return here of his own accord, saying, at the time of his arrest, that he was about to surrender, Mercer County Prosecutor Charles English is preparing extradition papers.

Rewards totaling $3,500 are said to have been offered for Hammond's capture.

Historical Scenes Depicted at Tercentenary Celebration.

New Jersey's early history was depicted in a pageant in Lincoln Park, Jersey City, last night in connection with the city's tercentenary celebration. The scenes included the early Indian massacres around Jersey City, the battle of Powles Hoeck, now Paulus Hook; the duel between Hamilton and Burr, the abduction of Governor Carteret and many other historical episodes.

From a tower commanding a full view and equipped with telephones to different points of the park, Professor Carl W. Barget, teacher of American history at the Jersey City High School, directed operations. J. Owen Grundy, secretary of the County Historical Society, related the history of Hudson County. Musical accompaniment was provided by Goldman's Band and a choir.

PUBLIC SERVICE STRESSED

Dr. Rogers Pictures Institution as Force for Better Public Order—"AE" Pays a Visit.

Education is not merely the preparation for a vocation, but it is the searching for the understanding of "the great tradition," President Nicholas Murray Butler said yesterday afternoon in welcoming Columbia's students at the opening of the university's 177th academic year.

"Here at Columbia we have found perpetual youth," said Dr. Butler in an informal address before trustees, faculty members and students in the McMillin Academic Theatre, "because perpetual youth is our companion, guide and chiefest interest. The university was never so young, so vital, so eager in well-doing as at this moment.

"We are here primarily to bind ourselves more closely to the great tradition. Incidentally, we prepare ourselves for some calling or occupation in life, but fundamentally we are seeking to know, to understand and to be able to interpret the great tradition, for that, and that alone, is education as distinguished from some form of psychological mirage which is so often urged as a substitute."

Work for Future Commended.

Dr. Butler paid a tribute to the memory of three persons prominently identified with the life of Columbia, who have died recently. These were John G. Milburn, a trustee; Mrs. Henry Fairfield Osborn, a trustee of Barnard College and Dr. Henry Rogers Seager, Professor of Political Economy, who died in Russia at the head of a group of economists studying conditions there.

In the principal address of the exercises, Dr. Lindsey Rogers, Burgess Professor of Public Law, stressed the contributions which universites could make to a better ordering of public affairs. It is characteristic of universities that they can work for the future as well as for the present and can afford to overlook disappointment, Dr. Rogers declared.

"Every great political advance—liberty of the press, permanent embassies, abolition of slavery, the standing army, civil police, a civil service—was long advocated before it was accepted and put into practice," he pointed out. "The practical politician is much more at the mercy of time. A political leader who seeks office on a particular policy or idea is defeated if an ungrateful electorate does not approve. When similar ideas are put forward from a university, there is no real defeat if they are not at once accepted. There should be aggressiveness in asserting the ideas, but no impatience because they are not immediately accepted."

"They can put forward their ideas," he said, "so that the challenge will be to future generations, and they may be confident that the rejection, if it takes place, can later be recalled. The thousand economists who declared that the new tariff of abominations menaced our prosperity and invited international reprisals may wonder, or at least regret, that they failed to make any impression on the President's engineering mind. They have, nevertheless, a solace denied Mr. Hoover, for they can be confident that events will justify their opinions and that another, perhaps the next, President will admit them to be well founded.

"AE" Chats With Dr. Butler.

At the close of the ceremonies, Dr. Butler greeted George W. Russell, the Irish poet known to the world of letters as "AE," on the steps of the library, where they met by prearrangement. They held a conversation in front of a talking picture apparatus which was virtually an interview of Mr. Russell by Dr. Butler. In it Mr. Russell expressed emphatic views on the futility of reform by law.

"We are delighted to see you back in America, Mr. Russell," said the Columbia president by way of greeting. "What is new in Ireland?"

"The most interesting new thing is our literary censorship law," replied the poet. "You have created the bootlegger in your country and we have created the booklegger in my country. Just as you get and drink bad liquor, we are getting and reading bad books."

Dr. Butler referred to President Cosgrave and Desmond Fitzgerald, Cabinet Minister, of the Irish Free State and asked how their government was progressing.

"Their government has lasted longer than any other government except that of the Soviets," said Mr. Russell. "The most conservative and the most revolutionary governments in Europe have lasted longer than any others."

Dr. Butler chaffed the poet, however, on the fact that "over here we have a government that has lasted 141 years."

"Is there any difference between the Democratic and Republican parties?" Mr. Russell asked.

"It would be getting me in a great deal of trouble if I answered that," Dr. Butler parried with a laugh.

Mr. Russell made phonograph records of three of his poems for Dr. Cabell Greet, professor of English at Barnard College, who has made extensive studies of dialect by means of such records. The poet recited "The Gate of the Mountain," "Revery" and "Promise" into the apparatus.

The medical school of the university also officially opened with exercises held in the auditorium of the College of Physicians and Surgeons, 169th Street and Broadway. Dr. Butler delivered a short address of welcome before the assembled trustees, faculty members and students. He welcomed the new students particularly, urging that they set for themselves a high standard of life as well as a high goal in studies and education.

In his talk Dr. Butler outlined the historical aspect of the association of the sciences of biochemistry and medicine. Biochemistry, he declared, has been the basis underlying some of the most important developments in the science of medicine through the ages.

264 Seek Old Age Relief in Day.

SMITH SPEEDS 'AE' ON HIS MISSION HERE

CITES NEW YORK'S PROBLEM

Says 8,000,000 of State's 11,000,000 Live Along Erie Canal Route—Urban Trend Alarms Russell.

With a resounding pat on the shoulders, former Governor Alfred E. Smith gave "AE," George W. Russell, the crusading Irish bard, his accolade yesterday morning at the start of the poet's six months' visit here to campaign for adherence to the soil. The former Governor wished Mr. Russell godspeed and assured him that the message on the benefits of rural life, which he intends to carry to the American people in his lecture tour, was of the greatest importance to the country.

Mr. Russell had told Mr. Smith he was greatly alarmed at statistics which showed that 4,000,000 persons had left the land in the United States since 1920, that 19,000,000 acres had gone out of cultivation and that 89,000 farms had ceased to be farms. He said that if the same trend continued, another generation would see 90 per cent of the population urban and only 10 per cent rural. "And that, I'm convinced, is a danger to life," the poet asserted.

"If you bring that point home in the course of your lectures in the United States you will be doing a distinct service to the country," Mr. Smith told him. "New York State is a good example of the trend you refer to. With a population of about 11,000,000, more than 8,000,000 of them live in the five cities along the Erie Canal route, New York, Albany, Syracuse, Rochester and Buffalo, notwithstanding the fact that there are more than thirty other cities and an equal number of large villages in the State.

"The strictly rural sections of the State are declining, and many of the strictly rural counties have a smaller population today than they had thirty years ago."

Mr. Russell said there was need for rural industries interspersed with agriculture, so that the farmer's occupation would not be exclusively the raising of food for the city.

Asked what he thought of New York, Mr. Russell, who arrived on Tuesday on the White Star liner Cedric, answered by saying that in his native "dreamy old city of Dublin, which has the quiet of the country in its streets, the people are all asleep at 11 o'clock."

"Here," he said, "the city talked to me all last night with its trains and trams and autos, and I listened with the courtesy of a stranger to what the city had to say to me. But after 4 A. M. I got a little tired, and hereafter I intend to be discourteous and turn a deaf ear to what the city says at night."

The meeting took place at Governor Smith's office, and Mr. Russell was accompanied there by Mrs. Charles Cary Rumsey, at whose home at 152 East Fortieth Street he is stopping while in the city. He was guest of honor at a luncheon given by Arthur Brisbane at 1,214 Fifth Avenue.

Two Saw Way Out of Bayonne Jail.

Stephen Zelinsky of Bayonee, N. J., and Thomas Higgins of New York City, both prisoners in the Bayonne city jail, to which they were committed on an automobile theft charge recently, escaped some time between midnight and 7:45 A. M. yesterday. They sawed through a bar in a cell window. Albert Cook, another prisoner, said he had seen the pair at work but had been threatened by them when he started to sound an alarm.

ROCK KILLS WORKER IN QUEENS TUNNEL

SURGEON FREES VICTIM

Amputates Pinioned Arm—Toll of Lives on Catskill Aqueduct Job Rises to Seven.

Caught under a slab of rock ten feet long and between two and three feet thick, one man was killed and another was injured critically at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon in a water tunnel 600 feet below Thirty-ninth Place and Forty-eighth Avenue, Long Island City.

The dead man was Alphonso Mecchia, 40 years old, of 240 West Forty-first Street. The injured man is Eugene Berzanocco, 19 years old, of 40-23 Astoria Boulevard, Astoria. He is in St. John's Hospital in Long Island City with his right arm amputated, and surgeons feared he would not live.

Both men were laborers employed by the Patrick J. McGovern Construction Company. With about twenty others, they were boring through the rock in the tunnel, building the aqueduct that is to carry water from the Catskills into Queens. Suspended over their heads was the huge rock slab.

What loosened the rock was not determined. It may have been the vibration of the drills or a fault in the rock formation. There was a brief warning—a shower of small stones and gravel that gave most of the men sufficient time to jump clear.

Mecchia and Berzanocco were too late. Mecchia, caught by the full weight of the slab, probably died instantly. Berzanocco's leap carried him almost clear, but the rock pinned down his right arm and left leg, crushing them.

Fellow-workers strained at the rock in vain. They were forced to concede that Mecchia's plight was hopeless. Berzanocco, however, was visible and they tried to get him out. After much exertion they freed the left leg. Dr. Gilhooley of St. John's Hospital had to amputate the right arm. Mecchia's body was recovered later.

Other workmen revealed that Mecchia and Berzanocco had been caught in a downpour of heavy fragments in the pit on Tuesday and were cut and bruised. After their wounds were treated they remained on the job.

The aqueduct job has claimed the lives of seven workmen. Three were killed and twelve injured 700 feet below Pelham Parkway and White Plains Avenue, the Bronx, on Aug. 22, when an explosion rocked the tunnel. On March 28 one man was killed and nine hurt and on the same day a workman was crushed to death by an underground railway car. On Feb. 27 a man was crushed to death by a four-ton bucket that fell to the bottom of a shaft in the Bronx.

Newark Airport Lease Confirmed.

A three-year lease, running from last September, between the city of Newark and the New York-Philadelphia-Washington Airway Corporation, was confirmed by the Newark City Commission yesterday. It gives the company space for three planes in the municipal hangar at the Newark airport at $65 a month each and requires the company to pay the city 25 cents for each passenger carried, one cent per pound of express carried and 10 per cent of the gross revenue for chartered planes.

300 FIFTH AV. SHOPS FACE STRIKE TODAY

TO APPEAL TO CUSTOMERS

Society Leaders and Stage Stars to Be Asked to Back Demands—Non-Union Workers Affected.

A general strike of women's tailors and custom dressmakers, employed in 300 Fifth Avenue shops, has been called for today, union officials announced last night following a meeting of the board of directors of Local 38 of the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union.

The strike follows several efforts made by the union, after expiration of an agreement with the Couturiers' Association of America on Sept. 15, to obtain a new contract incorporating a $3 weekly wage increase for 1,400 tailors and improved conditions for 4,000 non-union dressmakers. The union also sought withdrawal of the employers' demand for the right to discharge up to 20 per cent of their force without such action being subject to review.

It was announced last night that a mass picket demonstration would be held today, in conjunction with the strike, in the Fifth Avenue shopping district. The district, roughly, is bounded by Madison and Sixth Avenues and Thirty-ninth and Fifty-ninth Streets.

A strikers' mass meeting will be held today at 1 P. M. at Bryant Hall. Among the speakers will be Heywood Broun and former Judge Jacob Panken, Socialist candidates for Congress; Benjamin Schlesinger, president of the international union; David Dubinsky, secretary-treasurer, and Julius Hochman, vice president.

Boris Drasin, manager of Local 38, strike leader, announced that efforts would be made to enlist the support of prominent society women and stage stars who patronize the exclusive shops, on behalf of the union cause. He declared that non-union dressmakers averaged $18 to $35 a week, in contrast with the $40-a-week scale established for union workers. He added that non-union workers, nominally having a 44-hour week, are required to work a half-hour overtime each day without additional pay.

The Women's Trade Union League, it was reported, has thrown its support behind the dressmakers' strike. Sadie Reich, organizer, has been assigned to strike duty with the Fifth Avenue workers.

The Couturiers' Association includes seven leading Fifth Avenue firms. They are Bergdorf-Goodman, Henri Bendel, Stein & Blaine, Tappé, Hickson, Thurn, and Mme. Frances.

Although the strike will be directed principally against these firms, according to union officials, because they employ the bulk of the workers affected, an effort will be made to spread the walkout among dressmakers employed in the nearly 300 smaller shops.

Actors' Equity Association has expressed sympathy with the efforts of the custom dressmakers to unionize and has, through Equity, its official publication, urged its leading members to support the union's campaign.

COMMUNISTS MOVE HEADQUARTERS HERE

Workers' Centre Leaves Union Square Home for Leased East Thirteenth St. Building.

New York Communists were busy yesterday moving their various organized activities from 26-30 Union Square, the citadel of communism overlooking the scene of numerous radical demonstrations and brushes with the police, into the seven-story building at 50 East Thirteenth Street.

The Communist institutions affected by the removal include The Daily Worker, English daily; the Freiheit, Jewish daily; Uj Elore, Hungarian daily; the district offices of the Communist party, the Workers' Bookshop, the Workers' School and the Young Communist League of America.

According to Joseph Brodsky, attorney for the Workers' Centre, which comprises the Communist group of organizations, the centre has taken a fifteen-year lease on the Thirteenth Street premises from the Sentinel Press, a newly formed corporation, which last month purchased the property from the Margaret Folsom Corporation.

On May 23 last, when the various Communist institutions were admittedly in financial straits and during a period when The Daily Worker was broadcasting appeals for funds, the buildings at 26-30 Union Square were sold by the 26 Union Square Corporation, a Communist holding corporation, to the A. & E. Holding Corporation, whose address was given as 347 Fifth Avenue.

Efforts yesterday to locate offices or officials of the A. & E. Holding Corporation were unavailing. Israel G. Ornstein, attorney, who drew up the incorporation papers, declared he was no longer counsel for the holding company.

DEEGAN IN HARLEM DRIVE.

Orders Clean-Up After Complaint of Housing Violations.

William F. Deegan, Tenement House Commissioner, answered a complaint by Frederick B. Wells charging that sanitary conditions in North Harlem were a "menace to health" yesterday by assigning a squad of twelve inspectors to make an intensive drive on violations of the tenement house law.

Mr. Wells, president of the Harlem Association, said a survey recently made by Dr. W. B. Nathan of the association showed that families were overcrowded in tenements that had been condemned years ago. He said this circumstance caused the highest mortality rates in the city, adding that the complaint was approved by fifty Harlem civic leaders. With the exception of North Harlem, Mr. Wells said Harlem as a whole was in good condition. The worst district mentioned by Mr. Wells is bounded by Lenox and Eighth Avenues, 130th and 134th Streets, where he said the mortality rate was 21.5 per 1,000, the highest in the city. Infant mortality is 145 per 1,000, and the maternity rate in this district is 12.7, Mr. Wells said.

Mr. Rogers's Views on Buying Things the Seller Hasn't Got

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Sept. 24.—Russia sold some wheat over here, but they didn't have any wheat over here, so now our Farm Board is all excited.

Looks to me like the fellow that should be hot and bothered is the fellow that bought it. We never will have any prosperity that is free from speculation till we pass a law that every time a broker or person sells something, he has got to have it sitting there in a bucket, or a bag, or a jug, or a cage, or a rat trap, or something, depending on what it is he is selling.

We are continually buying something that we never get from a man that never had it.

Yours,

MAYOR AND STAFF SWELL LIPTON FUND

MORE THAN $2,000 IN HAND

Dollars contributed by Mayor Walker and members of his office staff helped yesterday to swell the fund being raised to purchase a cup for Sir Thomas Lipton. The fund was well over the $2,000 mark last night, and contributions continued to pour in at the City Hall, the office of Barron Collier, treasurer of the committee, and the offices of THE NEW YORK TIMES and other newspapers.

The suggestion that the cup be given was made by Will Rogers, humorist, and Mayor Walker named a committee to carry the proposal to completion, with himself as chairman.

His secretary, Thomas F. McAndrews; his confidential secretary, Miss Evelyn Wager; George Collins and Police Captains O'Connor and Howard, attached to the Mayor's office, contributed their dollars with that of the Mayor.

The Mayor said last night that he and the committee are considering the offer of fifty pounds of Utah silver to be used in the manufacture of the cup. He telegraphed yesterday to Theron H. Tracy, head of the silver association that made the offer, thanking him for it on behalf of the city, and asking for more details, particularly as to how long it would take to convert the presumably raw silver into silver usable for a trophy.

Two cup designers called at City Hall yesterday and submitted several designs for the cup. They declined to allow the designs to be photographed, or for the name of the concern they represented to be used, in view of the fact that they had no assurance the designs they submitted would be selected.

One design which attracted particular attention was of a globe, several feet in height, mounted on a square silver base. Rising out of the base, and apparently holding up the globe, was a figure representing Neptune. At the top of the globe were two mermaids, holding aloft a replica of Shamrock V.

One letter received by THE TIMES yesterday, in which the usual $1 was enclosed, came from Lee Trenholm, who said:

"While we're showering all this enthusiastic and merited admiration upon Sir Thomas's good sportsmanship, we should not be unmindful of the equally sportsmanlike attributes of our own winning skipper, Harold S. Vanderbilt. How can he help but feel that we're just a bit unappreciative when we confine our applause altogether to Sir Thomas? Let THE TIMES impound any surplus in the 'Lipton Best Loser' contributions as a nucleus for a 'best winner' cup fund for Mr. Vanderbilt."

Another letter, from Mrs. Elsie Brown Barnes of South Orange, N. J., declared that while the writer was "a good American," she was "quite as heartbroken as Sir Thomas when he lost the race."

SANDY HOOK GUNNERS SINK MYTHICAL FLEET

Ely and Hatch Praise Hancock Marksmen for Twenty Hits in Ten Minutes of Firing.

Special to The New York Times.

FORT HANCOCK, N. J., Sept. 24.—Major Gen. Hanson E. Ely and Brig. Gen. Henry Hatch of Fort Totten expressed themselves as satisfied that the city of New York was safe from the invasion of any hostile fleet by way of Sandy Hook after they witnessed the firing of twenty projectiles that hit a moving target each time this afternoon.

The officials praised the splendid marksmanship of Battery C, Fifty-second Coast Railway Artillery. Twenty record shots were fired from two 12-inch railway mounted mortars at moving targets towed 600 yards behind a government tug about 9,000 yards at sea off Fort Hancock.

The projectiles, weighing 1,046 pounds, were fired at an angle of from 45 to 60 degrees. Each projectile hit the target representing the vital part of a battleship and each shot fired from each zone at one minute intervals would have sunk ten enemy ships within ten minutes of firing. Major Fred Holmer and Captain H. H. Silver were in charge of the firing. An army plane observed the firing. A radio operator communicated with the gunners in giving the elevation and range.

Colonel J. C. Johnson, commanding officer of Fort Hancock, and his staff conducted the visiting officers on an inspection of the garrison and supervised the handling of the guns.

No Watch for Jack Diamond Here.

In response to questions yesterday Police Commissioner Mulrooney said that he did not know the whereabouts of Jack (Legs) Diamond, who left Philadelphia on Tuesday. Mr. Mulrooney said he had not assigned detectives to check up on Diamond's plans and that he did not know whether Diamond had gone to his Summer home at Acra, N. Y.

ELECT DAHL GROUP AS I. R. T. DIRECTORS

MOVE FOR DELAY FAILS

New Unification Drive Expected—Road Resumes Fight to Keep Elevated Structure.

ACTS ON NEW CAR ORDER

Files Motion in Court Holding Commission's Demand Is Improper.

Four new directors, all favoring the company's participation in transit unification negotiations with the city, were elected to three-year terms yesterday at the annual meeting of Interborough Rapid Transit Company stockholders. They were Gerhard M. Dahl, Albert H. Wiggin and Charles H. Hayden, already serving as directors of the B. M. T. and the Chase National Bank, and Frank P. Walsh, who will represent the Transit Commission and the city.

Samuel W. Reyburn, representing the Interborough bondholders, and Thomas I. Parkinson, representing the Manhattan Railway Company, were re-elected for three-year terms.

The meeting was marked by the Interborough's first formal recognition of the strong influence in the company's affairs gained by Mr. Dahl and his associates through the voting strength of the stockholders' protective committee, which brought about their nomination as directors on Sept. 10.

"Messrs. Dahl, Wiggin and Hayden have very large interests in the future of this company," Frank Hedley, Interborough president, declared in a discussion of parliamentary procedure with a stockholder who sought postponement of the annual meeting.

Unification Drive Expected.

In transit circles the election was viewed as the forerunner of a strong drive to bring the Interborough into the unification parleys now pending between the city and the B. M. T. Mr. Walsh will confer with the Transit Commission and Board of Transportation in a few days to familiarize himself with the situation. It is expected that he will be the active spokesman for the public authorities on the Interborough board.

Mr. Hedley, who presided at the meeting, announced that 347,106 of the company's 350,000 shares were represented. Postponement of the meeting on the ground that only two of the company's directors were present was sought by Elon Hobbs, holder of twenty-five common shares, who said that he and other stockholders had plans for betterment of the company's position which they desired to submit.

Mr. Hobbs left without voting his shares when his motion for adjournment failed.

"I beg to be excused," he said, "I've got another funeral to attend."

Opposes Razing Elevated.

The company continued yesterday to submit to the Transit Commission expert engineering evidence to support its contention that the Sixth Avenue elevated line could be safely supported and operated while the new Sixth Avenue subway was under construction. The commission is holding public hearings on the question of whether public necessity and convenience require retention of the structure.

Donald C. Waite, a member of the company's engineering staff, testified that the new subway could be built with the elevated in operation without endangering the safety of the riders or the structure itself. He said that the company and the city engineers had collaborated on many jobs involving the underpinning of elevated columns and structure in connection with the building of new city subways. The company placed in evidence a booklet describing in detail about 500 instances of elevated column underpinning since 1925.

Mr. Waite testified that it would take from three weeks to three months to underpin the 324 elevated pillars on Sixth Avenue between Fifty-third and Thirty-fifth Streets. The work, he said, would not be more dangerous than similar work had been in other localities. The hearings will continue on Monday.

The company filed yesterday with the Supreme Court its motion to vacate the recent order by Justice Frankenthaler requiring it to show cause why it should not be compelled to carry out the Transit Commission's orders for the purchase of 289 new cars and the extension of station platforms at Spring and Canal Streets on the east side line. The company asserts that the summary action brought by the commission is improper and that the proper procedure is a specific performance suit to be brought by the city, with the commission acting only as agent.

ROCKEFELLER GIVES DIMES.

Presents Seven New Coins to Three Women in Greenwich.

Special to The New York Times.

GREENWICH, Conn., Sept. 24.—Passing through Greenwich this afternoon, John D. Rockefeller Sr. distributed seven brand new dimes to three different women.

Mr. Rockefeller, with his chauffeur and two women passengers, was driving up Lake Avenue, when his attention was attracted to Mrs. Frank Morano, aged 72, who was seated on the veranda of her home. He told his chauffeur to stop the car, and, alighting from the machine, he asked Mrs. Morano if she were ill.

"I am recovering from a recent illness," was her reply. Mr. Rockefeller handed her a brand new dime and was about to leave, when Mrs. Mary Ricco appeared on the scene from the floor above.

Mr. Rockefeller, after learning that Mrs. Ricco had a husband and three children, presented her with five dimes, one for each member of the family, and just as he was stepping into his car he gave a dime to Mrs. Mary Clifford, who was crossing the street.

Black Watch Is Beaten by On Tap in Woodmere Claiming Stakes at Aqueduct

ON TAP, 3 TO 1, WINS WOODMERE STAKES

BLACK WATCH, CHOICE, NEXT

By BRYAN FIELD.

The racing ability of the filly On Tap is one thing that a great many racegoers will not accept despite the fact that she runs gamely and true. In the Woodmere claiming stakes, the feature at Aqueduct yesterday, On Tap receded in the betting from 2 to 1 to 3 to 1, yet won easily from horses which were heavily backed to beat her.

The same thing has happened in other races during last Spring and Summer, with On Tap coming through in excellent fashion most of the time. She is owned by J. H. mainly in claiming races but no one has seen fit to claim her. The test yesterday was the tenth this year for the daughter of On Watch and only once has she finished out of the money. Five times she won and three times finished second.

Black Watch, a horse older than Louchheim and has been running On Tap, was the one on whom the greatest plunge was made in the Woodmere. Opening at 5 to 2, Black Watch went to the post the 9-to-5 favorite. He chased On Tap all the way and was beaten a length and a half at the end of the six furlongs. Everytime ran third.

Whitney Entry Is Fourth.

Harry Payne Whitney's Prometheus, also well supported, and to ride which Raymond Workman was ordered up from Havre de Grace, finished fourth, just managing to beat the tail-ender, Indian Scout, in which Dr. T. M. Cassidy, his owner, had some confidence.

In short, there seemed to be considerable verbal or financial support for every horse in the race except On Tap. The running of the race was a repetition of what had taken place several times before. Breaking smartly, the filly ran out with a great show of foot and then hung on gamely to put the race on ice. The time was 1:12 4-5, and On Tap earned $2,750, bringing her winnings for the year close to $20,000.

The stewards acted following the running of the Mars Handicap in which H. B. Swope's Curtsey, a 9-to-2 shot, came home a five-length winner over four others. They suspended Jockey William Smith, who rode Lahor, for the remainder of the meeting and announced that the entry of the horse would be refused. It also was announced that entries of W. R. Padgett, owner of Lahor, would be refused pending an investigation.

Lahor ran second to Curtsey and beat Brown Admiral a length for the place. Partisan, 7-to-5 favorite, was fourth, and Aldershot brought up the rear. Lahor opened favorite at 8 to 5 on the strength of recent good races, but the price receded rapidly, and the horse went to the post at 7 to 2.

Curtsey Runs Into Lead.

When the break came Lahor was off none too well. In the backstretch Curtsey gained a substantial lead while Lahor was running in the middle of the pack. Partisan, despite his strong backing, was not making any headway. The stretch run proved a very sorry dash, as Curtsey just galloped and Lahor landed second place because the others were stopping fast.

Lahor ran under the top weight of 118 pounds, but did not appear at all tired from his efforts at the end of the mile. Curtsey's time was 1:38 2-5 and she carried 104 pounds.

Clarence Buxton, trainer of On Tap, scored a double on the day, as he sent out Benjamin Block's Morshion to win the Pontiac claiming handicap by four lengths. The horse was the 3-to-5 favorite and won in a gallop, but she did not come out of the race in the best of condition. An old weakness may have come back. Jamison ran second and Greatorex third.

NEW YORK DEFEATS SOCCER GIANTS, 3-1

Baillie Scores Two Goals as Victors Launch Strong Attack at Polo Grounds.

The New York soccer team defeated the Giants, 3 to 1, in an American League game played at the Polo Grounds last night before a crowd of 1,500.

The intense rivalry between the local elevens provided a close contest. New York led at half-time by Jimmy Baillie's goal, scored at the thirty-minute mark, after a rousing session in which both teams could have tallied several times but for the brilliance of the goal keepers.

Davie Brown increased New York's lead within a minute after resuming, and the two-goal margin was held until Johnny Nelson cut loose with a great shot, which beat Duncan all the way. Jimmy Douglas stood out with several superb saves when New York launched some telling attacks, but ten minutes from the end Baillie drove in his second goal to make the final count 3 to 1.

| Giants (1). | | New York (3). |
|---|---|---|
| Wilson | R.B. | Glover |
| McMillan | L.B. | Moorhouse |
| Gallagher | R.H. | McPherson |
| Flanagan | L.H. | Horner |
| Davis | O.R. | Jim Brown |
| Yule | I.R. | Baillie |
| Nelson | C. | Wall |
| Larsen | I.L. | O'Brien |
| McGhee | O.L. | Davie Brown |

Gallant Fox to Race at Pimlico.

Rockingham Stake to Oletta; Lord Derby's Entry Is Third

YORK, England, Sept. 24 (AP).—A. K. Macomber's Oletta won the Rockingham Handicap today. The stake was worth £800. The winner, a 5 to 2 favorite, finished three lengths ahead of Lord Allendale's Highbury.

KARL EITEL TAKES KAPPMEYER PURSE

CULLODEN FINISHES SECOND

The conditions suited Karl Eitel, J. J. Coughlin's 4-year-old son of Polymelian. Meeting five from among the better 3-year-olds and older horses in the Kappmeyer Purse, which featured the midweek offering, the Coughlin colt got home for his first victory of the year by a head over J. J. Camden's Culloden. Third honors went to Calf Roper.

Showing good speed from the very outset, Karl Eitel forced Dr. Parrish's early pace under strong reserve and when called upon was not long at racing into a safe lead.

VOLTAGREEN FIRST AT HAVRE DE GRACE

FAIR MISSIE FINISHES THIRD

Wingfield's Filly Covers 5½ Furlongs in 1:07 to Score by Length and a Half.

HAVRE DE GRACE, Md., Sept. 24 (AP).—The Good and Gay, a test of five and one-half furlongs, fashioned exclusively for juvenile fillies, featured today's card, the second day of the Havre de Grace session on the Susquehanna.

The race brought a field of nine into contention, and the issue resulted in another easy triumph for George Wingfield's clever filly Voltagreen, to bring her list of consecutive victories to six. Voltagreen was installed a top-heavy choice over the formidable opposition that she encountered, but she left no doubt of her superiority, racing the speedy Fair Missie into submission in the first half-mile.

Voltagreen drew out steadily nearing the finish to effect her score by a length and one-half. Madam Queen raced into second place, and Fair Missie saved third.

The winner was ridden by R. Morrison, and covered the route in 1:07. She paid $3 for $2 in the mutuels.

Post and Paddock

Fred Hopkins, trainer of one of Harry Payne Whitney's lesser strings, said at Aqueduct yesterday that he has hopes that Equipoise will top Jamestown in winnings for the season by victories in the coming Fall events in Maryland.

Jamestown went far in the lead of money winning juveniles when he added the $99,600 of the Futurity to his Hopeful and other purses. He is close to the $200,000 mark, while Equipoise as yet has to reach $100,000. But there is much more than $100,000 in stakes before the Whitney racer.

Equipoise is going to run in the $20,000 Eastern Shore Handicap Saturday, and after that will try the $50,000 Pimlico Futurity. In between there are several lesser prizes and beyond at Bowie and in Kentucky there are other rich events for which Equipoise is eligible. The horse stood an arduous Spring campaign, was laid by for a long rest, and now appears ready for another strenuous campaign.

Mate, A. C. Bostwick's colt which finished third in the Belmont Futurity and won the Breeders' Futurity, may be a starter in the Junior Champion, one of the outstanding Aqueduct features, and the race which gives juveniles racing in the metropolitan district their first chance to run a mile. Last year Gallant Fox showed his distance running ability by winning this stake.

Ormesby and Sir Ashley, Belair Stud juveniles, have displayed the same tardiness at the post that Gallant Fox showed as a 2-year-old. The Junior Champion may give them their opportunity to get up and finish in front, although thus far they have shown few signs of doing so.

BRYN MAWR, Pa., Sept. 24.—After spirited competition and a jump-off, Star Finch, bay entry of the United States Army team from Fort Monmouth, N. J., carried off one of the jumping features in the opening of the annual Bryn Mawr Fall horse show today. The army team was captained by Harry D. Chamberlain, who will lead the service riders in the next Olympiad at Los Angeles.

Second place went to Ray S. Shoemaker's gray gelding, Parson, after a magnificent ride over the jumps, and the yellow ribbon was carried off by Madrigal, the handsome brown mare of Arthur L. Meigs.

Miss Eleanor R. Sears, noted sportswoman from Boston, annexed two blue ribbons, winning both the middleweight saddle class and half-bred colt or filly championship with her entry, Northern Light.

The lightweight class for qualified hunters was led by Miss Charlotte Ives Montgomery on her chestnut mare, Olive, while second place went to the Dilwyne Farm entry, Retreat, and third to Thundercrash, the entry of Mrs. Simon Patterson of Pittsburgh, which also took ribbons in several other classes.

Golf Balls of Last Century Taken From Knollwood Pond

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Sept. 24.—Relics of a bygone golfing age were discovered in dredging the pond of the Knollwood Country Club by Fred Decker, the professional, and his assistants when the water-hole eighteenth was excavated. The club was organized in 1894.

A bushel of solid core or "gutty" balls that were used by players in the last century were unearthed when workmen recently dug into the mud bottom of the pond. Among the balls that have a place in the history of the game, and which Manager A. K. Woodstock displayed on a tray today, were the "Henley," several of the famous "Vardon Flyer," a badly cut "Tucker's Defiance" and one or two "Musselburghs."

GUY FLETCHER SETS RECORD TO WIN TROT

KINNEY DIRECT SCORES

Captures Phoenix for 2:08 Pacers in 1:59, Fastest Time of Grand Circuit Season.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Sept. 24 (AP).—A new world's record of 2:01 for 4-year-old trotters participating in a race and a record for trotters of any age running in a third heat were scored by J. S. Parker's Guy Fletcher in winning the Calumet Stakes today. His regular trainer, Lyman Brusie, was up behind him.

In winning the Phoenix, for 2:08 pacers, Kinney Direct lowered the record for the stake to 1:59, which is the season's record and the fastest time scored for ten years in a race in the Grand Circuit.

The Great Guy, in the field in the mutuel betting, won the 2:15 pace after the favorite, Darkey Grattan, had won the opening heat. A $2 mutuel on him paid $71 in winning the second heat.

Mrs. Charles F. Adams's Widow Grattan paced to a time record of 2:00, and the trotter Hollyrood Dick, driven by his owner, Allen J. Wilson of Boston, trotted in 2:00¼. Racing conditions were ideal.

ROSLYN POLO FOUR GAINS CUP FINAL

VICTORS MAKE FINE SPURT

Come From Behind to Tie Score in Sixth Period, Then Draw Ahead in Last Two Sessions.

By ROBERT F. KELLEY.

Special to The New York Times.

WESTBURY, L. I., Sept. 24.—Rallying in the latter stages of the game, the Roslyn polo team shut out Sands Point in the last two chuppers and broke a tie score to win the first semi-final of the Waterbury Memorial Cup tournament at the Meadow Brook Club this afternoon.

The three goals that Roslyn scored in the last two periods gave Roslyn a 12-to-9 victory and put that team in the final in which on Saturday they play the winner of tomorrow's game between Greentree and Old Aiken.

Roslyn's Team Play Better.

But the Sands Point team failed to get together with anything approaching the combination of Roslyn. Taking three goals on handicap, Sands Point went to the front and stayed there stubbornly through most of the game. But Roslyn, playing together in better fashion and steadily applying more pressure, closed in on Sands Point and finally caught up. The rest of the game saw Roslyn completely in command and never in danger again.

Harold Talbott played the best No. 1 he has shown in these tournaments. Behind him big Cecil Smith was again a finished, clean hitting polo player and he teamed very well with Rube Williams at No. 3. Gerald Balding was at back and the British internationalist played well there, making two sensational drives for goals and bringing his backhand drives into good use.

In the first period Bostwick set up a goal for Harriman that put Sands Point ahead, 4 to 0, counting the handicap. Roslyn began the chase in earnest in the next period, Balding and Talbott scoring and then Smith converting a safety hit.

Sands Point came back with two markers in the third, Bostwick and Hopping scoring pretty goals, with Harriman figuring in both scores.

Bostwick Scores Again.

Sands Point scored first in the fourth, Bostwick tallying on a two-stroke run. Balding then made a beauty at an angle from fifty yards out and Talbott turned back a hit-in that kept his side within striking distance.

The only score of the fifth period was Smith's and in the sixth Roslyn drew even, despite two fine goals by Harriman, including his long run up the field. The tying goal came in a scrimmage after the bell had sounded, Williams poking it through after Smith had carried down along the boards.

In the seventh Talbott and Smith put their side ahead by two goals and Talbott added another that put on the finishing touch in the last period.

| Roslyn (12). | Sands Point (9). |
| 3—H. W. Williams | 3—D. Bostwick |

| | | | | | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Roslyn | 0 | 3 | 0 | 3 | 2 | 1 | 2 | 1—12 |

Goals—Roslyn: Talbott 2, Smith 4, Williams 3, Balding 3. Sands Point: Harriman 3, Hopping 1, Bostwick 2. Referee—Wesley J. White. Time of periods—7½ minutes.

ARDMORE, Pa., Sept. 24.—It begins to look as if destiny had its eye on Maurice J. McCarthy Jr., strapping Georgetown graduate, and is grooming him for a heroic rôle in the national amateur championship now being played at the Merion Cricket Club.

Squeezing into the championship by virtue of a hole-in-one that carried him into the play-off in which he was one of eight successful candidates out of eleven; remaining in it by beating Watts Gunn, former Walker Cup star on the nineteenth hole this morning, the metropolitan district champion made new championship history this afternoon by eliminating George Von Elm, conqueror of Bobby Jones in the Baltusrol final in 1926, with a birdie 3 on the tenth extra hole.

Tomorrow he faces Jess Sweetser, winner of the national title at the Country Club, Brookline, in 1922, and first American to capture the British amateur championship, in one of the four 36-hole matches scheduled for the day. In the event of success, he probably will face Bobby Jones on Friday and thus have an opportunity to even scores for the defeat he took at the Atlantan's hands at Minnikahda, where he had the match practically won and yet lost it on the last five holes.

Jones Is 3 Under Fours.

Jones came through today's engagements successfully, playing at a three-under-4s clip to conquer C. Ross Somerville, holder of the Canadian amateur championship, by 5 up and 4 to play in the first round, and then defeating Somerville's fellow countryman, F. G. Hoblitzel by the same margin despite the fact that he slumped badly and traveled along at a more than leisurely pace.

His rival in tomorrow's quarter-final-round match is young Fay Coleman of Culver City, Cal., who beat Eddie Driggs Jr., the Long Island champion, 1 up this morning and then eliminated Johnny McHugh of San Francisco, 3 and 2 in the afternoon.

At the top of the championship bracket are four men who have not gone far in any previous championship. One is Gene Homans of Englewood, former metropolitan amateur champion, and the others are Johnny Lehman of Chicago, holder of the Western amateur championship; youthful Charley Seaver of Los Angeles, and W. F. McPhail of Dedham, Mass.

Notables Fall by Wayside.

Memory fails to recall a day when golf reputations meant less than they did here today. In the opening round of match play such notable figures as Francis Ouimet, former national open and amateur champion; T. Philip Perkins, former British amateur champion; Dr. O. F. Willing, runner-up to Harrison R. Johnston last year, and Johnny Goodman, Nebraska star who wrecked the Pebble Beach tournament by beating Jones in the first round, were toppled out.

In the afternoon George Voigt, ranked with Von Elm as Bobby's rival, was eliminated. The defeats of Ouimet, Goodman and Voigt were decided upsets for these three, together with Von Elm, were the only ones who were thought to have a chance to check Jones's flight for his fourth major crown of the year and a record never before attained by any golfer in the game's history.

Charles Kocsis, 17-year-old Detroit golfer, took the measure of Ouimet, the youngster taking the lead at the seventh hole and hanging on to win by 3 up and 2 to play, Francis weakening on the last nine. Later McPhail, who hails from the same district as Ouimet, avenged the deed by beating the youngster, 6 up and 4.

Goodman Loses Close Match.

Goodman lost in a close match to McHugh, despite the fact that he came home in 33, one under par. His 41 on the first nine holes, however, proved his undoing and lost him the opportunity he faced of meeting Jones in the third round tomorrow and demonstrating that there was nothing fluky about his victory over Bobby at Pebble Beach a year ago.

Seaver, a prep school student at Hun School last year, beat Voigt, 2 and 1, three badly-played iron shots on the eleventh, twelfth and thirteenth holes being responsible for the New Yorker's downfall.

With only a few exceptions all the matched played today were closely fought affairs, but of course there was nothing that could hold a candle to the thrills that came in the afternoon when McCarthy met and defeated Von Elm.

Hole for hole they fought tooth and nail. Three times in the first nine holes McCarthy went into the lead and three times Von Elm caught him. Then, when Von Elm three putted the 13th McCarthy again took the lead, only to surrender it on the fifteenth. Finally, when George's putter again failed him on the sixteenth, giving McCarthy the hole, and when they halved the next one it looked as though the match would not go beyond the home hole.

There, however, Von Elm uncorked a gorgeous, low-flying brassie that stopped ten feet from the hole, while McCarthy was short on his second and still further from the hole than his opponent after playing a weak chip shot. That gave Von Elm a life which he seized with avidity, and off they started on their play-off, which was to go five holes further than any other match in the history of the championship.

McCarthy Scores Drive.

On the first extra hole McCarthy sliced his drive among the trees to the right, but pitched on and got a half. Von Elm gave him a chance to win the match on the second hole when he missed his second shot, but McCarthy let it slip by, taking three putts from twelve feet. George returned the compliment on the short third hole, where McCarthy got a half after being bunkered, and from there on they halved six consecutive holes in par figures.

Playing the tenth and deciding hole, McCarthy played a beautiful pitch shot to within a few inches of the cup for a sure birdie 3 and Von Elm, who was on the green, perhaps fifteen feet from the hole, made a desperate attempt to hole his putt and carry the match on, but failed, the ball rolling to the lip of the cup but failing to drop.

It made forty-nine holes of golf for McCarthy for the day, forty-seven of them in the matches with Gunn and Von Elm and two on the play-off to get in, for he was one of the six men who had to go out at 8:30 this morning to play off for the five places left in the championship flight when hostilities were called off on account of darkness yesterday. Even in that he has a scare, for he had to make a great recovery on the first hole to gain a place.

He and Gunn had quite a tussle after that, for, after being 2 up with four holes to play, he lost the sixteenth, threw away a great chance on the seventeenth, which was halved in 4s, and saw his rival come out of a bunker and hole a ten-foot putt to square the match on the eighteenth. Both drove into bunkers playing the nineteenth, but McCarthy came out to win the hole with a par 4 when Gunn played out safe, failed to get his third close and took two putts.

Sweetser Is Closely Pressed.

Sweetser came within an eyelash of joining Ouimet, Willing, Voigt and Von Elm when he allowed Jack Ahearn of the Wantakah Golf Club, Buffalo, to carry him to the nineteenth hole this afternoon.

After shaking off Philips Finlay, long-hitting Harvard senior, this morning by virtue of loose playing on Finlay's part on the tenth, eleventh and twelfth holes Jess caught a Trojan in the person of Ahearn, who had previously eliminated George T. Dunlap Jr., the intercollegiate champion, in one of the day's many upsets.

Starting out in unconvincing fashion, failing to hit par figures even once on the first five holes, Jess was fortunate to find himself no worse off than he was. Against some one else he might have been so far down at that point as to make his cause hopeless, but Ahearn happened to be almost as charitable as he was and was only 1 up.

But when he tightened up and began to play something like his game Ahearn followed suit, became 2 up by winning the seventh and ninth, and held that margin when there were only three holes left to play.

Things looked pretty bad for the man from Bronxville until his opponent sliced his second shot to the sixteenth, Sweetser getting home in two and down in one putt to win the hole and become only 1 down and 2 to play. But right then Ahearn dealt Jess a stunning blow by coming out of a trap and holing a four-yard putt for a 3, with Sweetser's ball only eight feet from the pin after the tee shot.

Where he once had hopes of squaring the match right there, he now faced the uncertain task of having to win the next hole to remain in the tournament. His drive gave him no cause for satisfaction, for it was hooked into the rough, short of where the fairway begins, and he was still a long way from the green on his second, whereas Ahearn was in a shallow bunker in back of the green in two. It was a do-or-die moment until Jess holed a long putt to win the hole when his rival came out strongly and needed two putts. Jess won the extra hole easily, 4 to 5.

Canadian Always on Defensive.

Compared to most of the others, Jones had a comparatively easy task getting past the two eighteen-hole-round matches. Against Somerville this morning Bobby reeled off a brand of golf that had the Canadian champion fighting a losing battle all the way, and in the afternoon Hoblitzel, conqueror of the veteran Ellis Knowles, was utterly unable to cope with Bobby's golf, though it was not his best. Somerville held on grimly for the first six holes, at which point he was only 1 down, but starting on the seventh Jones fired three successive birdies at him, holing putts, and the match was as good as over.

The Canadian had a 37, which deserved more than it gave him, but Bobby was 33 and even fours on the next five holes brought the match to a close on the fourteenth green.

Voigt was badly off color and, although managing to get safely past Lester Bolstad, the former public links champion, was unable to play the same brand of golf against Seaver and get away with it. Seaver is a fine young golfer, one who may go a long way this year, and he seized upon every opening George gave him. He led Voigt by three holes coming to the fifth, where George had to sink a long putt to prevent himself from being four down, but Voight played himself out of a bad hole and squared the match at the turn.

No sooner had he got himself out of one hole, however, than he got himself into another. Three badly hit iron shots cost him the eleventh, twelfth and thirteenth holes and although he managed to win the sixteenth to reduce his deficit to only two holes, Seaver brought his chance to an end by holing a hard, five-foot putt for a half on the seventeenth, to win by 2 and 1.

Little Conquers Willing.

Willing's conqueror was William Lawson Little, diminutive Coast golfer, who gave him many openings which the Portland golfer failed to make the most of, losing on the twentieth hole, and it was youngsters who put skids under both Ouimet and Perkins.

The eleventh, twelfth and thirteenth were bad ones for Francis. At the first of these he hooked the drive and, attempting to get over the brook on his next, failed. On the next he was in two bunkers and on the following one Kocsis pitched to within a yard of the pin for a birdie 2. He was 3 up there and won the match after playing three more holes.

The responsibility for Perkins's defeat at the hands of Johnny Lehman, former Big Ten champion, rested largely on his putter, which failed him in several crises. This Lehman is a fine young golfer who has been forging to the front fast and his coming match with Gene Homanns, who beat Little in the afternoon, should be a brilliant one.

JONES AGAIN DRAWS THE ENTIRE GALLERY

Throng Waits Till He Finishes, Then Treks After Von Elm and McCarthy.

Special to The New York Times.

ARDMORE, Pa., Sept. 24.—Despite the fact that there were several matches more interesting today than the two in which Bobby Jones was concerned, the gallery, which was slightly smaller than yesterday's, trudged around with the Atlantan almost en masse.

Quimet and Sweetzer, heroes of bygone days, walked around this morning with scarcely a soul following them and only a small crowd followed Von Elm and McCarthy until Bobby had finished off Hoblitzel, the Canadian, and word got around that here was a match that was likely to provide the fireworks it finally supplied. Then the crowd turned to be thrilled by the 28-hole battle.

It is doubtful whether two more grim fighters could be found than George and Maurice, and their match here will go down in golf's history not only as the longest but one of the greatest ever played in a championship.

Coast Players Skillful.

After the splendid showing its representatives made today, the Pacific Coast has every reason to be proud of them. Both Seaver, who survived, and Little, who did not, are extremely fine young players, and the same thing is true of Fay Coleman, who defeated Eddie Driggs in a close match this morning, and then met and beat his fellow Californian, Johnny McHugh, in the afternoon.

McHugh's victory over Johnny Goodman was one of the big feats of the day. So highly was Goodman thought of as a player that he was seeded ahead of Ouimet, George Dunlap Jr. and Perkins.

Among those who watched the proceedings today was Miss Glenna Collett, holder of the women's national championship. Within a short time Miss Collett will start for California where she will defend her title. Another well-known woman golfer in the gallery was Mrs. Leo G. Federman of North Hills.

This morning Harrison R. Johnston, who was national champion until about 6 o'clock last night, refereed the match between Seaver and Don Armstrong of Aurora.

The seeded draw which is supposed to indicate the rating of golfers according to the U. S. G. A.'s estimation of them fell flat this year. Of the men who are seeded from one to ten, only two are left at the end of the second round. One is Jones and the other, Sweetser. It merely goes to prove that golf is a game in which fame is fleeting.

Ideal Weather Continues.

Although the results of today's matches has put something of a damper on the tournament, as always happens when the stars fail, the weather man has been kindly. The past three days have been ideal and if the weather continues to hold, new attendance records ought to be established.

That of course depends largely on what fate has in store for Bobby Jones. Right at the present moment it doesn't look likely that he can be stopped by any one left in the field, but then there are still three rounds to be played.

Eddie Driggs was disconsolate over his defeat by Coleman today. After letting Coleman get a two-hole lead, Driggs caught him at the sixteenth and lost the match by taking a 6 on the home hole.

George von Elm came as close to a hole-in-one this morning as a man can come without actually making one. His pitch to the short thirtenth landed less than an inch away from the hole. If George had only played the same golf against McCarthy that he did against Hunter in the morning he would have saved himself a lot of walking. He was out in 34 against Hunter and four under 4s when the match came to an end on the thirteenth.

CHICAGO, Sept. 24 (AP).—Mrs. O. S. Hill of Kansas City scored a 77 today over the Glenview course to tie the new record set by Miss Virginia Van Wie of Chicago yesterday, but failed to gain much ground in the second round of the women's Western seventy-two-hole event.

While Mrs. Hill added the 77 to her 84 of yesterday, Miss Van Wie retained a wide lead by scoring a 79 to give her a thirty-six-hole total of 156, six strokes in front of Mrs. Hill. Mrs. Lee Mida of Chicago shot an 85, to take third position with 171.

HAVERS, COMPSTON BEATEN IN UPSETS

MITCHELL TRIUMPHS TWICE

Defending Champion Reaches Fourth Round—C. Whitcombe and Cotton Also Advance.

WATFORD, England, Sept. 24 (Canadian Press Cable).—A young Liverpool golfer, W. Large, astounded the British golfing world today by successively defeating two giants of the game, Arthur Havers and Archie Compston, in the second and third rounds of the £1,040 British professional championship.

Large defeated Havers at the nineteenth hole and followed that conquest by eliminating Compston after a gruelling battle which went twenty-one holes. Large fought from behind in this match until the fourteenth was reached.

Abe Mitchell, who won the event last year, defeated Padgham, 3 and 1, in the second round, and Lacey, 4 and 3, in the third.

Charles Whitcombe and Henry Cotton were two more third-round winners, eliminating Wilson, 4 and 3, and Moses, 6 and 5, respectively.

MOUNT BRUNO, Que., Sept. 24 (Canadian Press).—The tranquillity that marked the first two days of play for the Canadian women's closed golf championship was shattered by a series of startling upsets today when the field of sixteen that started the second round of match play was whittled down to four in a series of surprises that was climaxed by the defeat of the defending champion, Miss Ada Mackenzie of Toronto, at the hands of the current Ontario champion, Miss Cecil Smith, also of Toronto.

Playing championship golf over the course of the Mount Bruno Country Club, Miss Smith triumphed over the accredited dean of Canadian women golfers, 2 up.

Tomorrow, in the upper bracket, Miss Marjorie Kirkham of Montreal, the medalist, will oppose Mrs. R. W. Gouinlock of Toronto, which in the lower bracket Miss Eileen Kinsella of Montreal will meet Miss Smith.

Miss Kirkham defeated Miss Peggy Yuile of Montreal, 5 and 3, today. Mrs. Gouinlock won from a clubmate, Miss Maude Smith, 4 and 3, and Miss Kinsella triumphed over Mrs. C. C. Ronalds of Mount Bruno, 3 and 2.

ST. ANDREWS HONORS THE DUKE OF YORK

Son of King George Plays Himself in as Captain of Royal and Ancient.

Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland, Sept. 24.—With one of the best drives in the history of these functions, the Duke of York, whose golf handicap is 9, played himself in as captain of the Royal and Ancient Club today.

Andrew Kirkaldy, a famous figure at St. Andrews for generations, teed the ball—for which he received a golden sovereign—and having rolled up the sleeves of his jacket, the son of King George took a practice swing. Apparently dissatisfied, he changed the club for a steel-shafted driver. It was a tense moment. Eight years ago the Prince of Wales in similar circumstances had muffed a drive from the same tee.

The Duke's drive, however, was a fine, low-flying shot against the wind and with just the shade of a draw that bore through the gusts and ran over two hundred yards into a mass of waiting caddies.

After a hard-fought scrimmage, a young caddie named Jack Wilson retrieved the ball and his reward was a sovereign from the Duke's hand. The Duke, however, faltered in medal competition played later. He returned 93 net, his gross score being 102.

JOHNSON ANNEXES LOW GROSS PRIZE

Repeats Victory of Last Week to Lead With a 74 in Westchester One-Day Tourney.

Special to The New York Times.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Sept. 24.—Repeating his victory of last week in a Westchester Golf Association one-day tourney, T. Arthur Johnson of Wykagyl captured the low gross in the organization's one-day event at the Knollwood Country Club today.

Johnson, with an outgoing 39, equaled par of 35 on the second nine and consequently accounted for the low gross prize by a margin of three strokes with his 74. Leo Kaufmann of Gedney Farm returned a 77, consisting of a 33 and a 39, while Alfred M. Morris of Knollwood carded a 78 to gain third place, and Tom Inglis of Tamarack, brother of the Metropolitan P. G. A. president, was fourth with a 79, the only other player in the field of seventy-three whose score was under 80.

Morris accounted for the low net award inasmuch as he had the lowest handicap of any of the five players who returned net scores of 70 or under to tie for the first net. Morris had 78—9—69, and the second net award went to Dr. A. C. Tuerner of Grassy Sprain with 83—13—70.

Johnson was driving especially well and holing putts of eight and nine feet consistently for his pars. After taking a 39 for the first nine, which included a 5 at the short eighth, he was even par for the subsequent four holes, but drove the green at the 302-yard fourteenth and then holed the putt for an eagle 2. After that he missed pars at the sixteenth and eighteenth, but clung safely to the lead, nevertheless, with his 74. Kaufmann had a poor streak of putting, and none of the other players seriously threatened Johnson's advantage. Donald Carr, president of the Westchester County Golf Association, who won the tourney last year over this course, did not finish his round.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 24.—The Robins dropped to fourth place today by virtue of a 6-to-3 defeat at the hands of the last-place Phillies, the idle Giants moving into the third position, which they hold by half a game over Brooklyn.

The Dodgers lost their seventh straight game because they could not solve the efficient pitching of Jack Milligan, a southpaw. Milligan, whose hurling this year won a pennant for the Wilkes-Barre club, for which he turned in twenty victories, judiciously scattered eleven hits among the Robins. Two Philly errors aided the Robins in getting two runs in the first.

Ray Moss, who held the Phils to four hits the last time he pitched here, had no such luck today, a single by Fresco Thompson and a home run by Chuck Klein quickly tying the count in the first frame and another homer by Don Hurst putting the Phils ahead. It was Klein's fortieth circuit blow of the year.

Phillies Score Fourth Run.

Thompson and Friberg put a double and a single together in the third to score a fourth run, and Moss was taken out in the fifth after Thompson had singled for his third straight hit and Friberg had beaten out a bunt.

With none out, Babe Phelps came to the rescue and uncorked a wild pitch to Klein to advance the runners. Both were held on the bases while Gilbert tossed out Klein.

Here the Robinsonian strategy dictated the intentional passing of Hurst to fill the bases, but Whitney's single scored Thompson, and after Friberg was forced at the plate by Rensa, Thevenow bounced one off Finn's glove for a hit to score Hurst.

Phelps went out for a pinch hitter in the seventh and Hollis Thurston held the Phils thereafter, despite an opening double by Hurst and an error by Finn in the seventh.

Thurston Scores Last Run.

Thurston himself brought in the third run in the ninth when he doubled after two were down and rode in on Gilbert's long single to centre.

Eddie Moore doubled to start the game but was run down on Gilbert's grounder to Thevenow. Herman singled, Gilbert scored on Whitney's wild throw and the Babe, reaching third on Friberg's bad heave, scored on Bissonette's sacrifice fly.

The Robins had the bases full in the sixth and again in the seventh, but no hits were forthcoming.

Sports of the Times

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
By JOHN KIERAN.

Trampling on the Seedbed at Merion.

SOUTH ARDMORE, Pa., Sept. 24.—The United States Department of Agriculture should be interested in what happened in the golf tournament at Merion today. The golf officials seeded eight players and by noontime five of them had been either trampled flat or uprooted and tossed away. The seeded players who never got to the sprouting stage were old Doc Willing, T. P. Perkins, Francis Ouimet, George R. Dunlap Jr. and Johnny Goodman.

Goodman, of course, was the lad from Omaha who tumbled Bob Jones into a trap at Pebble Beach last year. Bob thought he might meet Johnny at Merion and balance the account, but Johnny McHugh of San Francisco went to bat for Jones and nudged Goodman out in the first round after a bitter battle all the way.

It was Johnny Lehman, one of the breezy boys from the Windy City, who turned back T. P. Perkins, former British amateur champion. Perhaps Lehman is trying to make a habit of this trick. He defeated Perkins in the Western amateur championship in July.

Eddie Driggs was one of the boys who had to set the alarm clock and get up before dawn for the medal round play-off. With Gunn, McCarthy, Sweetser, Ward and Ahearn, he was "brushing with hasty steps the dews away" in order to qualify, which he did at the second extra hole. But Fay Coleman of Los Angeles put him out in the very first round, which led the former Princeton football player to remark that no harm would have been done if the alarm clock had failed to go off.

However, there was the first-round match between George Dunlap and Jack Ahearn. Ahearn was one of the early birds in the play-off for the qualifying places. He had to go to the third extra hole with Ward and Sweetser. Ahearn qualified for match play by holing a putt that seemed to scamper half way across the State of Pennsylvania before it dropped into the cup. Dunlap qualified among the leaders. But it was Ahearn who defeated Dunlap in the first match round, causing many staid observers to rock and reel with surprise.

Bad News for New England.

The New England delegates went into mourning when Francis Ouimet was tossed out in the first round by young Charley Kocsis of Detroit. This was not an upset. The youngster from Detroit, an 18-year-old high school student, is a fine player. His entry for the national championship was sent to U. S. G. A. headquarters by the principal for the high school at which Kocsis is a student.

George Von Elm was the first player to chalk up a victory at match play. While most of his rivals were still sighing along the line of putt, Von Elm was ordering lunch in the clubhouse. He ran over C. D. Hunter to the tune of 6 and 5, which is like winning by four touchdowns or six field goals.

Doc Willing and W. Lawson Little Jr. of San Francisco were the first players to tee off in the match rounds. They were supposed to lead the field. What they did was to slow it up. Doc Willing is famous as one of the most deliberate players in the history of the game and Little decided to match the Doctor, stroke for stroke and pause for pause.

It was a great match in more ways than one. Willing is noted as a stickler for his rights and privileges in the heat of competition and Little brought with him a reputation as a confident and outspoken boy who had no awe for the gods of golf. Some of the observers thought it might get down to a wrestling match on the green, but not a hand or a voice was raised in anger all the way around.

It was a close battle and the young lad defeated the Walker Cup veteran on the second extra hole, with the help of a partial stymie. But even if he was ejected in the first round, it can't be said that Doc Willing rushed into defeat. He took his time.

There was a dental flavor to that hard-fought battle. Doc Willing is an Oregon dentist and Lawson Little is the son of Colonel W. Lawson Little, who does his dental work under the auspices of the Medical Corps, U. S. A.

Short Putts.

Chick Evans had a two-foot putt to put him in the match-play field and he blew it as high as a box-kite on a windy day. He pushed at the ball like a man trying to shove an iron safe up a flight of stairs. Poor Chick.

Jess Sweetser also blew a tiny putt on the first hole of the complicated play-off, but he managed to stick along and squeeze in on the third extra green. When Jess missed the putt, he looked as though he felt like braining himself with his putter.

There must be a terrific strain in such a situation. With each player thinking that a poor shot would mean "sudden death," eight of the eleven players in the play-off made miserable shots and some made two and three of them. It was competition on the stagger plan, with all of them staggering.

Woody Platt, one of the Philadelphia favorites and a veteran of many championships, was ejected in the first round by a fellow Philadelphian, Charley Reckner. Gene Homans of Englewood was trailing Gus Novotny of the Chicago district at the fifteenth hole, but the ex-Princetonian was 2 up at the home green, otherwise known as the play-off point.

The casualties have been terrific. The defending champion, Jimmy Johnston, didn't qualify. Neither did Cyril James Hasting Tolley. Neither did Chick Evans. Five of eight seeded players were killed off in the first round.

George Rotan, the Texas veteran, was headed for a comfortable qualifying score when his brassie shot to the sixteenth green hit a spectator on the head and bounded back into the quarry. That shot ruined the spectator and Rotan.

Chandler Egan, who was an amateur champion in 1904 and came back to reach the semi-finals at Pebble Beach last year, had one distinction at Merion. He was the only man in the whole field who used sand to tee up his golf ball. An old-fashioned golfer.

FRENCH OF PIRATES REPULSES THE REDS

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 24 (AP).—Pittsburgh closed its home season today by defeating Cincinnati, 5 to 1, in a game that was called in the sixth because of rain.

HORNSBY IS PLANNING TO REVAMP THE CUBS

Intends to Make Many Changes—Wilson, Grimm and Others Said to Be on Trading Block.

CHICAGO, Sept. 24 (AP).—Rogers Hornsby today formally received the offer of Joe McCarthy's job as Cub manager and accepted it. The two-year contract will not be signed until after the present season ends on Sunday.

One thing is certain and that is that Hornsby intends to make wholesale changes in the club for 1931. Even Hack Wilson, the new home run king of the majors, was reported to be on the trading block along with Captain and First Baseman Charlie Grimm, Outfielder Riggs Stephenson, Pitcher Pat Malone and others.

Hornsby said today, "All I can say at this time is that I am happy to get a chance to manage the Cubs and deny silly reports that I caused embarrassment to Manager McCarthy. Mr. Wrigley and Mr. Veeck have asked me to manage the club and I have accepted and will do everything I can to give Chicago a winning baseball club.

"Of course, I plan some changes in the interests of the club for 1931, but nothing is definite yet.

"And, say," he shouted as a parting shot. "If there are any rumors about the Cubs of any kind, any reports of any kind, just ask me. I'll tell you what I can. I do not intend to hold out on any news."

Manager Joe McCarthy came back tonight after visiting his home in Buffalo. He had nothing to say except that he had been "treated fairly" and that he and Hornsby were the best of friends, and that he would manage the Cubs through their concluding series with Cincinnati. Hornsby is expected to take charge in the city championship series with the White Sox, which opens next Wednesday.

Cards Can Clinch Flag Today By Winning While Cubs Lose

The St. Louis Cardinals, whose steady rise to the top has featured the National League pennant race, are faced with the opportunity of clinching the championship today. If the Cards win the first game of their final series with the Pirates today and the Chicago Cubs lose to the Cincinnati Reds, then St. Louis will clinch the pennant even if it drops its three remaining games while the Cubs sweep their three. In this event, the final standing would be:

| | Won. | Lost. | P. C. |
| St. Louis | 90 | 64 | .584 |
| Chicago | 89 | 65 | .578 |

The Cards need only one more victory in order to be certain of a tie for the league championship. Even if they drop three of their remaining four contests while the Cubs sweep their four, the final standing would be:

| | Won. | Lost. | P. C. |

RALLY BY RED SOX DEFEATS SENATORS

Five Runs on Six Hits in Fifth Inning Result in 6 to 3 Victory.

BOSTON, Sept. 24 (AP).—The Red Sox opened their final home stand of the year by gaining a 6 to 3 victory over the second place Washington Senators. One big inning, the fifth, gave Boston the victory in a duel between Al Crowder and Hod Lisenbee.

The Senators opened up with considerable fire, getting to Lisenbee for three runs in the second and third innings, but Hod settled down and allowed but five scattered hits in the last six innings. Brilliant Boston fielding aided in the triumph as Warstler, Reeves and Todt put over three double plays.

The Red Sox put over five runs in the fifth, bunching six solid hits. Heving, Lisenbee and Oliver led off with singles and Scarritt followed with a long triple to ruin Washington's hopes of victory.

LOUISVILLE WINS FROM ROCHESTER

WEINERT PITCHES STEADILY

Allows Losers 11 Hits, but Is Strong in Pinches—Victors Knock Derringer Out of Box.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Sept. 24 (AP).—A six-run attack in the fourth inning, resulting from four timely hits, two errors and as many walks, gave Louisville, American Association champions, a 7-to-3 victory over the Rochester Red Wings, International League title winners, in the first game of the little world's series here today. Rochester made eleven hits to Louisville's nine, but could not connect with Phil Weinert's offerings when hits meant runs.

Rochester opened the scoring in the third, when Derringer, Brown and Martin singled, the pitcher tallying. With the bases filled by Olivares's error on Pepper's grounder, Worthington and Collins popped out to end the frame.

Derringer was knocked out of the box by Louisville in the first half of the fourth, after Louisville had scored five runs with only one out.

Louisville Opens Attack.

With Layne out, Herman walked, Pepper dropped Simons's fly. Branom beat out an infield hit, filling the bases. Marcum singled to right, scoring Herman and Simons. Ganzel also singled, scoring Branom. Barnes walked. Olivares got an infield single, scoring Marcum, and Ganzel followed him across the plate on Anderson's wild throw trying to force Barnes at second.

Carleton replaced Derringer and Weinert sent a sacrifice loft to Martin, scoring Barnes, but Carleton's throw to Brown caught Olivares trying to make third on the play for the third out.

Rochester picked up a run in the seventh on Brown's triple to left and Toporcer's single to centre. Louisville failed to score in its half, but added one in the eighth on Branom's single to right and Marcum's double to centre.

Red Wings Waste Two Hits.

Despite singles by Collins and Anderson, the Red Wings failed to score in the eighth. Manager Southworth, hitting for Carleton, fanned for the last out.

Barnes opened the Louisville ninth with a double, but was left when the next three were retired in order. Rochester added another tally when Martin scored from third on Herman's error.

THRONG CHEERS CARDS ON THEIR RETURN HOME

Thousands Greet National League Leaders, Who Open Final Series With the Pirates Today.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Sept. 24 (AP).—Gabby Street and his Cardinals returned from the East tonight and were greeted at Union Station by several thousand cheering fans.

The Cardinals, leading the Chicago Cubs by three games in the National League pennant race, open a four-game series with the Pittsburgh Pirates here tomorrow, their final series of the season.

Many fans who went to Union Station were disappointed. The train arrived fifteen minutes ahead of time and was shunted onto a west track, the players leaving through a side gate, whereas most of the crowd waited in the midway. A battery of newspaper camera men, however, managed to line up the players before they departed.

"Now for Pittsburgh," was Street's first comment and apparently all he wanted to say. But Jack Grosse, the city greeter, was there and pressed Gabby for details of the Cards' sensational drive through the East.

"We beat out those other clubs because every man on the team was hustling and giving his best," he remarked. "It was team-play and the fighting spirit of one of the gamest clubs I ever saw."

Today's reception was informal. Street told Grosse he wanted no formal reception until the pennant was won. If the Cardinals have the championship clinched by Friday night, a parade and elaborate reception will be held Saturday.

Street will send the veteran spitballer Burleigh Grimes to the mound tomorrow in the first encounter with the Pirates.

Suffer First Defeat in Baseball Tourney From Siebler Tailors, 9-5.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Sept. 24 (AP).—The Siebler Tailors, Cincinnati entrant in the sixth annual tournament of the National Baseball Federation, inflicted the first defeat of the tourney on the Pittsburgh Veronas, winning a fifth-round tilt, 9 to 5, today.

Flint, Mich., eliminated the Indianapolis entrant in another fifth-round game, 9 to 5. It was the second defeat for Indianapolis and automatically disqualified the club from further play. The Waterbury (Conn.) team also went out, receiving a second defeat. The Dayton (Ohio) club won, 8 to 2, in the third fifth-round game.

Brown Has Powerful Line Material, but Is Short of Backs

Coach McLaughry Rates the Forward Wall on a Par With That of 1926 Iron Men.

By ALLISON DANZIG.

Special to The New York Times.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 24.—In a season notable for the wealth of back field material to be found in many of the Eastern football camps, Tuss McLaughry, Brown's strapping, quiet-spoken young coach finds himself facing the same dearth of ball-carriers that handicapped his team so badly last year.

So acute is the shortage that Brown is ready to go further to rectify the deficit that was Harvard a few years back. For a fast, hard-running back field Brown will exchange not merely a quartet of varsity professors who have thrown innumerable candidates for a letter in science for an irreparable loss, but is even prepared to offer an entire line in the bargain.

Yale, Army, Penn, Penn State and Lehigh could each send over a back field apiece and never notice their departure, and Brown is in a position to deliver the linemen, for there is the best collection of forwards working out on Aldrich Field since the Iron Men of 1926 added immensely to the prestige that their coach had acquired in his last year at Amherst. McLaughry rates his present line as on a par with the forward wall of that unbeaten milk-fed outfit and with the line of his 1928 team, which lost only to Yale.

Looking over this first-string set of forwards, among whom are the two biggest ends Brown has had since pre-war days, Ferrabee and Johnson, two eye-filling tackles; Mackesey and Schein, Gillies and Richardson, guards, and Schneider and Horton, veteran centres, one does not find it easy to commiserate with McLaughry. Ask any coach which he would rather have—a strong line or a strong back field—and his answer every time, if he does not say "both," will be in favor of the line.

Could Use More Speed.

There doesn't appear to be any doubt in the minds of any who have watched this line in action as to its strength, a bit more speed on the flanks would not do it any harm, but there is a world of power in it and Whoops Sniveley, former Princeton star, is the man to put the drive behind that power.

Standing behind that first line, which is seasoned from end to end, is an array of reserve material that suffers by comparison only in its lack of experience. This is not true all along the line, for Sawyer, at end, is a letter man, and McDonough, one of the five centres, also saw some service last year.

Henn and Hapgood, who have been held back by injuries, both won their letter in the line a year ago and once they are thoroughly fit will furnish plenty of competition for the reserve berths at guard to the Skinner brothers, Oscar and Wallace, both powerful, aggressive 200-pound men, who have not yet learned how to utilize their great strength to the full advantage. Tom Gilbane and Brown, sophomores, are the second-string tackles and Lundstedt is understudy to Johnson at end.

Besides these, there are other line prospects in Wiley, sophomore, and Tillinghast, centres; Allen and Ralph Miles, brother of Princeton's famous defensive back, Mike Miles, ends, and Letoile and Brickley, a nephew of Charley Brickley of Harvard, guards.

Star Back Was Lost.

Only one back was lost from the 1929 eleven, but that one was one of the most valuable men on the team, Edwards. The greatest need in the back field is for a quarterback and for speed. Captain Lincoln Fogarty, who was handicapped by injuries the first half of last season and who was tried out at quarterback, is back at halfback, and went to the infirmary a few days ago with a bad knee which may slow him down again. In first-class shape, Fogarty is a brilliant all-round back, but he does not seem to have any luck in scrimmage.

Joe Mahood, a Negro lad from Flushing, is one of the cleverest backs on the squad, but he is not rugged enough to stand a great deal of pounding, and he, too, was handicapped by injury last year. Francis Gurll, Rotelli and Marshall, all veterans, are sturdy and ready for hard service, but outside of Demmler and Edes, who got into some of the games last season, there are no other experienced men to rely upon.

Three sophomores who have been coming along may solve the vexing problem behind the line. One of them, Bob Chase of Tarrytown, looks particularly good. Fast and elusive and skilled in the use of the stiff arm, and a good passer and kicker, Chase may yet break into the first line-up, which includes Gurll at quarter, Mahood and Fogarty at the halves, and Rotelli or Marshall at full. Gilmartin, a big chap, is also making a strong bid for a halfback berth, and Bill Gilbane, the other sophomore, may see service in some of the games at quarter, while Gammin, another sophomore, is also being tried out.

Considers Half-Dozen Men.

There are a half-dozen men who are being considered for the quarterback post, such importance does McLaughry place upon finding the right man for the job. Besides Gurll, there are Harris, a letter man, who is very much in the picture; McKeown, captain of the plebe team at Army two years ago; Gilbane, Thompson, another sophomore, and Mulberry.

Assisting McLaughry this year are Thurston Towle, end coach; Sniveley and R. H. Bond and Spike Staff, who will take charge of the freshmen.

Sept. 27, Rhode Island State.
Oct. 4, Worcester Tech; 11, Princeton at Princeton; 18, Yale at New Haven; 25, Holy Cross.
Nov. 1, Syracuse at Syracuse; 8, Tufts; 15, Columbia; 22, New Hampshire; 27, Colgate.

Morse, 1906 Captain, Pleased With Present Yale Back Field

Special to The New York Times.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 24.—Samuel F. B. Morse, grandson and namesake of the inventor of the telegraph, tonight ended a two-day visit with the Yale football team, which he captained in 1906. Morse, who resides in Del Monte, Cal., came East to enter his son, John, in the Yale class of '34.

While here Mr. Morse held an informal reunion with Judge Cates, director of athletics at Yale and former Eli end, and Phil Smith, who was one of the centres of his team. Morse expressed himself as pleased with the condition of the Yale back field and praised the work of McLennan in today's and yesterday's practice.

YALE VARSITY WINS FROM SCRUBS, 19-7

RESERVE BACKS EFFECTIVE

Second String Carriers Account for Two Tallies, With McLennan Leading Attack.

Special to The New York Times.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 24.—During eighty minutes of scrimmaging today the Yale varsity scored three touchdowns against the scrubs in an effort to make the new plays work smoothly previous to the season's opening with Maine here Saturday. The final score was 19-7. It is doubtful whether another protracted scrimmage will be held before the initial game.

The first team sent only one touchdown across in fifty minutes of play, when Albie Booth finally succeeded in getting a toss free to Johnny Lindenberg, who crashed twenty yards for the score. Booth's high leap to pull down a pass by Al Beane and gain 18 yards before he was checked was the only effective advance before the first-string backs and most of the rushline retired.

McLennan's Play a Feature.

Don McLennan's end running and his forward tosses opened up the scrub defense and were the chief factors in the two scores which the second varsity back field made. McLennan's end run for 40 yards yielded the first, and his toss, which Charlie Snead handled superbly and took out of the clutches of the waiting scrubs for a 60-yard run, the longest of the day, brought the final touchdown for the varsity. Snead kicked one goal following the touchdown.

The scrubs closed the session with a dashing scoring effort, when McLennan's pass was intercepted by Mack Williamson, a sophomore, who dodged the varsity defense and made the first legitimate touchdown of the year for the reserves.

Ludlum Kicks Goal.

Ludlum kicked a goal from touchdown, making the final score 19 to 7 in favor of the regulars.

GREENE, PENN BACK, RUNS FOR TOUCHDOWN

Smashes Through Scrub's Line and Races 20 Yards—Varsity Shows Improved Form.

Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 24.—Playing against the scrubs for the first time this season, the University of Pennsylvania varsity showed improved form in the scrimmage on River Field today. Charley Greene, fullback, scored a touchdown for the varsity when he crashed off tackle and raced twenty yards.

Right Halfback Warren Gette was still on the sidelines with a damaged hand and George Munger, sophomore, continued at his post. Mel Hemeon, sophomore end, was at right end in place of Riblett, the veteran, who has been excused from hard work the last few days.

The scrubs were strengthened by several players who accompanied the squad to Cape May, including Yablonski, rugged tackle; Stanford, a veteran lineman; Red Bainbridge, sophomore end, and Dick Onderdunk, halfback.

In the varsity signal practice Bill Graupner, second-string quarterback, who is recovering from an injured shoulder, ran alongside Captain Dick Gentle and alternated in calling the plays.

MANHATTAN IN HARD DRILL.

Has Intensive Workout for Rider Game on Saturday.

Manhattan College had an intensive drill yesterday in preparation for the opening game with Rider College Saturday. Head Coach Law began with the usual calisthenics and sprint, then the squad was divided, Coach Law working with the line men on the bucking machine and Assistant Coach Kenneally drilling the back field.

The backs had a defensive drill against passes. The players then had a kicking drill. O'Conner, Sisco and Del Negro did the punting. The workout finished with the varsity having a light scrimmage with the freshmen.

PRINCETON SCORES AGAINST RIDER TEAM

Bogar, Junior, Stars in the Tiger Offense—Reinmund Makes Some Good Runs.

Special to The New York Times.

PRINCETON, N. J., Sept. 24.—Princeton and Rider College staged a forty-minute practice scrimmage in Palmer Stadium today with the Tigers having the better of the battle. The teams agreed before the game not to count any scoring, and both coaches substituted freely.

Reinmund of Princeton was clear of the field early in the second quarter after gaining 30 yards on a lateral pass from Bogar and sweeping around right end for 15. A few minutes later Princeton recovered a Rider fumble on the one-yard stripe, but Coach Roper ordered his eleven to turn around and head for the other goal, taking the ball on the 10-yard marker.

Tigers Gain Fifty Yards.

Late in the fourth quarter Roper sent in his starting line-up, which had occupied the sidelines after the middle of the second frame, and this combination worked smoothly to gain 50 yards on six tries. The attack ended on the 12-yard line when the final whistle blew. Princeton had an 8-5 margin over the visitors on first downs.

Princeton's lateral pass attack worked with fair success, although the main punch in the offense was the all-round work of George Bogar. The flashy junior, prevented from playing last season by an injury, skillfully handled his part in the pass attack and was the leading ground-gainer on the field. Reinmund got away to some nice runs, while good defensive work was done by Nevitt and Fortune, both sophomores. Wister at end for the Tigers gave a fine performance.

Bogar and Fortune Punt.

Punting was done by Bogar and Fortune, both having an edge on their opponents. Bogar had one kick blocked by three of the visitors, but recovered after a 10-yard loss. No kick-offs were used, Rider taking the ball on its own 20-yard marker to open the game and Princeton doing the same at the start of the second half.

Many substitutions were made by both coaches, giving Roper his first line on the calibre of his squad under fire, and Coach Bee of the Trenton team an idea of what he can expect when his eleven meets Manhattan College on Saturday. Only two injuries were received on the Tiger squad, Pendergast and Armour retiring with bruises.

| Princeton | | Rider |
|---|---|---|
| Wister | R.E. | McIntyre |
| Yeckley | R.T. | Bonitz |
| Pendergast | R.G. | Zonisky |
| Garrett | L.G. | Hirsh |
| Rutherford | L.T. | Ashrut |
| Lea | L.E. | Herko |
| Armour | Q.B. | Skillman |
| Reinmund | L.H. | Holmes |
| Bogar | R.H. | Nimeth |

Substitutions—Princeton: Hirst for Pendergast, Combrinck-Graham for Wister, Byies for Lea, Nevitt for Howson, Knell for Reinmund, Muldaur for Bogar, Fortune for Armour, Purnell for Mestres, Hockenbury for Rutherford, Van Schaick for Hist, Gahagan for Yeckley, Pels for Van Schaick, Lingle for Gahagan, Wister for Combrinck-Graham, Condon for Hockenbury, Gooch for Muldaur. Rider: Serfen for McIntyre, Donovan for Serfen, Davis for Bonitz, Wallet for Hirsn, Hultze for Herko, Gallagher for Holmes, Pettito for Gallagher, Seraphim for Nimeth, McKinstry for Maynard, Smith for McKinstry, Parcels for Smith.

Prondeckie Goes to Tackle Berth on Varsity Squad.

Special to The New York Times.

HAMILTON, N. Y., Sept. 24.—The elevation of Ed Prondeckie, tackle on Colgate's freshman team last Fall, to a varsity berth was the major step taken by Coach Kerr at practice today. Howard Crane, who has played first-string tackle with Schiebel thus far, went to the second eleven.

McEver, Knee Better, to Return To Tennessee in Ten Days

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 24.—The Tennessee campus was joyful today when the following wire was received from Gene McEver, high scoring halfback of the Tennessee team.

"Will be O. K. in ten days."

McEver suffered a knee injury recently during scrimmage and was hurried off to Bonesetter Reese at Cincinnati. It has been feared McEver might be lost all season.

N. Y. U. PRACTICES ON AERIAL DEFENSE

Back Field Men Get Workout With Members of Third Team Throwing Passes.

The New York University football team spent part of the afternoon at Ohio Field yesterday in perfecting a defense against forward passes as they were thrown by the third team.

The backs only were used in this session, with the linemen working on perfecting the military huddle used by New York University at another end of the field.

Joe La Mark, Jim Tanguay, Jack MacDonald and Bill McNamara, the sophomore back field group, were used intact in the defensive work against the scrubs, with Vic Connor, Bob McNamara, Ed Bella, Sandy Roland and Paddy Ryan being worked in on alternate plays.

The scrubs threw passes on practically every play, Sherman Marker doing the tossing, with the other backs, Vincent Ciavarelli, Vic Cerbone and Paul McNamara, going out for the tosses, along with Bill Dunn, en end.

Wind sprints opened the afternoon session, with place kicking practice for Jim Tanguay, Bob McNamara, Vic Connor and Joe La Mark following. The punting drill, which came after that, again saw Bob McNamara and Jim Tanguay averaging more than fifty yards, while Charlie Marshall and Jack MacDonald booted for more than forty yards.

C. C. N. Y. SQUAD HOLDS FIRST NIGHT DRILL

Line Plays and End Runs Are Stressed in Long Session at Lewisohn Stadium.

Dr. Harold J. Parker, coach of the City College football team, sent the Lavender gridmen through a two and a half-hour drill at Lewisohn Stadium last night. It was the first night practice session of the season for the City College team.

The varsity was on the offense against the second team for an hour, in which line plays and end runs were used. Few forward passes were employed. Scoring was not allowed.

Special to The New York Times.

WEST POINT, N. Y., Sept. 24.—Three army varsity teams were kept on the defense during practically the entire scrimmage period this afternoon, Major Ralph I. Sasse directing the scrub attack against every spot in the line in an effort to discover weak points. In the scrimmage Armstrong, a former Flushing High School player, replaced Suarez for a time and played well. Armstrong lacks experience, but he is one of the strongest men in the Military Academy and weighs 215 pounds.

Sasse did not permit the scrub attack plays to progress beyond the development stage, stopping the play after the ball carrier got away. The back field pass defense caused considerable concern, as the scrubs completed several forwards which easily could have developed into touchdowns.

COLUMBIA ELEVEN ENGAGES ST. JOHN'S

WOLKIND'S WORK FEATURES

Substitute Back's Playing Pleases Coach Little—To Start Game Against Middlebury.

Columbia's football team went through its final heavy practice yesterday at Baker Field in preparation for the Middlebury contest here on Saturday. The workout was a two-hour scrimmage against the St. John's eleven of Brooklyn, and the drill gave both teams considerable practice in preparation for their opening encounters.

The scrimmage showed that Columbia has a promising back in Harold Wolkind, a substitute on last season's freshman eleven. Coach Lou Little was pleased with Wolkind's work yesterday, and, although Wolkind has never started a game before, Little said at the close of the scrimmage that he would start the former James Madison High School athlete against Middlebury.

"Wolkind was the outstanding back on the field," Little said. "I don't know whom he will replace in the starting line-up against Middlebury, but he will be in there."

Wolkind was substituted for Jay Hodupp, and gave an excellent performance of broken field running, catching passes and backing up the line.

No touchdowns were scored in the scrimmage, for every time a man was headed goalward and free of opposing backs, he was recalled. No punting was resorted to by either team. It was simply a regulation scrimmage, with both outfits employing ground plays practically throughout the session.

The line-ups:

| Columbia. | | St. John's. |
|---|---|---|
| Van Voorhees | L.E. | Neary |
| Sherwood | L.T. | Maloney |
| Weinstock | L.G. | Johnson |
| Allan | C. | Gallo |
| Banko | R.T. | Dalolito |
| Tys | R.E. | Mann |
| Rivero | Q.B. | Sheppard |
| Hodupp | L.H. | Cooper |
| Mosser | R.H. | Stephens |

Substitutions—Columbia: Edling for Van Voorhees, Lippoth for Tys, Ganzle for Sherwood, Moss for Banko, Hickey for Grenda, Nobiletti for Weinstock, McDuffee for Allan, Wolkind for Hodupp, Sheridan for Rivero, Scott for Mosser, Hall for Stanczyk. St. John's: Rubinsky for Stephens, Sullivan for Mann, Gallagher for Malloney, Solomon for Dalolito, Moskowitz for Cooper, Hallaran for Gallo.

LIGHT DRILL AT WESLEYAN.

Passing and Signal Drill Constitute Workout.

Special to The New York Times.

MIDDLETOWN, Conn., Sept. 24.—The Wesleyan team took it easy today and worked largely on a signal drill and forward passing. Coach Oberlander seems pleased with the condition of the team.

The signals were called by Streibinger today in the huddle, and it is expected that he will play quarterback on Saturday. The forward passing practice gave some idea of what Wesleyan's offense will be later in the season. The varsity backs all threw accurately and Wells and Odell, ends, handled the receiving very well.

RUTGERS TESTS DEFENSE.

Drills Against Jayvees, Who Use Providence College Methods.

Special to The New York Times.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Sept. 24.—A long defensive drill against the Providence College plays, as used by the junior varsity, occupied a large part of today's practice session for the Rutgers team. The varsity enjoyed much more success in solving its rival's forward pass plays today than it did in earlier practices this week.

Special to The New York Times.

WILLIAMSTOWN, Sept. 24.—Frederick E. Groehl of New York City has been elected captain of the Williams varsity tennis team for next year, it was announced today. He has played on the team for two seasons.

FORDHAM VARSITY AGAIN TOPS SCRUBS

For the second day in succession the Fordham varsity ran roughshod over the substitutes in preparing for the Baltimore contest on Saturday at Fordham Field when they accounted for six touchdowns in the scrimmage at Fordham Field yesterday, while the losers were held scoreless.

With Jim Murphy leading the attack by scoring three touchdowns, the regulars battered and smashed the scrubs at will, using the crushing running offensive that will be called into play on Saturday.

Cavanaugh has definitely decided on his starting line-up with the exception of the left tackle post, to which either Mike Miskinis or Connie Murphy will be assigned. The rest of the team will consist of Adam Elcewicz and John Conroy, ends; Frank Foley at right tackle; Henry Wisniewski and Walter Tracey, the punter, guards; Captain Tony Siano at centre, and Jack Fisher, quarter; Bill McMahon and Jim Murphy, halfbacks, and Charlie Pieculewicz, fullback.

The other touchdowns yesterday were scored by McMahon, Janis and Pieculewicz.

HARVARD IS DRILLED IN COORDINATED PLAY

Progress Made in Getting Back Field Men and Forwards to Work Together.

Special to The New York Times.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Sept. 24.—The Harvard varsity football players eased training today, at least so far as hard contact work was concerned. Nevertheless, progress was made toward getting the backs and linemen working together.

First there was a long drill on plays by the backs, who presently were joined by the guards, running interference. This was done against the huge standing dummies dotting the entire end of the secret practice field. Later teams were put together, but this was done in haphazard fashion without any effort to make what could be a consistently matched team.

Duke Dune, line coach, put in a good deal of time drilling his middle line forwards on their assignments and Eddie Casey once again devoted much attention to the half dozen auxiliary halfbacks now fighting for ratings as substitutes for the six leading carriers, who are Mays, Devens, Batchelder, White, Scherschewsky and Crickard.

In the late afternoon there was a drill that approximated a slow dummy scrimmage, but this was carried out from the standpoint of acquainting the men with the assignments in the plays that already are being started for the Crimson's first game with Vermont next week.

With Faxon not ready for any hard football, it now looks as if the line coaches will keep Richards at left guard rather than at tackle. Kales has been used on the left wing at tackle for several days, and Myerson continues to hold the right tackle job. While Hageman is making progress at end, this former guard has not replaced Ogden, who although lighter, was a substitute last Fall and with Harding continues to hold down the wing berths vacated by O'Connell and Douglas. Wood, Devens, Mays and White continue in the back field.

DARTMOUTH LOSES McCALL.

Star Back's Injury to Keep Him Out of Opening Game.

Special to The New York Times.

HANOVER, N. H., Sept. 24.—Bill McCall, Dartmouth's quarterback and best ball carrier, will be lost to the team for the Norwich opener Saturday, it was learned today. McCall, who suffered a sprained ankle yesterday, joins Hank Barber, regular tackle, and Red Porter on the sidelines.

Only dummy scrimmage was held today with Bill Morton running the varsity. He will probably pilot the team against Norwich. George Pettengill has been showing up well at end and Bill Brister looms as a good halfback. Eddie Toothaker was moved to quarterback on the second team.

AMHERST HOLDS WORKOUT.

Kenyon and Knutson Punt in Light Drill Ending With Scrimmage.

Special to The New York Times.

AMHERST, Mass., Sept. 24.—Coach Al Wheeler sent his Amherst football squad through a light workout, ending with a brief scrimmage. A kicking drill opened the practice, with Del Kenton and Fred Knutson doing the punting, while Bill Kirk and Bob Greenough practiced kick-offs.

Captain Ham Tener received a long drill in place-kicking points after touchdowns. Tener, Cadigan and Depasqua threw passes in a workout which had pairs of linesmen receiving tosses against a secondary defense.

WILLIAMS HARD AT WORK.

Prepares for Opener With Rochester—May Use Sophomores.

Special to The New York Times.

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass., Sept. 24.—Williams is hard at work preparing for its opening game of the season with Rochester Saturday, Coach Caldwell providing a long drill for his charges today. Signal practice featured the session.

The Purple line-up against Rochester may include a couple of sophomores, as Griffen and Correall have been showing up well at guard and in the back field respectively.

By JAMES P. DAWSON.

A crowd of 22,000 fight fans saw Mickey Walker, world's middleweight champion, carry off the decision over Paul Swiderski, Syracuse heavyweight, in a disappointing ten-round bout last night at Dreamland Park, Newark.

Referee Hank Lewis raised aloft the left arm of Walker in token of victory after a contest that taxed the patience of the capacity crowd attracted to the match on the strength of the meeting between the two at Louisville, Ky., last May 16, when Swiderski floored the title-holder seven times in two rounds, but all of the excitement of that Louisville struggle must have had a discouraging effect on Swiderski, for he refused to fight last night and seemed content to survive the ten rounds.

He was successful in this but received little credit, for despite disadvantages in height and reach and a handicap of twenty pounds in weight, Walker won every one of the ten rounds, leaving no room for doubt as to the winner when the final bell clanged.

Victory Not Impressive.

Walker's victory was not impressive; he won simply because he did what little fighting the bout held. The title was not involved because Swiderski is a heavyweight; and, perhaps because he did not have to make weight, Walker appeared overweight in the ring.

His timing and judgment were off, producing a disappointment in the work of a fighter who has been one of the most spectacular boxers of the ring.

Many fans were disappointed when the ticket supply was exhausted. An hour before the fight a surging crowd at the main entrance, held in check because of a temporary delay, pushed forward and carried the entrance railings with it.

Silvy Bell, Elizabeth, 160 pounds, was entitled to the honors over Ivor Rundgren, Newark, 152, in the six-round bout which closed the program.

Hayes Knocks Out Brown.

Pete Hayes, New York bantamweight, made short work of Solly Brown, Newark, in their struggle scheduled for six rounds. Hayes knocked out his rival in the first round. Hayes weighed 119 pounds and Brown 116.

Mickey O'Day, Newark featherweight, was entitled to the honors over Jimmy Tramberia, Baltimore, in their six-round bout, although no official decision was rendered, under a ruling of the State Athletic Commission which makes it optional to render decisions in preliminaries. O'Day floored his rival three times in the fifth round. O'Day weighed 127 pounds and Tramberia 126.

Benny Goldstein, Baltimore lightweight, scored a knockout over Gene Di-Layo, Plainfield, when Referee Kugel refused to permit Di-Layo to respond to the bell for the sixth round. Di-Layo suffered a severe cut to his lower lip in the fifth session. At the time the bout was halted Goldstein was far in front on points, having won four of the five rounds. Goldstein weighed 128 pounds and Di-Layo 132.

SYRACUSE HAS SCRIMMAGE

Squad Sent Through Light Workout—Signal Drill Today.

Special to The New York Times.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Sept. 24.—The Syracuse University football squad was sent through a light scrimmage today. It is expected that Coach Hansen will order one more scrimmage before the opening game with Rensselaer Saturday night.

The line-up comprised Stoneberg and Ellert, ends; Newton and Kanya, tackles; Obst and Lombardi, guards; Berner, centre; Titmus, quarterback; Moran and Stevens, halfbacks, and Fishel, fullback. There will be a signal drill tomorrow and the first night scrimmage of the year in the evening.

Miss Nuthall said that she enjoyed her visit very much and that she did not intend to play any more tennis until after the first of the year, when she will journey to the south of France. She took with her the trophy which she won when she captured the championship at Forest Hills.

EBBETS IS VICTOR; DEFEATS GOLDBERG

Freeport Middleweight Outslugs Rival in Main Bout at the Broadway Arena.

Harry Ebbets, Freeport middleweight, bested Henry Goldberg, Brownsville, in the main six-round bout which featured the opening show of the season at the Broadway Arena, Brooklyn, last night. Ebbets outslugged his game opponent in every one of the six rounds and he had a wide margin at the end. A crowd of about 2,500 witnessed the fight. Ebbets weighed 167½ and Goldberg 169.

In the six-round semi-final, Artie De Luca of Brooklyn gained the decision over Freddie Huber of North Bergen, N. J., after six fast rounds. De Luca weighed 145½ and Huber 146½.

The first three fights ended in knockouts. They were all scheduled for four rounds. In the first of these Jack De Mara stopped Eddie Moore in fifty-five seconds of the fourth round. The winner weighed 150 and Moore 152.

Phil Stark, 122½, scored the next knockout when he put Jimmy Lorenzo, 118, away in 2:53 of the third round. Max Glickman, 198½, then stopped Harry Garfield, 183, in fifty-seven seconds of the second round.

In the first of the four six-round bouts on the card Eddie Bowe, 165, gained the decision over Billy Tosk, 163.

Practically Every Conference Team Has at Least One Crack Player in That Position.

ATLANTA, Sept. 24 (AP).—A cursory glance at the list of ends on Southern Conference teams this year indicates that 1930 will see better wing play than in any recent season. Practically every eleven boasts at least one end who has proved his ability, while some of the teams have both wings handled by veterans.

Followers of the University of Tennessee think Hug and Brandy are the best pair of ends in the South. These boys covered 79 punts last year and the catchers returned them only 61 yards.

Georgia has Vernon (Catfish) Smith, Captain Herbert Maffett, while Tulane thinks Holland and Dalrymple have no peers.

In Jimmy Nolan, Florida has one of the steadiest and best defensive ends in the South, while Parnell is an equally capable player. Few ends can take care of their position better than Tom Jones of Georgia Tech and Moore of Alabama. Schwartz and Scheffer afford Vanderbilt a great pair on the wings, while Washington and Lee has the giant Lehigh Williams and South Carolina has Bob Gressette.

FOOTBALL GIANTS TRIUMPH.

Defeat Long Island Bulldogs, 13-0, in Night Game.

The New York Giants defeated the Long Island Bulldogs, 13 to 0, in a football game at Dexter Park, Brooklyn, last night. A crowd of 4,000 attended.

Only once, in the third quarter, did the losers come within striking distance of the victors' goal. The Giants kept the ball in their opponents' territory the rest of the game. Benny Friedman and Ray Barbuti, stars of the Giants and Bulldogs, respectively, were kept covered most of the contest, although Friedman's passes were a factor in keeping his team on the offensive.

Special to The New York Times.

ITHACA, N. Y., Sept. 24.—In the final hard scrimmage of the week before the Clarkson game Saturday Coach Dobie today made several changes in the Cornell line.

The team as constituted today probably will start in the opening game. The other backs are Handleman and two sophomores, Viviano and Smith; Captain Hunt and Tullar are guards; Chris Martinez and Zorilla are at right tackle and Luder is at right end.

SHARKEY FAVORED IN BOUT TONIGHT

PROMOTERS FACE A LOSS

Advance Sale Below Expectations of Garden—Broadcast Will Be Heard Over WJZ.

Jack Sharkey, Boston heavyweight, is to battle Victorio Campolo, giant South American, tonight in a bout scheduled for fifteen rounds at the Yankee Stadium. The contest will supply the climax to the local outdoor season.

The bout is being held in the interests of the Navy and Marine Memorial Association under the direction of the Madison Square Garden Corporation, and assumes the importance of a heavyweight elimination which carries significance for the principals.

Sharkey will stand or fall on the result, and so will Campolo. In general, however, the match is advantageous for the South American, who has everything to gain and little or nothing to lose. If Sharkey is defeated he will find himself eliminated as a possible opponent for Max Schmeling next Summer. Such a victory would send Campolo's stock soaring and establish the Argentine giant as a considerable threat.

Winner to Meet Stribling.

A triumph for Sharkey, on the other hand, will confound those critics who regard the Boston ex-sailor as approaching the end of his pugilistic career and maintain Sharkey in the position he now holds as America's foremost title challenger. The Garden plans to match the winner of tonight's contest with Young Stribling in Miami next February, and the victor in the Miami engagement is to get the assignment next Summer against Schmeling, according to present plans.

In experience Sharkey holds the upper hand, and this is expected to prove an important factor. The belief obtains generally, however, that unless Sharkey disposes of his rival within five or six rounds Campolo stands an excellent chance of scoring a knockout victory.

That the bout will be conducted at a loss to Madison Square Garden seemed a foregone conclusion yesterday. The advance sale of tickets was far below expectations, and officials of the Garden were hoping for a heavy last-minute demand today to put the fight over financially. Sharkey is guaranteed $100,000 regardless of the outcome, and Campolo is to receive $7,500. The expenses of the preliminaries and rental of the Stadium, together with incidentals, make a gate of $150,000 imperative to avoid a loss, and yesterday this seemed improbable.

The contest is to be broadcast over an extensive NBC radio network, including WJZ in this city, and is expected to get under way between 9:30 and 10 o'clock.

The preliminnary card holds a ten-round semi-final between Paul Cavalier and Mike Sankovitch; a ten-round tilt between Roy Wallace and Joe Banovic; a six-round bout between Allie Wolff and Enzo Fiermonte, and a four-round battle between Spike Webb and Gene Baker.

NEW YORK BOXERS SCORE.

New York boxers were victorious in four of the five inter-city bouts held with Philadelphia representatives at the amateur boxing show held by the Crescent Athletic Club in its city club house last night. Benny Linder of Philadelphia won the only bout for his team when he defeated Walter Kaczemarek in a 160-pound bout.

The summaries:

KAPLAN BEATS BATTALINO.

Retired Champion Defeats Holder of Crown in Non-Title Bout.

HARTFORD, Conn., Sept. 24 (AP).—Louis Kid Kaplan, retired undefeated featherweight champion, tonight won a ten-round decision over Bat Battalino, present titleholder. Kaplan weighed 130½, Battalino 128¼. The title was not at stake.

Referee Bill Conway gave Kaplan, who was named last week by the National Boxing Association as the foremost contender for Al Singer's lightweight crown, nine of the ten rounds. There were no knockdowns.

Although Kaplan's margin of victory was wide, the fight was not one-sided, as Battalino was aggressive, often standing toe to toe to slug with his more experienced fellow townsman. A bad cut opened over his right eye late in the battle handicapped the champion.

LIVELY DRILL AT NAVY.

Two Plebe Teams Line Up Against Varsity and Reserves.

Special to The New York Times.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Sept. 24.—Coach Ingram conducted two scrimmages today at the Naval Academy, a reserve team lining up at first against the second team of the plebes, and a lively battle between the varsity and the first team of the plebes following.

Moncure, Campbell, Konrad and Gannon made up the back field during the first scrimmage, Konrad and Campbell doing most of the gaining at first. Later Gannon got through for some good gains.

VINES BEATS ALLISON IN COAST TENNIS PLAY

Wins, 5-7, 6-3, 12-10, 7-5, in Pacific Southwest Tourney—Lott and Bell Defeated.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 24 (AP).—Three Davis Cup players, Wilmer Allison, Austin, Texas; George Lott Jr., Chicago, and Berkeley Bell, also of Austin, were eliminated in the quarter-finals of the Pacific Southwest tourney today.

Two Southern California youths, Keith Gledhill and Ellsworth Vines, the same pair who yesterday eliminated two seeded contenders, figured prominently in the day's performances.

Vines put out Allison, seeded No. 1 star in the championship, 5—7, 6—3, 12—10, 7—5. Gledhill defeated Sidney Wood in straight sets, 6—2, 6—4, 14—12.

Gregory Mangin, one of the outstanding young stars from the East, scored the next upset when he beat Lott, 6—1, 6—3, 6—1, while Clifford Sutter, national intercollegiate champion, hammered his way to victory over Bell, 7—5, 6—3, 6—2.

FICUCELLO STOPS FOX IN 8TH ROUND

DE GRASSE BEATS FELDMAN

Ralph Ficucello, rugged South Brooklyn heavyweight, avenged his defeat by Marty Fox when he knocked out the east side boxer in the final round of the eight-round feature bout at the Queensboro Stadium last night. Fighting before a crowd of 6,000 persons, Ficucello wore down the man that outpointed him by a wide margin two months ago and weakened Fox with an unyielding body attack that finally showed results.

Fox held his rival on even terms until the seventh round, when he went down for a count of six just before the round ended. At the start of the eighth Ficucello swept his rival to the floor once more for a count of six, and was punishing him when Referee Danny Ridge stopped the proceedings. The winner weighed 188½, as against 181 for Fox.

They swapped blows willingly in the first two sessions, Fox staggering his opponent twice with fierce rights to the jaw. Ficucello returned the attack with a heavy body fire. In the third the Brooklyn battler sent Fox back with a strong body attack, but Fox was strong in the next two and landed often with his right.

Ficucello scored with lefts to the head in the sixth, and in the seventh dropped the east side boxer for a count of six with a right to the jaw. With the start of the eighth, Ficucello sailed into Fox and sent him to the floor once more for a count of six. When Fox arose he was groggy, and Referee Danny Ridge stopped the battle after thirty-four seconds.

Pee Wee Jarrell held Joey Harrison of Garfield, N. J., to a draw in an eight-round bout at the Queensboro Stadium last night. A crowd of 6,000 persons witnessed the battle. Jarrell weighed 146 an Harrison 147½.

Joe Spatola of Astoria knocked Eddie McKenna down twice to gain the decision in a six-round bout. Spatola weighed 145½ and McKenna 141.

Young Tiger Flowers, 202, Jamaica, outpointed Raoul Rodriguez, 204, of Spain in a four-rounder. Tom Bianci, 173, Brooklyn, gained the decision over Al White, 117, of Williamsburg in another four-rounder.

The four-round curtain-raiser was won by Vincent Rente, 118, Harlem, who defeated Freddie Lattanzio, 116½.

HOPPE IS DOUBLE VICTOR.

Defeats Bartell, 50-8, and Fisher, 50-23, at Three Cushions.

Willie Hoppe, meeting all comers in three-cushion billiards at the Strand Billiard Academy, turned in two victories yesterday. In the afternoon Hoppe defeated Frank Bartell, 50-8, in thirty innings, while in the evening he vanquished Sam Fisher, 50-23, in thirty-six innings. Hoppe had a high run of eight in each of the matches.

MISS ANDRUS GAINS IN TENNIS TOURNEY

MRS. STENZ ALSO VICTOR

BRONXVILLE, N. Five other women players, including the other three seeded stars, progressed into the quarter-final brackets. These include Mrs. Bernard Stenz, first seeded player now seeking her third consecutive victory in this tournament; Miss Norma Taubele, third in the draw and Miss Grace Surber, fourth on the list.

Mrs. Stenz vanquished Mrs. Rose Taubele, 6—0, 6—0, while Miss Taubele turned back Mrs. Elizabeth Rebold, 6—2, 6—4. Miss Surber was victorious over Mrs. John Bailey, 6—2, 6—4.

In the quarter-final matches tomorrow Mrs. Stenz will face Miss Adair Childress; Miss Surber will meet Mrs. Elsie Pritchard and Miss Carolyn Roberts will engage Miss Taubele. The winner of this last-named encounter will clash with Miss Andrus in the lower semi-final brackets.

Domestic Energy Sales Rising

While commercial and industrial energy sales decreased 154,092,000 kilowatt hours during the first seven months of this year, the decline was more than offset by an increase of 792,524,000 kilowatt hours in domestic energy sales for the same period.

The continually increasing demand for electricity for domestic purposes is serving to maintain central station output at record levels.

FINANCIAL MARKETS

Alternating Break and Recovery in Stocks—Wheat, Corn and Cotton Lower.

All markets presented the picture yesterday of another concerted attack by professional operators for the decline. Its effect on prices was, however, greatly offset, and in some markets quite defeated, by heavy buying orders put in both by "covering bears" and by other purchasers. The stock market ended at a lower level; but only after an exceptionally wide swing of prices, first downward and then up again. Wheat broke 2 cents further, but recovered 2⅜; corn declined 1⅜ cents and regained all the loss.

On the Stock Exchange, transactions rose to 3,442,000 shares, the largest business since the culminating day of the stock market crash in June. A week after that turn in the market, on the afternoon of June 23, daily transactions had fallen back again to barely 1,200,000 shares, but average prices on the Stock Exchange had recovered nearly 8 per cent from the lowest reached that day. The violence of yesterday's alternations may be judged from the number of shares which were driven down 8 tor 10 points but recovered 3 to 4 in the later trading.

Grain markets were shaken as violently as stocks, with the early break even more spectacular. Wheat for this month's delivery went at one time to 75⅝ cents a bushel. Since the low price of 1914 was 76½ on July 14, that year, yesterday fixed the record thus far in 1930 at the lowest in twenty-three and a half years. But this demonstration did not obscure the fact, visible even during the decline, that the grain market was beginning to look at facts and realities, not only in several more favorable aspects of the supply-and-demand position but in the matter of the Russian nightmare. While Secretary Hyde and the "farm-bureau federations" were still envisaging the mountain of Soviet wheat that is submerging the civilized world, the Chicago market was consulting authorities on the possible magnitude of Russian exports—with some resultant calming-down of excited feelings. It has been a highly interesting study in emotional finance.

No change of importance in the business panorama was shown by the mid-week surveys of the steel and railway industries. In each, as was to be expected, Autumn enlargement of the pace of activities made the comparison with August favorable. Steel production was estimated at 61 per cent of capacity as against 58 last week and 52 four weeks ago, the lowest of the period. The present percentage is the highest since last June. Loadings of railway freight reported for the second week of September exceeded by 31,600 cars the weekly average of August, an increase of 3¼ per cent. This is about the change which near approach of an Autumn season ought to bring.

But comparisons with the same week in other years are not much improved. The week's 61 per cent rate of steel production compares with 80 to 90 per cent at this time in 1929 and car-loadings, which in the whole of August fell below that month last year by 16⅝ per cent, are less for the September week by 16¼ per cent than in the same week of 1929. Freight traffic held up remarkably last Autumn, even after the crash in Wall Street. The momentum of old orders brought loadings in the middle of last October to the third highest weekly record in our history, just as the weekly loadings in November, 1920, reached the highest figure then on record. In three or four months we shall have a curiously different basis of comparison. By the year-end we shall know whether we are doing better or worse than when the railway industry first felt the force of the Autumn shock.

CANADIANS ARE OPTIMISTIC.

Bank of Montreal Senses Business Confidence in Spite of Declines.

Growing confidence that business will be better is pointed out as the encouraging factor in the latest summary of business conditions in Canada issued by the Bank of Montreal. The report says that this confidence persists in spite of the fact that the decline in commodity prices appears not to have been checked, and continues:

"Some large undertakings are under way, such as the Canadian National Railway terminal in Montreal, and extensive water power development in Quebec, Ontario and the Western Provinces. President Beatty has declared the intention of the Canadian Pacific Railway to proceed with a building program that ordinarily might be deferred for a year or two. Greater industrial activity may reasonably be expected to follow upon the tariff revision, and the beneficial ramifications of industrial activity are wide. Foreign market conditions remain unfavorable to the export trade in farm products, minerals and manufactures, and until this condition alters, enlarged operations may be confined to domestic markets."

Corn Bank Denies Merger Rumors.

In a letter to stockholders of the Corn Exchange Bank Trust Company, Walter E. Frew, chairman of the bank, has declared that reports of merger negotiations between the Corn Exchange and other institutions which have recently been circulated have no basis in fact. Should the time come, the letter says, when directors and officers of the company feel that a change in policy should be made, stockholders will be informed. In the meantime they are urged to put no credit in such rumors.

TOPICS IN WALL STREET.

News, Comment and Incident, On the Stock Exchange and In the Financial Markets.

After two hours of aggressive selling, with attendant dismay in Wall Street, the stock market turned sharply about in the last twenty minutes of trading yesterday and undid a good deal of the damage that had been wrought. There was not time enough to retrace all of the ground lost, but the late rally was vigorous and broad, suggesting that the professional speculators who were blamed for the violent decline between 12 and 2 o'clock were retreating from their position. The general list on the Stock Exchange suffered serious losses, the final quotations disclosing net declines of from 1 to 10 points in active issues, after a recovery of possibly 30 per cent in the late trading. Trading was heavier than on any day in the last three months, the Stock Exchange reporting a total volume of 3,442,230 shares. The average price of fifty representative stocks showed a net loss of $3.28 on the day.

Explaining the Decline.

Probably because Vanadium led the downturn on the Stock Exchange in the early afternoon yesterday, it was easy for Wall Street to accept rumors relating to the "collapse of a big pool" in that stock. Actually, there was no information to support the rumor, but Vanadium broke so violently it was studied as the possible key to the general unsettlement. The stock swung between a high of 80⅝ and a low of 66, closing at 70 with a net loss of 10⅛ points. United States Steel touched a low of 158¼, but rallied to 161¼, at which it closed. American Can closed at 123¾ after hitting a low of 120⅝. The low for J. I. Case was 150¾, against a high of 160¾ and a closing price of 154. Anaconda, which was heavily sold, fell from a high of 42½ to a low of 38⅞, closing at 39¾ with a net loss of 2⅞. Allied Chemical swung within an arc of 11⅛ points, but at the close was 4 points below the final level of the day before. The late rally on the Stock Exchange coincided closely with the closing burst of strength in the wheat market.

Dividend Gossip.

The Burlington was yesterday made the subject of optimistic conjecture in respect to dividends. It was suggested the road might increase its dividend today in order that their holdings in the road might recoup the Great Northern and Northern Pacific from their recently lowered revenues.

The Great Gold Crisis.

The impending gold shortage, like reports of the death of Mark Twain, is greatly exaggerated, according to bankers here. The view held by most American bankers is that while there is some maldistribution of gold at the present time there is no convincing evidence as yet that the world faces an acute shortage of gold. In any case, it is remarked, economies in the use of gold which have lately been developed and which are capable of much further extension should be sufficient to prevent serious results arising from a decline in gold production. These economies consist chiefly in the substitution of checks and other instruments of credit for uses where currency was formerly employed. The resultant reduction in currency circulation naturally lowers the amount of gold required for currency reserves. Cooperation among central banks, which has been increasing during late years, offers other opportunities for economizing in the use of gold.

Recoveries in German Bonds.

German bonds of all descriptions enjoyed a substantial recovery yesterday. One has only to look back a fortnight or two to match this situation with that of the performances of the markets for Argentine and Peruvian issues. Since the movements of foreign bonds are governed far more by sentiment than are domestic corporation issues, for example, it is quite natural to expect fluctuations in prices of the former on strictly political news. But after all, the fact should not be lost sight of, bankers said, that every nation of importance guards its credit jealously.

Steel Reviews Bullish.

The weekly steel reviews indicated not only that the improvement in the industry had been well sustained but the price structure was a little firmer for the first time in more than a year. Ordinarily, such constructive developments in the steel industry would be considered as distinctly helpful to securities, but one explanation for the weakness of the market after the publication of this constructive news, yesterday, was that a drive by the bearish element was timed so as to counteract the effect of the improvement in the steel industry.

Ripley on Railroads.

The latest pronouncement of Professor William Z. Ripley on railroads served yesterday to show the change in consolidation philosophy which has taken place in ten years. When a decade ago the Interstate Commerce Commission was directed by law to prepare a plan of consolidation, there was a feeling that unification would be largely valuable to keep small roads in operation. Although the railroads are in the best condition of their history and succeeded last year in earning record revenues, Professor Ripley holds that steadily increasing competition from new forms of transportation makes it evident that consolidation is necessary in trunk-line territory "in order that the railroads may not only stand firmly on their feet but also that they may be enabled to run."

Copper Shares Break Sharply.

Unsettlement in the leading copper issues, which declined to the lowest levels reached in several years, was partly responsible for the general weakness of the market yesterday. Anaconda and Kennecott led the decline, on reports that custom smelters had again reduced the price of copper a quarter of a cent to 10¼ cents a pound. Rumors of further dividend reductions in the copper group were also current.

MONEY.

Wednesday, Sept. 24, 1930.

Rates and conditions in the money market remained much the same as they have been since the opening of the week. The undertone appears soft, and funds are in ample supply, but actually only a minimum of business has been reported. Stock Exchange day loans were again 2 per cent, while counter trades were done at 1¼. Maturity money ranged from 2¼ to 3 per cent for the near and distant dates, with commercial paper and acceptance markets steady but unchanged in discount.

INDUSTRIAL OUTPUT HAD NO AUGUST RISE

SOME INDUSTRIES IMPROVE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—The summary of general business and financial conditions for August and the first part of September made public today by the Federal Reserve Board showed little evidence of stimulation of activities. Industrial production as a whole, the board said, was in the same volume in August as in July, "contrary to the usual upward trend at this season, although there were seasonal increases in activity in a number of basic industries."

Factory employment and payrolls, the board added, declined further, but the general level of commodity prices at wholesale, which had declined continuously for a year, remained unchanged between July and August. This check of the downward course was the result chiefly of advances in important agricultural staples.

The board's index of industrial production, which makes allowance for seasonal variations, continued to decline in August. Production of automobiles, pig iron, lumber and sugar decreased, and there was a reduction in the consumption of cotton and wool.

In the bituminous coal and silk industries, there was less increase than is usual at this season, while in steel, cement, flour, and shoes the increase was slightly more than seasonal. During the first two weeks of September, activity at steel plants increased, but a further reduction in output of automobiles was reported.

Construction Ebbs Slightly.

Building contracts awarded, as reported to the F. W. Dodge Corporation, the board said, were in slightly smaller volume during August. Residential building contracts continued small. During the first two weeks in September awards averaged about the same as in August.

At the middle of August, the latest date for which figures are available, the board said, the number of wage earners employed in factories and the volume of factory payrolls were smaller than in the middle of July. There were decreases in employment in the iron and steel and cotton textile industries and at foundries and machine shops, automobile plants and sawmills. Substantial seasonal increases occurred in the canning and preserving, bituminous coal mining and clothing industries.

Sept. 1 estimates by the Department of Agriculture, the board continued, indicate a corn crop of 1,983,000,000 bushels, about 700,000,000 bushels less than the five-year average; a Spring wheat crop of 240,000,000 bushels, slightly larger than last year's unusually small crop, making the total wheat crop about equal to the five-year average; and a crop of oats of about the usual size. Condition of pastures on Sept. 1 was reported to be unusually poor. The cotton crop is expected to be about 14,340,000 bales, nearly 500,000 bales less than last year.

Freight Shipments Rise.

Volume of freight shipped by rail increased by slightly less than the usual seasonal amount during August. Sales of department stores were larger than in July, but continued considerably smaller than a year ago.

There were increases during August in prices of many agricultural products, especially meats, live stock and grains, while the price of cotton decreased. Prices of mineral and forest products and of imported raw materials and their manufactures in general declined, with the principal exception of silk. The Bureau of Labor statistics index of wholesale prices showed no change from the preceding month.

During the first half of September there were pronounced declines in prices of wheat, corn, hogs, pork and rubber. Prices of cotton and woolen textiles remained fairly stable, while those of hides and coffee increased.

Between Aug. 20 and Sept. 17 there was an increase in member banks holdings of investments and in their loans on securities, while all other loans, which include loans for commercial purposes, declined, contrary to the usual seasonal trend. The volume of reserve banks credit outstanding showed a growth for the period but the increase was relatively small. The increase was in holdings of acceptances, offset in part by a further decline in discounts for member banks to the lowest level since 1917.

Money rates continued at low levels during August and the first half of September, and the yield on high grade bonds declined further.

SAYS EUROPE LOOKS TO US.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—Frederick M. Sackett, Ambassador to Germany, who is here on leave, said today that Europe was looking to the United States to start the recovery from the world-wide economic depression.

The Ambassador, who is to return to his post next month, conferred with Joseph P. Cotton, Acting Secretary of State, and William R. Castle Jr., Assistant Secretary, and was understood to have said that the common sense of the German people would bring them out of their difficulties following the recent election. He emphasized their progress made in eight years.

Conditions in Germany, he said, were much the same as elsewhere in the world. Business was slow and there was a good deal of unemployment but he was confident that the character of the German people would enable them to overcome their present obstacles.

Denies Central Bankers Plan Parley

At the Federal Reserve Bank of New York reports that a general conference of central bankers was to be held here this Fall were declared yesterday to be without foundation. Dr. Hans Luther, head of the Reichsbank, is expected to confer with Federal Reserve officials later in the year, as he recently announced in Berlin, and one other central banker from a smaller institution is also expected. Apart from these two visits, however, no central bankers are scheduled to come to this country in the next few months.

RIPLEY SEES FUSION AS RAILS' SALVATION

Harvard Professor Contends Trunk-Line Mergers Must Come if Roads Are to Run.

NEW COMPETITION CITED

Highways, Waterways, Pipe Lines, Electric Power and Airplanes Viewed as Menaces.

Consolidation in trunk-line territory is required if the railroads are to continue to operate, Professor William Z. Ripley of Harvard University declares in an article published in World's Work today, which is said to be the most outspoken statement of its kind since the Interstate Commerce Commission announced its unification plan last December. He approves several mergers proposed in the commission's plan.

Professor Ripley amends views that he embodied in the tentative plan of consolidation he prepared for the commission nearly ten years ago. He approves important features of the Baltimore & Ohio and Chesapeake & Ohio proposed mergers; which were supported also in the commission's recent plan. He does not discuss the fifth system based on the Wabash, which the commission proposes and which he had previously condemned together with the commission's proposed combination of lines that would overlap existing rate-schedule areas.

Professor Ripley outlines new forms of competition which he believes threaten the railroads, and he concludes with the warning:

"It is quite simple to demonstrate the soundness and inevitability of consolidation in trunk-line territory in order that the railroads may not only stand firmly on their feet, but also that they may be enabled to run."

Menaces to Railroads Outlined.

He instances as menaces to the railways the highways, waterways, pipe lines for gas and oil and the electric superpower systems. Airways he describes as "largely potentialities except for special passenger traffic." To show the extent of competition he cites the incorporation of a $200,000,000 motor speedway between New York and New Haven for which an extension to Boston is proposed, the $100,000,000 increase in Federal highway aid contained in President Hoover's program and "an initial annual appropriation bill of $145,000,000 in a fifteen-year (waterways) program which will ultimately cost the United States more than the entire construction of the Panama Canal."

According to the Harvard man, pipe lines carrying oil and natural gas and the superpower systems are injuring the railways not only by by transporting oil that the railways otherwise would carry, but also by providing substitutes for coal and thereby cutting railway coal traffic.

Professor Ripley approves the recent acquisition of the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh and of the Buffalo & Susquehanna by the Baltimore & Ohio, which acquisitions were not contemplated in his plan of ten years ago. He extends his approval to the B. & O.'s plan to build a line from Williamsport to the B. & S., which would cut the B. & O. route from Chicago to New York by eighty miles.

B. & O. Merger Plan Praised.

Of the B. & O. merger plan he says:

"Its completion will be an achievement of primary importance to the nation and at the same time a tribute to Daniel Willard, one of the fairest, ablest and most far-seeing railroad presidents of our time."

Noting the B. & O.'s proposal to acquire the Reading and Jersey Central, Professor Ripley asks:

"Why may not the New York Central, as an offset for giving up its interest in the Reading to Willard, be given trackage rights over the new Baltimore & Ohio line?"

Professor Ripley approves in his latest statement the merger of the Erie and the Nickel Plate, although in his earlier plan he made the Erie one system and the Nickel Plate and Lehigh Valley another. All his new findings are in line with the commission's final plan.

Shifts His Northwestern Views.

Professor Ripley approves also the merger of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific, although he previously suggested merging the Great Northern with the Milwaukee and the Northern Pacific with the Burlington. In its final plan, the commission made the Burlington an independent system and merged the Northern lines.

He condemns the pending application of the Southern Pacific to acquire the St. Louis Southwestern because, he contends, the merger "would greatly invigorate a roundabout route." The Southern Pacific has already bought control of the Cotton Belt. The commission's plan allocated the Cotton Belt to the Illinois Central.

Professor Ripley asserts that if economies derived from a merger mean only enhanced returns to private stockholders, or if they are used solely to improve service without reward to capital, two results would follow the merger:

"For in the one case the public will end it through public ownership," says Professor Ripley. "In the other, efficiency will dry up through capital anemia." He would insure that "a fifty-fifty divvy-up obtain."

Stock Exchange Petition Asks Triple Columbus Day Holiday

A petition to close the New York Stock Exchange on Saturday, Oct. 11, the day preceding Columbus Day, is being circulated among members, it was learned yesterday. If the custom of recent years is followed, approval of the petition would result in a triple holiday, since Columbus Day will be observed on Monday.

RAIL CHIEFS DEBATE SECOND-CLASS FARES

Pre-War Rates May Be Resumed in a Move to Offset Competition of Buses.

CHICAGO, Sept. 24. — Another movement toward lower passenger fares and faster service by American railways appeared in the offing today. There were also some indications that second-class passenger fares, which were abolished under government war-time control of the railroads in 1918, may be permanently restored.

Recently many of the railroads have been conducting numerous low-fare excursions to offset growing competition from the bus lines. Such excursions apparently have proved so popular that railroad officials have about concluded that cheaper permanent fares will restore their passenger traffic, which has constantly dwindled in the last few years.

The Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe started the ball rolling today by announcing that low-rate coach fares will be continued next month between Chicago and Middle West points and California. For example, the fare from Chicago is $47.50 to California destinations, compared with the regular one-way fare of $79.50.

"The low-coach fares have been tried during the Summer months and have proved so popular that extra cars have been added to all trains," a statement authorized by W. J. Black, passenger traffic manager, said. "This has resulted in a determination to continue the rates beyond the time set for their expiration. This move may mean that the new basis of passenger fares may prevail throughout the year and possibly permanent re-establishment of second-class passenger fares."

In line with the recent movement of Eastern railroads to speed up passenger service between Chicago and New York, the Nickel Plate announced another train with running time under twenty-three hours, beginning next Sunday. To speed up travel between Chicago and Milwaukee the North Shore Line on Sunday will cut the running time of four fast trains to one hour and fifty minutes.

Return on Investment for Class I Roads Put at 3.61%, Against 5.52% a Year Before.

Special to The New York Times.

ATLANTIC CITY, Sept. 24.—R. H. Aishton, chairman of the executive committee of the Association of Railway Executives, reported to the advisory committee at the organization's meeting here today that capital expenditures by the Class I railroads in the first six months of 1930 for new equipment and additions and betterments to property totaled $468,305,000. This amount was $118,000,000 above that in the same period of 1929, although railway traffic so far in 1930 has been less than in any corresponding period since 1924, and railway earnings have been greatly reduced, the report said. The rate of return in the first six months this year was only 3.61 per cent on property investment compared with 5.52 per cent last year.

Class I railroads in the half-year expended $187,486,000 for new equipment and $280,819,000 for roadway and structures. They installed 49,208 freight train cars, 16,414 above the number in the same period in 1929, placed in service 1,009 passenger trains, a decrease of 551, and installed 441 locomotives, compared with 319.

On July 1 the railroads had 24,649 freight cars on order, compared with 39,638 a year before; passenger cars on order, 587, compared with 740, and new locomotives on order, 364, against 386.

Capital expenditures actually made for locomotives in the first six months this year amounted to $41,251,000; for freight cars, $116,012,000; for passenger cars, $21,663,000; for additional main track, yards and sidings, $52,634,000; for heavier rails, $28,933,000; for shops and engine houses, including machinery and tools, $15,888,000; for station facilities and office buildings, $47,641,000; for bridges, trestles and culverts, $28,975,000; for additional ballast, $6,151,000; for signals and interlockers, including telegraph and telephone lines, automatic train control and other signal devices, $20,023,000, and for all other improvements, $80,574,000.

New financing totaling $23,000,000 for the Chicago District Electric Generating Corporation, formerly known as the State Line Generating Company, will be carried out today with the offering of an issue of $15,000,000 first mortgage 4½ per cent bonds, series A, due on Sept. 1, 1970, and an issue of $8,000,000 5½ per cent debentures, due on Oct. 1, 1935. Proceeds of this financing will be used for refunding of two issues of notes of the predecessor company, one of $14,000,000 5½s, due on Dec. 1, 1930, and the other of $7,000,000 5½s, due on May 1, 1931.

Halsey, Stuart & Co., Inc., will place both of the new issues on the market today, the first mortgage bonds at 95, to yield more than 4.78 per cent, and the debentures at par. Net earnings of the company for the year ended on June 30, before depreciation, amounted to $2,632,284, compared with annual interest charges of $1,115,000 on the total funded debt to be presently outstanding.

The company furnishes power at wholesale under long-term contracts to the Commonwealth Edison Company, the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois, the Northern Indiana Public Service Company and the Interstate Public Service Company. Operations of the company are controlled by a board of directors representing the four contracting companies.

The company has constructed and is operating a new advanced type of generating station on the shore of Lake Michigan, immediately east of the Illinois-Indiana State line. The first unit has been in operation about a year and the second will be completed in 1932 and the third the following year.

Chicago & North Western Seeks Authority of the I. C. C.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—The Chicago & North Western Railway Company today petitioned the Interstate Commerce Commission for authority to sell $12,000,000 of 4½ per cent first and refunding mortgage gold bonds, Series C, now held in the carrier's treasury, to Kuhn, Loeb & Co., of New York City at 97½ per cent of par.

Selection

When stock market averages are not getting anywhere and when most businesses are in the doldrums, there are always some companies progressing.

The stock market is selective, and business, like the market, is always composed of cross currents. Painstaking selection of investments, whether bonds or stocks, is at all times vital to the most effective employment of investment funds.

ARGENTINA FLOATS NEW ISSUE OF NOTES

Instead of Extension on $50,000,000 Advance, New Group Will Handle Loan.

INTEREST WILL BE AT 5%

Bids for Long-Term Bonds Are Also Refused to Allow Sale of Notes to Run a Year.

The Argentine Government, instead of exercising its option for a six months' renewal of a loan of $50,000,000 with a banking group headed by the Chatham Phenix Corporation, the security affiliate of the Chatham Phenix National Bank and Trust Company, has awarded an issue of notes in the same amount, to mature in one year, to a syndicate comprising Brown Brothers & Co., Bonbright & Co., Inc., and the New York Trust Company. In addition to bids from the Brown Brothers and Chatham Phenix Groups, tenders also were made by a syndicate headed by the Chase Securities Corporation and by London bankers.

The new issue will be used to refund a like amount that matures on Oct. 1. This latter issue, consisting of six months' 5 per cent notes, was marketed by the Chatham Phenix group at par. The new issue also will carry a 5 per cent interest rate, but on account of the longer maturity probably will be offered on a 4.50 per cent basis.

It is understood that in addition to rejecting bids for the loan to run for six months, the Argentine Government declined bids for a long-term bond issue. The interest cost to the Argentine Government is reported to be 5 per cent net. The Argentine Government must soon meet a maturity of $25,000,000 on a loan held in London.

As the market for foreign bond issues has been somewhat irregular in recent weeks, most South American nations in need of funds have issued short-term notes, with the prospect of refunding them by long-term bond issues when market conditions become more favorable.

FAIR RECOVERIES IN GERMAN BONDS

Foreign Group in General Shows Irregularity in Active Trading on Stock Exchange.

Moderate recoveries in German Government, municipal and corporation loans featured dealings in the listed bond market yesterday. Foreign loans as a group, however, showed considerable irregularity in fairly active trading. Leading domestic railroad and public utility mortgages continued firm, with a number of issues moving up slightly to further new highs for the year to date. Industrial issues showed only few changes of importance.

German Government International 5½s of 1965 recovered 1½ points and German Government 7s of 1949, 1⅜ points. City of Cologne 6½s of 1950 climbed 2⅝ points. City of Berlin 6½s of 1950 and the 6s of 1958, 1 point and ½ point, respectively. City of Leipzig 7s of 1947 moved up 2 points. The principal loser for the day in the German group was German General Electric 6½s of 1940, with warrants, off 4 points to a new low at 103.

The heavy institutional demand for railroad and public utility issues legal for investment by savings banks in this State, was again in evidence yesterday, with the heaviest trading in the rails. Among the principal changes in industrial bonds was a 5-point drop in Marion Steam Shovel 6s of 1947 to within a point of the year's low to date, and a loss of 2½ points in Fisk Rubber 8s.

United States Government obligations were firm. Closing prices were 3-32 point higher to 1-32 lower. The heaviest trading took place in the fourth Liberty 4¼s, which finished unchanged.

URGES BOND BUYING BY RESERVE BOARD

Trade Executives, Meeting in Ontario, Are Warned Against Inertia.

Special to The New York Times.

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., Sept. 24.—The hope that the Federal Reserve Board would at once enter upon large-scale open-market operations, and buy up, by the end of the year, $250,000,000 in securities, in order to end deflation by forcing up the foreign and domestic bond markets, was expressed at Niagara Falls, Ont., today, by Dr. Virgil Jordon, economist of the McGraw-Hill Publications of New York.

Addressing the 400 delegates at the annual convention of the American Trade Association Executives, Dr. Jordon declared that he saw no elemental obstacles to prompt recovery of normal business activity in the United States, "except the persistently passive open-market policy of the Federal Reserve Banks, and the inertia of organized business leadership."

"Even though the Reserve authorities may be able, if they will, to check over-expansion of credit and business and nip inflation in the bud, it is still highly problematical whether they are able to overcome depression by forcing credit into use when the business community and the public are in the grip of inertia, excessive caution and fear. * * *

"The first and essential step in this effort is for the organized trades to make what may be called a decisive declaration of independence and self-reliance. They must free themselves in the first place from the deflation complex that has caught business initiative and energy everywhere in its paralyzing grip. * * *

"They must cut loose, once for all, from the political leading strings of the Great Father and nursemaids in Washington, learn to stand on their own feet, and take the interpretations of the world, the alarms and excursions, the threats and blandishments that come from that source, with condiments of common sense. * * *

"The main fields in which it is necessary at this moment to face the facts freshly and open-mindedly are in questions of forward buying of raw materials, of price policies, of improvement of products, of replacement and improvement of equipment, of wage adjustment and cost reduction, of corporation financial policies, of market development and extension, and of control of capacity."

In his opening address, M. L. Hemingway of New York, president of the association, emphasized the importance of trade associations in stimulating the revival of business.

He read a message from Secretary Lamont to the convention.

The convention is the first in the history of the organization to be held outside the United States.

Will Get $1,000,000 From National City Bank to Meet Obligations.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PANAMA CITY, Sept. 24.—The Government of Panama signed a contract today for a loan of $1,000,000 from the National City Bank, according to a report in El Tiempo tonight which stated it had been approved by the Cabinet and would be sent to the Assembly for approval, probably tomorrow.

El Tiempo says the proceeds will be used to pay a debt to the local branch of the National City Bank of $200,000 advanced for purchase of equipment for the Puerto Armuelles Railway, pay an overdraft of $500,000 on the National Bank of the Republic and make possible the payment of government bills held up because of lack of funds.

Although, according to El Tiempo, the terms were kept secret, the newspaper asserts the contract contains a clause restricting further loans by the government, which now has a foreign debt of $20,000,000.

GREATER GOOD-WILL FOR CORPORATIONS

...... resulting from public access to their investment securities

Customer-Ownership has become of the utmost significance. The vitalizing force of broad public investing is demonstrated daily in hundreds of corporations. Markets are enlarged, a public reception is prepared for new products or services. Corporate identity is established, good-will etched deeply in the public mind.

But how can the sound corporation of moderate size enter today upon this new, vital phase of modern business? How, starting in these crowded times, can it still obtain unobstructed access to public investing?

Obviously, the times have demanded an additional open market for securities . . . a place where buying and selling can compete on equal terms under strict regulations safeguarding both parties in every transaction . . . where the "ticker" instantly makes known prevailing prices . . . where fair established commissions are charged.

This . . . an additional Securities Market in New York for worthy issues not listed on other New York exchanges . . . has been provided by the long-established New York Produce Exchange.

Smooth, rapid conduct of the vital business of investing is here assured through the complete equipment provided. This Securities Market has sprung full-fledged from the resources of the Produce Exchange.

More than a half-century of exchange experience dictates the regulations in behalf of investors and reflects to the credit of the corporations whose securities are here presented to the public.

Thus, corporations which realize the advantages in identifying their issues with an orderly organized procedure of investment have now the opportunity of applying for listing on this Securities Market under the auspices of America's oldest incorporated exchange.

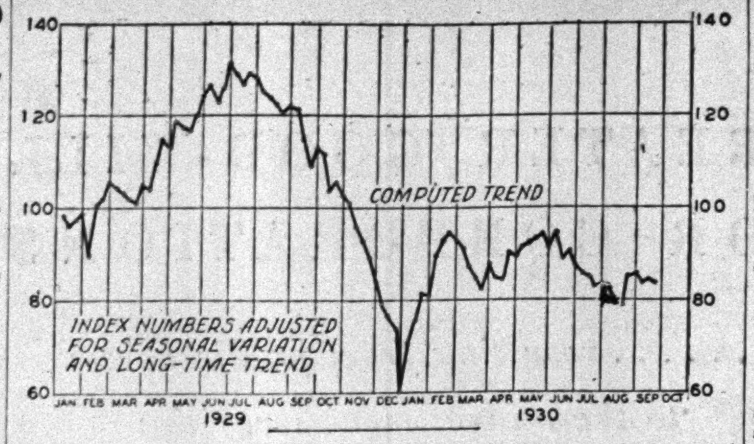
Gain in Steel Operations Less Than Seasonal; Index Recedes to Level of Three Weeks Ago



The steel index continues to fluctuate within a narrow range. For last week it shows a slight recession to the level of three weeks ago, the current figure being 83.6 as compared with 84.6 for the week ended Sept. 13, 83.6 for the week ended Sept. 6 and 108.3 for the week ended Sept. 21, 1929. There was a gain in the actual rate of operations by the United States Steel Corporation, but the increase was less than the usual seasonal gain and the adjusted index declined.

For last week, however, the situation was perhaps a trifle better than indicated by the current movement of the index because the independent mills, and hence the entire steel industry, showed a much sharper gain than the Steel Corporation. Usually fluctuations of the Steel Corporation and the independents are closely parallel.

The Iron Age reports a better demand for steel products and this is tentatively confirmed by the action of steel scrap prices in holding comparatively firm in the last two weeks despite the usual seasonal lull in demand which sets in ordinarily about the middle of September.

NEW RAY AIDS STEEL MEN.

Penetrates Ten Inches of Metal Experts Say at Chicago.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 24.—A discovery heralded as of wide importance in the steel industry by which X-ray photographs can be taken through solid steel ten inches in thickness was revealed today at the twelfth annual national metal exposition.

The new method is the result of intensive efforts by R. F. Mehle, G. E. Doan and C. S. Barrett of the Naval Research laboratory in Washington. Their findings were presented in a joint paper.

"One of the greatest problems of the steel industry is to locate cracks or defects inside of the metal," they said. "Heretofore we have been able to penetrate only four inches of plate by the X-ray.

"Our new method is to take radon, the gas which radium continually throws off, trap it in a tube, surround the tube with glass and then group the steel castings on the outside. The rays pass through ten inches of metal with sufficient strength to make usable photographs."

The 1931 meeting will be in Boston, it was announced.

J. M. Watson of Detroit is the new president, succeeding Robert G. Guthrie of Chicago. The new vice president is A. H. D'Arcambal of New Haven, Conn., and the secretary is W. H. Eisenman of Cleveland.

IMPROVING STEEL PLANT.

Jones and Laughlin Spending $8,400,000 on Pittsburgh Units.

Special to The New York Times.

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 24.—The Jones & Laughlin Steel Corporation is spending $8,400,000 for improvements to three plants within the city property here, it was revealed today.

The chief improvement is a new electrically driven rolling mill which will be the last word in efficient production of high-quality steel bars, it was said. Another improvement is a modern boiler and power plant for the new bar mill and other units on both sides of the Monongahela River. An extension to the Hazelwood blooming mill involving the expenditure of a large sum of money is also under way.

STEEL TESTIMONY CLOSES.

Youngstown Trial Adjourned for Preparation of Briefs.

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio, Sept. 24 (AP).—The long court battle to prevent the $1,000,000,000 merger of Bethlehem Steel Corporation and Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company closed today, as far as testimony was concerned, three months to a day after the trial opened.

The trial began on the morning of June 25 and the defense rested today in the afternoon of Sept. 24.

Court adjourned with a recess today to permit the lawyers to prepare briefs. The attorneys are expected to return Oct. 20 for arguments, following which Judge David G. Jenkins, presiding, is expected to take several weeks to prepare his decision.

SEES INGOT OUTPUT GAIN.

Dow Jones & Co. Puts Production at 60%—Independents Improve.

Steel ingot production in the week ended last Monday is estimated at a shade above 60 per cent by Dow Jones & Co. This compares with estimates of a fraction under 58 per cent in the preceding week and 56 per cent two weeks previous, by the same company. The estimate attributes the principal improvement to the upward tendency in the past two weeks of the smaller independents, which did little in July and August, and continues:

"For the United States Steel Corporation, the rate for the past week is placed at about 66 per cent, contrasted witht a shade under 65 per cent in the preceding week and around 63 per cent two weeks ago. Independent steel companies are estimated at a fraction over 56 per cent, against slightly better than 52 per cent in the previous week and under 51 per cent two weeks ago.

"At this time last year operations were declining. There was a drop of 2½ per cent in the Steel Corporation's rate to 88 per cent, while independents were off 2 per cent at 79 per cent, and the average was down over 2 per cent to nearly 83 per cent.

"In the third week of September, 1928, there were substantial increases 5 per cent. All units were placed at in activities, the Steel Corporation showing a gain of 6 per cent, independents 4 per cent and the average 85 per cent of theoretical capacity."

Gets Large Wrought-Iron Order.

The General Bronze Corporation has received one of the largest orders for Swedish wrought-iron work that ever has been placed. It covers the lobby and elevator entrances, grilles, railings and decorative fittings for the new twenty-seven-story Brooklyn building of the New York Telephone Company.

Gets $2,000,000 Steel Orders.

E. J. Kulas, president of the Midland Steel Products Company, announced yesterday that the company had received orders totaling approximately $2,000,000 from two large automobile producers.

COPPER AGAIN DECLINES.

Custom Smelters Lower Price ¼ Cent to 10¼ Cents a Pound.

The price of copper, which has declined steadily since last April, softened again yesterday, when it was reported that custom smelters were offering the metal at 10¼ cents a pound, a quarter of a cent under the established domestic price. Leading producers continued to ask 10½ cents a pound for copper, while the export price remained at 10.80 cents, c. i. f., European base ports.

The price of 10¼ cents is the lowest level at which copper has been offered in more than thirty years. It compares with a price of 18 cents a pound which held for a year until last April. During the persistent decline in the price of the metal since last Spring, reductions have invariably been presaged by shading of quotations by the custom smelters.

ADVANCE CONTINUES IN STEEL INDUSTRY

PRICE CONCESSIONS FEWER

Growing Interest in Forward Buying Stiffens Quotations on Finished Products.

While none of the major outlets for steel, such as the railroads or the automotive industry, as a group, is displaying noteworthy interest in the market, improvement in demand, although not rapid, is sustained, according to the reviews of the week by the trade papers. The aggregate of moderate, unrelated demand is encouraging and is maintaining a cheerful sentiment, they say, although much of the betterment is represented by future commitments rather than orders for current shipment.

Steel says in part:

"Inquiry for heavy steel in Chicago is the largest in six weeks, and 50,000 tons of structural work is developing. As Western railroads begin shaping up their budgets for 1931 prospects for track material needs are more favorable. Wire and products are moving better in the Northwest.

"In the East an important steel producer has booked 15 per cent more tonnage in the first twenty days of September than in August. In spite of slack automotive interest, improvement in the sheet, strip and cold-finished bar markets at Pittsburgh continues. Implement manufacturers are releasing more fourth-quarter bars.

"As for several weeks, the price situation is a source of strength for steel producers. It still is true that actual advances are rare and there are no illusions concerning third-quarter earnings reports, due next month, but concessions are disappearing and increasingly are large consumers endeavoring to cover ahead.

"In pig iron the same inclination of consumers to cover ahead is apparent and in most districts it is believed present quotations represent bottom. An exception is Pittsburgh, explained by the fact that a lack of demand has prevented adjustments long in process in other districts. An inquiry at Pittsburgh for 10,000 tons of basic has developed a price of $17, valley, a reduction of $1, while foundry, malleable and Bessemer have sold 50 cents down in small lots.

"Cleveland blast furnaces have sold 16,000 tons of iron the past week, duplicating the week previous, while sales at New York totaled 13,000 tons. Improvement also is noted at Buffalo. A sale of 5,000 tons of basic is reported at Chicago.

"Steelmaking operations are fractionally weaker, averaging about 57 for the industry. Pittsburgh and Chicago mills at 55 per cent, Buffalo at 53, Cleveland at 50 and Eastern Pennsylvania at 58 are unchanged. Birmingham mills have curtailed from 55 per cent to 50, and Youngstown mills are at 57 per cent, against 58."

The Iron Age says in part:

"The full extent of the gain in steel releases has been obscured by the tardy response of ingot output to expanding rolling mill schedules. Current steel ingot output, at 61 per cent, compares with 58 per cent in the two previous weeks. Earlier in the month, and probably also in August, raw steel production was a step ahead of finishing requirements. With this disparity removed, further increases in finished steel business should find quicker reflection in steel furnace operations.

"The growing interest in forward buying has had the effect of stiffening finished steel prices. Efforts of buyers to cover their requirements through the first quarter or first half of next year have met with little success, since mills are disinclined to quote for delivery beyond Jan. 1. On fourth quarter business, as well as orders for immediate shipment, producers are insisting on better prices than were recently current. This is particularly true of black and blue annealed sheets, on which one producer has advanced quotations $1 a ton. Among the heavier rolled products, bars are showing greater strength, with 1.65 cents a pound, Pittsburgh, more commonly quoted. In the East, structural shapes are up $1 a ton to 1.70 cents a pound, Bethlehem.

"The gain in steel bookings has come largely without the aid of the automobile industry and the railroads, two of the largest consumers. Considerable business that has been deferred during the Summer is now coming into the market. Indications are that consumers' stocks, in many cases, had been so badly depleted that replenishment was imperative. Now that replacement buying has become general and the tone of prices is improving, the incentive to hold stocks to the minimum is disappearing."

Belated reductions at Pittsburgh lower the market composite of Steel 8 cents, to $32.56, giving September an average of $32.63.

CALLS WICKWIRE HOLDINGS.

Committee Urges Deposit of Securities Under Reorganization Plan.

Holders of securities of the Wickwire Spencer Steel Company were requested yesterday by a committee headed by Frederick W. Allen to deposit their holdings on or before Nov. 15, under a plan for the reorganization of the company. The committee asked for the deposit of Wickwire Spencer Steel Corporation first mortgage 7 per cent sinking fund gold bonds and prior lien collateral and refunding mortgage 7 per cent convertible gold bonds, series A; five-year 7 per cent class A notes and five-year 7 per cent class B notes.

The notice says there is now deposited under or subjected to the amended plan of reorganization, dated July 28, 1929, $9,445,000 face amount, or more than 80 per cent of the bonds, and that while a substantial majority of the other securities also has been deposited, additional deposits will be necessary before the plan can be made operative.

STRUCTURAL STEEL DOWN.

Week's Awards of 21,000 Tons Smallest Since July.

Construction projects launched in the past week require a total of more than 37,000 tons of fabricated steel, according to The Iron Age. The publication continues:

"Included in this total were 8,000 tons for an office building in Washington for use of the House of Representatives, 7,000 tons in a penitentiary on Riker's Island, New York; 5,000 tons for rebuilding the State Street Bridge in Chicago, and 5,000 tons in a building for the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company in Los Angeles.

"Awards of fabricated steel totaled only 21,000 tons, the smallest since early in July. Included were 2,500 tons in a building for the Fidelity National Bank and Trust Company, Kansas City, Mo.; 2,000 tons in an apartment building at 422 East Eighty-sixth Street, New York; 1,100 tons in an apartment building at Eighty-second Street and West End Avenue, New York, and 3,000 tons in an office building in Montreal."

MOVEMENT IRREGULAR IN UNLISTED STOCKS

Late Profit-Taking Absorbs Early Gains—Bank Shares Erratic, Insurance Issues Steady.

Unlisted securities trading yesterday was irregular. Early trading was marked by firmness and enlarged volume, but profit-taking later caused declines which absorbed the gains.

Bank and trust shares were erratic, with volume the largest of any day this week. Brooklyn Trust lost 8 points, Central Hanover 5, Guaranty 6, City 5¼, Bankers and Chase each 4, Manhattan 3 and Corn Exchange 1. There were declines also in New York Trust, Title Guarantee, Irving, Continental, Manufacturers, County, Chelsea, Public, America and Lawyers Title.

There were only minor changes in insurance shares. Public utilities marked time, with fractional changes either way. Industrials were easier in the morning, showed firmness later, but then receded for slight net losses. Roxy common, Splitdorf, Rockwood preferred and United Business Publishers common and preferred were among industrials to show gains. Remington Arms first preferred and Rubel Coal were higher.

Communication issues and chain stores moved in moderate volume, and after irregular trends closed about unchanged. Bell of Canada declined and Southwestern Bell was firm. United States Stores was off.

SAVINGS BANKS TO MERGE.

Lincoln and Church Lane, Both of Brooklyn, Complete Plans.

Completion of plans for merging the Lincoln Savings Bank and the Church Lane Savings Bank, both of Brooklyn, were announced yesterday. The combined institution, which will be known by the name of the former, will have total resources of $104,500,000. Of this amount the Lincoln will contribute $102,000,000, and the Church Lane, $2,500,000, according to the last statements of condition as of Sept. 1, 1930.

The combined institution will rank as the third largest savings bank in Brooklyn. The Lincoln Bank is one of the oldest savings banks in Brooklyn, being established about sixty-five years ago. The Church Lane was organized five years ago. The Church Lane will be operated as the Flatbush branch of the Lincoln.

INSURANCE PREMIUMS GAIN.

Volume Controlled by Securities Company Rises $249,340.

W. Irving Moss, president of Insurance Securities Company, Inc., in a letter to stockholders said yesterday that the premium volume of the companies controlled by Insurance Securities, Inc., totaled $16,496,436, an increase of $249,340 compared with the same period of 1929. The book value of the company's stock on Aug. 1, 1930, was $16.75 a share.

"Losses and claims in practically every field of underwriting have increased, and particularly in fidelity and surety lines," the letter says, "reflecting distress from severe stock losses, unemployment and general business depression. However, we find improvement in the claim situation."

Mr. Moss points out that the ratio of expense for conducting the company's business was lower this year in comparison with last, and will decline further during the balance of the year.

MARKETS IN LONDON, PARIS AND BERLIN

Prices Generally Firm on the English Exchange—Credit Continues Easy.

FRENCH STOCKS STRONGER

Volume of Transactions, However, Is Small—All Issues Gain on German Boerse.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Sept. 24.—The cheerfulness which characterized the stock market's close yesterday was to a greater extent in evidence today, prices generally showing a firm tendency. Favorable factors affecting the market include more reassuring political news from Germany, a rise in sterling exchange and reduction of unemployment. The 3½ per cent Conversion Loan was prominent in British Government funds, with a rise to £78¼, and the 5 per cent War Loan advanced to £104⅛.

Internationals, after rallying in sympathy with New York, became reactionary toward the close. His Master's Voice Gramophone was active in the talking machine group and closed at £3 5-32. International Holding was $4⅝, International Nickel $24 1-16 and Radio Corporation $37¼. Bear covering in Imperial Chemical caused a rally to 21s 3d, although the price reacted to 20s 9d.

Further advances were registered by Cable and Wireless issues, while Peninsula & Oriental was good among the shipping group. Textiles were quiet, while rayons rallied. Courtaulds was stronger at £2 5-32. Rubber touched a new low record of 3 13-16d a pound, but subsequently recovered to 3⅞d. Shares were easier in consequence. Oil shares were firm, and there was increased activity in the mining section.

Floating credit again was abundant in Lombard Street. Borrowers obtained overnight loans at 1½ down to 1 per cent and renewals at 1½ per cent. The pressure of money supplies had a further weakening effect on the discount market, brokers being forced to take three-month bills at no better than 2 per cent. At the Bank of England £272,770 of bar gold was sold. Sterling exchange on New York was better at $4.86 1-32-$4.86.

Moderate Gains in Paris.

PARIS, Sept. 24.—There was a more cheerful feeling on the Paris Bourse today and the market improved somewhat, although the volume of transactions was small. Confidence of traders was restored a little after the heaviness characterizing the first two days of the week appeared to be lifting in the forenoon.

The close was irregular, however, gains made by French rentes, banks, electricals and chemicals being offset by further losses in Rio Tinto and other mining stocks and tobaccos.

General Advance in Berlin.

BERLIN, Sept. 24.—The friendly echo which von Hindenburg's statement regarding the German internal situation found abroad and the Reichsbank's effective measures to offset the increased demand for foreign currencies by exporting gold to France were favorable factors at today's session of the Boerse. Prices were firm throughout.

Foreign money was offered plentifully from many sides, which greatly eased the money market, and without a single exception stocks and rentes improved. Dye Trust, the potashes, primarily Salzdetfurth; Deutsche Linoleum, the machinery group and several issues of the mining group were especially firm. Artificial silks, Reichsbank, electricals, shipping stocks and department stores also were considerably higher.

Canadian Crucible Plant Rumored.

TORONTO, Sept. 24 (AP).—The Evening Telegram says there is a possibility that the Crucible Steel Company of America will establish a Canadian plant either at Toronto or between Toronto and Hamilton. If such a plant is established it would be operated by a company incorporated under Canadian laws, it was said. The recently enacted tariff raised the duty on iron and steel.

QUEBEC, Sept. 24.—The thirty-seventh annual convention of the Savings Banks Association of the State of New York was formally opened in the Château Frontenac here tonight, with about 400 delegates present, and Philip A. Benson, president of the organization and trustee and treasurer of the Dime Savings Bank of Brooklyn, in the chair.

While most of the delegates arrived last night and this morning, the first business session was scheduled for tonight. The visitors passed most of their time on the golf links this afternoon. The executive committee held a meeting today, but reported that only routine matters had been discussed.

Mr. Benson delivered his annual address, after which the resolutions committee was appointed, and addresses were made by Francis H. Sisson and Edward A. Richards.

Mr. Sisson, who is vice president of the Guaranty Trust Company of New York, stressed the position of the savings bank in the United States. Mr. Richards, who is president of the East New York Savings Bank of Brooklyn, spoke on opportunities and obligations.

Large Savings Bank Resources.

Mr. Benson in his address pointed out that the resources of the association total $4,156,000,000. He said it was a matter of great pride to know that all savings banks, without hesitation or embarrassment, had met the unusually heavy demands upon them in connection with the Wall Street crash last year.

"The Mutual Savings Bank in the last year has, in my opinion, most decidedly proved its worth to the people of the State," he said. "I believe that more and more people are coming to realize that a savings account is the best investment that can be made, possessing safety, availability and a fair interest return. While the value of the savings bank as a particular type of financial institution has been demonstrated, the questions may be asked: Has the savings bank reached its fullest development? Has it given to its depositors every feature of banking service consistent with its character? Are not other types of banking corporations coming into our field aggressively and furnishing banking service that we do not offer?

"Possibly we are doing all that is required of us and our particular object should be a more intensive development of our own field of thrift and savings. Doing this, however, may include greater efforts to inculcate sound principles of finance among the people whom we expect to serve.

Serious Problems of Ordinary Man.

"We all realize that the ordinary man has serious problems to solve. Not only the problems of providing a home, the necessities of life, education for children, but also the uncertainties occasioned by sickness, accident and other misfortunes; the hazards of unemployment and the difficulty of obtaining work with increasing age. The shadow of unemployment—that is, the fear of being without employment—is most serious, for it includes the fear that loved ones will suffer through inability to give them the necessities of life.

"We may say that society should solve these problems and that the Senate should provide the remedies. The evils, however, can be remedied to a great extent by the individuals themselves, by their having a correct idea of the economic problems involved and by education, which will bring to them sound principles of thrift, savings, investment and finance.

"Savings bankers have a clear idea of these problems, and our banks are in a position where we can take a place of leadership in attempts to solve them."

The convention will last until Friday, when the election of officers and the installation of the new president will precede a river trip to the Saguenay.

TO RESUME CUBAN POST.

G. M. Jones Plans Return as $20,000,000 Loan Is Discussed.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—With New York banking interests arranging to make a loan to the Cuban Government of $20,000,000, primarily for public improvements, Grosvenor M. Jones, chief of the Bureau of Finance and Investment of the Department of Commerce, will go to Havana next month to resume his position as financial adviser to Harry F. Guggenheim, American Ambassador to Cuba.

Mr. Jones spent the first six months of this year in making a study of the Cuban economic situation and has worked out a tentative plan for control of sugar production somewhat on the lines of the European cartels. This contemplates a virtually worldwide agreement on sugar production with a view to avoiding the glutting of the market.

Officials declined to comment today upon reports from Havana that a new loan of $100,000,000 might be made to the Cuban Government for an extensive program of financial reconstruction.

AWAITING AN OFFER BY FOSTER WHEELER

International Combustion Has Made No Merger Deal, Says Committee Head.

TENTATIVE PLAN PROPOSED

New One Is Said to Provide for Assumption of Liabilities by Foster Wheeler.

Reports that the Foster Wheeler Corporation had made arrangements for the acquisition of the International Combustion Engineering Corporation were denied yesterday by E. W. Stetson, chairman of the reorganization committee of the International Combustion Engineering Corporation and vice president of the Guaranty Trust Company. Mr. Stetson said, however, that the Foster Wheeler Corporation has suggested a tentative plan, which contemplated the making of an offer if the plan met with the approval of the reorganization committee and the several committees representing creditors, preferred and common stock. He added that at present there was no definite offer from the Foster Wheeler Corporation.

"The tentative suggestion was considered by the preferred stockholders' committee," Mr. Stetson continued, "and that committee suggested a modification of the plan, but it has not been acted upon by the reorganization committee or by the common stockholders' committee, and the suggested change in the plan requested by the preferred stockholders' committee has not been submitted to them. The reorganization committee does not believe it to be in the interest of the stockholders that any publication should be made with respect to progress in the reorganization until a definite plan has been adopted by all of the committees."

The basis of the plan as submitted by Foster Wheeler to the preferred stockholders' committee is understood to involve an exchange of the common stock of Foster Wheeler for the preferred stock of International Combustion on a share-for-share basis, while the common stockholders would receive about 1-16 share of Foster Wheeler for each share of International Combustion held. In addition, Foster Wheeler would assume all the liabilities of the International Combustion, which has been in the receivership since the close of December last year.

In the past few months several plans for the reorganization of the company have been considered, it was said. One of these, it is understood, was submitted by the Foster Wheeler Corporation, but for some reason or other it was later abandoned. The plan recently submitted by Foster Wheeler is an entirely new one. In view of the large number of interests involved, it is believed impossible to say at this stage of the reorganization what plan will finally be agreed upon through which a reorganization of International Combustion will be attempted.

CURB TREND DOWNWARD.

Leading Issues Under Heavy Pressure for Two Hours.

Leading issues on the New York Curb Exchange were under steady pressure for about two hours yesterday, but the selling subsided between 2 and 3 o'clock with the result that final quotations were well above the low levels of the day. Most issues in which there was active trading ended the day with sizeable losses, however.

The unsettlement was most pronounced in utility and miscellaneous industrials, Electric Bond and Share, Central States Electric, Aviation of America, American Light and Traction new, American Commonwealth A, Aluminum Company of America, Ford Motor, Ltd., Ford of Canada, Missouri-Kansas Pipe Line, Northern States Power A, Technicolor, Standard Oil of Ohio, Tampa Electric and others were weak and closed with minus signs. The advancing group was limited to a few issues.

Trading was more active than usual.

URGES PURCHASES NOW FOR FUTURE NEEDS

U. G. I. Head Backs His General Advice With Instructions to Subsidiary Chiefs.

John E. Zimmermann, president of the United Gas Improvement Company of Philadelphia, yesterday advised all large purchasers to buy materials and supplies for future requirements immediately.

Mr. Zimmermann's advice is due to a belief that business conditions and prices have reached the turning point upward, which will make purchases at a later date less favorable, as well as to the conviction that the best way to restore public confidence in business and to bring about a prompt revival of trade in all lines is for large purchasers to go into the market and buy now.

Supporting this belief, he has addressed a letter to the local managements of all U. G. I. subsidiaries in which he suggests that they at once anticipate their normal requirements for several months and place their orders. His letter follows:

"I am advised by our purchasing department that prices have reached a level which justify us in placing our orders for normal requirements.

"It is felt that the purchase of materials can be made advantageously at this time and that improvement in business conditions may make later purchases less favorable. Business conditions in this country are essentially sound, and I look for a steady and gradual improvement.

"I suggest, therefore, to assure your ability to render prompt service to your customers when the change comes, that you immediately estimate your needs for such construction and operation materials as you will require during the next several months and place your requisitions for them with the purchasing departments."

St. Louis Utility Issue Authorized.

The Missouri Public Service Commission has authorized the Union Electric Light and Power Company of St. Louis to issue and sell 300,000 additional no par common shares at $25 a share. The issue will be sold to the North American Edison Company, which already owns all the outstanding common stock. The proceeds will be used for construction and expansion programs.

Neisner Brothers Show Gain.

A. H. Neisner, president of Neisner Brothers, Inc., announced yesterday that the current business trend of the company indicated dollar sales would show an increase of approximately 14 per cent for the last six months over the corresponding period of 1929.

Notice to Warrant Holders

COMMERCIAL INVESTMENT TRUST CORPORATION

To Bearers of Common Stock Purchase Warrants:

THE outstanding Common Stock Purchase Warrants of Commercial Investment Trust Corporation expire by their terms on December 31, 1930. The purchase price of common stock upon the exercise of warrants is $40 per share (being the equivalent of $100 per share before the 2½ for 1 split-up of common stock effected in 1929). When the subscription right represented by a warrant is exercised, the subscriber receives, under the terms of the warrant, and without additional payment, additional shares equal to accumulated stock dividends on the number of shares called for by the warrant. As a result of the foregoing, upon the exercise of the subscription right at this time the subscriber receives in respect of each 100 warrants 125 shares (which is equivalent to 50 shares prior to the split-up) plus 13 shares as the equivalent of stock dividends heretofore accumulated, or a total of 138 shares of common stock with a cash payment in lieu of a small fraction of a share of stock. Subject to the declaration of the regular stock dividend for the last quarter of the year, the common stock which such subscriber would receive in December of this year, after the record date for such dividend, will be increased to 140 shares, with an additional payment in cash of the equivalent of 8/100ths of a share at the bid price for common stock on the New York Stock Exchange at the close of business on such record date. The net cost of stock purchased pursuant to the present warrants, until December 31, 1930, is approximately $36 per share.

The Corporation now offers to each bearer of a Common Stock Purchase Warrant, at his election, the right to make his subscription at any time between January 1, 1931, and January 15, 1933, at advanced prices in lieu of a subscription prior to the end of this year. The bearer of a Common Stock Purchase Warrant desiring to accept this offer must present his warrant not later than October 31, 1930, to the Corporation at the office of Central Hanover Bank and Trust Company, 70 Broadway, New York City, for endorsement evidencing acceptance of this offer, and delivery of warrant so endorsed.

The terms on which subscription may be made during the extended period by bearers accepting this offer are as follows:—From January 1, 1931, to January 15, 1932, inclusive, at $50 per share (equivalent to $125 per share of common stock before the split-up of 1929), or from January 16, 1932, to January 15, 1933, inclusive, at $55 per share (equivalent to $137.50 per share of common stock before the split-up of 1929). The number of shares deliverable on the exercise of a warrant so extended will include without additional payment the stock dividends and small cash adjustment above mentioned which accrue prior to January 1, 1931, but will not be increased by reason of stock dividends paid on the common stock of the Corporation after January 1, 1931 and prior to the exercise of the subscription right, except to the extent that such stock dividends may be at a rate in excess of 6% per annum. The net cost of stock purchased by bearers of warrants electing to accept this offer would accordingly be from January 1, 1931, to January 15, 1932, approximately $44.62 per share, and thereafter until January 15, 1933, approximately $49.09 per share.

The foregoing offer is being made by the Corporation with a view to deferring, until a later period or periods, the receipt by the Corporation of additional capital funds which it is not contemplated will be needed during this year. The rights of bearers of warrants who do not accept this offer will remain unchanged, and such rights will expire at the close of business December 31, 1930. Bearers of warrants who accept this offer will not be entitled to subscribe for stock prior to January 1, 1931, but may thereafter until January 15, 1933, subscribe for such stock on the terms to be stated by stamped endorsement upon warrants, and as outlined above.

Bearers of Common Stock Purchase Warrants wishing to accept this offer must surrender their warrants for endorsement at the office of Central Hanover Bank and Trust Company, 70 Broadway, New York City, not later than October 31, 1930.

By Order of the Board of Directors.

Sees Large Capital Surplus Available for Investment

An exceptionally large surplus of capital is available for investment, according to Samuel Ungerleider, head of the New York Stock Exchange firm of Samuel Ungerleider & Co., who yesterday cited the recent advances in high-grade bonds and preferred stocks to support this contention.

"The unusual excess of funds now possessed by American business organizations of all types," Mr. Ungerleider said, "is primarily due to the release of an enormous amount of working capital as a result of the world-wide slump in business and in commodity prices.

"In like manner, nearly every leading brokerage and investment banking institution has had a great deal of its capital released as a result of the liquidation in securities which has taken place in the last year, as well as by the present lack of speculative interest in the stock market."

SOVIET HEDGERS BUY WHEAT, CAUSING RISE

MANY NEW LOWS EARLY

Weather Reports Figure in Upturn in Corn—Oats and Rye Rally After Decline.

CHICAGO, Sept. 24.—Buying of wheat futures, understood to be the removing of hedges against sales of cash Russian grain abroad in the last two days, combined with rumors that the Grain Stabilization Corporation was buying, resulted today in a bulge in prices of 2½ to 2⅞ cents after an early break had carried all deliveries here and in other world markets to the lowest prices in many years. September at Chicago sold off to 76⅞ cents, breaking ⅛ cent below the low established in July, 1914, and reaching the lowest since January, 1907, when it sold at 75⅝ cents. December at 80⅝ was the lowest since April, 1907. May at 84⅝ cents came within ⅜ cent of the low in April, 1911.

Stop-loss orders were caught on the way down, and pit brokers said liquidation was more general early than at any other time so far. When buying by houses with Eastern connections started an oversold condition was disclosed and prices advanced rapidly, the finish being ⅝ cent higher to ¼ cent lower, September showing the most strength.

Sharp Rally in Winnipeg.

Winnipeg rallied sharply after October had sold at 71½ cents, and closed ⅝ to ¾ cent higher. A low of 61 cents was recorded in that market in 1909, since which time the price had not been down to the present level. Liverpool broke 1¼ to 2d on pressure of Russian conditions and Argentine offerings and closed at the bottom. Buenos Aires, after being lower early, closed ⅛ to ½ cent higher.

Sentiment was much more divided after the close among wheat traders than for some time, some feeling that further removal of Russian hedging sales against sales of cash grain abroad would cause another upturn, especially as the technical position of the market is the strongest in a long time. In less than forty days prices here have declined 25 cents and in Winnipeg 35 cents a bushel, which is regarded as more than discounting anything bearish in the situation. In addition, heavy rain and snowstorms were reported in the Canadian Northwest, which may put an end to the heavy marketing in that country, temporarily at least.

Other operators take the view that today's rally was largely the result of the oversold condition and they believe it will take free buying of cash wheat by Europe to sustain values. While wet weather in Canada may check the movement, they point to around 180,000,000 bushels still left in farmers' hands in the Prairie Provinces to come forward after allowing for feed and seed requirements. Export demand from Europe was again light.

Rumors that the stabilization corporation has been buying wheat have some basis, and sales of cash grain to mills and for other purposes have been replaced by purchases in the open market to maintain the organization's line of 60,000,000 bushels. The Farmers' National Grain Corporation has been operating in the Minneapolis market all month. George S. Milnor, its president, said, however, that his organization was not a buyer of wheat futures in Chicago today.

Primary receipts were 1,288,000 bushels, a week ago 1,979,000 and a year ago 1,934,000. Shipments respectively were 1,374,000, 1,974,000 and 1,442,000 bushels.

Corn Prices Are Unsettled.

Corn was extremely unsettled, with an early bulge resulting from local buying induced by a belief that frost might hit the Corn Belt over night and that wet weather would be bullish. The bulge brought in persistent scattered liquidation and all deliveries dropped to new low marks on the present movement, with May at first bottoms on the crop.

Fairly general short covering later was laid to the strength in wheat, and the close was ⅛ to ½ cent higher. Sentiment is less bearish than for some time, as prices have dropped around 19 cents from the high in August, and many professionals who were bullish and long when December was around 99 cents, are now said to be bearish and short. There has also been free selling of corn against purchases of other grains by hedgers. Shipping sales today were 130,000 bushels.

Primary receipts of corn were 583,-000 bushels, a week ago $542,000 and a year ago 819,000. Shipments respectively were 323,000, 322,000 and 505,000 bushels.

Liquidation was on in oats and rye early, but both grains rallied later. Oats closed ¼ cent lower to ⅛ cent higher, while rye was ⅞ to 1¼ cent higher. Commission houses were good buyers of the latter early.

British Austin Pays 60%; Second Dividend Since 1918

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Sept. 24.—The culmination of a remarkable fight for prosperity of one of the largest British automobile firms was reached today with an announcement that the Austin Company, under the direction of Sir Herbert Austin, would pay a dividend of 60 per cent on ordinary shares.

The foundation of the company's fortune was laid in the "baby seven," which is now being built and marketed in the United States as the Bantam Austin, and is one of the most popular automobiles in Europe.

COTTON PULLS AWAY FROM YEAR'S LOWS

SPOTS WEAKEST SINCE 1921

Sentiment Is Unsettled as Result of Break in Stocks and Grain Market Situation.

After establishing new low records for the year, prices on the Cotton Exchange steadied within narrow limits yesterday and closed 8 points lower to 3 points higher than on Tuesday. Greater resistance developed, causing a recovery of 10 points at one time on somewhat lighter hedging pressure and the heavy absorption of contracts by domestic and foreign mills. Stocks and grain exerted an unsettling influence on sentiment, while liquidation of October contracts prior to notices today proved a feature of the trading.

Middling spot quotations in Liverpool broke below 6d for the first time since 1915, the price of 5.98d comparing with the low of 6.38d in 1921. New York spot quotations were 10.55c, compared with a low in June, 1921, of 10.85c. Middling quotations at three Southern spot markets yesterday were 9½c or below.

Several days' decline had carried December to 10¾c and May below 11¼c, resulting in a congested position, and room traders covered in the morning. So large a percentage of the crop is being withheld from the market in the South that the lower price level reduced the amount of cotton that spot houses were able to obtain on a deliverable basis.

Overnight hedging business proved the smallest in several days, and an improvement started soon after the opening. The sharp break in the stock market around midday increased selling pressure and liquidation developed before the close. October contracts sold at 10.51c, compared with 10.45c for July contracts in June, 1921.

The head of the stabilizing corporation said its holdings taken over from cooperative associations aggregated 1,300,000 bales, and according to present plans this will be held from the market in the current season unless prices advance to the purchase level. The Farm Board lending figure last season was about 6c a pound, or $30 a bale, above prevailing market quotations.

COTTON CROP PROSPERS.

Growing Corn Shows Improvement—Winter Wheat Needs Rain.

The Weather Bureau of the United States Department of Agriculture has issued its weekly weather report as follows:

Except in the southeastern part of the cotton belt, there was very little rainfall and moderate to rather high temperatures were the rule. The Western belt was practically rainless and cotton continued to open rapidly. With conditions ideal for picking and ginning; harvest is more than usually advanced in most of this section, but there is much complaint of short staple in Oklahoma.

The week was mostly warm, sunny, and practically rainless over the Corn Belt. Under these conditions the crop made excellent progress toward maturing and is now largely out of frost danger in most sections. About four-fifths of the crop is safe in Iowa and the bulk of it is beyond danger in the central Mississippi and Ohio Valley States.

From one to two weeks of warm weather is needed to mature some corn in parts of Nebraska and Kansas, but much of the crop is now out of danger in these States, and it is rather generally so in the Atlantic area. Some late corn shows improvement since the recent rainfall in interior valley.

While Fall plowing and seeding made good advance in parts of the Southwest, the central Great Plains, and some Northwestern sections, much ground is too dry for this work, especially in the upper Mississippi Valley, the Great Lakes region, northern Illinois and Indiana, and Oklahoma. In these States rains are urgently needed, with some Winter wheat sown in the dry soil not germinating. In the Pacific Northwest, conditions also are too dry for seeding Winter wheat, although in parts some is being sown in dry soil.

In Arkansas weekly progress of cotton was very good, with much cotton open; there is some improvement in lowland staple since the recent rain, but no new bolls. In the Southwestern belt, frequent rains, excessive in some localities, were unfavorable for the cotton crop; in Alabama and Georgia, especially, picking was interrupted and considerable staple was beaten to the ground and stained. In the Carolinas, conditions continued rather favorable, and it is expected that some late, small bolls will be benefited by the additional moisture.

Except in the Southeastern States, principally in Alabama, Georgia, and parts of Florida, where frequent rains interfered with farm operations, the week was ideal generally for maturing Fall crops and for field work. Considerable areas, however, continued too dry for plowing and seeding, principally in the Atlantic States from Virginia and West Virginia Northwest and in some northern sections further west.

Says Banker Overdrew Account.

Further testimony to irregularities in the activities of the Port Newark National Bank, involving Graham B. McGregor, the president, was given yesterday before Federal Judge Runyon in Newark in the receivership proceedings against the bank, which was closed Aug. 8. Luther E. Van Pelt, assistant cashier at the bank, declared that Mr. McGregor had frequently overdrawn his personal account.

COURT ORDER HALTS TRACTION HEARING

ADDITIONAL DATA SOUGHT

Further Survey to Be Made on Franchises and Jurisdiction of the Commission.

Hearings on the petitions of three Westchester traction companies for permission to increase their fares from 5 to 8 cents were indefinitely adjourned yesterday by the Public Service Commission pending the compilation of additional data on franchises submitted by the companies, and a court decision pertaining to the jurisdiction of the commission.

The Westchester Electric Railroad Company and the New York, Westchester & Connecticut Traction Company opened their cases before Public Service Commissioner George R. Van Namee by submitting the franchises dating from 1885.

Transit Commissioner Leon G. Godley sat with Mr. Van Namee to determine whether his commission has jurisdiction in the case. While the Transit Commission was petitioned concurrently with the Public Service Commission, it was pointed out, the Westchester car line does not propose to increase its fare for the short distance it extends within the city.

Alfred T. Davison, counsel for the petitioner, at the request of counsel for the commissions and the communities of New Rochelle, Mount Vernon, Pelham, North Pelham, Pelham Manor and Eastchester, affected by the application, agreed to coordinate the franchise material to show how each community is affected.

Addison B. Scoville, counsel for the New York, Westchester and Connecticut Traction Company, after presenting his company's franchises, agreed to furnish detailed information of construction and operation under each franchise.

The Corporation Counsel of Yonkers, Harry J. Laragh, questioned the jurisdiction of the Public Service Commission on the ground that the franchises under which the Yonkers Railroad Company operates were granted before the commission was empowered to regulate fares. Action on this petition was blocked by a court order. Mr. Laragh presented an alternative prohibitory order returnable Saturday before Supreme Court Justice Ellis J. Staley in Albany. The fare in Yonkers, Mr. Laragh said, was according to a contract between the city of Yonkers and the railway company.

FLORIDA, N. Y., UNVEILS BUST OF W. H. SEWARD

His Life as Farm Boy in Town of His Birth Is Pictured by J. Hamilton Fish.

GOSHEN, N. Y., Sept. 24.—Five hundred persons gathered in the village of Florida today for the unveiling of the monument erected in memory of William H. Seward, Secretary of State under Abraham Lincoln. A bronze bust of Mr. Seward on a marble pedestal was unveiled by William H. Seward 4th of Auburn, N. Y.

Mr. Seward was born and received his early education in Florida. He attended the academy in Goshen, later entering Union College. He served two terms as Senator from New York State and was a candidate for President in the Republican convention in 1860, when Lincoln was nominated.

The fund for the memorial was raised by public subscription and was sponsored by the W. H. Seward Chapter, Daughter of the Union. George F. Baker of Tuxedo and New York City, who attended the ceremonies, was one of the largest contributors.

FINDS LOST MOTHER DEAD.

Quest of Boy, 12, Brings Identification of Auto Victim.

A 12-year-old boy walked into the East Fifty-seventh Street Station last night, asked the police to help him find his missing mother and learned soon afterward that she had been fatally injured by an automobile after she had taken him to school on Tuesday morning.

The boy, Louis Corvi, and his mother, Mrs. Angelina Corvi, 46, a widow, lived in a tenement at 1,237 Second Avenue. Shortly before 8:30 A. M. on Tuesday Mrs. Corvi left her son at school and departed to do some shopping. When the boy went home at noon his mother was not there and he had to do without his dinner. In the evening neighbors gave him food. Yesterday neighbors again took care of him and last night he told his story to the police.

Detective Arthur Silk recalled at once that his description of his mother tallied with that of a woman whose body had been taken to the morgue. Silk took the lad to the morgue, where he made the identification.

Mrs. Corvi was struck about 8:45 A. M. Tuesday by an automobile driven by Albert Curran of 457 East 148th Street, near the corner of Seventieth Street and First Avenue. She died fifteen minutes later in the Flower Hospital. Yesterday Curran was arraigned in the homicide court and the case was adjourned until Sept. 30.

Enters Coffee Exchange Board.

William G. Daub has been elected to the board of managers of the New York Coffee and Sugar Exchange to fill the vacancy caused by the death of T. S. B. Nielson. Mr. Daub is a member of the Daub & Carr Company and has been a member of the Exchange since 1922.

BUSINESS WORLD

Commercial Paper.

Tuesday—3% for the best names.
The quotations are for 4 to 6 months' paper.

Wholesale Activity Picks Up.

Partial resumption of activities here yesterday in the women's apparel trade resulted in the placing of a fair amount of business. The number of buyers in the market was materially less, but mail orders receiving attention were quite numerous. Dresses in medium and low end price lines were in demand, with an increased amount of attention given the formal and semi-formal styles known as Sunday-night frocks. Better grade coats were ordered, but the general trend of orders in this division was said to be showing the effect of continued warm weather in many sections. Accessories, such as handbags and novelty jewelry, were active and stocks of desired items in the market are not heavy.

Cosmetic Orders Gain Slowly.

While recent orders in the cosmetics and perfumery field have shown a gain, the business to date remains under a year ago in a number of items. Buying of staples has largely been confined to near-by needs, although a growing amount of interest has been shown in popular price novelties. Bath salts in novelty containers, cleansing creams and tissues, rouge and lipsticks have been reordered fairly freely. It is expected in the trade that a large amount of deferred holiday orders for perfumes will be placed next month. Soaps in novelty form to retail at $1 or less are doing well.

Put Damper on Shortage Idea.

While recognizing that a possible shortage of merchandise may swing the situation in many lines from a buyers' to a sellers' market, trade leaders are placing a great deal less emphasis on this contingency than they ordinarily would, it was said here yesterday. This attitude is based on the belief that, should manufacturers become too confident regarding a shortage later on, a sudden reversal of the careful output policy would ensue and overproduction assume serious aspects in short order. It was reasoned that manufacturers would lose more because of overproduction than from a loss of business due to inability to fill orders.

Trend to Better Men's Wear.

A slight trend toward the purchase of more expensive merchandise in men's wear has been noted by a few of the leading retailers during the past week, it was reported yesterday. Consumers have been purchasing suits more liberally in the higher price range up to $75 and $85, and although buying has not been of large volume, it indicates some reaction away from the emphasis on cheaper merchandise, which has been prevalent during the past year, merchants feel. The more expensive lines of furnishings have also attracted attention and the better grades of shirts and neckwear have been moving more freely, it was said.

Orders for Better Furniture Off.

Although the seasonal volume in the furniture trade has reached a figure close to that of last Fall, buyers are neglecting the higher priced goods, it was stated in the trade yesterday. While producers of low-end merchandise find it difficult to keep up with delivery demands, manufacturers of better grade products are having difficulty in obtaining orders. Colonial styles continue among the leading choices of buyers in the market. Trade fell sharply early this week but it is expected to gain again tomorrow and Saturday, when a large contingent of buyers is scheduled to visit the market.

Complain of Linoleum Reduction.

Price reductions in the hard-surfaced floor coverings field have failed to stimulate consumer demand, according to buyers in the market yesterday. They expressed displeasure at the manufacturers' action, stating that the reductions were too small to make an impression on the public and yet were large enough to cut into profits. The representative of one large Boston store expressed the view that a reduction in price of at least 25 per cent would have been necessary to inspire consumer buying in the expensive lines of linoleum. No appreciable pick-up in sales has been noticed, he insisted, because the average cut of 10 per cent was too small.

New Price Range for Swim Suits.

Samples of a Bradford spun, pure worsted, ribbed bathing suit, to sell to jobbers at $11 a dozen, which is $1 under the present price range of that type of suit, were displayed yesterday for the first time at the local selling office of a large manufacturer. The suit comes in the speed model for men and sun-back type for women. Boys' and misses' models will sell for $9 a dozen. It was reported that competing mills will not cut prices on their present $12 range of suits, but that several are bringing out models in the $11 range to meet competition. The agent for the new suit reported that response was very satisfactory.

Japan Best Far Eastern Market.

Exporters looking to the Far East for business would do well to concentrate on Japan, Louis Guenther, publisher of The Financial World, said yesterday in an address before the Export Managers' Club of New York, Inc., at the Hotel Pennsylvania. The immigration exclusion act directed against the Japanese has not created as much ill-will toward this country as most people believe, he said. While conditions throughout the Far East were described by Mr. Guenther as poor, he expressed the belief that Japan will be the first market to show a substantial improvement when world economic conditions become better.

Burlap Prices Up on Fair Buying.

There was a fair demand for some constructions in the burlap market during the past week, and spot prices advanced 5 points. Interest centred on 40-inch 7½ and 10½ ounce goods for spot delivery. In Calcutta buyers continued to mark time, but prices were somewhat firmer, and advanced 10 to 15 points. Rumors have been heard that the Indian Government has asked Great Britain to cooperate in an attempt to stabilize the jute situation, but these could not be verified.

Gray Goods Market More Active.

Buying was somewhat heavier in the gray goods market yesterday, and several printcloth constructions were briskly traded for quick delivery. Prices continued to be firmly maintained. Trade sentiment was stronger, and indications are that the market is definitely on the upturn. In printcloths, 38½-inch 60-48s were quiet at 4⅞ to 5 cents. There was a good demand for 38½-inch 64-60s at 5½ cents and for 39-inch 68-72s at 6¼ cents. Activity in 39-inch 68-72s was somewhat restricted at 6¾ cents, but 39-inch 80 squares changed hands in fair volume at 7⅛ cents. Sheetings were quiet but appeared to be slightly stronger.

SELL 158,197 SHARES OF GENERAL MOTORS

J. P. Morgan & Co. Dispose of New $5 Preferred Stock to Dealers at $99.

J. P. Morgan & Co. have sold 158,197 shares of the new $5 preferred stock of the General Motors Corporation to dealers at $99 flat, or ex dividend $1.25 a share, payable on Nov. 1, it was announced by the bankers yesterday. The stock, owned by the bankers, was part of an issue made early this year.

General Motors shareholders approved the issuance of 6,000,000 shares, including 1,875,366 shares of the $5 series, on May 26. The latter was offered to holders of the 7 and 6 per cent preferred stock outstanding and of the 6 per cent debenture stock on designated exchange terms. The issue was underwritten by J. P. Morgan & Co.

The exchange offer expired July 26. The company then called all old preferred and debenture stocks which remained unexchanged for redemption Aug. 1 with proceeds of the sale of new preferred. Redemption was at $125 for $7 preferred, $110 for $6 preferred and $115 for debenture stock. This redemption is still in progress. Most unconverted stock was held abroad or by estates and trusts under agreements that involved legal questions as to the exchange.

STOCKHOLDERS RATIFY CHANGES IN CELOTEX

All Reorganization Proposals and New Common Stock Offering Approved.

Stockholders of the Celotex Company, at a special meeting in Chicago yesterday, approved the proposed refinancing and reorganization program, reconstitution of the board of directors by decreasing its number, abolition of the executive committee and the setting up of a finance committee to have supervision of the finances of the company. The plan also provides for the establishment of a five-year voting trust and an amendment to the certificates of incorporation which cuts off preemptive rights of holders of shares of preferred and common stocks to subscribe to additional shares of common stock.

The stockholders also approved the offering of about 55,302 shares of common stock pro-rata to stockholders at $10 a share, to be underwritten by White, Weld & Co. and associates at $9 a share. All of the proposed measures were unanimously approved with the exception of the amendment to the certificate of incorporation against which 262 votes were cast.

BACK NIGHT WORK CURB.

Textile Institute Directors Want Women and Minors Aided.

Discontinuance of night work for women and minors was unanimously recommended to the cotton mills of the nation by the board of directors of the Cotton-Textile Institute, official organization of two-thirds of the industry, at a special meeting held last night in the Union League Club, 1 East Thirty-ninth Street. Acceptance of the board's recommendation by the institute at its annual meeting, to be held in this city on Oct. 15, is regarded as certain.

The directors' action is in line with a resolution adopted less than two weeks ago by the executive committee. The forty-five directors who were present and the twenty who were absent but who had previously endorsed the resolution, represent mills containing 11,000,000 of the country's 30,000,000 spindles.

More Holidays in Coffee Market.

May Not Radio Albany Convention.

Radio listeners may not hear the discussions at Albany next week when the Republican State Convention gets under way. Neither the National Broadcasting Company nor the Columbia System has made plans to carry the various sessions, not even the keynote speeches, over their respective systems, according to representatives. However, a final decision by the broadcasters is expected later in the week.

FULL MEAL IN CAN A MODERN PROSPECT

STYLE CHANGE STRESSED

Dr. Nystrom Also Tells of Effect on Retail Merchandising of Shifts in Population.

BOSTON, Sept. 24.—Complete meals in cans and packages were suggested today by Gordon C. Corbaley, president of the American Institute of Food Distribution, as the logical degree to which the rapidly expanding functions of the grocery store may be carried. Speaking at the closing session of the Boston Conference on Retail Distribution, Mr. Corbaley said that eventually the bulk of items on the American table would be prepared at central factories, while only the "special dishes would be prepared by the housewife.

"The other foods, those to be eaten raw and those, like meats, fish and green peas, which cannot be cooked in advance without materially changing the flavor, also will be prepared in central kitchens, but will be preserved by the use of refrigeration and will be offered in packages ready for the home," he said. "This is the field now being pioneered by the so-called sharp-frozen products and ready cuts."

Support of Mr. Corbaley's prophecy was given by Dr. Paul H. Nystrom, Professor of Marketing at Columbia University. He spoke on "Changes in Consumer Demand," giving an exposition of the many changes taking place in the matter of household food.

Dr. Nystrom said that declining birth and death rates indicated a smaller proportion of infants and a greater ratio of old persons in the population, and that manufacturers of infants' wear and supplies, for example, should heed the change.

Other influences remarked on by Dr. Nystrom were the growth of population, a decline in home-owning, an increase in apartment house dwellers and an increasing tendency to move. He quoted the telephone company statistics to show that one family in every eight moves each year and that the rate is increasing, indicating many possible changes in home construction, furniture and allied items.

Other changes in industry, he said, could be ascribed to fashions, which are in a constantly varying condition, as well as abrupt decrease or increase in demand on account of business depressions or booms.

J. Sherwood Smith, vice president of the advertising firm of Calkins & Holden, speaking as a "fashion coordination" expert, discussed a topic which has been prominent at the meetings, namely, the necessity of an understanding between merchant and manufacturers as to public demand in styles.

THE WEATHER.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 24.—The Northeastern disturbance is still central off the northeastern coast of Newfoundland, and the Northwestern disturbance is centred over Northern Manitoba, with a trough extending southeastward to Lake Superior and thence southwestward to New Mexico and Arizona. These disturbances have caused showers within the last twenty-four hours in the lake regions, the great central valleys, the northern plateau and northern Rocky Mountain region, the western Canadian Provinces and in the Pacific States as far south as Central California. High pressure prevails from the Ohio and lower Mississippi Valleys eastward to Bermuda and from the District of Mackenzie and extreme Northern Alaska eastward to Hudson Strait and Greenland, Point Barrow, Alaska, and Nottingham Island, Hudson Straits.

The temperature has risen in New England, New York, Ontario, Quebec and Western Montana, and it has fallen in Colorado, the central and northern plain States, Minnesota and Manitoba. The weather is still unseasonably warm in practically all sections east of the Rocky Mountains, except the Dakotas.

There will be considerable cloudiness over the Washington forecast district during the next two days and local showers are indicated for the greater part of the district.

The temperature will not change materially except that cooler weather will overspread the Ohio Valley and Tennessee during Friday.

LATEST DEALINGS IN THE REAL ESTATE FIELD

EAST SIDE REALTY IN BRISK DEMAND

CHILDREN'S AID SELLS HOME

Society Disposes of Working Girls' Institution in Twelfth Street—Rothstein Holdings Leased.

Deals involving properties of some importance on the east side were announced yesterday. These included the purchase by Robert E. Simon of a corner at Lexington Avenue and Thirty-third Street, the sale by the Children's Aid Society of two buildings in Twelfth Street, and leasing for the Arnold Rothstein estate of a building in East Sixty-Sixth Street near Park Avenue.

These transactions indicated a slight improvement over market activity earlier in the week and were supplemented by announcements from lending institutions and brokers of new financing on properties in the metropolitan area involving about $6,700,000.

Through his Simon Realty Company Mr. Simon bought 222 Lexington Avenue, the northwest corner of Thirty-third Street, from Michael Houlihan. During the Summer Mr. Simon purchased 224 Lexington Avenue, just north of the corner, from Patrick Hart, and with these two purchases now controls the entire blockfront on the west side of the avenue from Thirty-third to Thirty-fourth Streets, running back 188 feet on the latter and 188 feet on Thirty-third Street.

The block front was assembled through the Leonard S. Gans Company over a period of a year and a half and contains about 37,200 square feet. On the west the property abuts the Seventy-first Regiment Armory.

The sale by the Children's Aid Society of the Elizabeth Home for Working Girls and an adjoining dwelling in East Twelfth Street was announced through Brown, Wheelock: Harris, Vought & Co., brokers in the transaction. The property is a landmark on the lower east side, the home having been established nearly forty years ago.

The properties consist of a four-story building, on a plot 40 by 103 feet, at 307 and 309 East Twelfth Street and the adjoining converted dwelling at 311 East Twelfth, 20 by 103 feet, which the society acquired in 1901 as an annex to the girls' home. The buildings have a combined plottage of 60 by 103 feet, lying about 119 feet east of Second Avenue and abutting the central exchange building of the New York Telephone Company at the southeast corner of Second Avenue and Thirteenth Street.

The Cadwal Realty Corporation is the purchaser of the buildings, and the sale is subject to approval by the courts.

Deeds filed in the Register's Office this week show that the Children's Aid Society has acquired from the City Real Estate Company a plot 64 by 99 feet on the south side of 134th Street, 412 feet west of Fifth Avenue, and also a piece 66 feet wide on the south side of the street, 16 feet to the west and also facing 116 feet on the north side of 133d Street.

On the upper east side, the Raymond P. Quinn Company leased for the estate of Arnold Rothstein the seven-story apartment house at 61 East Sixty-sixth Street, 130 feet from the northwest corner of Park Avenue. Title to the property is held in the name of the Hooper Realty Corporation, a Rothstein holding company. The lessee is the Nilebrook Apartments, Inc., which is renovating the building into studio apartments.

Hotel Run on 13-Month Basis Prefers New Calendar to Old

After testing the system for eight months, accounting executives of the Hotel New Yorker said yesterday that they preferred the thirteen-month calendar in keeping their records to the more generally accepted Gregorian calendar.

Bills to guests are figured according to the old calendar, but employes and firms rendering statements to the hotel are paid on a thirteen-month basis.

Executives of the hotel said they found it impossible to compare one month's business accurately with another under the old calendar system.

Negro Faces Second Offense Term Because of Old Suicide Attempt.

The possibility of serving a ten-year sentence for a crime that ordinarily carries not more than a five-year penalty faced William E. Smith, a Negro of 435 Prince Street, Brooklyn, yesterday when District Attorney Brower charged him with being a second offender because he tried to commit suicide eighteen years ago. Attempted suicide is no longer a felony, but Mr. Brower said he had to proceed under the law, although he did so with reluctance.

Smith, who is now in the Raymond Street jail, Brooklyn, was convicted of third degree burglary last week. His record showed that in 1912 he attempted to commit suicide and pleaded guilty at the time. The law making it a felony was repealed in 1919. District Attorney Brower said that the law compelled him to file an information against the prisoner charging him with being a second offender, which, if authenticated by a jury, would make it mandatory for the court to impose a sentence double that required for a first offense.

MILLIONS INVESTED IN REALTY MORTGAGES

Permanent Financing in Large Amounts Obtained on Manhattan Sites.

Mortgages were placed yesterday in large amounts at 5½ per cent interest on housing and business properties in Manhattan. Other smaller loans on scattered holdings and a report by the mortgage committee of the Title Guaranty and Trust Company indicated the investment of funds for mortgage purposes totaling more than $6,700,000.

The Title Guarantee and Trust Company granted a permanent loan of $2,250,000 at 5½ per cent on 315 East Sixty-eighth Street, northeast corner of Second Avenue, replacing a building loan made by the General Realty and Utilities Corporation. A sixteen-story apartment house has just been completed on the site by the J. H. Taylor Construction Company.

The Charles F. Noyes Company arranged with the Title Guarantee and Trust Company a $1,500,000-loan at 5½ per cent for Max N. Natanson on the Sears-Roebuck Building now under construction at the southeast corner of Thirty-first Street and Ninth Avenue, on a plot 100 by 220 feet. The building, sixteen stories high, is being constructed by G. Richard Davis & Co. from plans of Frank S. Parker and will be completed Jan. 1, 1931. Sears, Roebuck & Co. have entered into a long-term lease with the owners and will occupy two-thirds of the structure. Mr. Natanson is about to close a lease with another large industrial concern for the remaining space in the building. When completed the building will be taken over by August Heckscher as an investment. The Noyes organization originally procured a building loan of $1,500,000 from the Lawbeck Corporation and the Title Guarantee and Trust Company loan replaces this building loan mortgage.

The property was acquired from Walter Rappelyea Davies, retired lawyer and member of one of Brooklyn's old families, and William M. Bristol, president of the Bristol, Meyers Company.

The two buildings have a combined frontage of fifty feet on both Washington and Waverly Avenues and a depth of 200 feet extending through from street to street. They were bought to provide additional quarters for St. Angela's Hall Academy, which is conducted by the Sisters of St. Joseph. The academy's high school building, adjoining the properties just acquired, was completed last Spring. The brownstone houses at 280 and 282 Washington Avenue were erected in 1888.

Addresses Known the World Over

Representative Concerns

In all lines of business, industrial and professional activity are making their business homes with us. They have chosen the NETLEY PLAN because it represents economical operating efficiency and because it means an important saving in office rental and maintenance.

A Typical Netley Plan Office

Each Office is equipped with rich walnut or mahogany furniture, contains large glass top desk, swivel desk chair, three side chairs, steel letter filing cabinet, desk pad and blotter, inkwells, ash trays, waste basket, hat rack and rug covering floor. A thoroughly efficient porter service keeps your office spick-and-span at all times. All our offices are 100% daylight locations, with sound-proof plastered walls, wash basin with hot and cold running water in each room.

The Netley Plan Operates

Netley Plan Service Included in Your Rent

Your rent includes furniture, attendant to receive personal and telephone messages in your absence, use of general reception room, listing of your individual name and business on main bulletin board, designating your room number, free electric light, towel and porter service, filtered ice water, periodical polishing of furniture, etc.

TELEPHONE SERVICE: The New York Telephone Company has installed a special master switchboard on each floor operated by the NETLEY PLAN so that if you are absent or do not wish to be disturbed, our attendant can answer your calls on your private telephone. Although your telephone connection is individual and absolutely private with your own number given you by the telephone company and listed in the directory, the NETLEY PLAN for telephone service is so arranged that our attendant will answer as your secretary all incoming calls on your private wire which you do not answer or do not choose to answer.

If you lift your receiver while a NETLEY PLAN operator is answering a call for you, our operator is automatically disconnected, as this new service installed by the New York Telephone Company makes it impossible for our attendant to listen in or make outgoing calls on your phone. You have all the advantages of a switchboard in your own office without the inconvenience and lack of privacy of the old-fashioned switchboard. If you move from our premises the telephone company transfers your phone to your new address without any interruption to your business, as your contract for service is direct with the telephone company.

Tenants' Reception Room

On each floor operated by the NETLEY PLAN is a luxuriously furnished and appointed reception room. Here anyone calling upon you may wait your convenience if you are occupied, thus assuring you of absolute privacy in your office. The atmosphere of comfort and restfulness in these reception rooms is conducive to pleasant thought and good business.

Additional Features

STENOGRAPHIC SERVICE—We maintain a corps of trained stenographers, always available to tenants, at a charge of only seventy-five cents an hour.

PRINTING, MULTIGRAPHING, etc.—Because of the many orders received from tenants for this type of work we effect a saving of 20% or more.

Scientific Organization

The application of wholesale merchandising methods to office rental and equipment—something that has never been done before—a careful and painstaking study of the office needs of the average business and professional man—THESE FACTORS form the keystone of the NETLEY PLAN and are responsible for the phenomenal growth and success of this institution. Its established reputation throughout the United States and the public confidence which it enjoys and must maintain constitute an ironclad guarantee of the successful working of this new Office Service.

Office Rentals

In the heart of New York and in the center of everything—the cost of space, including all the furnishing, equipment and services mentioned, as well as many others that tenants discover for themselves after occupancy, ranges from $45.00 up per month, depending upon size and location of office. This is but a fraction of the salary demanded by a trained office assistant—and under the NETLEY PLAN you won't require the assistant.

No Lease Is Required Under the Netley Plan

Office Requirements are governed by changing business conditions. Many tenants find it annoying and inconvenient to be tied to a long lease for office space before they know just what their real office needs will be. A large number of our tenants have not signed a lease until they have been with us from six months to a year, during which time they have been able to adjust their office problems to meet the demands of their business. The business man can now have as much office space as he needs in the best known buildings in New York City without being compelled to sign a lease before occupancy.

SUBURBAN BUILDERS TO SPEND $4,000,000

200 HOMES FOR NASSAU

New Community of English Type Dwellings is Planned on Tract Near Garden City.

Two $2,000,000 suburban building projects, one involving a Westchester apartment development and the other the creation of a community of 200 houses adjacent to Garden City, L. I., were reported yesterday, with construction activity to begin immediately.

The Westchester operation is said to be the largest of its kind thus far undertaken in the county. The site is in Bronxville, overlooking the Bronx River Parkway. J. M. Felson, architect, of Manhattan, is the buyer and prospective builder.

Through the Westport Holding Corporation, Mr. Felson's operating company, he has bought from Luther D. Garrett 25,000 square feet adjoining 34,000 square feet previously acquired. The combined tract of 59,000 square feet fronts more than 385 feet on Park View Place, between Pondfield Road West and Palmer Avenue. The purchase is said to give Mr. Felson control of all the unimproved apartment sites in the exclusive residential district of Bronxville.

To Build on Two Plots.

The site just acquired is to be improved with a multi-family house of about 200 rooms, with a sixty-car tenant garage. Building operations on the larger plot are to commence at the same time.

Mortgage financing has been arranged with a Westchester lending institution by Alfred T. Jenkins, who also acted as broker in assembling the plottage.

The community near Garden City, in Nassau County, is to be developed by William H. Wade, Inc., a builders' organization which has developed properties in West Hempstead, Bellerose and other Long Island sections.

The realty for the new community, to be known as Kensington Gardens, comprises about three hundred building lots in Nassau Boulevard, between Stewart Avenue and Hempstead Turnpike. The tract is about five minutes' walk from the Nassau Boulevard station of the Long Island Railroad. Adjacent is the new campus of Adelphi College for women, formerly of Brooklyn.

To Have Finished Cellar.

The dwellings to be erected will sell for about $10,850 each, according to Robert L. Smith, realty broker, of Jamaica, who arranged the purchase of the property and who is to be the sales agent. The houses will be of English type, in brick and fieldstone. Most of the structures will have six rooms and sun porch, with a completely finished cellar with billiard and "club" room.

A group of lots in Bedell Terrace, West Hempstead, has been bought by Emil Gessler for improvement with medium-priced one-family dwellings. The Stenzel Land Company was the seller. Emil Gessler represented the buyer as attorney.

NEW ROCHELLE COSTS RISE.

Improvement Adds About $1,000,000 to City Expenses.

City Controller Hugh B. Gardner of New Rochelle yesterday reported that the expenses of running the city departments and cost of public improvements were $1,751,548.06 more for the first eight months of this year than in the same period of 1929. The great increase in expense was due mainly to the cost of the North Avenue extension and widening improvement, more than a million dollars of which is included in the report under the subdivision of assessment accounts. In the same period last year the city was charged with $312,733.15 in assessments for improvements, while the 1930 figure, due to the North Avenue extension project, jumped to $1,507,563.86.

The exense of running the city for the eight months of 1930 was placed by the Controller at $5,509,786.09, as against $3,758,238.03 for the same period in 1929 and $4,272,014.51 in 1928.

DOUBLE BUSINESS IN YEAR.

Turnover by Realty Associates Is Twice That Reported for 1929.

Since last Aug. 1 Realty Associates, Inc., has sold fifty-six houses in its Brooklyn and Long Island developments, which is twice the number sold by the company during the same period in 1929, according to Frank Fox, president of the company.

Many of the houses were acquired by foreclosure of first mortgage, enabling the company to offer them at prices in most instances below construction cost, Mr. Fox said yesterday, adding that the company had continued to maintain a sales average of one house a day since the first of the year.

John Seidentopf, who recently bought from the company a two-family house in Ridgewood Plateau, near Woodside, Queens, has since purchased two more of the structures for investment. Richard Pickering and Robert Schutt also each bought two of the houses.

LINER IS LAUNCHED FROM QUINCY YARDS

Borinquen, Largest Ship Built in New England, Will Be Put in Porto Rico Run.

COST WILL BE $3,000,000

Completion Set for January—Sandberg Cites Nation's Shipbuilding Record.

QUINCY, Mass., Sept. 24 (AP).—The steamship Borinquen, largest passenger liner ever built in New England, was launched today at the Fore River yards of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation.

It is of 11,000 tons displacement, 429 feet over all and has a beam of 59½ feet. It will be put in commission in January.

The ship will cost $3,000,000 when completed, and will accommodate 360 passengers.

Miss Lillian Hull, Wellesley student, and daughter of V. K. Hull, first vice president of the New York and Porto Rico Steamship Company, owners of the Borinquen, christened the vessel.

Shipping Progress Is Cited.

Many New York shipping leaders were present as guests of the Atlantic Gulf & West Indies Steamship Lines at the launching of the Borinquen of the Porto Rico Line, which is a subsidiary of the Agwi group.

When the vessel is completed it will enter the New York-San Juan-Santo Domingo run.

Captain S. S. Sandberg, United State Shipping Board Commissioner, addressed the gathering, citing recent progress in American shipping as "highly encouraging."

"There are at this time almost a half million gross tons of seagoing vessels building in American shipyards, setting a new mark for peacetime operations," he said. "The eighty-three lines now operating in the foreign and non-contiguous trades of the United States have in operation, in established services, a fleet of about 700 ships aggregating nearly 4,000,000 gross tons, excluding tanker tonnage. This is an increase of 500 per cent in numbers and nearly 550 per cent in tonnage since 1914."

Referring to attacks on the United States "for adding superfluous tonnage to an existing excess of shipping facilities," he said:

"The truth of the matter is, had the other countries built as little and scrapped as much as the United States has since 1922, there would be but little if any idle tonnage existing today."

It is expected that Captain T. G. Evans, who won high praise for the way in which he handled the Coamo, sister ship of the Borinquen, during the recent hurricane, will be appointed master of the new liner. The Agwi Lines' program calls for the building of two more American flag liners, which will represent an outlay of about $13,000,000.

Among those who witnessed the launching were Franklin D. Mooney, president of the Agwi group; V. K. Hull, first vice president of the Porto Rico Line; H. H. Raymond, chairman of the board of the Agwi Lines; John E. Craig, first vice president of the Clyde-Mallory Line, and Captain C. A. McAllister, president of the American Bureau of Shipping.

JAPANESE TO SEE TUNNEL.

Thirteen Japanese engineers and industrial leaders will leave the Hotel Pennsylvania this morning under the guidance of Robert Ridgway, chief engineer of the Board of Transportation, and Billings Wilson, assistant general manager of the Port of New York Authority, for a trip through the Holland Tunnel, inspecting the buildings and ventilation system. Later they will go to New Jersey to see the new Kill Van Kull Bridge.

The city tug Macom will take them for a trip to inspect the new Hudson River Bridge. Luncheon will be served on board the Macom.

To Test Fireboat's Radio Phone.

An official test of the radio telephone communication apparatus installed on the city fireboat John Purroy Mitchel and the controlling land station at the fireboat's pier at the Battery will be carried out this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the presence of Chief Valentine Fendrich of the Bureau of Fire Alarm Telegraph, who will represent Fire Commissioner John J. Dorman. The test will be made by Fire Chief John Kenlon and engineers of the Western Electric Company and Bell Telephone Laboratories, makers of the apparatus. Preliminary tests during the last few months under every possible handicap and interference have demonstrated the need of the system on all fireboats, according to the Fire Department.

BIG RISES IN PAY ASKED BY LIFE SAVING CORPS

Budget Set at $25,083, Against $7,795 This Year—Supervisor Wants $5,000 Instead of $2,160

The New York City branch of the United States Volunteer Life Saving Corps asked yesterday for $25,083 in its 1931 budget, compared with its allotment of $7,795 for this year.

Vincent Tully, assistant to Charles L. Kohler, Budget Director, said the amount requested would not be granted because of the large increases in pay asked for. Commodore Charles E. Raynor, supervisor of the corps, asked that his salary be increased from $2,160 to $5,000 a year and that his title be changed to superintendent. An increase from $2,088 to $4,800 is requested for Ida Osborn, secretary, and from $1,112 to $2,400 for a stenographer.

Requests for new emergency stations at Woodland Beach, Staten Island, and at Sheepshead Bay, Brooklyn, and for fourteen life-saving dories for Manhattan, Brooklyn, Queens and Richmond are included in the proposed budget. The allowance for office supplies, equipment, repairs and transportation is raised from $2,435 to $9,883 and a janitor to clean the offices in the Whitehall Terminal Building is also asked.

Benjamin H. Schlumberg is recommended for the new position of mechanic at $3,000 a year. The request said he had served as mechanic without pay. Before 1919 a mechanic was supplied to the corps, which is supported by the city. The corps has a membership of 38,239 volunteers. Last season, their report shows, they rescued 333 persons and helped 7,000 injured bathers.

FLIERS CHANGE PLACES ON KANSAS CITY LEG

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 24.—In a thirty-mile arc extending to 9,000 feet above a thick layer of white clouds between this city and Enid, Okla., the planes of the sixth annual national air tour for the Edsel B. Ford reliability trophy flew into the Fairfax airport this afternoon, completing their fourteenth day on the 4,900-mile loop through Canada and the Northwest and leaving but three more days to Detroit.

Harry Russell, in the smaller of the two tri-motored Ford entries, continued to lead in the night scores for the trophy, although his time over the long arc this afternoon was beaten by Myron E. Zeller in the other Ford, and by George W. Haldeman in the Wright-powered Bellanca freight plane.

Zeller's time, the second fastest recorded on the tour, was 175.5 miles an hour and Haldeman came through before the tail-winds high aloft in the average speed of 170.1 miles an hour.

In the night scores two changes occurred among the first ten. Forced back to Wichita this morning by a mal-adjusted valve, J. Wesley Smith and his Bellanca cabin plane lost his place to Edward Schneider in the Warner-powered Cessna in which he recently established the junior transcontinental record.

Truman Wadlow hurtled his Travelair monoplane over the afternoon leg so fast that he displaced Les Bowman in a Kinner-powered Waco biplane which has been alternating in position with the Travelair entry for several days.

The official night-scoring points of the leading ten planes and pilots were announced as follows:

| Pilot, Plane and Motor. | Point Total. |
|---|---|
| Harry Russell, Ford, Wasp and two Whirlwinds | 50,303 |
| John Livingston, Waco, Whirlwind | 47,679 |
| Arthur Davis, Waco, Whirlwind | 47,333 |
| M. E. Zeller, Ford, three Wasps | 46,693 |
| Walter Beech, Curtiss-Kingbird, two Whirlwinds | 46,206 |
| George Haldeman, Bellanca, Whirlwind | 45,981 |
| Edward Schneider, Cessna, Warner | 40,674 |
| J. Wesley Smith, Bellanca, Whirlwind | 40,563 |
| Truman Wadlow, Travelair, Whirlwind | 36,657 |
| Les Bowman, Waco, Kinner | 36,547 |

Effective Oct. 1, vessels of the American Merchant Lines are to be docked at Pier 39, North River, instead of Pier 7. The new pier, now used by the Central Railroad of New Jersey, is a double-decked structure near the end of Houston Street. This location is considered more convenient for passenger traffic because it is closer to the hotel and theatrical districts.

Panama Pacific Line Reports Nine Months Better Than Year Ago.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Sept. 24.—The first nine months of 1930 will show a substantial increase over the figures of the corresponding period for last year in the number of passengers handled and the amount of cargo booked by the Panama-Pacific Line, according to a bulletin issued by Leo E. Archer, Pacific Coast manager.

"We had a record year in 1929, but this year has been better," the bulletin said.

"With all three of our electric ships in service between New York and San Francisco for the first time over a nine-month period, we have found that offerings of business, both eastbound and westbound, more than kept pace with the increase in tonnage."

With a full list of passengers and a record shipment of 3,000 tons of California barley, the Interocean Steamship Company's motorship Brandanger has sailed from San Francisco for Havre, Antwerp and Rotterdam.

It was the first eastbound sailing of the line and was the occasion of a celebration.

Longshoremen's Contract Up Today

The new agreement between the Transatlantic Conference, representing the deep-water steamship lines and the International Longshoremen's Association will be signed at 3 P. M. today at 8 Bridge Street, it was announced yesterday. The agreement will be in effect one year and will cover working conditions for 40,000 longshoremen and checkers. The terms of the agreement are substantially those made public last week.

WOMAN, 60, SHOOTS LAWYER IN COURT

Oklahoman Wounds Commissioner She Was Suing, but Misses in Shot at Judge.

ANGERED BY LOSS OF CASE

ENID, Okla., Sept. 24 (AP).—An eccentric 60-year-old widow, acquitted a quarter of a century ago of the murder of her husband, ran amuck in the Garfield County District Court room here today, shooting and severely wounding H. Z. Wedgwood, a lawyer and United States Commissioner; firing at but missing District Judge Arthur G. Sutton of Alva and attempting to shoot at a lawyer.

Mrs. Dolly Douthitt, the widow, whipped a revolver from her dress and started shooting after Judge Sutton had decided against her in one of seven cases she had pending before the court. Said by officers to be entertaining an obsession that the world was against her, she was acting as her own attorney and sitting at the counsel table.

About thirty persons, mostly lawyers and court attachés, were in the court room and were thrown into panic by the shooting. Mrs. Douthitt was disarmed by Roy Elam, the young lawyer whom she had attempted to shoot, and court officials.

H. G. Sturgis, veteran Enid lawyer, prosecuted Mrs. Douthitt in 1904 for the murder of her husband, W. T. Douthitt, in a trial that resulted in her acquittal.

The Douthitts lived on a farm that has been overtaken by the growth of the city and now is within the city limits. Mr. Douthitt was shot as he stepped from the door of his house with a milk pail in his hand.

Mrs. Douthitt, possessed of considerable property, became a frequent litigant. Judge Sutton, who lives at Alva and regularly sits in another district, was assigned to the present cases because Mrs. Douthitt charged that local judges were prejudiced. Mr. Wedgwood was a defendant in the case in which Judge Sutton had just ruled.

Mrs. Douthitt alleged in the suit she had been "persecuted" by Mr. Wedgwood. Judge O. C. Wybrant, one of the regular judges in this district, was a defendant in another suit for $200,000 damages. Several suits involved her alleged failure to pay taxes.

After being arrested and placed in the county jail today, Mrs. Douthitt called for a doctor. At noon none had been found who was willing to visit her.

CHARITIES TO SHARE W. H. ERSKINE ESTATE

Erskine, who died on April 1, goes to religious and charitable institutions, according to an appraisal filed yesterday, placing the gross assets at $112,454 and the net assets at $106,023. A brother, David W. Erskine of Peekskill, N. Y., receives $100, the will explaining that he has "sufficient of this world's goods."

The will of Mary A. Kearney of 152 Warren Street, Brooklyn, who died Aug. 10, was filed for probate in Brooklyn. The estate is estimated at more than $30,000. It is all left to Catholic institutions.

Pittsfield Ministers to Limit Marrying New York Divorcees

PITTSFIELD, Mass., Sept. 24.—Ten leading Pittsfield ministers have signed an agreement not to officiate at marriages of New York State couples if either is divorced until a letter of commendation or recommendation as a minimum requirement has been received from that person's pastor.

A local minister said that the agreement was adopted because of the lack of uniformity in divorce laws of the two States.

COL. ROOSEVELT BACKS SEPARATE NATIONALITY

Porto Rico Governor Says Women Should Have Equal Rights With Men.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—Theodore Roosevelt, Governor of Porto Rico, believes in independent nationality for women, irrespective of marriage. His position was stated in a letter made public today by Señora Doña Muña Lee de Muñoz Marin, head of the Bureau of International Relations of the University of Porto Rico, who has arrived in Washington on a year's leave of absence to serve as director of national activities of the Woman's Party.

San Juan, P. R., Sept. 3, 1930.

My Dear Mrs. Muñoz Marin:

Sorry as I am to see you leave Porto Rico, even temporarily, I am heartily in sympathy with the cause which takes you to the Continental United States. To my way of thinking, there is no argument to the matter.

No woman should lose her nationality automatically through marriage. She should have equal rights with man. Frankly, I cannot see any necessity for lengthy arguments with pros and cons. It is justice, and that should settle it.

With best wishes for your success and for that of the cause for which you are working, believe me,

Yours very sincerely,
THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

ENGLISH MAYOR PAYS RESPECTS TO WALKER

Wonders at Dry Law, and Says After Visit to Boston 'You Can Swim in Liquor' There.

Arrayed in the picturesque garb of his ancient office, Reuben Salter, Mayor of the English town of Boston in Lincolnshire, called at the City Hall yesterday afternoon to pay his respects to Mayor Walker.

The Chief Magistrate of the little British port that received its charter from King John was brilliant in his Mayoral robes of scarlet faced with dark fur. About his neck he wore his heavy gold chain and badge of office. While awaiting Mayor Walker, who was engrossed in other duties, he stood in the reception room and chatted with reporters.

The English official had just arrived from Boston, Mass., where he had been attending that city's tercentenary celebration. He had found the American Boston, he said, very different from its venerable English parent. After having explained that, personally, he was a total abstainer from intoxicants, he remarked:

"In Boston, Mass., you can swim in liquor. They offered to bring a trolley load of it to my hotel and to do it in five minutes. In our country we further the cause of temperance by restricting the hours of sales in taverns. In that way the government gets the taxes from the liquor, too. Here everything goes to the bootlegger and the rum-runner."

Reminding his listeners that he was also the police magistrate of the Boston court, he said:

"There is very little drunkenness in our Boston. Occasionally a sailor from a ship in port takes too much, but the Boston people are very temperate."

Mayor Salter lingered in the reception room, where presently Mayor Walker entered with outstretched hand. They exchanged pleasantries. Mayor Walker recalled to his guest the large number of distinguished Britons whom he had greeted at City Hall, including Prime Minister MacDonald. After a brief conversation the visitor departed, announcing that he was "going to take a motor ride around the city before motor ride around the city." Mayor Salter sailed for home last night on the Mauretania.

"A Business-Building Location"

PAUL PLUNKETT & CO., Inc., are dealers in investment securities, specializing in financial counsel for investors.

¶"Our clients are large investors in securities", says Paul Plunkett, President of the company. "They frequently come to our office to consult us about purchase and sale of investments. Invariably they object to the hot and crowded subway ride to the downtown financial district.

¶"Location of our offices on the twentieth floor of the new Lincoln Building has enabled us to cooperate more efficiently with our clients and thus expand our business.

¶"Other things being equal, we believe that investors would rather deal with a firm having offices in the convenient and well-appointed Lincoln Building. This is particularly true of out-of-town clients who arrive on trains that bring them practically to our door-step."

...Says head of Paul Plunkett and Co., Inc.

If you are considering a change of offices, or even if you are not, it may pay you substantially to consider the many merits of the Lincoln Building. Space is available in units 400 to 33,000 square feet. Have your secretary telephone today for information and floor plans.

A man who says he "can't get away" from his business is usually afraid his business will get away from him... fear chains a man to his desk... efficiency releases him... a good executive can take a week off without being missed... a poor executive is missed if he plays 18 holes, but wouldn't be missed if he stayed away eighteen years... if your organization is running right you can come to Atlantic City... and if it isn't running right, come to Atlantic City and find out what's the matter with it!
